Senior Class History

In September 1925 the Freshmen Class started on a four year cruise. We were insured a safe journey as Mr. J. R. Popkins was Admiral. Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Tayman and Miss Myers were our Captains. The other ships of the fleet gave the Freshmen ship a party which was called an all-fleet party. At the end of the Freshmen year there were thirteen who left the class for one reason or another. Some went to other schools, a few had to stop to work at home, others complained that the work was too hard and the remainder were lured into easier paths. So you see our class dwindled from one hundred eight to ninety-five.

At the beginning of the Sophomore year the class numbered seventy-one and made rapid progress in wisdom and in physical strength. We repeatedly harassed and annoyed the Freshmen, showed no mercy unto their sufferings, paid no attention to their heartaches. We organized ourselves into a class and chose from among the wisest Richard Hale for president. During this year our class became afflicted with a strange disease which caused us to act fierce. Wise specialists on diseases for High School youth were called in and it was learned that our infirmity was basketball, Nakenak, Debate and track. After much consideration the superintendent agreed to let the disease run its course and at the end of the year it was learned that there were no casualties but a great deal of happiness, because we had won all of the honors possible.

The Junior Class of 1927 decided that going by water was far too slow. So on September 5, we took to the air. Again this crew won over all the others in the Nakenak contest. In October the Junior crew gave invitations for a Hallowe'en party, inviting all Seniors, and commanders of the ship. We had many distinguished passengers on our plane. We had eight letter men in football, were well represented in basketball and other activities.

Two Juniors were members of the Pepperettes; two members of our class were on the debate team; two members were officers of the Playmakers club; four of the passengers were members of the Girl Reserve Cabinet; two attended the G. R. Conference at Independence; three passengers were officers of the Hi-Y; and Margaret Gibbs was President of the Latin Club. In Music the Juniors held the place of honor of having more passengers having leading parts in the Operetta, Glee Clubs and Quartetts.

On March 22 the Juniors gave a banquet for the Seniors. All of the members of the Junior and Senior classes attended. We traveled on to the end of the year and at last were given the privilege of carrying on the traditions of the Seniors.

The Senior Class started out with a victory over the others, this was the Nakenak contest, Frances Liberman winning the Student Activity Ticket. The Seniors wanting to show their superiority, ordered rings and pins to let every one know that they were from the Senior group. The Seniors were entertained at a reception by the Juniors Oct. 21. The members of the Class were the guests of Miss Liberman at a delightful party on Feb. 22. Again the Juniors proved their ability as hosts when they entertained the Seniors at a banquet April 5. Two members were chosen for the school debate team; the basketball team was largely composed of Seniors; the Seniors showed their ability also in music; three members were officers of the Playmakers, and our class was well represented in the operetta and glee clubs.

We had begun our Freshmen year with one hundred eight members but for various reasons they had dropped out one by one until only forty-nine remained to complete the Senior year.

Senior Class Prophecy

Listen to the words of wisdom from the lips of your prophet who now reveals unto you what has been decreed by the powers that be.

As I look into the land of the future I see the familiar faces of my classmates from the year nineteen hundred twenty-nine, now transformed into citizens of the world outside, as they had long hoped to be.

Listen, O ye, the Class of 1929, what your prophecy holds for you, for as it is written your president, Eugene Coopridier, has in all his dignity and stately bearing profited by his leadership of this class. See him, not leading the affairs of a high class school, but the affairs of our state. The governor of Kansas in 1952, on the day of his inauguration.

Again it is written that Karl Schrader felt the call to go further into the educational world and he is now president of the University of Michigan. On this day he is presenting diplomas to his graduation class. And then there's Berwyn Deering who holds a professor's chair in Sociology in Columbia University.

As I unroll further I see a member of your class who has caught the vision of saving the world from sin. Merna Muir has become a missionary in Japan.

It is written further that one member of the class 1929 is accomplishing great good in this world by alleviating suffering. Behold! Harry Hassard a doctor.

The doctor needs the nurse's help. It is written that Anna Leach has given her life to waiting on the sick. See her at her daily task.

It is written as I unroll further that bill-boards, sign-posts and newspapers are filled with advertising matter about the world's famous quartet that is being heard the country over. They are four of your classmates. Charles Brown, Theyman Maze, Joe Murphy and Burt Hollis. Hear them in concert.

