To Our Parents: We, the class of 1934, wish to dedicate this annual. In this small way we hope to show our appreciation. Our parents have guided and supported us in all that we have undertaken, and thus merit this honor.

Foreword

We, the senior class of 1934, have strived in this edition of the Kane Kan to present to you the activities enjoyed by us and the statistics of our final year in Caney High School in order that we may retain the fond remembrances occasioned by a review of this book in later life. The theme carried out in this yearbook is that of the cosmic ray, the power of which we have likened to that of knowledge.

History of Caney High School

On September 30, 1871, bonds were voted to build a school building for Caney. After some difficulty these bonds were finally sold to an Independence banker for ninety cents on the dollar. Nine hundred dollars of this money were spent in the construction of a small white frame school building on land donated by James Hardin Smith.

The first school board was composed of three men, namely: Samuel Ridgeway, director; C. M. Smith, clerk; and A. M. Taylor, treasurer. The first teacher was Mrs. Barrington.

The bell for the building was purchased by Dr. Taylor who with Mr. Stuart was largely responsible for the building of the new edifice.

In 1900, eleven boys and girls graduated from Caney High School, after having completed the necessary two years of work, an education, comparable with that of the present day eighth grade education.

The high school course was increased to three years and a fourth year was added in 1905. During this same year a brick building, the Washington, was constructed to accommodate the increasing number of pupils in both Junior and Senior high school.

The McKinley building was built in 1908 and used as the high school building until the year 1914 when the present building was erected. It was at this time that the curriculum was increased by the addition of a commercial course, manual training, and home economics, expression, debate, and normal training. The purchase of the athletic field encouraged athletic activities.

The high school was later improved by the addition of a library; an annual, the Kane-Kan; a school paper, the Nakenak; and the dramatic organization, the Playmakers.

Caney High School is known as one of the best schools of the state. It is a Class A school and is a member of the Northern Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools. It has participated in various contests and not in vain, as a glimpse at the trophy case will prove.

Honor Students of Caney High School

Donald Hansen '31

Margaret Lambdin '32

Carl Soden '33

For the last three years in Caney High School, there has been an honor student selected from the senior class, by the faculty. The senior receiving this honor is judged on the five following merits: Service, Scholarship, Character, Loyalty, and Dependability. The student's name is engraved on a silver plate, which is joined to the former plates which hang in the front hall.

The student receiving this honor, is announced at graduation, by the superintendent, along with the student making the highest number of hours, and the student with the highest average for the entire fouryear High School course.

Appreciation

The class of nineteen hundred thirtyfour wish to take this opportunity to thank the merchants of Caney for their loyal support. We especially wish to thank all merchants and patrons of the school who cooperated in the light bulb sale which lightened our financial burden and gave encouragement to press on toward the summit, Valley Historical Society

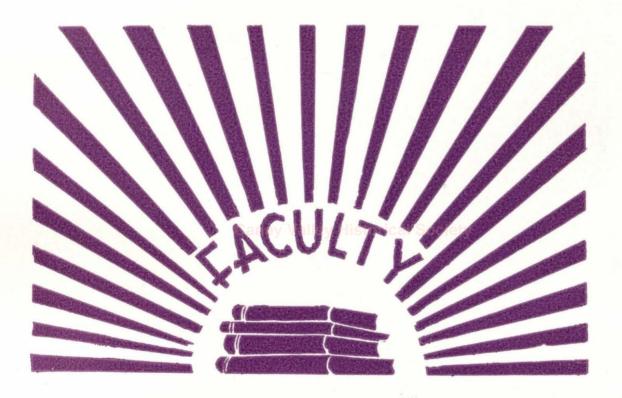

Caney Valley Historical Society Kane-Kan

This 1934 Kane-Kan is the twentieth edition of the year book in Caney High School. It was published in this year of adverse financial difficulties only through the exhaustless laboring of the staff and the loyal cooperation of the merchants and patrons of Caney.

Senior Class History

September 2, 1931, fifty-four Sophomores directed by the powerful cosmic ray, began ascension of Graduation Peak. On this long Climb, Fred Smith, Harold DeHon and Virginia Toner acted as guides. The expedition was backed by Miss Gertrude Hunt and Miss Gladys Willis. Much was achieved by the band, members of which scaled Debate, Nakenak, Operetta, Playmakers and Athletic Foothills.

