college makes visible progress . . .

Progress in higher education is not always as visible as it has been during the past year at Kansas State College of Pittsburg. With a large increase in enrollment, an increase in the size of the faculty, and the construction of two buildings and an addition to another, it has become apparent that the former "teachers college" is growing up.

The Education building, a three-story brick structure costing some $475,000, is to contain fourteen class rooms, twenty double offices, one main department office, two conference rooms, one curriculum laboratory, one psychology laboratory, a research room, storage room, a faculty lounge, and a student lounge. The building, which is to be the location of the Education and Psychology department, will face south on Cleveland street, ninety-six feet north of the sidewalk, and will extend back for one hundred and twenty-five feet.

The three-story, $700,000 addition to the Student Center will enable the Grill to hold a capacity of four hundred persons in comparison with the present eighty-five person capacity. The addition will also house more student offices and meeting rooms, additional cafeteria conveniences, a small ballroom, additional game areas, more small lounges and dining rooms, a browsing library, a music listening room, more entrances, and the College Book Store. The structure will extend sixty-six feet east of the present building and will bring the size of the Student Center to two hundred and thirty-six feet in length.

The serious student housing problem of recent years will be somewhat reduced with the opening of Nation Hall. The four-story, $450,000 dormitory will, upon completion, house one hundred and twenty-six women and is being constructed south of East Hall. The building is being named for Odella Nation, former College faculty member.

foreword . . .

A yearbook must be many things to many people. This the staff of the 1961 KANZA has learned, if nothing else. To the students it must be a book of memories; it must be as accurate a record as possible of a year of college life. To the faculty it must picture them as they appeared fifteen years ago, not as they appear now. To the parents it must portray their sons and daughters as studying constantly and looking very intelligent. To the prospective students it must depict college as a four-year party. And to the administration all this must be done within the budget.

We of the staff have done our best to live up to most of these varied expectations, and we have added a few of our own. Like all yearbook staffs we wished to produce the biggest and best book in the college's history. Whether or not we have succeeded remains to be seen.

Among the projects we undertook to broaden the scope of the KANZA, three stand out: individual pictures of virtually every faculty member, a new and enlarged "features" section, and the commemoration of the Kansas Centennial. It was felt that the absence of the faculty from recent KANZAS was unfortunate and that since they are very much a part of the life of the college, they should be represented in the college yearbook.

The "features" section was revived and enlarged in order to more accurately and more interestingly depict the progress of the year. It is our hope that this section will capture the events and the spirit of the past year.

Finally, this is an historic year for the state of Kansas—her one hundredth birthday. We felt that we should in some way pay tribute to the state and it was this feeling that brought about the division pages in this KANZA. The pictures are as varied as is Kansas. They portray everything from buffalo, which still graze in some areas of the state, to the birthplace of Dwight D. Eisenhower, to an aerial view of the Kansas turnpike. We have combined these photographs in an attempt to depict the many aspects of Kansas' past and present.

We hope that in our efforts to produce a yearbook which will be meaningful to as many people as possible, we have included you.

PRESIDENT AXE speaking at the baccalaureate dinner

The three-day graduation weekend was brought to a close by commencement exercises on the evening of June 6, in Brandenburg Stadium. Citations for meritorious achievement were given to Walter Shepeard and Jane Carroll, K.S.C. alumni.

A baccalaureate dinner was held for graduating seniors and their friends and relatives on June 5, in the Student Center.

JANE CARROLL cited

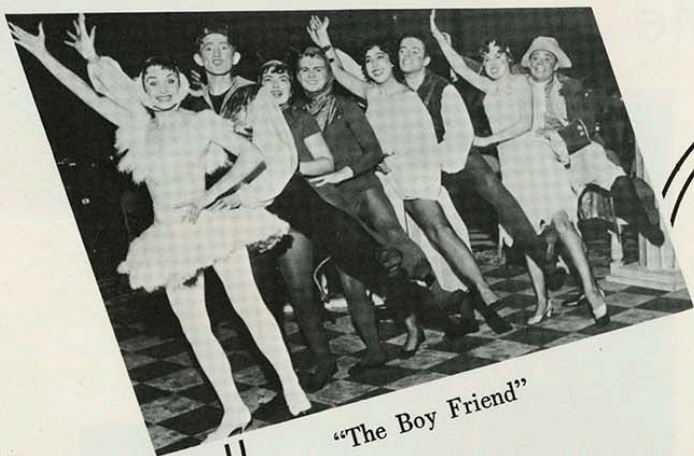

From June 28th to August 6th a season of comedy was presented in an intimate arena style by the company of the Tent-by-the-Lake Summer Playhouse. The tent was a gaily decorated 40 x 60 foot theatre-in-the-round with a seating capacity of 350. In all, six plays were presented: "The Girls in 509," "The Gazebo," "Once More, with Feeling," "Born Yesterday," "The Boy Friend," and "Life with Father."

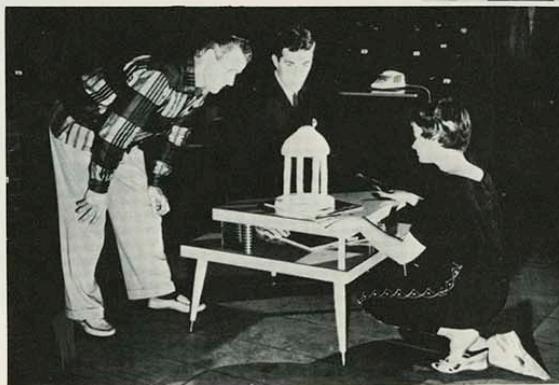

The company were Rosemary Bayles, resident artist; Peter Beatteay; Marlene Brown; Ruth Bloomcamp; Harrold Bush; Tom Cameron, business manager; Jerry Davis, shop foreman; Becky Eakins, properties mistress; Linda Eberly; Bobbie Gay; Linda Gold; James Jones; Seth McClintock; Diane Mitchell; C. H. Parker; Ken Roberts, director; Maurice Roberts, lighting technician; Mary Dell Sharp; Dave Siever; Barbara Spriggs, costumer; Robert Strack; Carl Wofford, tent foreman.

new students take tests...

Each summer, preview sessions are held for those students who will be new on campus in the fall. These students take aptitude and achievement examinations, confer with department heads, arrange for housing, and become somewhat acquainted with the campus. This summer, these students attended a dinner in the ballroom and performances at the summer theater.

A rush week was also held by the sororities for those girls interested in going "Greek."

campus remains academic...

The K-State campus remains academic throughout the summer with classes and workshops. The "Education for International Understanding and Cooperation" workshop was led by Dr. Edgar L. French, senior lecturer in education at the University of Melbourne in Australia. A public relations workshop was also offered to the summer students.

To make hot summer class days a little cooler and more enjoyable, coffee-coke sessions were provided in the Student Center ballroom. On one occasion, 35 gallons of coffee, 400 cokes, and nearly 1,000 doughnuts were served.

ANNUAL BOOK exhibit

GORILLA BOOSTER breakfast

The college was host to many activities throughout the summer. On June 28 and 29 the Kansas Bookmen's Association Annual Book Exhibit was set up in the ballroom of the Student Center. Company salesmen were present to talk to those interested in special textbooks. Also, coaches and interested townspeople attended the annual Gorilla Booster breakfast. This breakfast is the kickoff to a fund raising drive for football scholarships. In addition, the music department sponsored a music festival for high school youth of the surrounding area. One-hundred talented students were given this supplemental music training.

Many took advantage of the opportunity to go to Starlight Theater. Those students wishing to see "Rose Marie" purchased reserve tickets in the business office and rode to Kansas City in college buses.