O what is this I now read. Madame Skivinski, the most noted palmist in America. Only the most weathly may get an appointment with her; she is so much in demand. She is none other than Frances Liberman.

I see that it is written in 1950 that one of your classmates is to be the National Commissioner of Boy Scouts of America. See Charles Pocock as he works with this, the greatest organization for boys.

As I read further it is written that in the Hull House of Chicago, a new worker is found. She is noted for her kindness to the poor in the slums. She is truly a second Jane Addams. Behold! May Lambiotte.

The new Editor of the Kansas City Star has been appointed for Missouri's greatest daily paper. See Orris Bennett Jan. 1, 1944.

It is written that the school room called a number of the class of 1929 and Treva Payne, Bessie Courtney, Effie Hill, Jessie Row and Donella Troxell responded. They have rendered a great service by being efficient teachers.

The business world has called several of your classmates. See Ruth Graves, Earnest Martin, Myrtle Stoy, Jackson Cales, Wayne Nellis, Adrian Bradford, and Ruth Sanders as stenographers, secretaries and bookkeepers.

Since man cannot live without eating we find Magdalene Pierce, Dimple Bell, Maude Beason and Emma Fields as Tea Room Managers.

The financial world has need of trained men. Behold! John Hilford president of Caney Valley National Bank. Raymond Dehon vice president and Harold Doss as cashier.

We find Eugene Brewer a successful lawyer. He still depends on Opal for help. See Opal Kirkbride stenographer for Eugene.

It is further written that one of your classmates was not able to avoid cupid's arrow. See Margaret Gibbs a bride.

We now come to one of the most interesting careers of the class. Edward Dougherty has very successfully taken the place of John Barrymore as a Broadway favorite.

We have just received word that Novella Johnson is playing at the Winter Garden with Paul Whiteman's Orchestra.

At the latest report Juley Olay was sport editor of the New York World.

Virginia Daniels has attained world wide fame as a movie star.

Everett Doss for the past season has acted as Director of Athletics at Leland Stanford.

Marie Hoffman has had a very bright political career.

Richard Hale from the last report we have had was a French diplomat.

Gladys Scott can claim the authorship of ninety books at the present time.

Ruby Caffey. Her name is on every tongue as the writer of the latest song hit.

Cleo Wilson has a large mercantile establishment in Kansas City, at the present time.

William Farley is one of the Governor's most trusted pilots at the present time.

Kathryn Delap is now art supervisor in New York City Schools.

It is written that Charles Kannard has attained fame as art editor for the New York World.

You have reviewed your past, you have glanced into your future, now you must leave High School and follow Time out into the School of Life.

Junior Class History

In September of 1927 a large Japanese Junk named "Education" sailed out upon the sea of Ki Chong and had as their destiny Port Senior. Fifty-seven Freshmen occupied this Junk and their minds and hearts were full of ambition. This group of Freshmen were led by their capable sponsors, Miss White, Miss Berger and Mr. Mathews. The officers were: President, Dorris Pendleton; Vice President, Coleen Goodbar; Secretary-Treasurer, Fletcher Hilton.

The first of our pleasures was the all school party—we were amply entertained.

We gave two chapels and had six members enter debate. Five of our group sang in the mixed chorus and glee.

During this voyage we had a very enjoyable Christmas party.

Dorothy Froebe was reporter on the Nakenak Staff.

At this time we anchored at the harbor of Sophomore and had a vacation.

On Sept. 5, forty, now known, Sophomores left this harbor and continued their journey with Port Senior far ahead. Our advisers were Miss Berger, Miss Coon and Mr. Roberds. As leaders we chose Geneva Hale as President, Charles Lingle, Vice President, John Jarvis, Secretary, and Orlena Bennett, Treasurer.

Our first party was the All School party which we enjoyed in peace, being upper classmen.

Eight members were in the band and orchestra and four in debate. Four of our group helped in the "Belle of Barcelona" and Geneva Hale, Dorris Pendleton, Yvonne Lambiotte and Cora Jean Hepner sang in the Girls' Quartett.

Karl Schrader was a reporter of the Nakenak Staff.

On Feb. 14 all labor closed and we enjoyed a Valentine party.