Worn and weary the explorers encamped at Vacation Moraine. Three months were spent in rest and preparation for the second expedition. A few did not survive but forty-seven returned for the second lap of the journey.

Leaving Vacation Trails September 5, 1932, the newly-made Juniors stepped into the path of Wisdom, which was warmed and lighted by the powerful Cosmic Ray. Much of the success of these trail blazers was due to the guidance of Darrel Kellar, Joe Barrington and Wilma Rounds, assisted by Miss Gertrude Hunt and Mr. A. L. Triggs, consulting engineers.

With some of the most brilliant members of this party behind the footlights, the Juniors presented "A Peach of a Family," March 21, 1933.

Caney Valley Historical Society

In April, the expeditionists entertained at a banquet, the crew of the S. S. Senior, who were completing their four-year cruise on the Seas of C. H. S.

While stopping for a three months rest at the half-way house, these venturing scientists made preparations for the final climb.

For some, this climb seemed too strenuous but on September 5, 1933, forty-four seniors began the final ascension to Graduation Peak. Efficient surveyors, Claire Louise Connelly, Joe Barrington and Wilma Rounds, chose the paths which were to be taken while Miss Gertrude Hunt and Mr. A. L. Triggs were retained as Consulting Engineers.

A few weeks after resuming their climb the trail was suddenly blocked by a financial glacier. Doubt and consternation fell upon the determined climbers but much to their surprise the Caney Electric Company led by E. O. Casey came to their rescue. In a short time the Cosmic Ray was again shining on their pathway, and with Graduation Peak, now in full view, the brave Seniors joyfully proceeded. On February 23, 1934, Claire Louise Connelly, Senior class queen representative and also president of the Senior class was crowned Senior High Queen and reigned until the all-school Carnival.

On April 6, the climbers detoured from their well-marked trails for a few hours fun, feasting, and frolic at a near-by resort. This was in accordance with an old custom followed' annually in C. H. S.

On April 13, some of the most talented Seniors presented the play, "Reach for the Moon."

April 20, the Senior explorers stopped long enough in their ascension to be entertained by the Junior Cinema Stars, at a banquet.

On May 4, the Seniors joined the other classes in giving an allschool Carnival.

By now the explorers were beginning to see Graduation Peak more clearly and with much eagerness and anticipation laid their final plans for the journey's end.

On May 18, there was much excitement among the explorers, for they had reached the destination for which they had worked so long and faithful. As each Senior entered Graduation Peak, he was presented a diploma which entitled him to go on to seek more and higher trails to follow.

Tune-Lonely Lane

Caney High though we must leave you, We'll never forget those happy days They're memories that we hold so dear Red and blue, oh how we've cheered For teams that have fought for vic-tory. They've been loyal to us year to year Heights above us—call us on—but we linger here Every hall—we'll recall and our teachers dear Oh! Caney High we must be leaving And so we will bid farewell to you, All our friends in dear old Caney High.

Place-Kansas City Union Station

Enter Virginia Toner

Virginia: How soon does a train leave for Chicago? Mike: In three hours.

Virginia: Say-aren't you Mike Scimeca?

Mike: Why yes-and you're Virginia Toner aren't you?

Virginia: I've just been visiting in Caney.

Mike: Did you see Joe Barrington while you were in Caney?

Virginia: Yes. He surely has prospered, he owns one of the largest chain stores in Havana, Kansas.

Mike: Wilma Rounds is in the station some place. Here she comes now.

Virginia: Hello, Wilma! (walking over to her) Do you remember me?

Wilma: Why Virginia of all people.

Virginia: Mike was just telling me that you were here.

Wilma: I'm with the Dinkey Brothers Circus as a trapeze performer. I missed my train, so I can hear about your past.

Virginia: Oh! I am a representative for the Pointless Pin Company of Florida. I'm waiting for a train to Chicago. Have you seen or heard anything of the old class of '34?

