SENIOR CLASS, CANEY HIGH SCHOOL
1920

Foreword

This volume of the Kane Kan has not been prepared by a staff of trained artists and writers, but by a group of ordinary high school students. Therefore, we do not wish you to look at the book as tho you were judging a work of art, but look for a simple portrayal of the history of the past school year. If by so doing, you can, in days to come, recall pleasant memories, the staff of the 1920 Kane Kan will not have worked in vain.

A Short History of Caney High School

Caney High School has had a varied and exemplary life. It started as other institutions have, which have been destined to fill and to hold the life and the death of the community in its hand. It prospers, and the solidity and alertness of the community is reflected. It despairs, and the community slinks away and becomes retrospective in all its doings.

With this introduction we will proceed to give a few concrete examples of fact mixed with abstractions of no mean consequences, which may lend us sight to undertakings through which our present meritorious position is defined. Only places and things of small beginning become large and influential. Where once grew the crab now grows the stately apple. So Caney High School grew; from whence it would be hard to say; just how, no one attempts to explain; that it is, and will continue to be there is no question.

There was talk of a High School in Caney for the first time in 1897. Three years later, under the supervision of J. H. Dana there were eleven community boys and girls who stood up for their reward of merit known as a Diploma for what was then considered two years High School work. With due respect for teacher and taught of those days, for the writer's college days were then starting, high school and college work could be compared quite favorably with what we designate to day as Junior and Senior High School work. But we have progressed, and Caney High School has kept a pace with time.

The year following the Caney High School course was increased to three years. The course was further extended in 1905 to what was then considered a regular four year course. In this course, Caney High School as all others, held closely to convention. New thoughts and action toward breaking away from staid and stale courses dictated by the colleges was not dared. No thought of practicability had entered our minds as High School possibilities. From 1900 the possibility of Caney becoming a city was beginning to be apparent. New school buildings springing up and much temporary means resorted to, for the accommodation of pupils, soon dispelled the doubt, and illumined the vision with the reality, that we were on our way to a greater and grander organization of schools and school possibilities.

In 1905 a large and commodious brick structure known as the Washington building was placed on the western border of our town for housing our High School now in its new dress of four years of preparatory work. It was necessary for this building to accommodate both grades and high school, so in 1908 another and more pretentious building was established in the south part of the city to further relieve the stranded high school conditions. In this position our High School grew and prospered until in 1914, when evidence was given that our H. S. had outgrown our room and that practical courses must be established and equipment installed and all things made efficient and competent to fill the community's needs and to pave the way for general Educational advancement.

During this period of the school's history the succession of those to whom the school's destiny was intrusted, after Superintendent Dana, were as follows: Adams, McKinley, Dunbar, McIlwain, Brown, Rankin, Williams and Humphrey. It was in 1911-12 that Mr. Humphrey, our present Superintendent, was placed at the helm and the destiny of our school determined. In this year a full commercial course was planned and started. Eight typewriters were installed and other equipment necessary for its inception. Three years later eight machines were added and special apartments assigned for the Commercial work. Our Commercial course is built upon and correlated with a thoroughly efficient and up-to-date course in English and allied subjects, which constitutes the necessary work for our Commercial certificate.

In 1914, when we were snugly housed in our new high school building, our course of study was revised and adjusted to meet up-to-date conditions. This course included Domestic Art and Science, Manual Training, Mechanical Drawing, Normal Training and Agriculture. Special work was also arranged for in Debate, Public speaking, Music, etc. Not only have these courses been established but have been persistently carried out to a definite termination for the general good.

Nor is this all. The progress of the school along other lines has kept pace. About 1914, our school authorities, our business men, and our citizens saw and felt the necessity of providing for physical as well as mental activities in our schools. The results; a beautiful athletic field was purchased just across the railroad tracks to the west of the city. This well-equipped field in addition to our big basket ball court in the new high school building, has added materially to the general pleasure and comfort of our high school, and has been the means of much interest as well as pleasure to the townspeople and community. Suffice it to say Caney has won her share in interscholastic sports as well as many honors in standard educational contests. To see her trophy case is sufficient proof.

We are now in the year 1920. We are proud of the accomplishment of Caney High School. She has not disappointed us. She has added many graduates to the world of Profession and Business. We point to these young people with pride, for they are not the sort to shirk responsibility. They are rapidly assuming the reigns of authority. They are noticed, they are being heard, they are being felt in the community, in the State, in the Nation. We are satisfied with the past and we are confident of the future, for Caney High School was, is and will continue to be.

WE CAN BECAUSE WE THINK WE CAN

Senior History

The persons making up the Senior roll first came into prominence as a class in 1916 when they graduated out of the eighth grade sixty-three strong. Mr. Albert Bonter was principal of the Junior High School and he chaperoned us through successfully. With his suggestions we chose our colors, maroon and white, to which we have been loyal ever since. In our graduation program held on May 19, 1916, there were seven songs, readings by Lawrence Burns and John Grant, piano solos by Lloyd Jenkins and Frank Stradley, and two plays: "The Minister's First At Home" and "Hobson's Choice."

On the following September we were initiated into the ways of High School life. Since we weren't half so green as the upperclassmen thought we were, we rapidly swung in line with the High School activities. In proving that we were not green most of the Freshmen worked hard and built a solid foundation to the splendid "rep" that the Class of 1920 has to its credit.

Besides making a good start in High School work, the Class of 1920 also made a splendid beginning in the other High School activities. We had a full-fledged Freshmen Basket Ball Team, the boys playing on this team were Frank Stradley, Lloyd Jenkins, Lyndon Rader, Frank McFarland, Otto Mayer, Harold Bahan, and Charles Beebe. Clara Hutson and John Carinder were the Freshmen delegates to the Advisory Board, organized by Mr. E. A. Funk, the principal during our first year in High School. Hazel Johnson, though only a Freshmen, took part in Debate. We also had three poets among us, though we did not know of it at the time: Gladys Boger, Hazel Johnson and Harold White.

The first social event of the Class of 1920 was a Hallowe'en Party, held at the home of Lyndon Rader. We all had a fine time, while we were becoming acquainted with the social life of Caney High School.

Our Class Officers for our Freshmen year were: Lyndon Rader, president; Clara Hutson, vice-president; and Frank Stradley, secretary-treasurer. Red and White Carnations were chosen as our Class Flowers and "We can because we think we can" was to be our Class Motto.