STUDENT MUSIC festival

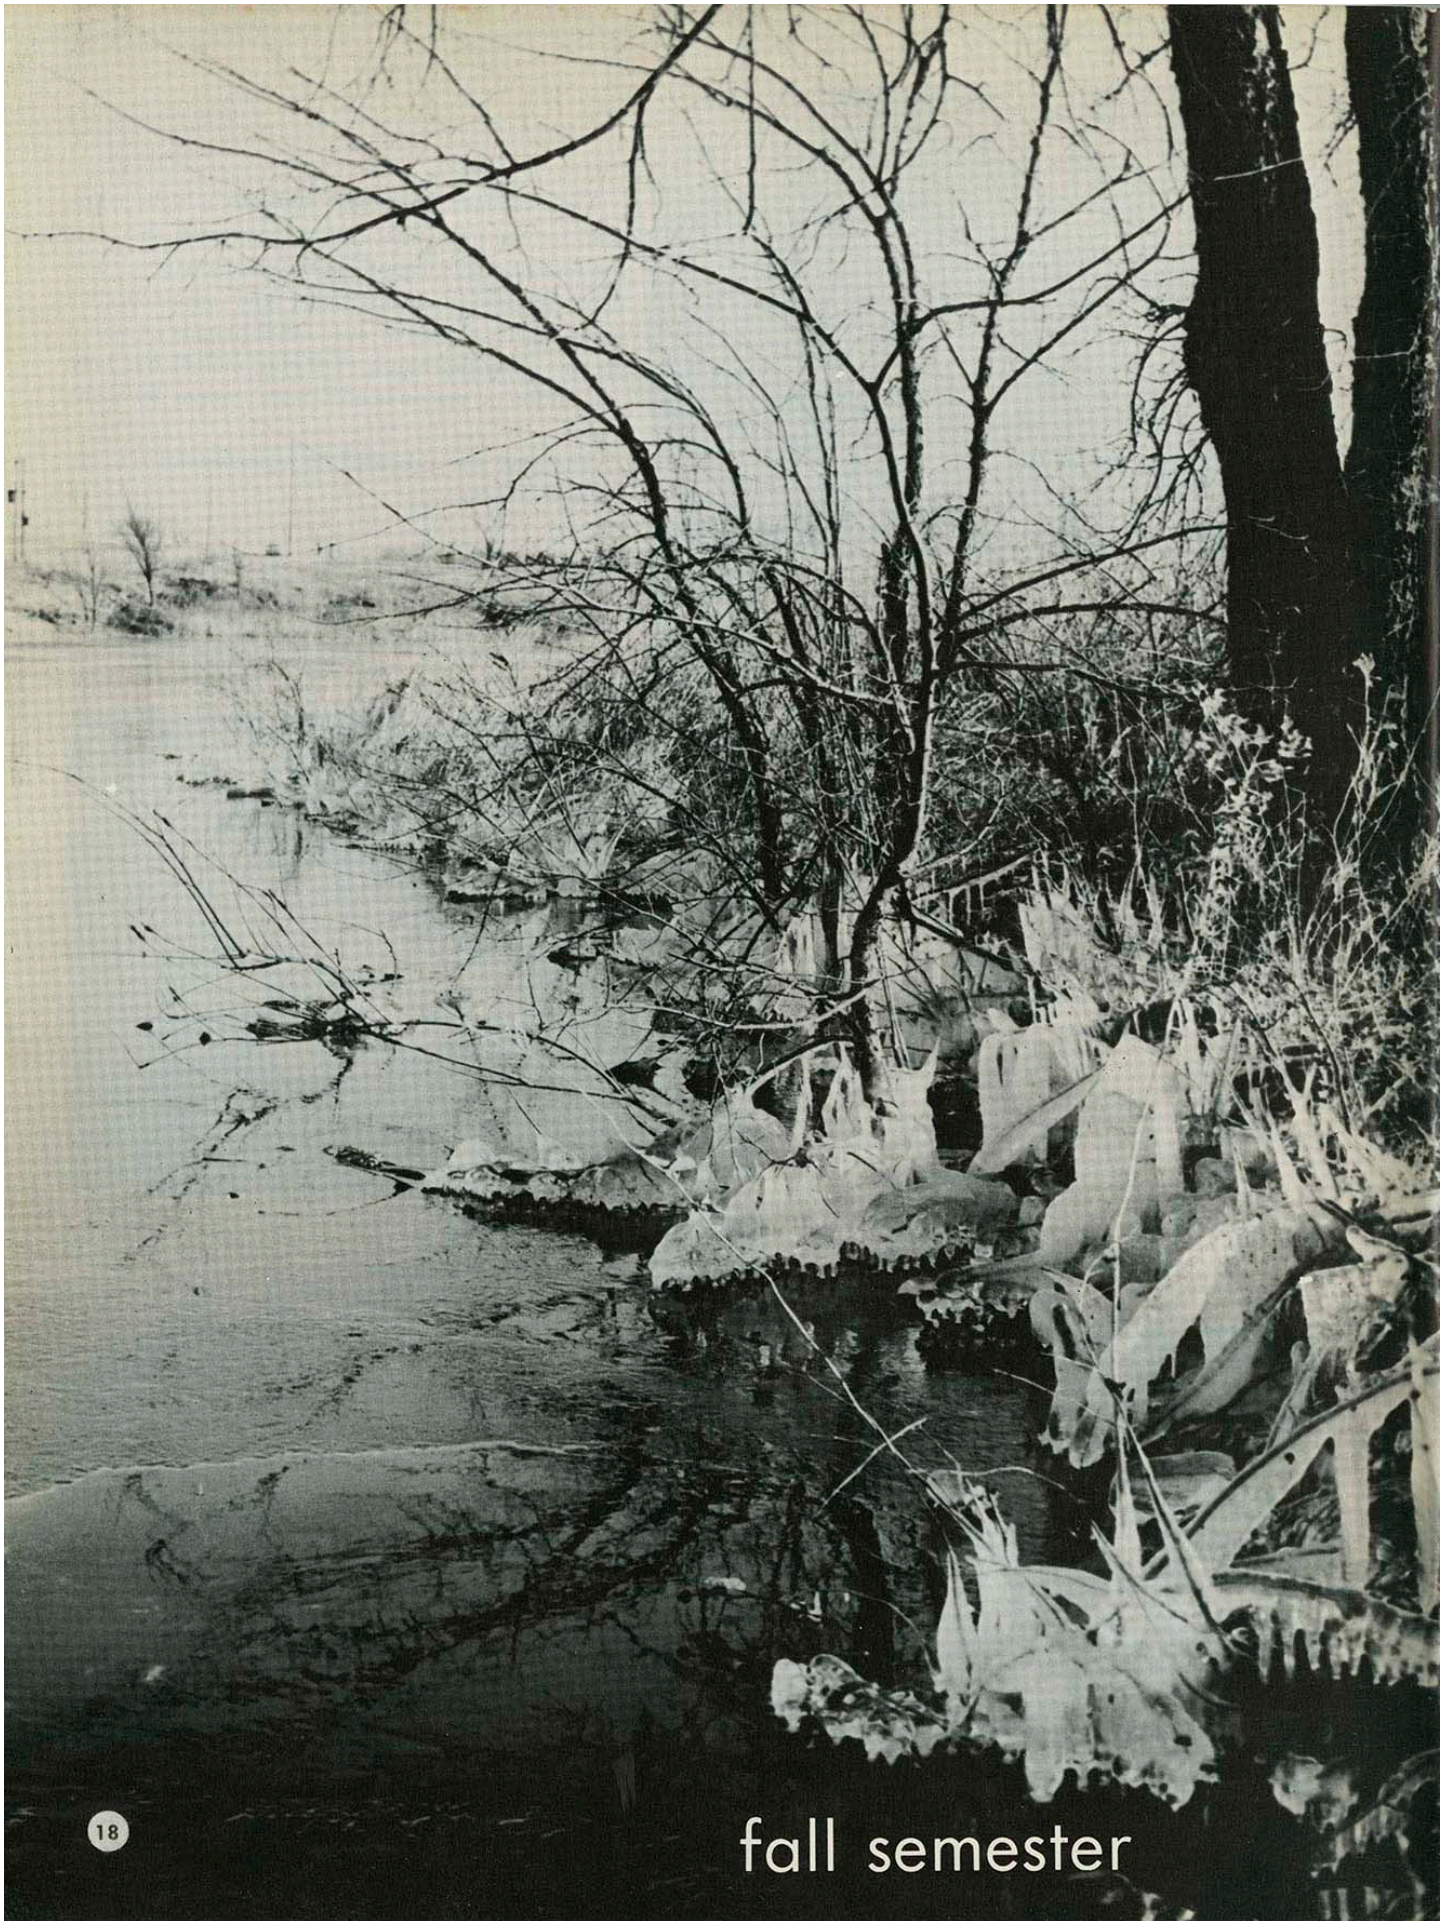

Each summer the college sponsors a watermelon feed for families of faculty and students. This year the feed was held July 27 at the college lake. President Axe led the department and administrative heads in the slicing of over 4000 pounds of watermelon. This procedure of slicing melons has been a tradition on the summer K-State campus for many years.

The feed was preceded by a performance of the college band.

Picnic

ENROLLMENT procedure

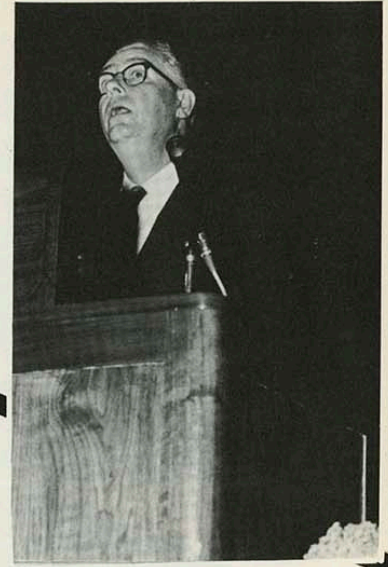

The first few days of the fall semester were spent in orientation and enrollment. On Sunday afternoon, September 11, students and their families were guests at a reception in the Student Center. The hustle and bustle of enrollment began early Monday morning. With the college's greatly increased student body this fall, the experience was especially harrowing. The lines, including the one at the book store, seemed never to end. But at last everyone was ready to begin a wonderful semester of study and fun.

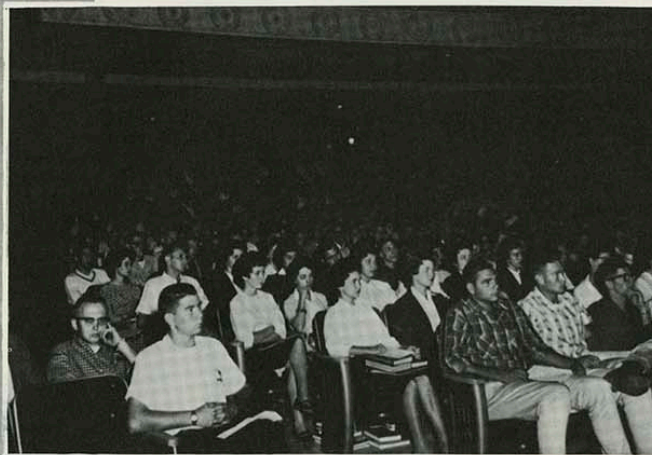

An all-school convocation was held on September 30. At this assembly, President Axe officially opened the 58th year of Kansas State College. In his speech, the President stressed the great need for maximum development of the mind. This opening convocation had been postponed twice because of late installation of new seats in Carney Auditorium.

On October 3, with a gold shovel, President Axe broke the ground for the construction of a new education and psychology building. Pictured with the President are Frank Freeto and L. B. Carlyon.

GREEK BALL dancers

The magnificent voice of baritone William Warfield resounded throughout Carney Auditorium on the night of October 6. Mr. Warfield was truly an artist of profound expression. Another musical attraction of the season was the first in a series of faculty recitals and concerts. Lowell Adams, violist and his wife, Catherine Adams, violinist, presented an all-contemporary recital on October 11, in McCray Hall.