Wilma: Yes. Lenore Killion is a beauty operator in our circus. I had a letter from Joan Shore the other day. She just graduated from a correspondence school in how to become famous in six easy lessons. She mentioned something about Eugene Glatfelder. I have the letter in my purse. Oh! yes, Eugene was a professor at the college with which she corresponded. She says since she has become famous she expects to play the lead in "Loves Labors Lost," under the direction of Leon Theys.

Virginia: Say! Did you know that Bud Troxel's team won the Conference this year? He's coach at Notre Dame you know. He's been carrying off honors ever since he carried off Ella Howser in "Reach for the Moon."

Wilma: I read about that in the papers.

Virginia: I saw John Dee Ewers and Clifford Shafer in Florida last month. John Dee was entered in the Ping Pong matches while Clifford entered in golf. And Oh! yes, Kenneth Kannard is a lifeguard at the Miami Beach and a confirmed old bachelor.

Enter Ernest Smith

Ernest: Paper! Paper! all about the Keller invention.

Virginia: Let's buy a paper and read about the invention.

Wilma: Well here's the nickel.

Virginia: I'll take a paper. Why! Ernest Smith.

Ernest: Virginia and Wilma. Say! did you know that the inventor is Leslie Keller who went to school with us?

Wilma: I supposed he was still milking cows.

Ernest: Yes, he's been working on it for some time. Sorry I don't have time to tell you more about it. Here's a paper. You can read about it. So glad I got to see you. Goodbye.

Both Girls: Goodbye.

Virginia: Yes, it's Leslie, and he's invented a noiseless doorbell, and he was received at the White House by President Harden.

Wilma: Leslie's brother, Darrell, is now singing in Grand Opera. Virginia: Paul Harden didn't seem to be inclined to become a politician.

Wilma: (Reading paper) Jack Harvey, didn't he go to school with us?

Virginia: Yes, you remember that big quiet boy.

Wilma: He has been appointed as a missionary to China.

Virginia: Quite a few of our classmates have taken up some kind of teaching. Joanne Stone you know is a teacher for the feeble minded in New York.

Wilma: I didn't think she would have to go that far for students. Virginia: Let's see—Oh! yes, Mable Henderson is an interpreter in a deaf and dumb school, and Gladys Jean Roth and Ruby Reavis are in Nebraska teaching at an Aviation School.

Wilma: I read the other day where Bob Banks had broken the World's Record for swimming the English Channel.

Virginia: Well look here. Thomas Kersey of Wann, Oklahoma receives a scholarship in the Niotaze Music Conservatory for winning the eight-day bicycle race. Now isn't he famous?

Wilma: Well, I thought he would still be a Bell Hop. Look here, the former Ruth Morrow Hopkins wins the Bathing Beauty Contest at New Orleans. (reads) She is a sister of the well-known movie actor, Ivan Morrow (the second Clarke Gable.)

Virginia: Have you been to the World's Fair this year? Wilma: No, I haven't.

Virginia: I haven't either, but did you know that Connor Hopkins was entered in the Pie Eating contest there? (opening paper) The returns, Connor won first place.

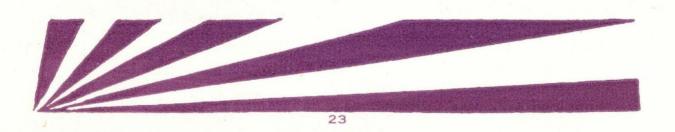

Wilma: Glyndolyn Parker wins medal for fast talking.

Virginia: In C. H. S. she was seen but not heard. (Enter Bill Nichols) Who do you suppose that is? He's lost something.

Bill: (Looks at Virginia and Wilma) Oh! there she is. Hold still lady. Don't bat an eyelash! Oh! Keeks, I found her.

Enter Claire Louise Connelly

Wilma: Keeks—did you say Keeks? Bill: Why yes, here she is.

Virginia: Why Keeks Connelly and Bill.

Claire L.: If it isn't Wilma and Virginia.

Wilma: What are you two doing here?

Bill: You see Keeks and I have a trained flea and dog show and I lost Suzza Bella my best trained flea.

Claire L.: We're here just for tonight. We've been playing the Mainstreet. Say have they a special Vitaphone Act featuring Leona and Leota Harris? You remember them? They are singing with It's really good. Come and see it. Bing Crosby.