The year 1917-18 found us as Sophomores, having outgrown the green and verdant stage, which we had passed through successfully. Our Class Officers during our Sophomore year were: Gladys Todd, president; Lyndon Rader, vice-president; and Charles Beebe, secretary-treasurer. Carl Mull, Clara Hutson, Laura Johnson and Lyndon Rader were the Sophomore delegates to the Students Council, an organization similar to the Advisory Board of the previous year.

In Basket Ball we had two "Sophos": Lyndon Rader and Charles Beebe, on the first team. Lloyd Jenkins, Charles Beebe, Frank Stradley, Lyndon Rader, Frank McFarland, Harold White and John Carinder were all out for Football, and under Coach McConnel, they made a splendid showing.

The chief social event of our Sophomore year was a Hallowe'en party, held at the home of Edith Wills; though we all had a good time, we were disturbed by some other folks who were celebrating Hallowe'en in their own way.

The next epoch in the history of the Class of 1920 was that we had become Jolly Juniors, having left the ranks of Sophomores. This year, 1918-19, we wanted to be patriotic so we substituted Military Training in the place of Football. We drilled on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, and learned the rudiments of Military Training under the supervision of Captain Ehemann and Major Dick Martin of the Home Guards. In not having Football, the boys of the Class of 1920 did not have a chance to show what they could do on the gridiron. In Basket Ball the boys played a most important part. Lyndon Rader, forward and captain; Frank Stradley, forward; and Lloyd Jenkins, guard; were all of the Class of 1920. Altogether it was a very successful Basket Ball season; the team being defeated only twice. In Santa Fe Track Meet of 1918-19, Hazel Johnson gave a declamation and sang a solo.

Socially the Class of 1920 is O. K. The decorations for the Junior-Senior Banquet given on May 2, 1919 were said by many people who knew to be the most beautiful of any banquet given in Caney High School. The menu was also the most unique. The Juniors had a St. Patrick's party at the home of Flavia Elliott where we all had a splendid time. The last time the Class of 1920 met socially as Juniors was at a weinie roast at the dam of Little Caney.

The Class of 1920 as Juniors was led by Lyndon Rader, president; Hazel Johnson, vice-president; and Clara Hutson, secretary-treasurer.

On September 1, 1919 the members of the Class of 1920 began their last lap on their way towards graduation, since they had now become Seniors. The class of Seniors was soon organized under the leadership of Lyndon Rader, president; Trannie Hackney, vice-president; and Frank Stradley, secretary-treasurer.

game and that one was lost to Sedan who would not accept our challenge for a return game.

In Basket Ball the Senior boys took a leading part. Russel McFarland, Ted Bowen, Lloyd Jenkins, Frank Stradley, Lyndon Rader and Carl Hinkle were the Senior boys on the first team. Junior Brown '21 was the only first team man who was not a Senior. In the Santa Fe League Caney High School did not lose a single game and won the first and second team cups at the Santa Fe Tournament held at Ramona, March 6, 1920, and lost only three games in the Viridigris Valley League. It is pleasing to the Seniors to know that all the men, who played on the first team at the Santa Fe Tournament and won the first team cup, were of the Class of 1920.

The members of the Class of 1920 did their share in the other High School activities outside of athletics. In the debating teams all were Seniors excepting Reuben Davison, a Junior. On the debating teams were: Affirmative, Sarah Patterson, first speaker; Lyndon Rader, second speaker; and Frank Stradley, third speaker; Negative, Clare Hafel, first speaker; Hazel Johnson, second speaker; and Reuben Davison, third speaker. Also, one Senior, Frank Stradley, gave an oration for the Santa Fe Track Meet held at Caney, May 8, 1920. In the same meet Hazel Johnson sang in the girls quartette and in the Viridigris Valley Track Meet she sang in the mixed and girls quartette.

We were entertained by the Juniors with a masked Hallowe'en party. They treated us fine and we all had a delightful time. The Seniors had an overall and apron party on St. Patrick's day. A few Juniors and Alumni were invited to the party; we all had a fine time, especially with the contest between the Flannigan and Finnegan families.

Some of the last events in the history of the Class of 1920 were the Junior-Senior Banquet held on April 23, 1920, our Senior play given on April 28, 1920, the Baccalaureate Sermon given on Sunday May 16, 1920, the Class Program on Tuesday May 18, 1920 and the Class Address given by Judge Lamb of Yates Center, Kansas, on Wednesday May 19, 1920.

The Seniors hope that each individual member of the Class of 1920, after he leaves Caney High School, will do many things worthy of mention in our future unwritten history.

Frank Stradley had handed in a copy of his debate for Mr. Humphrey's approval. "Very good," said Mr. Humphrey as he returned the paper, "but, Frank you must always write so that the most ignorant person can understand every word you say." Frank looked up anxiously; "What part of it was not clear to you, Mr. Humphrey?" he asked.

Marble Halls and Hasheesh

My narrative starts in the city of New Orleans La. I had been there for several weeks merely waiting my time away, always looking for amusement or diversion in some shape or form. To my utter disgust, I could find nothing suitable to my temperament, and was about decided to take a steamer back to New York when I received a letter from a very dear friend of mine, who several years before had left the states to carry on an engineering job somewhere in the Mexican Cordilleras. In his letter he urged me to visit him immediately, assuring me that he had the surprise of my life awaiting me upon my arrival. This was the chance of a lifetime; just the thing to break that terrible fit of ennui which had been enveloping me for the past two months.

Needless to say, I caught the next steamer for Vera Cruz, following the directions of my friend's letter. And upon my arrival at the Mexican seaport I immediately caught a train for Mexico City, the picturesque capital of the Mexican Republic. Here it was that I had to wait for two days to continue my westward journey, because of the activities of certain bands of bandits in that direction. However, on the morning of the third day in the city I succeeded in boarding a dinky little train full of peons and Mexican soldiers, the latter half in uniform, and dirty and un-shaven, reminding me more of outlaws than government troops.

My destination lay in a little town on the western slope of the range. From this town my journey must be continued on horse back to my friend's home. He had hinted in the letter of a fine residence with all convenience of modern times. Upon my arrival at the town I commenced to grow dubious and uncertain, but I contented myself with the idea that this would be an adventure at any rate.

A peon met me at the town with horses and immediately we mounted and rode off towards the west. I could never recount that ride or even begin to tell the many dangers we encountered. We were in the heart of the bad lands or mountains with no path to follow except a faint trail, up and down, around and over huge rocks, deep gorges and dizzying precipices. But all things must have an end, and finally my guide announced that we were within a hundred yards of my friend's dwelling. I immediately looked around but could see nothing but an ominous looking mountain higher than the rest directly before us.