With this much work and pleasure accomplished we again anchored at Port Junior.

When we resumed our Junk again there were only thirty-eight in our group. Port Senior was now only a short way off.

Our sponsors on this voyage were Miss Berger, Miss Francis and Mr. Roberds. We chose as our officers:

President	-----	Dorotha Froebe
Vice President	-----	Cora Jean Hepner
Secretary	-----	Elwyn Ayres
Treasurer	-----	Calvin Cooper

The pleasures we enjoyed were the All School Party and the Junior-Senior Hallowe'en party which we gave for the Seniors.

On April 5, we gave a banquet for the Seniors, the all important event.

We also entered into other activities. Four of the Juniors were on the Nakenak Staff; Dorris Pendleton, Charles Lingle, Elwyn Ayres and Cora Jean Hepner.

We had nine members in the orchestra and band.

Dorotha Froebe, a Junior, made the affirmative debate team.

Yvonne Lambiotte, Geneva Hale and Cora Jean Hepner had leading parts in the operetta, "The Gypsy Rover," other members of the class were in the chorus and dances.

Four Juniors: Dorris Pendleton, Dorotha Froebe, Elwyn Ayres and Cora Jean Hepner had parts in the Playmaker Play, "His Radio Wife."

On March 22, a large group including many Juniors bundled bag and baggage together and went to the music contest at Independence.

At last we have reached Port Senior enduring some rough seas and some calm. Again we stop for a vacation but will continue our journey later.

Sophomore Tribal History

On September 5th, 1927
The Senior High Camp called us,
Flattered us with invitation
Beckoned us from sunlit summits
That had glittered long above us,
Till we folded up our knowledge
And departed Senior Highward.
Here we did some lofty climbing
For two happy moons of flowers,
For two happy moons of apples,
For two happy moons of hunting,
Learning all its narrow passes,
All its golden peaks and ridges.

Here we listened to our teachers,
Learning from their flow of precepts
How to meet and flay equations,
How to prey upon the classics,
How to throttle corollaries,
How to tame wild compositions,
How to vanquish even Caesar,
Till we were proficient pupils
And a credit to our teachers,
Versed in many way scholastic,
Winners of a few report cards
With a sprinkling of 1 plus
Many Indian Maids and Braves
Displayed their talent in Band and Orchestra
Our tribe was represented in Warblings and War-
hoops
Which were a credit to the camp.

Through the leadership of our medicine-men
Boyd, Haymaker, and Hill
We chose our tribal leaders

Great Chief ----- Thomasson
Assistant Chief ----- Bradford
Secretary ----- Leach
Treasurer ----- Baker

Thus we reach the end of our second year in Caney High Camp.

Keen Klever Karnival

The Junior Class of '29 presented the Keen Klever Karnival November 2, 1928.

A contest for the most popular girl to be Karnival Kueen was carried on previous to the big event. Each Class chose a queen: Freshman, Almeda Roe. Sophomore, Pauline McQuillan, Junior, Yvonne Lambiotte, and Senior, Virginia Daniels. The Seniors won and Queen Virginia led the procession at the coronation attended by King Richard Hale and ladies in waiting (defeated queens), following were the class attendants. Miss Virginia was crowned queen for the evening and was presented the key to the school by Mr. Hilford.

In the gymnasium many attractions were found to be very entertaining. The refreshment booth, haunted house, fish pond, country store, animal show, and freak booth were found to be even more exciting than the unusual posters advertised. Many were curious over "For Women Only", and "Fortune Telling" booths. All in all everything was full of fun and sport.

A wrestling and boxing match was held in the auditorium besides the Fashion and Follies. The garden was beautifully decorated in which the queen and her attendants entered. They were waited on by the waitresses and entertained by a dance. Other dances presented were, Bell Hops, Rustic Courtship, Clowns, and an old Fashioned Chorus. The fashions were modeled for the Murphy and Godden's Dry Goods Co. The music was furnished by the H. S. orchestra, and string trio from Coffeyville.

Much work and time was spent on the Karnival but not in vain for everyone proclaimed it a huge success. The event was sponsored by the Juniors, Miss Berger, and Miss Francis.