Days of the roaring twenties were relived on campus when the sororities and fraternities attended a Greek Ball. Attired in costumes of the early twenties, the "Greeks" danced the Charleston in the Student Center Ballroom.

"Life with Father"

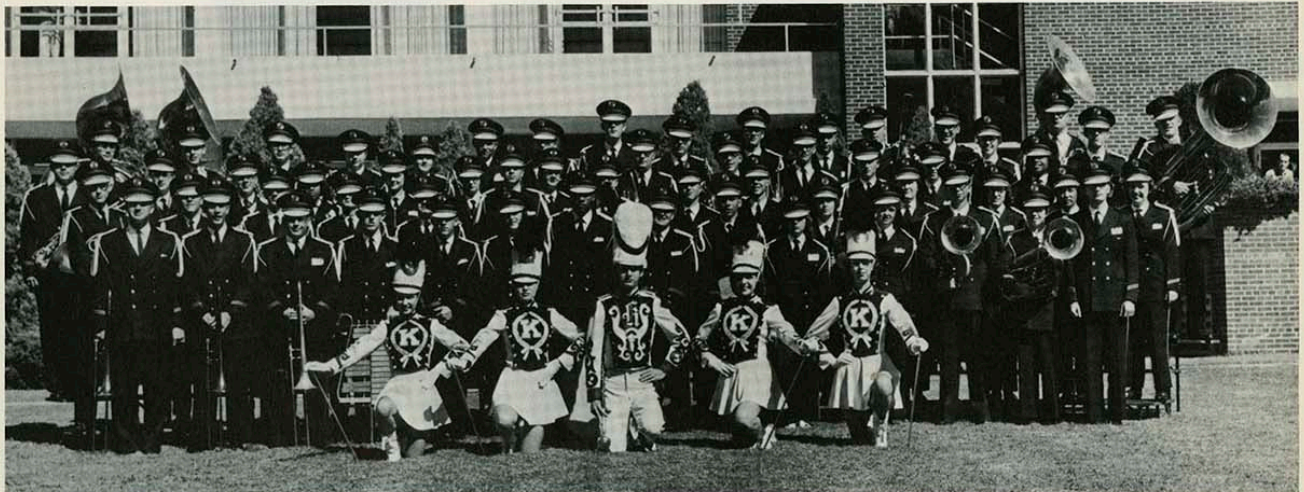

"Life with Father" re-opened Saturday, October 12. This three-act play was first presented in the Tent-by-the-Lake during the summer session. Staged in Carney, the production was received with warm enthusiasm.

students journey to see candidates . . .

Richard Nixon

In a national election year like 1960, many students participate in party politics. About 25 Young Republicans went to Kansas City on September 23, to a rally at which Mr. Richard Nixon appeared. The Young Democrats traveled to Joplin on October 12, to hear Mr. John Kennedy speak. In both instances, this close association with the presidential candidates helped the students gain a better insight into the affairs of national politics.

football season begins with enthusiasm . . .

K-State Gorillas opened their season with a defeat over the Springfield Bears. This home game and others throughout the season gave thrills to many townspeople and students. With the help of the Pitt Peppers, band, and enthusiastic rooters, the Gorillas made the 1960-61 football season a victorious one.

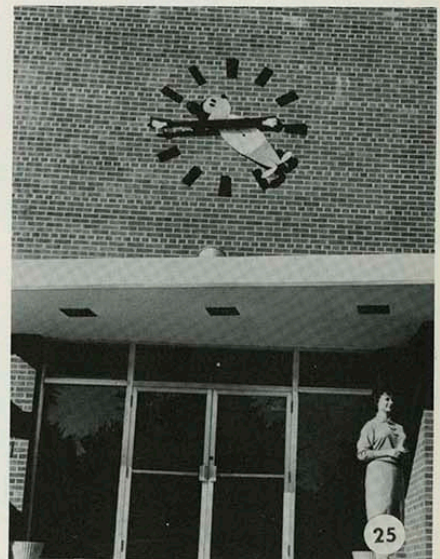

For the Rolla game on October 1, the campus was host to cheerleaders and senior students from surrounding high schools. Such occasions as these give seniors an opportunity to become acquainted with aspects of college life.

Parents of K-State students were honored at the Maryville game on October 8. During the "half," the Student Assembly president introduced dads who had received special recognition. These dads were Ed Quinn, oldest alum; Joseph Pine, who came the farthest distance (900 miles); Walter Brown, father of the most children now attending the college; Henry Bradley, 72, oldest father; and Earl Maxwell, 36, youngest father.

During the weeks of football, some Mickey Mouse fan affixed a caricature of his "hero" on the clock at the Student Center. However, Mickey Mouse might appropriately stand here, for he is indicative of what goes on around the coffee tables within.

but wonderful...

Homecoming is always a time of fun and hard work for the K-Stater. With bonfires, snake dances through town, and float decorating until the early hours of the morning, the week quickly flies by until nothing is left but a heap of crumpled napkins, crepe paper, and chicken wire.

This year at homecoming time alumni and students were honored in having Duke Ellington and his band make an appearance on the stage at Carney. The concert was lauded by those who attended and especially by all the autograph seekers.

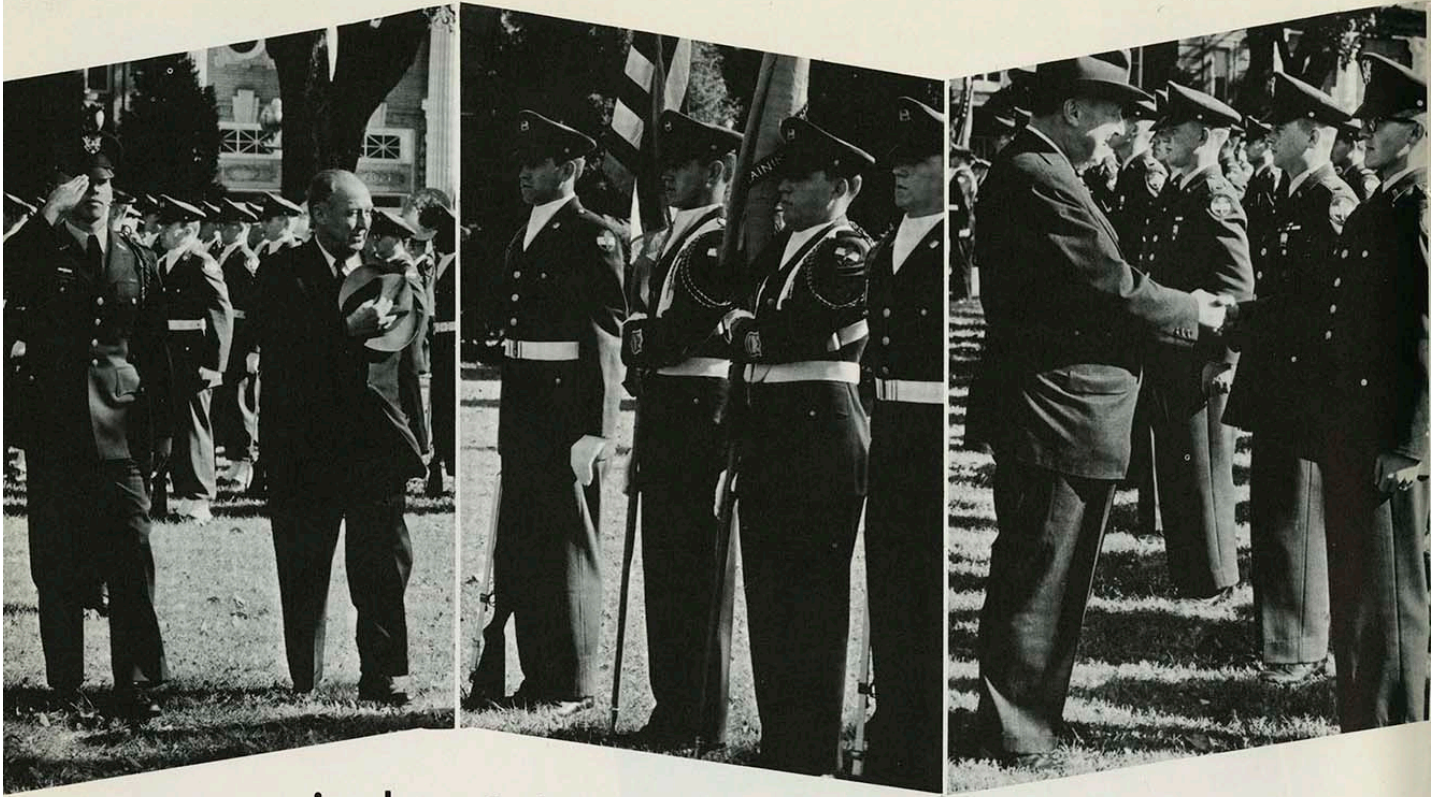

The Gorillas were victorious in their defeat over Washburn on the afternoon of the homecoming game. In spite of rain, the game continued and was cheered on by wet and hearty fans.

home-game season ends on military night . . .

Playing against Emporia was the last home game of the season. Since this was Military Night at Brandenburg, the entire R.O.T.C. corps marched onto the field and then took up seats in the stadium. During the half-time, the drill team exhibited their skill and precision.

campus is host to guests . . .