My guide advanced directly towards this mountain and entered a little grotto, winding in and out between immense rocks. Suddenly I lost sight of everything; we were in a tunnel. The peon produced a flashlight and we continued to advance until suddenly the guide drew up before a mammoth door and was admitted thru the medlum of a few sharp knocks.

We entered a cave, but such a cave no one had ever conceived of; within a minute I was shaking hands and congratulating my friend on his abode. We entered an immense hall cut from solid marble with huge chandeliers lighting up each corner and producing a million sparkling rays which dazzled the eye. Everything was fixed in Oriental style even to the dinner which was served in my arrival. I found myself one of many at the table, but as I was nearly famished from almost total abstinence from food for the past twelve hours, I ate with the voracity of an animal. Upon the arrival of the dessert our host arose to his feet to explain its nature. It was a plain blue paste in a little silver bowl. Our host explained it as Hasheesh, the famous Oriental dessert which upon eating throws its consumer into a most pleasing sleep. I, of course, ate mine and at once became drowsy. I was ushered by my friend into a bedroom that in my imagination, only kings could use.

As I slept my dreams reverted back to my school days and the class of 1920. To be sure I had seen some of my fellow graduates at certain times, but the majority had drifted out of my life.

This very thought gave rise to a scene. A young lady and man sat on a divan; the man seemed very earnest about something. I looked closer and surely my old friend Lloyd Jenkins was the man, and the girl—why of course, Flavia Elliott. And as the ring went on the third finger of the left hand the young people seemed radiant.

My next dream gave rise to a large building undoubtedly a school building. As I examined each room I found to my surprise several old school fellows. The first room contained Miss Stella Finney teaching a bunch of youngsters how to count; she seemed very capable and handled them like a veteran. In the next room who should I find but Miss Iva Stoy engaged in a similar occupation with just as great success. The scene changed to a factory of mammoth proportions; in my mind's eye I enter the laboratory and surely not, why yes undoubtedly it is Carl Hinkle acting in the capacity of Senior Chemist. He seemed very efficient and much respected among his subordinates.

The scene shifts to a theatre; upon entering I become aware that some one is singing and surely the voice sounds familiar. I take a seat only to make the startling discovery that the singer is none other than Miss Hazel Johnson. She is followed by quite a large lady, but what a voice! None other but Miss Mary McKee could sing like that.

And as I rove around I come upon a pumping station belonging to the P. P. L. Co., and I approach a bunch of men. I go up to talk to the bosses and meet none other than Ted Bowen and Russel McFarland, two of my old school mates. They seemed very glad to see me, but immediately went on instructing their men how to lay eight inch pipe down a little ravine.

Of a sudden it became cold! The wind blew and the snow fell, and I took refuge in a large house situated in a small city. I introduced myself to my hostess only to learn her name. It was Miss Dora Peterson if my memory does not fail me. Next I entered the Capitol at Washington and find Miss Sarah Patterson and Miss Clara Hutson, private stenographers for the President and Secy. of state. I also enter the White House kitchen and find Miss Minnie McKee as head cook. As she was very busy with the President's dinner I had no chance to talk with her.

I next board a ship bound for Europe. I see an attractive looking young lady standing on deck watching the sea gulls circle over the ship. Her face looks familiar and upon making myself known I see that the fair lady is none other than Miss Cora Glockle, but alas, not Glockle any more. She is bound for Holland to visit some relatives.

I next hunt up the captain as his name had reminded me of an old friend in the person of Clare Hafel. Clare said that a sea faring life was just the thing for his adventurous soul. He takes me to the dining room for dinner and as I look around I discover the head waitress in the person of Miss Helen Bates. The ship was the steamer "Leviathan."

It seems that my next visit was to the Southeastern Kansas oil fields. I walk up to a husky little driller and find myself shaking hands with Ralph Brady, now an oil magnate. I step over to an adjoining farm house to meet Joe Eakes, one of the best farmers in Kansas, and his wife Ethel Boggs. They both seem very happy and contented.

I finally wind up at a moving picture studio only to find Miss Elsie Wheeler starring in "Fidelity Wins" or the "Love That Held." Her director was Miss Trannie Hackney who hollows thru her trumpet at the actors in great shape.

I awake with a start to find my friend standing beside me with a cooling drink. I felt dizzy and uncomfortable and we left the cave to see the construction works and get some fresh air. My visit lasted three weeks and when finally I left I shook hands with Lyndon Rader for showing me such an eventful time.

Junior Poem

We're Junior! No longer the fancies of youth
Stir vivid imagination!
We're preparing to enter the struggle of life,
To swell the throng of a nation.

The greatest period of a student's life
Is not when he reaches the height
Of the mountain of learning, but rather the time
When he's making his biggest fight.

Fight is at present the motto of all;
Later we'll gain the reward.

Such things as low grades or initial defeat
Will never our progress retard!
So much for the future; but what as a class
Have we done for old Caney High?

"Entertained Seniors—hazed Freshmen and Sophs"
Might be the thoughtless reply.

The charge is quite true; such things we should do;
We've accomplished a lot more, too!
Just notice our members in sport and debate,
As you're reading our class notes thru!

Junior Class Notes

The Junior Class opened the social season of the year by entertaining the Seniors at a masked Hallowe'en party. The auditorum was beautifully decorated in cats, witches and pumpkins. All classes of society were represented, from the aristocratic Martha Washingtons' to the tattered Topsy of the South, as well as prim old New England' spinsters and Mother Goose Children.

The Juniors are well represented in the athletics of the school. The Captain of the boys' Basket Ball Team is a Junior by classification as well as by name.

The Juniors on the girls' basket ball team are: Velma Hemphill, Center; Genieve Fell, Guard; and Gladys Mills, Guard. The prospects are excellent for a good team again next year.

In Foot Ball the Juniors did not fall short. Those on the squad were: Charles Alford, guard; Junior Brown, full-back; Frank McFarland, center; Walter Vance, tackle; and Charles Fell, sub.

The Juniors showed their talent in dramatics when they presented at assembly, the play: "Frank Glynn's Wife." All were Juniors except one member of the cast.