Bill: Well, we must take our fleas back to the hotel and get them something to eat before they put on their act. Goodbye.

Both Girls: Goodbye.

Virginia: I wonder if we would have time to see the show.

Wilma: Let's see what time the show starts.

Virginia: Well, (reads) tonight and tomorrow at the Pla-Mour, Bethany Cooper will give an exhibition in skating and Ella Howser will give an exhibition dance. They went to school with us didn't they?

Wilma: Look here! (reads) It says, vote for Virgil Van Atta as dog catcher of Buttermilk Falls; and here, vote for Marion Hayes: they must be competing against each other.

Virginia: Talking of elections did you know that Bernice Lindsey is Governor of New York? and Ella Mae Shelton has been appointed as Minister to France.

Wilma: Rachel Jackson is in France designing costumes in a Paris shop.

Virginia: Look here! (reads) Get your picture taken for twentyfive cents, Joe Oley, photographer. Wasn't there a Joe Oley in our class?

Wilma: Yes, I remember smiling Joe.

Virginia: (reads) Free, with every photograph taken, a large photo of Earl McBride, the heavy weight champion, and Everett Miner, the dare-devil aviator.

Wilma: I remember them too. Earl seemed rather small to be a fighter.

Virginia: Well, I'm hungry, aren't you? Mike could you tell us where we could get a good sandwich?

Mike: Sure, Edna Hively and Irene Holeman, have a grand cafeteria down on Walnut, and Fred Smith, the boy in our class who talked constantly, sells the best hot tamales you ever tasted. His stand is on Twelfth and Baltimore.

Virginia: One hour and five minutes till our train leaves.

Wilma: Oh! we'll have time to eat. See you again Mike, goodbye. Mike: Goodbye.

Virginia: This has been a real treat to hear of our old Caney High friends.

CHARACTERS

Lawyer John Dee Ewers Client C. L. Connelly Witnesses Wilma Rounds and Joan Shore

Time: The Present

Stage Setting: The Lawyer's Office

(Scene: When curtain rises the lawyer is sitting at his desk, writing. From time to time he consults a huge book, from which he copies selections. Enter the client.)

Lawyer: (rising to greet the client) Good-morning madam. What can I do for you today?

Client: I want you to draw up a will for me.

Lawyer: Very well, be seated. (Gets papers, pens, ink, erasers) Now, what is your name?

Client: I represent the class of 1934 of Caney High School.

Lawyer: (reading as he writes) We, the class of 1934 of Caney High School, being of sound bodies and sane minds and at peace with all the world do hereby give, bequeath and devise all our worldly goods to the following beneficiaries to-wit:

Client: We want to give the class of 1935 our industrious attitude that enabled us to study from dewy morn till dusky eve—straight through without a stop—even burning midnight oil. We bequeath to the Sophomores who will be Juniors soon, our ability to say the right thing at the right time, since they need it most.

Robert Banks requests all boys to leave Louise Freidline strictly alone.

Bethany Cooper wills her place as librarian to Mae Smith who deserves the honor as reward tor the hours spent there.

John Dee Ewers wills his ability to bluff the teachers to Frank Hill. Paul Harden bestows upon Richard Wise his habit of making good grades in American History.

Jack Harvey leaves his place on the football team to Bill Townsell. Leona and Leota Harris leave their secret of how to get along peacefully with a sister to Mary and Helen O'Neal.

Marion Hayes leaves his bag of tricks and his magnetic personality to Floyd Gwin who is specializing in tricks.

Connor Hopkins wills Florine Devore a package of his favorite mints.

Ella Howser wills her position as typist for the Kane-Kan Staff to Fred Ritter, who thinks it easy.

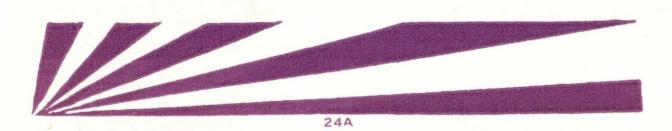

Rachel Jackson wills her Lkeable disposition to Helen Kirby.

Kenneth Kannard leaves his ability to refrain from dates to Joe Gregg.