Dewey Short reviewing troops

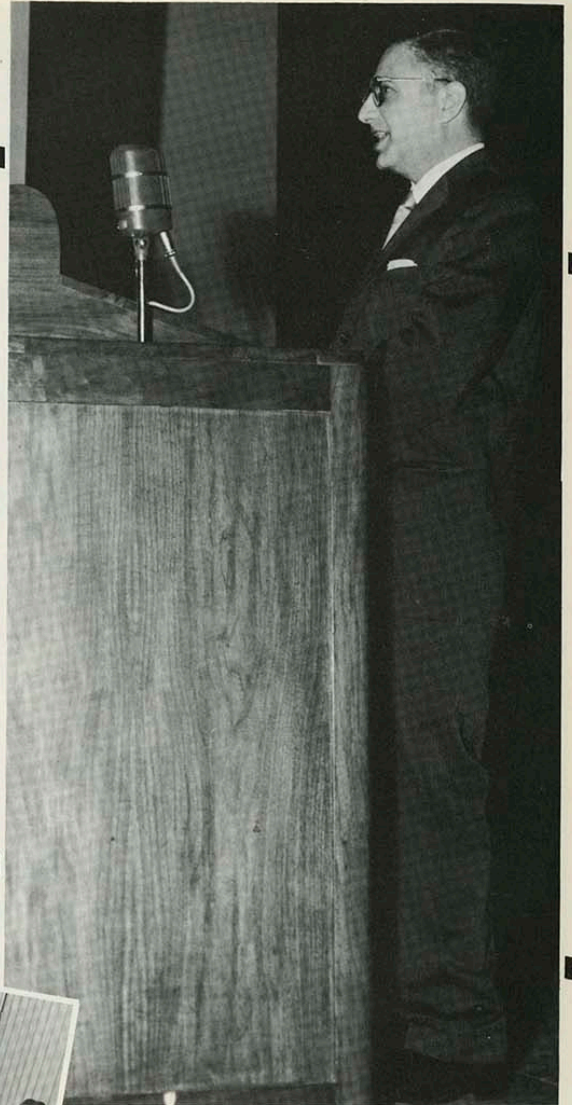

Assistant Secretary of the Army, Mr. Dewey Short, was on campus November 1, to review the R.O.T.C. corps. In a formal review in front of Russ Hall, the secretary observed the cadet officers with honor and dignity. Earlier in the day he had spoken to an assemblage of military science students.

The opening concert of the Chamber Music Series was presented November 1. Soulima Stravinsky, son of the famous Igor Stravinsky, played many classical piano favorites. The Chamber Music Series, which features both American and European artists, is now in its fourth season.

religious emphasis days are observed . . .

Religious Emphasis Days were a time of discussion and thought for the K-State student. Through informal meetings, luncheons, and convocations three religious leaders brought their words of inspiration to the campus. Rabbi Norbert Rosenthal, who serves with the Temple Israel, Tulsa, Oklahoma, spoke in convocation on Monday, November 14, 1960. Besides being a rabbi in Tulsa, he is on the board of directors at a boys school in Charles, Illinois. Rabbi Rosenthal served in the Pacific as Chaplain and was discharged with the rank of major. In his discussion on the theme, "Who Am I?", he declared that this is "the fundamental question of every religion and culture in the world."

Rabbi Norbert Rosenthal

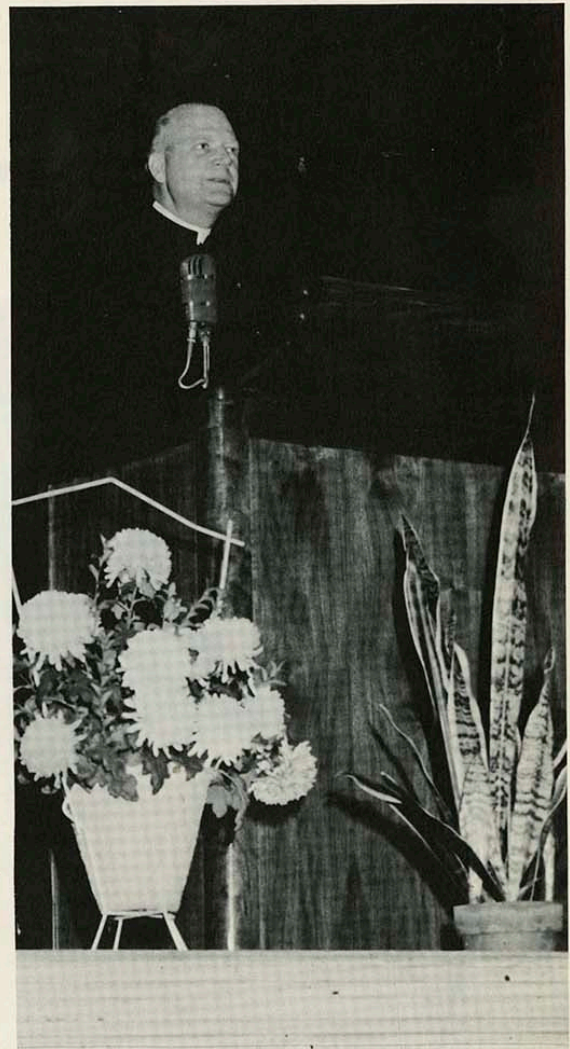

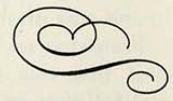

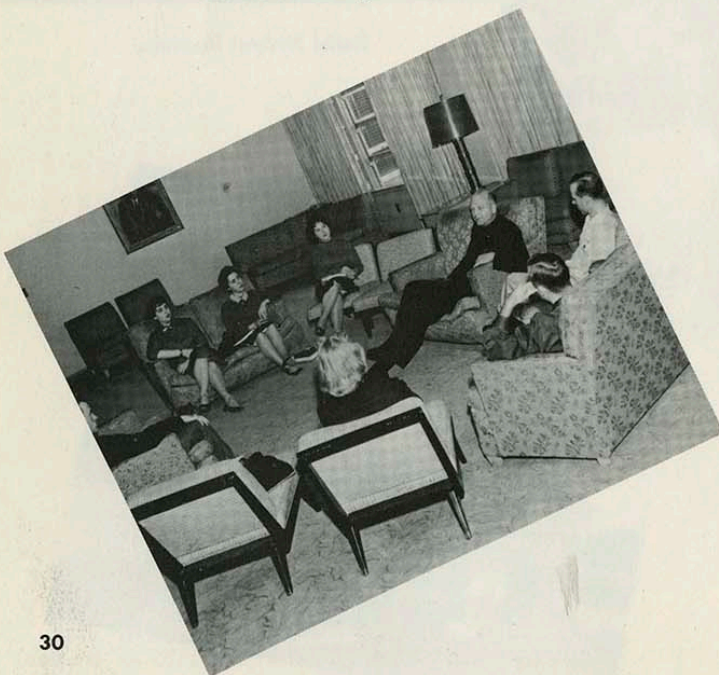

Dr. Robert Young

Dr. Robert Young addressed the convocation on Tuesday morning. Dr. Young is a minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Akron, Ohio. He has been active in the General Council of the Presbyterian Church and is chairman of two committees in the Council. In addition to having been a Navy Chaplain, Dr. Young served as an instructor of philosophy of religion at Akron University.

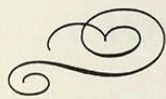

Wednesday afternoon, Rev. George Garrelts, Chaplain of the Catholic Deaf in Minneapolis, Minnesota, offered his definition of "Who Am I?". Rev. Garrelts was ordained in 1942 at St. Paul Seminary. He has served as chaplain at General Hospital in Minneapolis and has been Chaplain of the Catholic Physicians Guild of St. Luke. At present Rev. Garrelts is editor of the Newman Annual. These three days of religious emphasis were directed by two student co-chairmen: Miss Marlene Gmeiner and Miss Carolyn Schelin.

Mendelssohn's "Elijah" was presented November 13 and 14, as a major feature of Religious Emphasis Days. The college oratorio choir and orchestra gave these performances under the direction of Mr. Richard Smith, conductor. Karen Williams, soprano; Helen Aikens, alto; Ralph Mock, baritone; and James Kneebone, tenor, were soloists. Each of these outstanding performers sang his arias in a way that exemplifies fine artistry and musical expression.

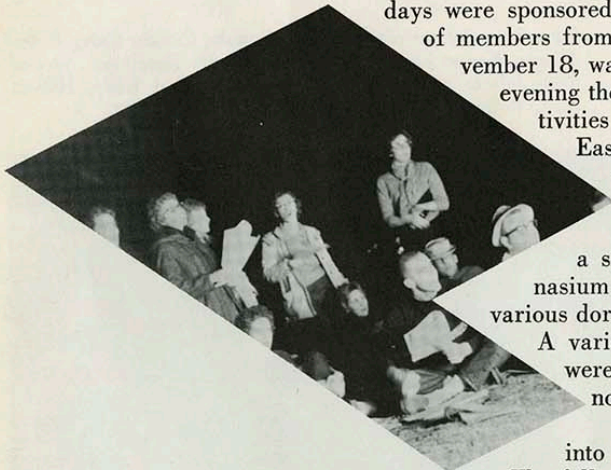

A new musical group on campus, the Collegiates, also participated in Religious Emphasis Days activities. At the Tuesday morning convocation the Collegiates gave testimony of their excellence. Under the direction of Mr. Smith they have become an important asset to campus musical presentations.

campus students caper . . .

Campus Capers was a weekend of fun and entertainment on the campus. Activities of the two days were sponsored by a joint council composed of members from the dormitories. Friday, November 18, was the first day of Capers. That evening the men on campus began the activities by serenading the women at East and Willard. Then everyone went to a bonfire on the football practice field. Immediately following the bonfire a sock-hop was held in the gymnasium; during the intermission the various dormitories presented skits. A variety of intramural co-ed sports were offered for Saturday afternoon. At this event many of the campus cuties were thrown into the mud at the college lake. The fellows got their share of mud, too, in a tug of war. In the evening the crowd gathered at the shelter house for a picnic which was followed by a movie in Carney Auditorium. A mound of dirt, accumulated from diggings for the new Education building, was appropriately tagged by some student who felt the mound resembled an ant hill.

college finds entertainment . . .