The soloist, Mary McKee, who represented C. H. S. at the Viridigris Valley Musical Contest, is a Junior. The Juniors will also have a soloist in the Santa Fe meet. Three Junior girls, Velma Hemphill, Veva Callahan and Blanche Elliott, sang in the Girls Quartette, and two Juniors, Frank McFarland and Veva Callahan, sang in the Mixed Quartette. Also one Junior sang in the Boys' Quartette. A large percent of those that sang in the Glee Clubs and Chorus belong to the Junior Class. Reuben Davison is our Debater and Class Poet.

In fact, the Juniors are well represented in every activity of the school.

Juniors

Careers will be made and careers be ruined,
But we challenge those who know us,
A more successful group of careers
Than those of these Juniors to show us!

Juniors there have been before us,
And hereafter there'll be a'plenty,
But be particular in your notice
Of the Juniors of 1920!

There's Sardis, our royal president;
He's a keen one at basketball!
He's quiet, but has the keenest wit,
And for him the ladies fall!

Charles Alford shows a clownish turn,
But mechanic he will be;
And in the future he will guide
Some great machinery.

Off go our hats to Junior Brown,
Our standby in football!
He's quiet, but has the qualities
That answer Victory's call!

A boy who should be in debate next year
Is the Honorable Frank McFarland.
His strong clear voice and ginger brain
Would surely win him a garland!

Here's to "Duke" Burns, the nobleman
To whom they'll homage pay!
Who has not failed to notice
His aristocratic way?

She's a leader in cheers and society,
And her personality will thrill;
She's the life of our class and pep-meetings!
You know her—Miss Velma Hemphill.

Miss Helen Sheraden's a girl
Who aristocratic seems;
But her pleasant smile and her charming speech
Her proud look quite redeems!

There's a little brunette, Blanche Elliott,
 Whose got us fellows worrying!
 A smile from the dark eyes of this miss
 Is sure to cause heart-flurrying!
 A curtain rises slowly;
 "This number'll be first-rate.
 Miss Veva Callahan will sing;
 She's the greatest in the state."
 "But hold! Who will accompany her?"
 "Sit still; you needn't fret!
 The lady at the piano
 Is Madame Erma Nett!"
 She's like the flower of her name;
 Her smile confers a blessing;
 She is a quiet and studious lass;
 Her name is Lillie Jesson.
 A lovely and good-hearted girl,
 Who basket-ball plays well,
 And who spends her spare time at shorthand,
 Is known as Genevieve Fell.
 Miss Gladys and Miss Treva Mills
 For basketball are crazy;
 And, sh-h! Say, friends, take from me,
 Each one of them's a daisy!
 They say they're short of good school-ma'ams—
 That classes are ill taught!
 One class there'll be which prospers well,
 Taught by Miss Clara Scott!
 A sweet-faced lass who is one of the kind
 You've seldom met before,
 And who shines out well in our civics class,
 Is known as Alice Orr.
 Miss Alta Howell wants to become
 A foreign missionary.
 If she does, why lucky the cannibals!
 It ought to make them merry!
 Miss Mary McKee is a nice big girl,
 Who has a strong clear voice.
 She'll win in the contests staged next year.
 And make our school rejoice!

We've heard some tales of a lovely girl—
 They say she's a man-killer;
 But man or insect she wouldn't harm!
 She is known as Miss Edna Miller.

Miss Marjorie Lindsay oft is seen
 In the Chronicle office lurking.
 We wonder if she'll soon be found
 At journalism working!

Miss Ada Feist has made a name
 As artist in our class.
 She is good at the piano, too!
 She's as wise as any lass.

There's a silent lass in our English class,
 Who is never accused as a babbler.
 We're sure that a genius will be this lass!
 She is known as Miss Cecil Stabler.

Miss Alcie Garr is noted for
 Her good work in expression.
 That she'll some day speak upon a stage
 Is at present my obsession.

Miss Lorenza Lambillotte is a girl
 Who can speak in a different tongue;
 She has a strange and foreign look;
 She's quiet, but likes good fun.

John Grant, first class comedian,
 Will on some great stage play.
 He'll keep the audience roaring at
 His well-known comic way.

He's a pleasant, easy-going cuss;
 His future none can tell.
 Almost an enigma he's become;
 His handle is Charles Fell.

A new boy, William Brown, enrolled,
 Gives us a lurking notion
 That in the hearts of certain girls,
 He's causing great commotion!

Last and least there's obscure me—
 Reuben Davison's my name.
 Forget it, for 'twill never be
 Put down in the Hall of Fame.

Sophomore Notes

The class of '22 is an up-to-date class in every sense of the word. They have succeeded in gaining the title of "Gay Young Sophomores." They have laid aside their childish whims which they had when they were Freshmen, and have entered upon a studious career. The number of students in this class is forty. We have lots of pep, and we intend to make this class one to be remembered in the history of C. H. S.

Caney High is well aware of the fact that this class consists of a number of talented people. Leila Hemphill is our violinist, of whom we are very proud. Imogene Stallard is our pianist. She was pianist for the musical contest at Independence. Beatrice Templeton is our vocalist, and has a charming contralto voice.

In the declamatory tryout four of the six contestants were Sophomores: Beulah Moyer, Grace Barrington, Dolores Hardman, and Lelia Hemphill. Miss Hardman won, and the sophomore class represented C. H. S. at Cherryvale in the declamatory contest of the Verdigris Valley League. Grace Barrington won second place and will represent Caney in the declamatory contest of the Santa Fe League. In our estimation, C. H. S. was highly honored in being represented in the declamatory contest of both leagues by these sophomore contestants.

The sophomores take great interest in Athletics. Imogene Stallard, Elsie Henderson, Daisy Parker, and Norma Bowen are the Basket Ball players. Daisy Parker, forward, and Norma Bowen, second center, have succeeded in making the first team. Daisy Parker is the Soph's star forward. Imogene Stallard, guard and Elsie Henderson second center, are subs. The sophomores are proud of their players. In the class game they showed their spirit by coming and supporting their class.

Miss Lucille Lemmon is sponsor for the sophomore class. She is always ready for a good time, and is interested in the class. She is well liked by the sophomores, who are proud to have her as their sponsor.

Our Motto, "Labor Omnia Vincit," or "Work Wins Everything," is an excellent one. We intend to live up to this and show C. H. S. that the sophomore class is ready to do their part whenever they are called upon.