Darrell Keller leaves his basket ball suit to Keck Kimball under one condition-"That it fits."

Leslie Keller bestows upon Junior Truskett his ability to acquire knowledge easily.

Earl McBride wills his backward ways to Bill Schleicher.

Ivan Morrow leaves his ability to collect "ads" for the annual to some quiet person—say Elizabeth Skinner.

Joe Oley leaves his last 15c to the school to be used in a fund for buying seat covers for the auditorium.

Glyndolyn Parker leaves her quiet ways to Beatrice Chastain.

Ruby Reavis wills her speed in typing to Pauline, her sister, so as to keep it in the family.

Gladys Jean Roth wills her artistic ability to Mayetta Schleicher.

Michael Scimeca leaves all the Junior High Girls to Bill Askren. Clifford Shafer wills Wiley Phillips all his notebooks so Wiley won't have to work so hard. Bernice Lindsey wills her red hair to the Junior Class hoping that with this additional light they may become truly great actors.

Everett Minor wills his curly locks to Ralph Halk but all other possessions are deeded to his wife.

To the library Tom Kersey leaves all his Diamond Dick and Flying Ace stories for Miss Bennett to read during the children's hour.

Eugene Glatfelder leaves a good word with all the girls for Bill Askren.

Irene Holeman bestows upon Rozanna Croff her studious disposition.

Edna Hively leaves her habit of talking to boys to Katty Harden. Mabel Henderson bequeaths her ability as an actress to Betty Bell. Ruth Morrow leaves her boisterous disposition to Nadine Hilford. Ella Mae Shelton bequeaths her height to Fern Copeland.

Joan Shore leaves her ability to play tennis to Vesta Penfield.

Fred Smith leaves his perpetual tongue to Junior Haynes.

Ernest Smith bestows upon Jack Hanlon his outstanding vocabulary.

Joanne Stone bequeaths her inferiority complex to Alma Kannard.

Leon Theys leaves his place as star basket ball player to Marion Maze.

Virginia Toner wills her awkward ways to Velma Jo Hodges.

Bud Troxel wills Phillip Schaub his fish stories so Phillip may become the life of all the parties.

Virgil Van Atta leaves to the Journalism class all his unfinished copies in typing to be used for scratch paper.

Lenore Killion leaves all her excess pounds to Wilma Lee.

Wilma Rounds leaves her habit of talking about nothing to Margaret Ann McCoid.

Claire Louise Connelly and Bill Nichols leave their love-sick ways to Rita Dougherty and Dick Corle.

Joe Barrington leaves his nonchalant ways to Raymond Charles. Lawyer: Is that all?

Client: Yes I have my witnesses outside.

Lawyer: All right bring them in.

Enter girls and client.

Lawyer: You are the witnesses?

Girls: Yes, we are the witnesses.

Lawyer: Sign here.

Client: Well, that is all we can do now so we may as well go. Girls and Client: Goodbye Sir.

Lawyer: Goodbye.

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances, and one man in his time plays many parts."

The curtain rose on the first act of the great drama of the class of thirty-five in September, 1932. In that act there were 53 characters. The scenes were varied, as they are in any great drama. Playmakers, Pepperettes, Girl Reserves, Football, Basket Ball, and Track were but a few of the diversions entered into by the players.

In this first or sophomore act, the directors were Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. Helen Thompson. Harold Hale, in the role of president, took the lead. Harve Everett Truskett, Jr., played the part of vice president. Betty Bell had charge of box-office receipts and of keeping the records of the troop.

The second act opened with an even greater interest than the first, although the cast of characters had dwindled to thirty-nine. An added director, Mr. T. M. Roberds, aided in the development of the plot. Harve Everett Truskett, Jr., now had the lead; while Marion Maze, the vice-president, was a prominent character. Harold Hale, secretary and treasurer, cared for the funds and the records.

A great banquet was presented by the actors for their guests, the seniors, who were guided by the cosmic ray.

The curtain descended on the second act of this drama of education. After a brief interlude, it will rise again and the climax of the play will be enacted.