"Military Police Corps" was the theme for the annual Military Ball sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, honorary ROTC fraternity. This November 28th dance was provided with music by Les Brown and his orchestra. Those coeds receiving special honors were Sue McCord, Honorary Battle Group Commander; Helen Andrews, Honorary Deputy Battle Group Commander; and Shirley Ratledge, Honorary Battle Group Executive Officer.

"Rashomon" opened on Carney Stage December 9. This excellently written and portrayed play deals with the basic concepts of truth. Staged in an atmosphere of Japan, action was centered around the famous Rashomon Gate.

"Rashomon"

Hans Schwieger conducted the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra at the second concert of the annual series, November 22 in Carney Hall Auditorium. This evening of Brahms, Ravel, and Wagner furnished a variety of cultural entertainment for the interested K-State student.

KSC's debate squad was quite successful this year. After winning trophies at Wichita, Arkansas University, Oklahoma Central, and Texas Christian University, Paul Harper and Bill Nelson won the first-place trophy at the Southwestern College Tournament in Winfield. This tournament is the oldest in the nation and was attended by 200 teams from 52 colleges in 11 states. Those participating in debate for the year were as follows: Bob Bosseau, Larry Bryant, Barbara Clark, Alleen Diklich, Paul Harper, John Knittel, Bill Nelson, Paul Page, Sue Pratt, Marcia Rowe, Marshall Seavey, Lowell Sharp, and Karen Spicer. H. Francis Short is director of forensics at the college.

basketball comes to the campus...

Basketball games came to the campus in November. Throughout the season K-Staters showed enthusiasm and support for the team. On one occasion, before the Central Oklahoma State game, a dummy was hung in effigy on the oval.

A $55,000 Royal McBee digital computer arrived at the college this semester. This electronic brain will provide training and solve problems in business and industry. Ass't Prof. George Mycroft and several graduate students are building an analog computer to supplement the work of this machine.

The College orchestra plays at many campus functions. It is composed of students and faculty talented in this instrumental art, not just those people who are majors in the department of music. The time spent and the effort exerted by these musicians are greatly appreciated.

signs of christmas appear . . .

Holiday joy came to the campus in December with the appearance of Christmas trees and decorations, dances, and pretty party dresses. For most students the Christmas vacation presented an opportunity for them to leave the college cloister and to return to their hometowns to assume the life of individuals free from exhaustive study, going to bed late and rising early, and the ever present social climbing. To many parts of the country students followed the road signs, only to return two weeks later with the sudden realization that finals were just around the corner.