Freshman Notes

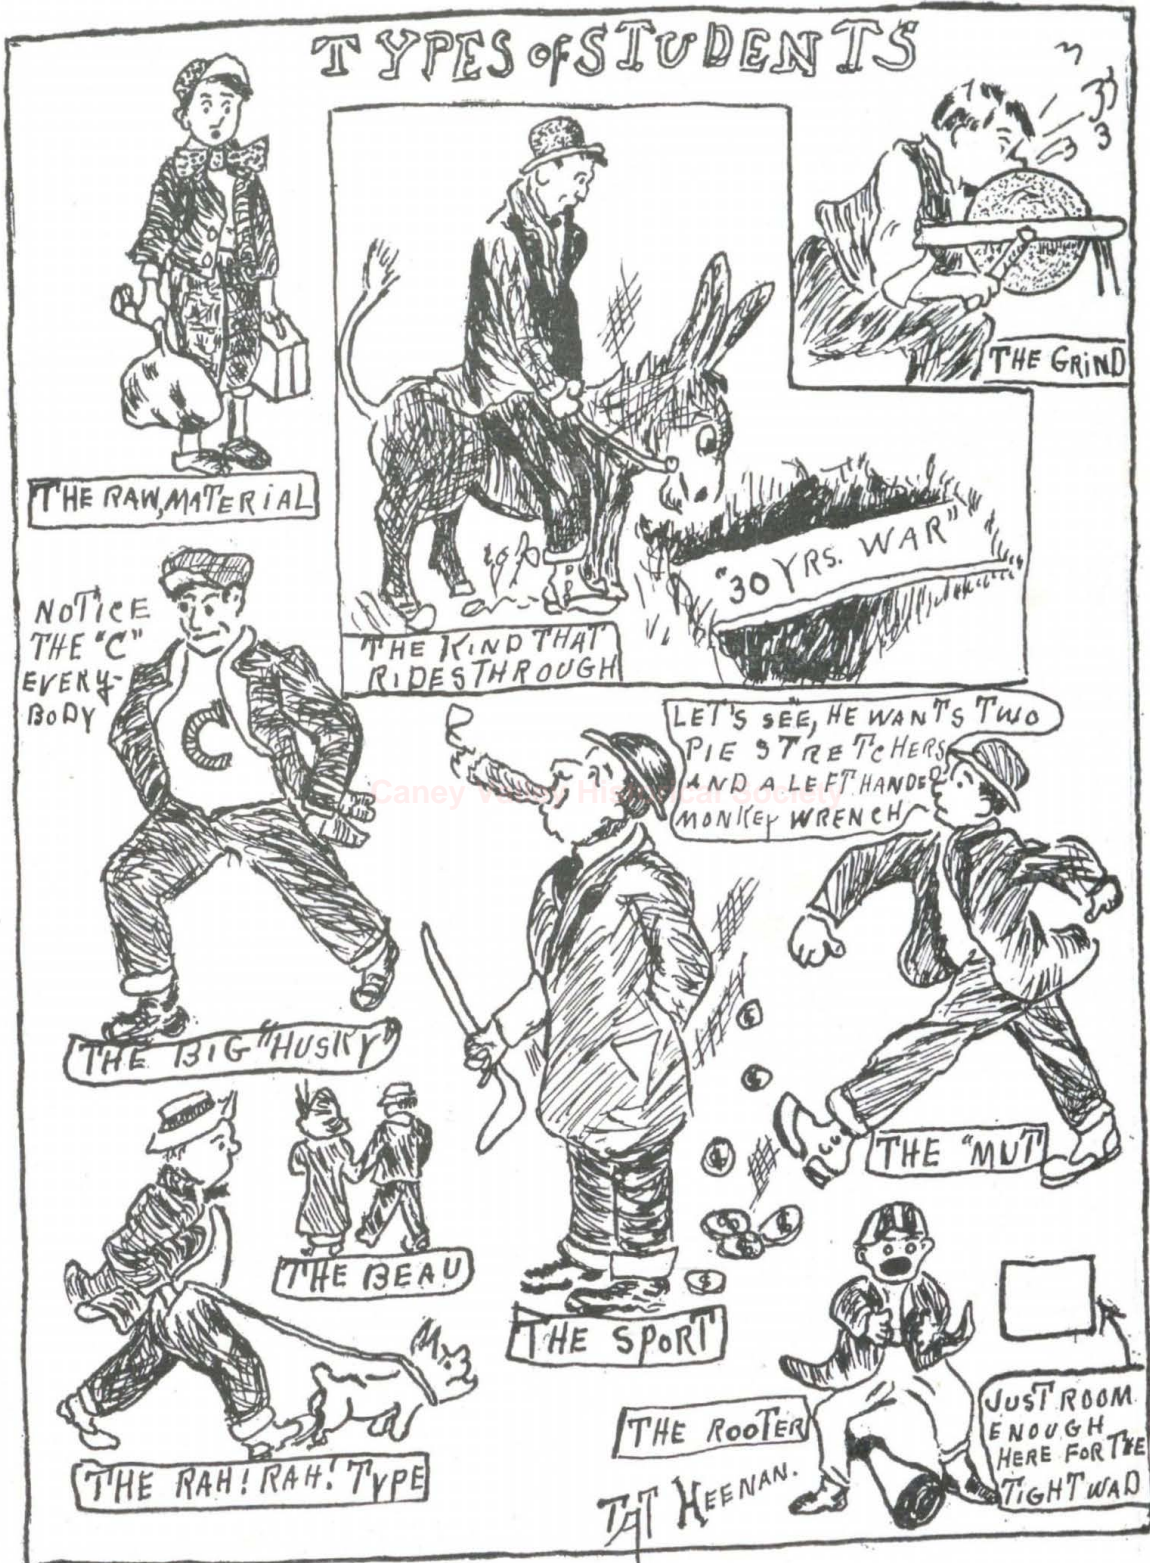

On the first day of September, eighty-eight Freshmen enrolled for a four year's trip through Caney High. It took us a long time to learn our places, but thanks to the faculty and upper classmen, we began to join in the various activities of school life. The first step was to organize our class. We met and elected our officers.

We have the name of being a lively bunch of Freshies both in regular school work and in activities of the school. Two of the members of Caney's champion Football team of '19 were freshmen: Robert Harris and Charles Peterson. We were also represented in the declamation contest by Nora Blake. The freshmen have a Basket-Ball team all their own which has played and won several outside games. Two or three of these players will make strong bids for places on the school's first team next year.