The Senior Play

The senior class presented their annual play, "Reach For The Moon," on Friday, April 13, at eight o'clock in the high school auditorium. The play had for its setting, a colorful dude ranch in the West, which was owned by John Cameron and Larry Kerrigan. They came to America after John had assumed the responsibility for a disgraceful act of his brother, heir apparent of the Earl of Sherbourne. While the two were in America the old Earl died; his heir took his place and became engaged to Pamela Parnell. Communications between the two brothers ceased and John knew nothing of the death of his brother nor about a distant relative succeeding to the title through subterfuge. This Earl, Edmund, came to America and was jilted by Jennifer Lee, who had obtained a position as secretary to Mr. Lorrimore, a wealthy, domineering woman. The unexpected arrival of the Earl at the ranch caused complications and Eric's identification was made known. Jennifer then saw, that after all she was destined to marry the Earl of Sherbourne.

Ninth Grade Class History

The ninth grade class is preparing for the long strive through Caney Senior High School, under the leadership of William Toner and his assistant, Richard Quiett, with the records of the class kept by Joe Gregg.

Members of this striving class found many new interests in the form of: Basket Ball, Football, Band Orchestra, Chorus, Girl Reserves and Pepperettes.

This striving class had the honor of having had selected from their group the majority of the hard fighting junior high basket ball boys.

Under the worthy supervision of Miss Lena Bettega and Mr. Carl Killion the ninth grade class is drawin arer its goal of success.

Football

Caney had a bad start and a bad ending this year by losing to Copan and Cherryvale respectively, but they showed their great potential strength by holding the strong teams of Sedan, winner of the league title, Copan, and Elk City to scoreless ties and by defeating Moline.

Virgil Van Atta

Virgil was captain of the team and a star at fullback, both on offense and defense. He was on the second all-league team. He was especially good on spinner plays and line plunges. This was his last vear for Caney High.

Darrell Keller

Darrell was big, fast and one of the best tackles in the league. He could not be taken out of any play and he blocked many punts. This is his last year at Caney and he has made good. He was on the first all-league team.

Thomas Kersey

Tom, a new boy at Caney this year, easily held down the quarterback position. He is big and a good line plunger. He starred at defense and was counted on for a good gain at all times. He rated honorable mention on the all-conference team and will not be back next year.

Bill Schleicher

Bill played his second year for Caney at the wing position. He was tall and a good pass receiver. He was a good blocker and hard to take out of any play aimed at his side of the line. He will be back next year and much is expected of him.

Jack Harvey

Jack was a big, rangy tackle that not only stopped gains on his side of the line, but also on the other side. He could take hard knocks and give still harder ones. This was his last year for Caney.

Richard Troxel

Bud played his third and last year for Caney at the center position. He was through the line so much that the opposing team couldn't tell him from their own back field. His specialty was intercepting passes.

Bernard Durham

Durham played his second year for Caney at the guard position. He was big and he charged like a bull when opening a hole in the line. He rated honorable mention and will be back next year.

George Gaut

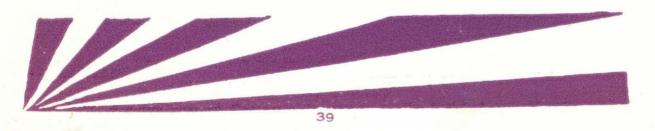

George played part of the season as a guard. He was big and will be back next year. We are counting on him to make good.

Richard Corle

Dick played his second year for Caney and will be back next year. He was fast and starred in receiving passes. He blocked well and stopped many long gains with shoe string tackles.

Bill Nichols

Bill played his first and last year for Caney. He was a shifty runner, and starred on defense. His specialty was blocking. He made many long gains and stopped many of the opponents gains.

KANE-KAN

John Dee Ewers

John played his second year for Caney. He was the smallest lineman, but was in nearly all of the plays on his side of the line. This is John's last year.

Paul Harden

Paul, although not a regular, could always be counted on to do his part. He was a tall, but light, end. His specialty was shoe string tackling. He played his last year for Caney.

Joe Barrington

Joe was a light and speedy backfield man. He starred this year in the Moline game. He will be missed as this was his last year for Caney.

Fred Ritter

Fred was out the latter part of the year with a broken ankle, but he played a good game at halfback and was responsible for some long gains before receiving his injury. Much will be expected from him next year.