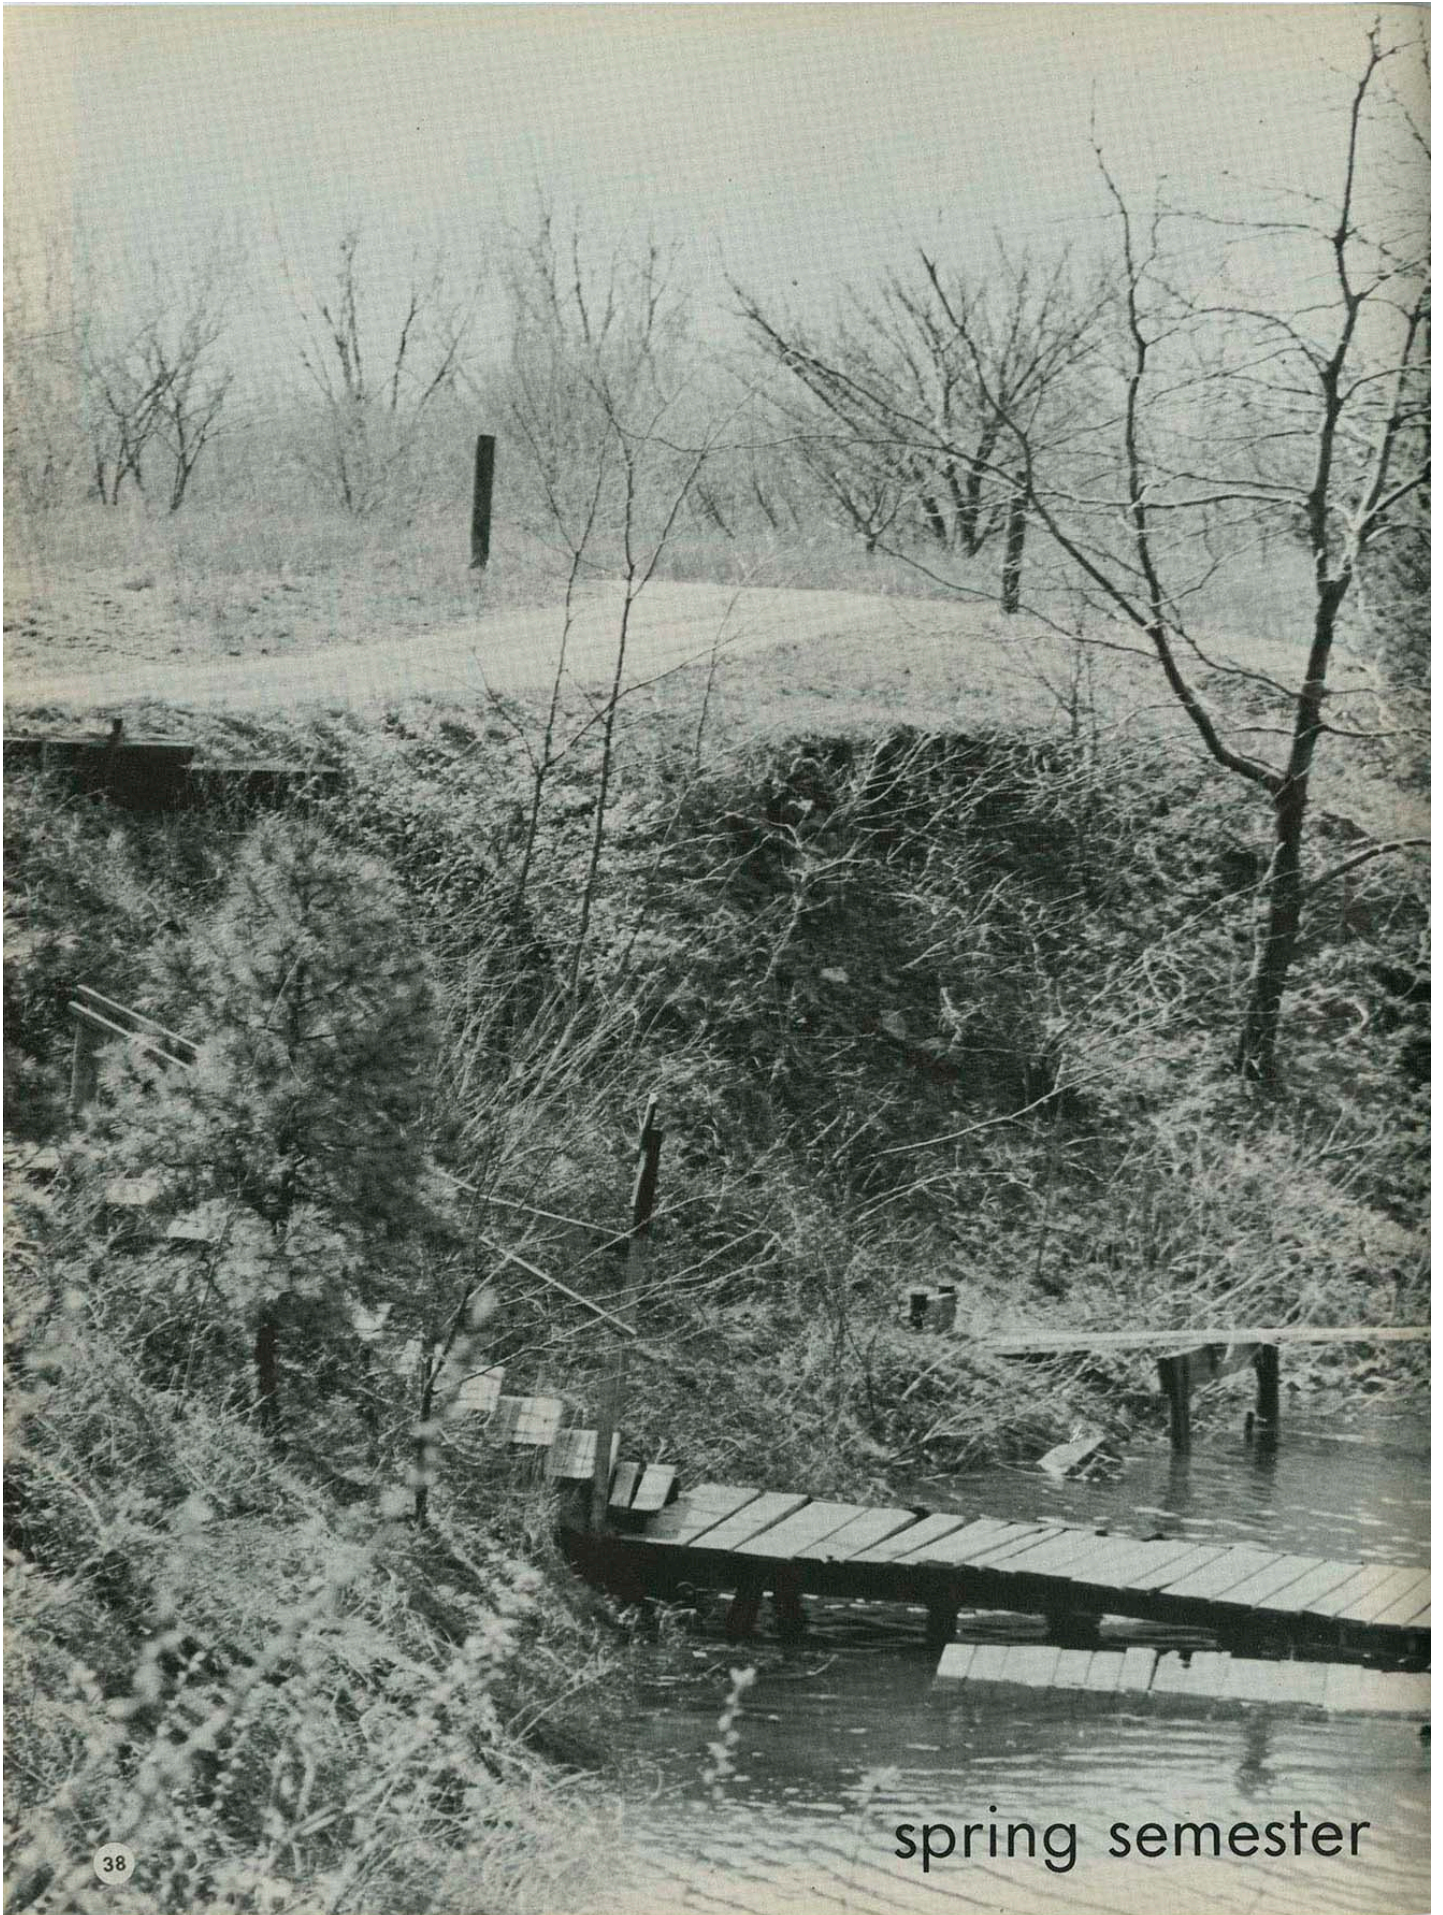

All studying and book cracking for the fall semester ceased promptly on January 26, the last day of final exams. With this ending of the semester came both sadness and joy: sadness because all the good times had turned to memories; joy because a semester's work had been completed and a new term awaited for the spring.

At the time the fall semester closed, construction had proceeded further on the new Education building. Having taken form with its foundation, the building began to grow.

TROPHIES GIVEN to debaters

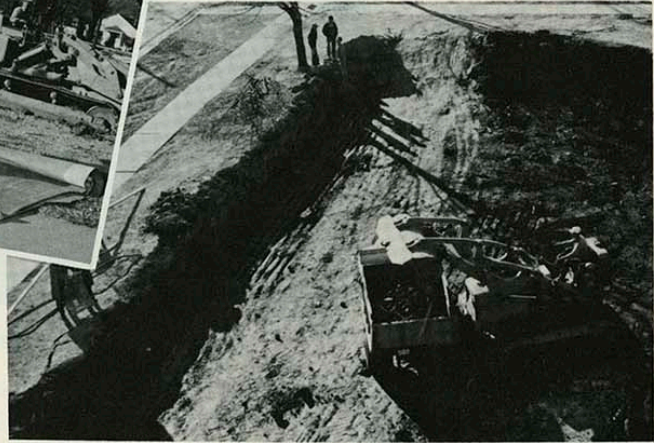

More than 200 debaters came to the campus January 27 and 28 for the nineteenth annual Gorilla Forensic tournament. To this event came students from eleven states. The tournament was divided into four sections: regular debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and television speaking. The television speaking contest is unique to the Pittsburg campus. Video cameras transmitted images of contestants via closed circuit to a room in Russ Hall. H. Francis Short was director of this affair; Marshall Seavey, student tournament director.

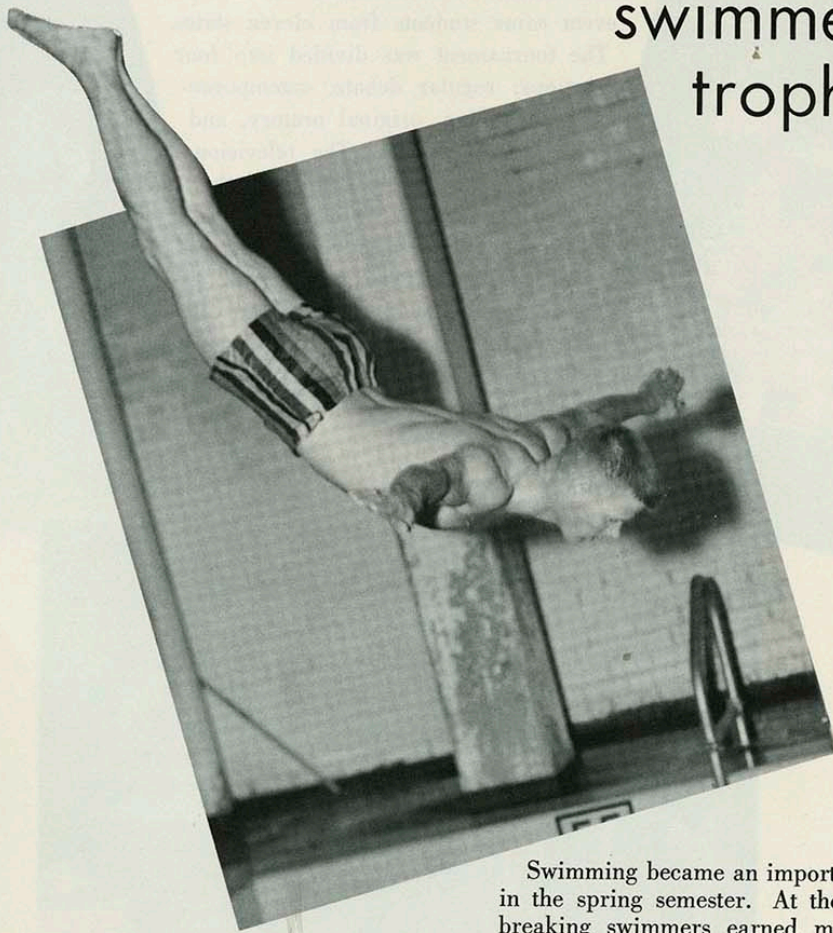

At the beginning of the semester construction commenced on Nation Hall, the new women's dormitory. President Axe was at this site when the first earth was moved in preparation for the project. With the President was L. B. Carlyon, plant superintendent, who explained last-minute construction details. The dormitory will be named for Odella Nation, former campus librarian.

Swimming became an important sporting event in the spring semester. At their meets, record-breaking swimmers earned many trophies and awards for the college as well as honor and prestige.

campus strives for education and entertainment...

Honors Forum, a new organization on campus for the stimulation of intellectual discussion, met for the first time on February 20. Abdul Abdi, elected president, and Judy Little, elected secretary, were congratulated by Bob Strahan, Student Assembly vice-president of educational affairs and presiding officer at this initial meeting.

The third program of the concert series was presented in Carney Auditorium February 17. A superb exhibition of dancing artistry was demonstrated that evening by the Zachary Solov Ballet Ensemble.

Snow seldom came to the campus this winter; but when it did make an appearance, it left behind beautifully delicate traces to admire.

Hal Holbrook appeared on March 20 in the last of the concert series. Dressed to resemble Mark Twain, Mr. Holbrook impersonated this well-known author by staging a one-man show with material taken from Twain's writings.

apple day

Jane Shanks and Robert Strahan, Outstanding Seniors

The Outstanding Senior Man and Woman were named at the Apple Day Convocation, held March 2. Jane Shanks, language and literature major, was awarded the title Outstanding Senior Woman. Jane has been a KSC debater, president of Pi Kappa Delta, and president of the Student Union Board; she has been a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Golden Crest, Religious Activities Council, Kappa Phi, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and the Dean's Honor Roll. She has also received a number of scholarships and awards.

Robert Strahan, physics major, was chosen Outstanding Senior Man. He has been a member of Gold Key, Scabbard and Blade, Collegiate Young Democrats, the American Rocket Society, the Student Assembly's educational affairs commission, Physics Club, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He was organizer and editor of Matrix, literary magazine. He has received various scholarships and awards for outstanding work in his major area and in the ROTC corps.

Also during the apple convocation, calls were made from the stage to various people around the country important to the history of the college. President Axe and Mr. F. W. Brinkerhoff, editor of the Pittsburg Sun, talked to R. S. Russ, founder of the school, via this telephone system. The seven finalists in the Kanza Queen contest were announced at the convocation. Photographed with them was Mrs. Arthur G. Evans-Lombe, the former Miss Mae Harpole, first Queen of the Kanza. Mrs. Evans-Lombe came from Fort Worth, Texas to appear in the program and to introduce the queen finalists. Students selected to appear in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities were introduced to end the convocation.

The first Apple Day was March 18, 1905, after R. S. Russ had been fined a barrel of apples for illegal presence on the floor of the Kansas Legislature. Every year since that time, the faculty have distributed apples to KSC students after the Apple Day Convocation.

BECKY EAKINS, as Vinnie, captured her audiences completely as she plotted to get Father, C. Harrold Bush, baptised.

THE DAY FAMILY at the breakfast table was a familiar scene in “Life With Father.” In this scene another new maid is being “broken in” by Father.

BOBBIE GAY, as Mary, and Pete Beatteay, as Clarence, exemplified young love at its shyest and funniest.

"Life With Father" was first presented at Kansas State College of Pittsburg as the closing production of the Tent-By-The-Lake Summer Playhouse and was the biggest hit of the summer season. It was then repeated for fall audiences Homecoming night, October 29, and again on October 31, November 1, and November 2.

The three-act play is considered the finest comedy written during this century. It opened on November 8, 1939, with one of the authors, Howard Lindsay, playing the title role. It was such a hit that it made Broadway history and it still holds the record for the longest run in the American theatre.

Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, the authors of "Life With Father," are two collaborators who have kept the theatre laughing over the last twenty-five years. Together they have turned out more popular hits than any other writing team. In addition to "Life With Father," they are noted for "State of the Union," "Call Me Madam," "The Tall Story," and the current hit, "The Sound of Music."