Another interesting event of this year was the All High School Party which the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes gave for us Freshmen. This made us feel that we were really wanted in Caney High.

Since this part of our four year journey has been so pleasant, we look forward more and more to the three yet to come. When next fall comes around we'll be on hand ready and eager to fill the Sophomore ranks. We have come far enough on our way now that we do not look with such trembling and awe upon their great wisdom. We owe much of our success and progress through the year to our supposed-to-be superiors and to the faculty. We hope in the future to have reached even their high state.

Review of 1919 Football Season

The first schedule game of the season came when we played Coffeyville on our home field and defeated them by a good score of 92 to 0. It was after this game that a rumor was started that our score keeper bought an adding machine for future use.

Our next game with Neodesha was one of our hardest games of the season, but thru good work on the part of all the players Caney won 13 to 0. The next week was thought to be the teams hardest battle of the season when it was to go up against Fredonia. The C. H. S. team got down and put in a week of hard work that will never be forgotten by the members of the squad. When the final whistle blew ending the game our team had piled up a 25 to 0 victory over the Fredonia aggregation.

The next enemy of the league was Independence who came down with a bunch of rooters that looked like an army. When they lined up on the field one would have thought they were a college team. When the first whistle blew the Caney team took the field and within four minutes had scored a touchdown thru the heavy Independence line.

Altamont was the one team of the league that had not been defeated when we played them. They were the heaviest team that we had to play and were the first team to make an earned touchdown against us during the season.

Coffeyville was next. When we arrived in their town, to our surprise we found literature and bills of all kinds scattered about. On these were printed "Can Caney?" but when the game was over they had to be changed to read "Caney Can."

Cherryvale was the last team to play in the Verdigris Valley for the holding of a clear record in the race for the championship. This game was played on November eleventh, Armistice Day. Here we were met by a large crowd at the train and going from the school building to the field were led by a band with a long parade following. They had the largest crowd out to a game of any place where we played. It was estimated that two thousand people were out. Caney did not play its usual form of football but by the determination to win they were victorious over Cherryvale 32 to 7.

The last game of the season came when we played Dewey at Dewey on Thanksgiving Day, and it was here that several old men of four years experience were met but the enemy was defeated altho they obtained a scratch touchdown when the ball rolled behind the band-stand and a touchdown for Dewey was declared.

MARION E. GREER (Coach)

This is Coach Greer's first year at Caney. His football and basketball teams proved their ability by winning three League Trophies.

Caney Valley Historical Society

TED BOWEN (Capt.)

Ht. 5 ft. 11 inches Wt. 170 Lbs.

Left Half-Back

Line plunges, end runs, and sure tackling made "Ted" a man who showed up well in every game, and was well liked by the rest of the team. "Ted" was more dreaded by his opponents than any other man on the team. "Ted" was one of the best fellows to fill the place of Captain that has come out in several years. "Ted" is going on with his studies next year, probably in M. U.

RALPH BRADY

Ht. 5 ft. 3½ in. Wt. 148 Lbs.

Right-Tackle

"Brady" was death on fakes and always stopped everything that came near him. He was not only used as Tackle but one that could be put in any position, and he filled it the best that could be had. This is "Brady's" last year.

LLOYD JENKINS

Ht. 5ft. 9 in.—Wt. 147 Lbs.

Right End

"Jenks" the speedy right end of our perfect machine, was considered the fastest end in the Verdigris Valley League. As an open field runner he is unexcelled, and when it came to fakes; say, nothing less than a touch-down.

RUSSEL McFARLAND

Ht. 5ft. 10½ in.—Wt. 167 Lbs.

Right Half Back

"Russ" is the kind of a Half Back who, when the ball is snapped into play, makes the results show that he is in for winning. His splendid work showed in the score for the Red and Blue victorious team.

FRANK STRADLEY

Ht. 5 ft. 7 in.—Wt. 130 Lbs.

Left End

"Toad" was a slicker on catching forward passes. He was fast on defensive work. As this is his last year, he will be missed when it comes to breaking up the opponents plays next year.

LYNDON RADER

Ht. 5 ft. 8½ in.—Wt. 145 Lbs.

Quarter Back

"Doc" played the same position at Quarter, making two seasons at this position. "Doc" was light, but his head-work and grit made him one of the best Quarter Backs we ever had. This is his last year.

JUNIOR BROWN

Ht. 5 ft. 9 in.—Wt. 157 Lbs.

Full-Back

"Brownie" is known for taking the joy out of the lives of his opponents. The bigger they were the harder they fell under this man. "Brownie" was the hardest tackler on the team. He has one more year.

FRANK McFARLAND

Ht. 5 ft. 9 in.—Wt. 150 Lbs.

Center

"This was Frank's second year on the team. He will be back next year and his old position will undoubtedly be awaiting him. Frank could not be beaten when it came to recovering the ball on fumbles."

ROBERT HARRIS

Ht. 5 ft. 10 in.—Wt. 167 Lbs.

Left-Tackle

"Bob" was always on the job, and whenever there was an opening to be made, he made it. This was his first year, but he did good work and will make everyone sit up and take notice for the next three years.

CHARLES PETERSON

Ht. 5 ft. 8 in.—Wt. 142 Lbs.

Guard

Charles is a Freshman this year and did good work considering the experience he had had. In the three years to come he should develop into a star.

JOE EAKES

Ht. 5 ft. 10½ in.—Wt. 167 Lbs

Right-Guard

Joe was always on the job, and whenever the opponents tried to make a gain on either side of him, they found a wall. Joe had a little hard luck in the first game by being hurt but later came back and fought harder than ever.

CHARLES FELL

Ht. 5 ft. 5½ in.—Wt. 148 Lbs.

Guard

Charles enjoyed his first year of football this year. He is faithful and fights to the finish. He has one more year for the Red and Blue and should develop into a live one.

CHARLES ALFORD

Ht. 5 ft. 5 in.—Wt. 128 Lbs.

Left-Guard

"Chuck" was the lightest guard that has ever represented C. H. S. and there is no doubt that he was one of the best. "Chuck" has one more year in which to do his good work.

The 1919-1920 Basket Ball Season

THE VERDIGRIS VALLEY CONTEST

The Caneyites started the basketball season this year with a vision of a cup, the Verdigris Valley championship was the goal. Lucky ball was the style they were playing.

Coach Greer taught his men the fine points of successful playing. They took four easy victories on the start. Cherryvale was defeated at Caney as the first mark in the win column. The Caneyites then journeyed to Altamont and brought back the second victory. Then two easy games were won over Coffeyville.