Caney entered the debate league with persons who had had no experience in debate work and made a good showing. The debaters were selected, this year, from the Dramatic Art, Debate and Public Speaking classes. Anna Leach and Opal Kirkbride were the members of the affirmative team, with Frances Liberman, substitute, while Dortha Froebe and Margaret Lambdin, made up the negative, with Verna Virgin, as alternate.

Dortha Froebe, Margaret Lambdin and Verna Virgin will be back next year to help make a still better debate team.

“His Radio Wife”

The Playmaker Play was presented in the High School auditorium on the night of November 15th. The play tells the story of a wealthy bachelor, Philip Burton, who is much imposed upon by his relatives. Mary Sinclair, because of her shrewdness, finally captures the prize, Phillip Burton, while Gordon Spencer, who is recovering from a sick spell, which caused him to lose his memory, finds that the one he loves, Catherine Gardner, is already his radio wife. Revelry, the colored servant, causes much amusement in his efforts to get out of matrimony while the others are striving to get into it.

The cast showed excellent training and much credit is due the director, Mrs. Tayman. The play under her supervision, met with much approval from the public.

DISCIPULI LATINI

"Fere libenter homines id quod volunt credunt"—Caesar.

Classical subjects are not dull and uninteresting. Who would not rejoice that he had the opportunity to don a real Roman toga and wear the "broad purple stripe" in true senatorial fashion?

Discipuli Latini was organized in the early fall of 1927 under the sponsorship of Miss Kahn. During its two years of existence, the club has met regularly each month, with programs planned, truly characteristic of its significance.

In the spring of 1928 the members staged a Roman fashion show, and a pageant portraying famous early Roman characters and Roman gods and heroes. Only those students are eligible who have studied one year of Latin or who are at the present enrolled in a Latin class. The membership now numbers fifteen.

The Orchestra

First Violins: Anna Leach, Jack Oliver, Novella Johnson, Dorothy Kuper, Mary Louise Baker, Nema Lou Gause, Zelma Penfield, Billy Bolinger and Ruby Caffey. Second Violins: Kathryn Hilford, Beryl Parker, Alleene Caldwell, Emma Fields, Calvin Cooper, Merl Friedline and Josephine Crisswell. Violas: Dortha Froebe, Merna Muir and Donella Trexell. Cellos: Margaret Gibbs, Billy McBurney and Cora Jean Hepner. String Bass: Jewell Coopridier and Berwyn Dearing. Cornets: Edward Dougherty, John Hilford. Trombone: Eugene Coopridier, Chas. Brown. French Horns: Elwyn Ayers, Carl Schrader. Tuba: Chas. Lingle. Clarinet: Donald Hansen, Dorris Pendleton. Flute: Woodrow Leach. Tympani: Burt Hollis. Piano: Helen Toner.

The band, this year, took many good trips and was well received everywhere. Having a period each day for band practice, something new this year, the young folks were able to learn much good music. It is hoped this is only the beginning of a much larger and better band such as Caney High School should have.

The orchestra also had a period each day for rehearsal and mastered such music as Beethoven's First Symphony and much other music of this type. The orchestra attended the music contest for the first time and was awarded fourth place. We had a full instrumentation except the bassoon and a well-balanced orchestra.

The Caney High School Band

THE OPERETTA

The "Gypsy Rover" was the operetta presented February 19, 1929, by a cast of 150 and an orchestra of twenty pieces. This is the first time the orchestra has been used with the operetta and added much to the entertainment. Many good things were said about this operetta and we all feel it was a success.

Athletics

A properly controlled athletic program is essential to every school, these days. The Caney High School, through its physical training departments and athletic teams, strives to give this. The spirit of fairness and sportsmanship is always stressed.

C. L. Hill has been coach of the high school teams for four years and has done much to maintain Caney's success in sports. T. K. Boyles had charge of several of the boys' physical education classes and Miss Wilma Francis was director of the girls' physical education.

HARRY HASSARD

"Runt" was the smallest man on the team but one of the mightiest on the Red and Blue offensive. He was the most elusive player on the squad. This is "Runt's" second and last year at the forward position.

CHARLES BROWN

"Brownie" has played three years for Caney High, he surely had the speed and though he did not pile up many points he was certainly instrumental in these secured by the others. He will be missed from the lineup next season.

