Nearly ten years after the first publication of This Good Warm Place, March Street Press has reissued the book with new poems written in the same time period by the poet. The forward by poet Elaine Terranova adds new insight into the poems. Ms Washburn says, "It was exciting to know I'd have a 'new' book coming out, but strange to work with revision and publication of poems that were more than a decade old. I think it's a better book now, and I think readers will enjoy some of the longer narrative 'fairy tale' poems added to the book."