Caney's record had been followed by the jealous eye of Fredonia. They came to our court with the motto "vengeance is mine" burned deep into their minds. Caney lost this fight but victory was Fredonia's by a small score.

The game with Fredonia seems to have begun a slump. Independence won over "the boys" February 24 and Fredonia another victory March 12th.

Caney came back as victor over Independence March 23 and she previously added a game to her credit in the contest with Altamont March 13 and another in the encounter with Cherryvale March 26.

The real fight for the Valley title was between Fredonia and Caney. Although Caney did not win the cup it was the Caneyites that really caused the race to be interesting because of victories over every team in the league.

SANTA FE LEAGUE

The Santa Fe League contest opened December 12 with a battle between Caney and Copan.

The season opened with victories and these continued "even unto the end." Every encounter piled up heavy scores for Caney. The nine battles entered were won by "our" team.

March the sixth a tournament at Ramona closed the season. Caney won the first and second team trophy. Other teams were there but to Caney belonged the spoils.

Standing—Ralph Brady, Coach Greer, Sardis McCrory, Russel McFarland, Ted Muir, Ted Bowen, Frank McFarland. Lloyd Jenkins.

Sitting—Frank Stradley, Lyndon Rader, Capt. Brown, Carl Hinkle.

GIRLS BASKET BALL

Trannie Hackney, (Capt).

The basketball season for the girls opened the first of December with pep and enthusiasm. About thirty girls reported for practice and tried out for places on the team. As the girls had no basketball last year the team material was practically all new. Our Capt., Trannie Hackney, was the only veteran member on the team. The personel of the team changed somewhat during the season. Four of the first team members: Trannie Hackney, F; Daisy Parker, F; Genevieve Fell, G; Velma Hemphill, C; played in every game. Gladys Mills, G, began late in the season but played every game after she started. Ida Roper and Norma Bowen made our fast side centers. Dora Peterson was our faithful sub. as guard.

At no time during the season did the girls lose their enthusiasm but steadily built up a good team. Four of the fast team expect to be in school next year. Prospects are bright for a winning team. The girls have enjoyed the season immensely and have made some warm friends among the girls of other H. S. Teams.

Track

Track prospects for 1920 are most pleasing. Five veteran athletes are back this year. There is also some good new material. The old men out for track work are: Carl Hinkle, Ted Bowen, Russel McFarland, Lloyd Jenkins, and Frank McFarland. Some of the new men are: Ralph Brady, Don Kenney, Junior Brown, Lyndon Rader, Sammie Warren, and Joe Muir.

Coach Greer purchased new material all around this year for the track team. The team was issued track suits at the first of the season. Work outs are held every day on the athletic field west of town. Both track and equipment are in first class shape and with such good material among the boys should make for a winning team.

Caney will enter two big league meets. The Verdigris Valley League meet will be held in Coffeyville on April 30th. The schools represented in this meet will be: Independence, Cherryvale, Neodesha, Altamont, Coffeyville, Fredonia, and Caney.

The Santa Fe Field will be held on our own grounds on Saturday, May 8th. This is a combination meet of which Track is an outstanding feature. The schools entering this meet are: Copan, Bartlesville, Ramona, Collinsville, Coffeyville, and Caney. This will be a great day for Caney. The meet will undoubtedly be one of the best ever held in the League.

The Kane Kan goes to press too early to give the results of these big meets but we're hoping for a double victory and expect to make a fine showing.

TO BE A GOOD COOK

Cooking means the knowledge of Medea and Circe, and of Calypso and Helen, and of Rebecca and the Queen of Sheba. It means knowledge of herbs and fruits and balms and spices and all that is healing and sweet in the fields and graves, and savory in meats. It means carefulness and, inventiveness and willingness and readiness of appliances. It means the economy of your great grandmother, and the science of the modern chemists. It means much tasting and no wasting. It means English thoroughness and French art and Arabian hospitality. It means, in fine, that you are to be perfect and always ladies—loaf givers, and to see that everyone has something to eat.

About Debate and Debating 1919-1920

After five years of successful debating for Caney High School in which the 3d. District championship was won continuously the shortage of teachers for the year 1918-19, made it impossible for us to continue the good work. A year in idleness in debating is much the same as in other activities: we lose our pep, zeal, and confidence, and must therefore make special effort to re-enter the ring.

When the Verdigris Valley League was formed, among other activities declared for was debating. Caney began at once to get ready for the contest by selecting her representatives. Miss Sarah Patterson, Mr. Lyndon Rader and Mr. Frank Stradley were chosen to represent us affirmatively. Miss Hazel Johnson, Mr. Clare Hafel, and Mr. Reuben Davidson were chosen to declare for the negative side of the discussion. After the speeches were worked out generally and whipped into shape, Mrs. Olive Trapp, our H. S. Expression teacher, took charge of the team as Coach.

The question for debate was : "Resolved that there should be a National Board of Arbitration with Compulsory power in matters in dispute between employers and employees, on Interstate Railroads."

Only five schools in the League entered the debate. In the first series, Montgomery County, Coffeyville, and Caney were to hold a triangular debate; Neodesha and Altamont were to have a dual debate. The time set was February 4th. In these debates Caney won in the triangular over Coffeyville by a two to one decision and, on account of sickness, over Montgomery County by default. Neodesha won over Altamont in the dual, unanimous in one debate and two to one in the other. This put Caney and Neodesha in the finals for the championship of the League.

On February 23d., the final debates took place between Neodesha and Caney. Each school defended the Negative side of the question at home. At Caney we lost to Neodesha by a two to one decision. At Neodesha, one of the judges failed to appear, and each school won a judge. Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Liston agreed, however, that either school must win four or five judges to get the final decision. If this was not done, points must be counted according to State regulations, for the decision. The number of points made by Neodesha was 1356, while Caney made 1344, giving Neodesha the decision by the small sum of twelve points.

The team were all Seniors except one, and all inexperienced except Miss Hazel Johnson, who made the team in her Freshmen year. On the whole, we feel that we put up a good fight and kept the faith, and promise to do better next time.

—C. P. Hafel, '20.