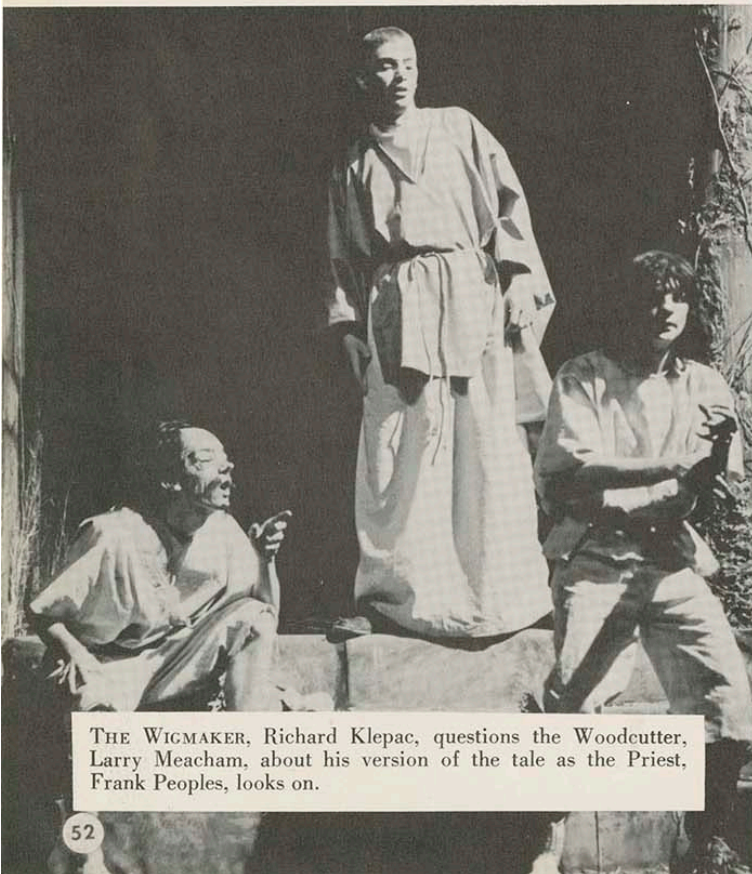

THE FIRST MEETING of the bandit, Robert Strack, the husband, Pete Beatey, and the wife, Barbara Banks. The wife is seated upon "Sugar" who caused the cast of the play and its director many uncertain moments throughout the week of production.

audiences find "rashomon unusual and thought— provoking

"Rashomon," one of the most unusual plays ever to be produced by the College Theatre, was presented in Carney Hall December 6, 7, 8, and 9.

The drama has a wonderful heritage behind it. It was adapted from two short stories by one of Japan's most prolific writers, Ryunosuke Akutagawa. The movie version was produced in Japan several years ago and received outstanding acclaim in winning the Grand Prix at the International Film Festival in Venice in 1951. The first performance of the play was in New York on January 27, 1959.

The play proved to be an imaginative one. It incorporated a cinematic style of production and wove a magical mood. It transported the audience to ancient Japan and exposed them to an incident as seen through the eyes of four different people, while asking the ageless question, "What is Truth?"

THE WIGMAKER, Richard Klepac, questions the Woodcutter, Larry Meacham, about his version of the tale as the Priest, Frank Peoples, looks on.

The Pershing Rifle Drill Team

Company "A," 7th Regiment of the National Society of Pershing Rifles is an honorary military organization for basic ROTC cadets. Before becoming affiliated with the fraternity, a few basic cadets discussed the possibility of the formation of a PR Company with the Army personnel attached to the ROTC department. It became a reality on February 15, 1958, with twenty-five basic cadets and seven advanced cadets, who acted as company officers, making a total of thirty-two members. The purpose of the organization can be appreciated most fully by reading the preamble to the Pershing Rifles constitution.

"We, the members of Pershing Rifles, National Honorary Military Society, in order to encourage, preserve and develop the highest ideals of the military profession, to promote American citizenship, to create a closer and more efficient relation, and to provide appropriate recognition of a high degree of military ability among the cadets of the several senior Reserve Officers Training Corps units of the government of our organization, do hereby establish this constitution."

Yearly activities include a field maneuver each semester, a special drill platoon, monthly retreat ceremonies, participation in the Annual State Drill Meet and Regimental Assembly. Other activities include cooperation with Scabbard and Blade in the presentation of the annual Military Ball.

greet 1960 homecoming

Homecoming for Kansas State is the largest and most exciting event of the year. Everyone works together on house decorations, floats, queen cars, and queen floats. The nomination of candidates for queen is the beginning of the festivities. Judges tally points in divisions of grace, poise, and personality. The identity of the three finalists is kept secret until the Homecoming convocation.

This year a surprise was in store for football coach Carnie Smith as the convocation theme was "This Is Your Life, Carnie Smith." Afterwards, the three finalists were revealed and the student body voted. Carolyn Schelin, Charlene and Darlene Crane, and Mary Mayer were the lucky ones. (Shirk Hall entered the twins, Charlene and Darlene, as one candidate.) For these young women it was a busy period of pictures, practices, and interviews. Meanwhile, everyone kept stuffing napkins, twisting wire, and going to pep rallies and bon-fires. Anticipation greeted Friday evening's convocation. A surprised and bubbling Carolyn Schelin was crowned queen. Duke Ellington and his orchestra provided the entertainment. Saturday, floats, queen cars, and bands lined up under a black sky and a fall shower for the largest college parade known. That afternoon, a crowd of some 8,000 fans gathered for the Homecoming football game. The rain increased from the "shower" stage to a "downpour" so that, after the halftime activities, some fifty fans were left to witness the resulting score: Pittsburg, 27; Washburn, 6.

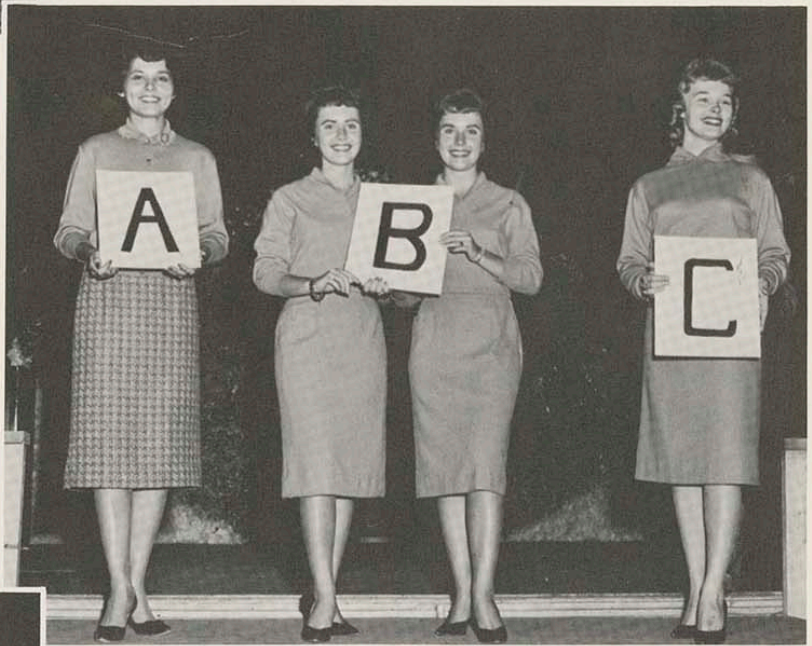

"THIS IS YOUR LIFE," Carnie.

While Queen Candidates anxiously awaited the judging results, Coach Carnie was surprised with a "This Is Your Life" Homecoming Convocation.

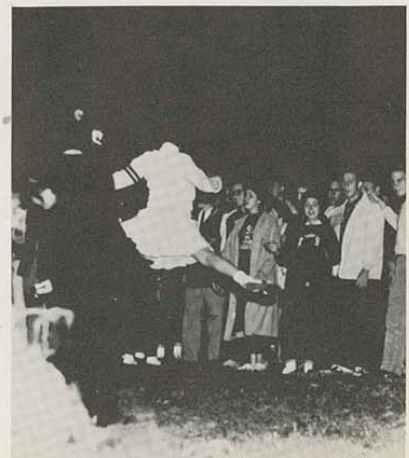

QUEEN FINALISTS Mary, Darlene, Charlene, and Carolyn smile happily as the student body votes.

Oh! That's Me.

Gus Gorilla and the Cheerleaders get a big yell for the bonfire and snake dance held the evening of the Convocation. Afterwards, everyone worked busily on their decorations.

THE HOMECOMING QUEEN, Attendants and Court in a very regal picture.

THE HOMECOMING QUEEN of 1959, Judy Roberts Ball, crowns the new Queen.

DUKE ELLINGTON and his band provided the entertainment for the coronation.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON captured first place in the Queen Float Division with their "Pineapple Princess."

ROWEN HALL came up with the second place Queen Float: "Moments to remember."

IN KEEPING with tradition, the Cheerleaders led the Parade.

THE PEMM CLUB won third place with "Alice Blue Gown."

TANNER HALL entered the largest Queen Float in the Parade and came off with fourth place. "Three Coins in the Fountain" was Tanner's theme.

EAST HALL took first place in the Queen Car division with "Red Sails in the Sunset."

PHI LAMBDA CHI's chariot drove them to a first place victory in the Campus Float race.

EAST HALL expressed the real purpose of Homecoming.

"EARLY AUTUMN," as interpreted by Phi Sigma Epsilon, won second place in the Queen Car division.

IT TAKES several napkins to make a Homecoming!