JOE MURPHY

Joe was a worthy candidate for the center position. "Murph" played the floor well, showed fair ability as a goal shot, and was an outstanding disciple of fight.

EVERETT DOSS

Everett played a consistent game as guard. He could always be depended upon to get his man. His long shots from back of center often brought on a rally that was disastrous to many a cage opponent. This was his second and last year.

HAROLD DOSS

Harold played his first year for Caney High coming in from another school. He held down the guard position with Everett and in that position played a steady game. Graduation takes Harold from Caney High leaving his position hard to fill.

Raymond Detton

Earl Swank

Jim Nolan

Richard Franks

July 1904

RAYMOND DEHON

Raymond was used as a utility man as either forward or center. He has good ability as a point getter and is always ready to fight.

EARL SWANK

One of the sturdy reserves who was quick on his feet and a loyal man. Earl will be back with us again next year.

JIM NOLAN

A first year man and always willing and able to do his part when called upon. Jim has two more years in which to show his fighting spirit.

DICK FRANKS

Although this was Franks first year, his excellent floor work, his speed and fight made him a valuable utility man.

JULEY OLEY

This was "Guley's" first year of basketball with Caney High. Juley is little and fast and is very good on the floor.

Senior Play

The Senior play, "Whimsy" was presented in the High School Auditorium April 23, 1929.

It was a comedy in four acts portraying college life. Mrs. Sanders is the house mother for a group of college boys, led by Jack Marshall, who call themselves the W. Y. W.'s (Work Your Way). Whimsy, a devoted admirer of Jack's, is also devoted to Rosaline, Mrs. Spencer's daughter.

Dale (Oily) Denning, the editor of the school newspaper, "The Pegasus," is the leader of another group which is working against the W. Y. W.'s. Judith Denning, Jack's sweetheart, does not approve of her brother Dale's opinion regarding the W. Y. W.'s.

Judith and her friends plan a party in Hepburn Hall for the W. Y. W.'s. The party is under the supervision of Miss DuPont, the girls chaperon. During the party Dean Coulter, accompanied by Oily Denning and Howard Peters, Oily's shadow, call and report that someone had broken into the Dean's office to receive the advance information about the examination questions.

During trial in the Dean's office Jack is found guilty. Whimsy, a member of the W. Y. W.'s, takes the blames in order to protect Jack. Whimsy is immediately expelled from school, but upon the confession of Dale that the whole story was untrue, he is allowed to return.

Junior-Senior Banquet

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was held in the high school gymnasium at 6:30 o'clock, April 5, 1929.

Those attending the banquet were the juniors, seniors, faculty, and their husbands and wives, the board of education and their wives, Mrs. Jarvis, Mr. Jesson, and Miss Liberman.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated as a Japanese Tea Garden. The sides and one end were enclosed with large Japanese fans. The guests were admitted through a latticed gateway into a garden in the center of which was a small bridge surrounded by ferns and cherry trees. Quartett tables were grouped around this bridge, lighted by Japanese lanterns.

Between courses of the banquet the guests were entertained by the following programme:

Swastika Quartett:—Claude Johnson, Tracy Phillips, Ernest Graves, Sam Marion.

Solo—Mary McKee. Obligato—Mr. Hollis. Dance—San Lovee Ladees.

Tropical Trio—Ray McQuillen, Mrs. Ray McQuillen, Granville Carinder.

Mrs. Tayman—"Aren't you the same man I gave some biscuits to last week?"

Tramp—"No, mum, and the doctor says I never will be again."

Gladys S. (Before History exam.)—Now please don't ask me for any dates.

Mr. Haymaker—Why, of course not. I am a married man.

Juley—Who do you think is doing the most good, Henry Ford or Billy Sunday?
Joe—That's easy, Henry Ford.
Juley—How's that?
Joe—He has shaken the devil out of more people than Billy Sunday can.

Theyman's Sixty-Sixth Psalm

*Mrs. Thompson is my teacher, I shall not pass.
She maketh me most deeply humiliated
She leadeth me into deep understanding
She exposeth my ignorance
Yea, tho I walk through the hall with my English
I can not bluff her.
She giveth me lectures in the presence of my classmates.
Surely Power and English will follow me all the days of my life
And I shall dwell in the Study Hall forever.*