JUNIOR-SENIOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

On Friday evening, October 31, the annual Junior-Senior party was held at the High School Auditorium. The auditorium was elaborately decorated in orange and black. Witches, cats and pumpkins by the hundreds covered the walls. A very realistic corn shock occupied the center of the floor, and the rustle of leaves was heard everytime a ghost or a Martha Washington walked across the room. The guests bobbed for apples, ate doughnuts from strings, broke the Witch's Pendulum, and played many other Hallowe'en games. The Seniors certainly hand it to the Juniors when it comes to giving Hallowe'en parties.

FOOTBALL ENTERTAINMENTS

Throughout the season C. H. S. entertained visiting football teams. For Coffeyville a weinie roast was held on the Football field. A general Good Time party was given in the High School Auditorium for Independence, and an Indoor Track Meet was staged for Fredonia.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

One of the biggest social events of the season was the Football Banquet given at the close of our most successful season, and in honor of the boys winning the big League Trophy. The Banquet was held at the Palace Hotel on Friday evening, December 5. The tables were beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums. A four course dinner was served to each football boy and his lady friend. At the close of the Banquet Coach Greer gave a very interesting talk on "Good Fellowship."

CELEBRATION DAY

On Monday afternoon, March 8, C. H. S. was granted an afternoon off to celebrate the victories won by our First and Second Teams at the Santa Fe League Tournament held at Ramona. First, the students held a parade, giving numerous school yells. They carried the two trophy cups at the head of the parade. Following this a matinee was held for their benefit. To finish up the festivities the party hiked to Cheyenne Bridge and enjoyed a weinie roast.

APRON AND OVERALL PARTY

The Seniors held their regular yearly party on St. Patrick's night. Each member of the class invited one outside guest making about forty altogether.

About eight o'clock the High School Auditorium was filled with apron maidens and overall boys. Everything was carried out in true Irish style; there being two families the Flannigans and the Finnigans who held various contests. At the close of the party, sandwiches, fruit salad, cookies and cocoa were served.

The following day the Senior boys and girls celebrated by wearing their costumes to school.

FRESHMAN WEINIE ROAST

On Monday night, March 22, the Freshman enjoyed a weinie roast at the Cheyenne bridge. Everyone reported a good time. Misses Ramage and Hedges chaperoned the bunch.

SOPHOMORE TACKY PARTY

The Sophomores held their class party on April Fool's night and everyone came dressed in keeping with Fool's Day. Allison Wills made an ideal Simple Simon, and Robert Jennings made a regular Bowery Tough. Grace Barrington wore a wonderful spinning hat, and Imogene Stallard went back to the pig tail stage. The games played were a combination of April Fool and Easter stunts. Last but not least the Soph's did not forget to eat. The party was chaperoned by Misses Gilbreath and Hedges in the absence of their sponsor.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

On Friday evening April twenty-third the annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held in the High School Auditorium; with the Faculty and Seniors as guests. The hall was beautifully decorated in Maroon and White, the Senior colors; Purple and Gold the Junior colors, and the high school colors Red and Blue. The feature of the decorations was the attractive arch-way. Everyone was seated at one long table which was artistically decorated in the respective class flowers. Following a well rendered program a delicious five course dinner was served after which several humorous and entertaining toasts were given. The toasts were carried out in history form with Junior Brown as Master of Ceremonies.

A farmer hired an Irishman to work for him who had always lived in the city. The farmer sent him out to grease the wagon; after about an hour the Irishman came in with the box of axle grease used up, and when asked if he had finished he said, "Well, I greased it all over except the little things the wheels run on and I couldn't get the wheels off to grease them."

Carl:—"I wonder how much money there is in the world?"

Russel:—"Try to borrow a quarter and you'll find out."

Mr. Greer:—"What other musical instrument has a constant air chamber, but is regulated by the vibration of the lips?"

Sarah:—"The drum."

He:—"It's a shame for a man to go thru life alone."

She:—"Well, why don't you get your mother to chaperone you?"

Little Charles had just been chastised by his father.

"Mamma," he asked, "was Adam the first man?"

"Yes Dear."

"Didn't he have any papa?"

"Of course not," said Charles's mother.

"Gee!" said the little fellow, "but he was lucky!"

Little Mark, aged five, had been imparting to minister the information that his father had a new set of false teeth.

"Indeed!" said that good man, "And what is he going to do with his old ones?"

"Oh," replied Mark, "I suppose mamma will cut them down and make me wear them."

"Who discovered America?"

"Ohio", replied the Freshman.

"No, Columbus discovered America.

"Yes'm, Columbus was his first name."

A bashful young man was in love with a young lady who read a great deal; the young man, however, did not. Everytime he called she would begin by asking him if he'd read a certain book, he always had to say no. This continued for some time, then he decided that the next time he would say yes whether he had read the book or not, as he thought she would never know the difference anyway. The next time he called, she asked, "Have you ever read Romeo and Juliet?"

He said, "I've read Romeo, but not Juliet."

Three Irish laborers were discussing the stingiest man they ever knew. The first said, "I know a man who is so stingy that when he walks he takes long steps to keep from wearing out his shoes."

The second said, "I know a man who has a wart on the back of his neck, and he's so stingy that he uses it for a collar button."

The third said, "Well, I think I have you both beat; I was working for a man, not long ago, digging a well, and one day a blast accidentally exploded, throwing me away up in the air. And when I came down, that man was actually standing there with his watch keeping time, so that he could dock me for time lost while I was in the air."

Said Pius, one winter's morning
When he took a sudden drop—
"How sad that water freezes
With the slippery side on top!"

When first he came to see her
He showed a timid heart;
And when the lights were low
They sat this far apart.

But when this love grew warmer,
And they learned the joy of kiss,
They knocked out all the spaces
And sat up close like this.

Freshman—Irrresponsible.
Sophomore—Irrrepressible.
Junior—Irrresistible.
Senior—Irrreproachable.

Manufactured Verbs

The use of verbs manufactured out of nouns is satirized in the story of the city boy who wrote to his brother on the farm. "Thursday we autoed out to the Country Club, where we golfed until dark. Then we trolleyed back to town and danced till dawn. Then we motored to the beach and Fridayed there." The brother on the farm wrote back: "Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and poked till morning. Today we muled out to the corn field and gee-hawe till sundown. Then we suppered and then we piped for awhile. After that we staircased up to our room and bedstedded till the clock fived."

To the Teachers—

You seem to know most everything,
But this one truth I would impart—
There is one problem you can't solve:
The puzzling problem of the heart.

Sardis—Gee, our faculty is about the most ignorant bunch I've ever struck.

Charles F.—Why?

Sardis—Because they're always asking questions.