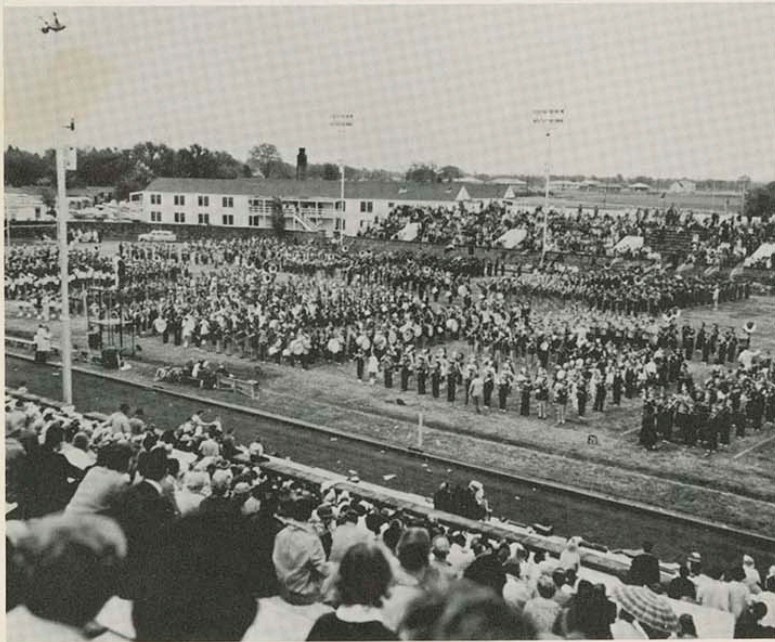

WITH THEIR Campus Float, "Fishing For Another Victory," Alpha Gamma Delta landed second place.

BILL TO SAM: "It really doesn't matter who kicks off, we're going to win."

IT WAS CLEARING up before the game, then it rained!

BANDSMEN FROM 57 area schools gathered on the field for the annual presentation.

GET THAT BALL and Go!

THE 1960 HOMECOMING Queen, Miss Carolyn Schelin, along with her attendants, Miss Mary Mayer, Miss Darlene Crane, and Miss Charlene Crane, make a pretty picture as they await the beginning of the annual Homecoming Dance.

THE DANCE WAS the scene of the presentation of awards in the divisions of Queen Cars, Queen Floats, Campus Floats, House Decorations, and Sweepstakes.

THE SWEEPSTAKES TROPHY goes to Phi Lambda Chi.

THE COLLEGE CHAPEL, which is located in McCray Hall.

The Religious Activities Council is composed of two members from each religious organization and one member from International Friends and from each social sorority and fraternity on our campus.

The Council's aims are to preserve and perpetuate religious activities on campus, further the religious development of students, and provide means by which the organizations represented may make a coordinated effort to promote these purposes. This is accomplished through the efforts of the entire council and the officers: sponsors Dr. Willis Tompkins, Dr. James Pauley, Dr. J. D. Haggard, President Jane Shanks, Vice-president Bob Rossel, secretary Elizabeth Povodnik, Treasurer Tom Bohrer, Service Chairman Carolyn Lindsey, Convocation Chairman Wilesse Freeman, Publicity Chairman Bud Ball, Religious Emphasis Days Co-Chairmen, Carolyn Schelin, Marlene Gmeiner.

Through the Council, the following programs were held this year: Orientation Week, Vesper Service, Religious Emphasis Days, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter convocations, World University Service, and Chapel Discussions.

OFFICERS

The Newman Club provides intellectual and social opportunities for both Catholic and non-Catholic students on campus through such activities as discussions, clubs, lectures, dances, football, and basketball teams.

The more serious aspects are not forgotten. The primary aim of the club is to provide a religious training program for members which furthers their knowledge of Catholicism and strengthens their faith.

The chapel is the core of the club, serving the spiritual needs of the members. Here the students participate in daily Mass, rosary, monthly holy hours, and have a chance for a few private prayers of their own.

Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the six social sororities on our campus and is composed of two representatives from each group.

Activities and projects include organization of rushing activities, awarding of a scholarship trophy, Christmas caroling to the needy and shut-ins, and orientation of freshman woman during summer previews.

The Council works jointly with the Inter-fraternity Council on activities which include all-Greek dances and Greek week.

undergraduate

This is the first year for the Pledge IFC on this campus. The PIFC is made up of two representatives of each social fraternity's pledge class. It is their job to see that all activities of campus pledge classes are scheduled, and coordinated. Some of their activities for the year have been an All-Pledge Christmas Party and a car wash.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of two representatives of each Greek social fraternity on campus. It serves as the coordinating body for the fraternity system on campus. In addition to establishing policies for rushing, pledging, scholastics, and discipline, the IFC works with the Panhellenic Council in sponsoring combined social activities, and working for campus improvements. Some of the IFC's activities for this year have been the two All-Greek Balls, a talent show, and the Greek Sing.

PRESIDENT AXE at the office . . .

president leads active life

Leonard Henry Axe, President of Kansas State College of Pittsburg, has lead an active life as an educator and administrator. He is a native of Kansas and holds four degrees: a bachelor of arts from Baker University; a Bachelor of Laws from the University of Kansas; a Doctor of Science of Law from the University of Michigan; and a Doctor of Laws from Baker University.

Dr. Axe began his career as an educator as a high school teacher in Council Grove, Kansas. He later became a Professor of Business Administration at the University of Kansas and, in 1947, became the Dean of the School of Business at the University. While on leave of absence from the University, he organized and was director of the State Department of Administration.

On July 1, 1957, Dr. Axe became President of Kansas State College of Pittsburg, and is now in his fourth year in this position.

President Axe has served as a member of the Conference on Business Management in Turin, Italy; as Representative of the International Cooperation Administration; as Representative of the European Productivity Agency, Paris; as originator of Executive Development Program, School of Business, University of Kansas; and as Vice President of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

Some of President Axe's non-professional activities include membership in Rotary; Phi Delta Phi; Kappa Sigma; Order of the Coif; Beta Gamma Sigma; and "Who's Who in America."

He is the author of "Business Law, Text and Case Book," "Aviation Insurance," which was prepared for the Insurance Institute of America; and he has had several articles in the Michigan Law Review.

d. d. moore

David Donald Moore was born in Mazomanie, Wisconsin, on April 10, 1906. He received his Bachelor of Education degree from La Crosse State College in 1928, and his Master of Philosophy Degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1932. He married Arabelle Klein on August 26, 1936, at Cochrane, Wisconsin.

Before coming to the College in 1941, "Prof" was instructor of English and speech in several high schools, and he was also an assistant professor at State Teachers College, Weatherford, Oklahoma. Here at the College he taught oral interpretation, play production, stagecraft, phonetics, voice and diction, speech, and contemporary drama. In addition, he served as director of the College Theatre and it was in this position that he produced and directed such plays as "The Heiress," "Sabrina Fair," "Janus," "The Fourposter," "The Constant Wife,"

"The Circle," "Holiday," and "The Lady's Not For Burning."

Mr. Moore was a member of the First Methodist Church, the Methodist Men's Brotherhood, the Kansas State Speech Association, Theta Alpha Phi, Sigma Phi, and National Collegiate Players.

The fifty-four year old assistant professor of language and literature died shortly after three o'clock on Saturday, December 9, in Carney Hall. He was stricken while on his way to view the play "Rashomon," a part of the Language in Action Conference at which he was a discussion leader. He had been ill in 1958, but had improved and had been feeling well since.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Douglas Washburn Moore and Cameron David Moore, his mother, Mrs. Mina Moore, and a brother, Robert Moore.

thirty-four students named to "who's who in colleges" . . .

Seventeen men and seventeen women were named to the 1960-61 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" by the campus Who's Who committee. The committee is composed of ten students and ten faculty members.

Who's Who is a national organization with its home office located in Alabama. The national office sends to the local committee the number of vacancies allowed based upon the enrollment of the school. The committee then makes its nominations and sends them to the central office for approval. A book listing all of the members of Who's Who is then published by the central office.

Of those students named this year, ten were nominated for the second consecutive year. These include Henry Aiman, Carolyn Bizal, Tom Cameron, Sharon Chapman, Richard Henthorn, Nina Howard, Mary Lee Justice, Ron Marquardt, Bob Rossel, and Jane Shanks.

yearbook presents different outlook

The 1961 KANZA Staff had an entirely different outlook on Kansas State College of Pittsburg's yearbook.

Led by Editor Tom Cameron, this year's staff aimed the KANZA for the student's use in the future as a complete record of a year at K-State.

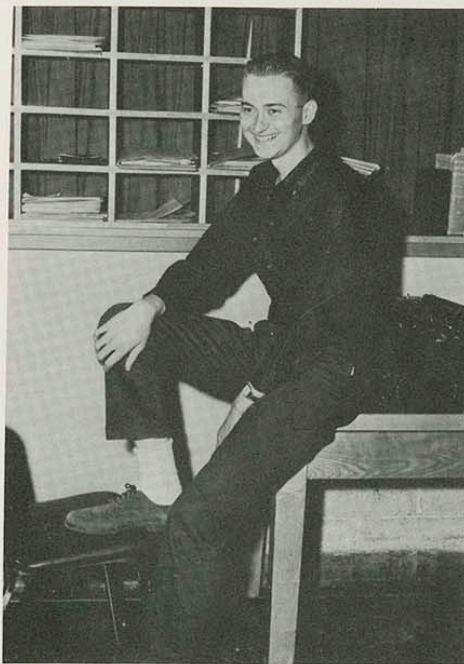

The problems of the enlarged staff were many. The fact that the book was to be eighty pages larger than in 1960 added to these problems.

Layouts were planned and copy written to present a full picture of life "on the plains of Southeast Kansas." Meetings were often unorganized and deadlines were hard to meet, but the finished product was finally attained.

All in all, the KANZA Staff has worked hard to produce a yearbook that is different and of a better quality than ever seen before on the Pittsburg campus.