Carl Rhoten

Carl alternated at end and tackle and he played a hard aggressive game while in there. He will be with us again next year.

Kenneth Kannard

Kenneth played his first year for Caney and was a very useful reserve man. He played a hard game and will be missed, since this is his last year.

Joe Oley

Joe was a small, but speedy guard. He was a sure tackler and a good blocker. This was his first and last year for Caney.

Henry Geasland

Henry was a reserve of no mean ability, as he could play any position in the line. Much is expected of him as this was his first year for Caney and he will be back again next year.

Raymond Wills

Raymond played his first year for Caney and was useful as a wingman or a tackle. He should develop into a very good lineman next football season.

Chester Mattix

Chester was too light to rate a place on the first string this year but much is expected of him because he starred against the first string in practice this season.

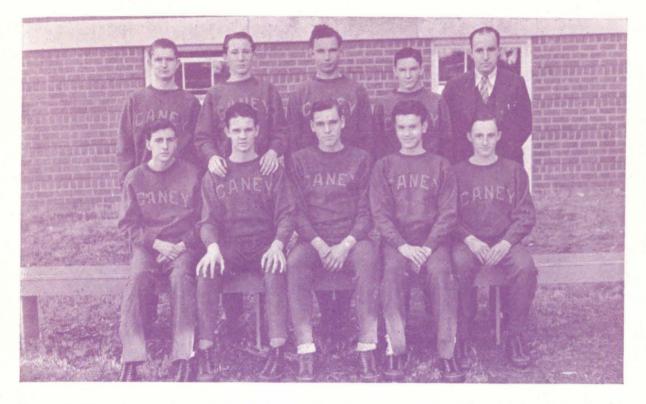

James Kelley

Jim was a new man this year and will be back again next year. He played a good game in the line and should show up well next season.

Wesley Roberds

Wesley, last, but not least, will be with us again next year. He played guard on the first string in the absence of Gaut. and made good in this position. With this valuable experience he should star next year.

Senior High Basket Ball

Individual Scoring

The Senior high basketball team could not settle down at the first of the season, losing four games in a short time. All of these games, except the Cedar Vale game, were lost in the last minute of play, Caney having at least a three point lead with three minutes left to play. They defeated Longton by a good margin and Longton was the only team to defeat Cedar Vale in league play. They closed the season by losing 25 to 15 to Coffeyville in the class A regional tournament.

John Dee Ewers

John Dee rated a position on the first team this year, his goal in high school basketball for three years. He was a good defensive man and will not be with us next year.

Marion Maze

Marion played his second year for Caney High as a regular forward. He starred at offense and displayed good floor work at all times. Much is expected of him next year.

Jack Hanlon

Jack was a regular forward this year and will be back next year. He was one of the most accurate sho⁺s in the league. He starred in the Sedan game and accounted well for himself in the other games.

Junior Truskett

Junior played his first year of senior high basketball this season and he will be back next year. He could be counted on to do his best while in the game.

Wesley Roberds

Wesley was another first year player. He worked hard while in the game and should star for Caney in the two years he has left to play in high school.

Valley Historical Society

Darrell Keller

This was Darrell's first and last year. He was a fighter and played a hard, aggressive game. His specialty was bullet passing. He will be missed by next year's team.

Chester Mattix

Small, but mighty, Chester was a real fighter. He was a good shot, but was handicapped by his size. He will be back for two more years and should develop into a star player.

Tom Kersey

Tom Kersey was a new man here this year, and will not be back next year. He was especially good at breaking up opponents plays and he could always be depended on to get the ball off the other team's backstop. He will be greatly missed by next year's combination.

Bill Schleicher

This was Bill's second year with Caney and he will be back again next year. He was a good shot and his specialty was making long lefthanded shots at critical moments.

Carl Killion

"Coach" Killion has just completed his third year as the athletic coach of Caney High School. In 1924, the year he graduated from Caney High School, he was captain of the football team. Under his instructions the football team tied for fourth in the league and the basket ball team tied for third place.

"Pop" has won his way into the hearts of the boys, and they will remember him all through their lives as a great coach. He will be back next year and expects a good team.

Individual Scoring

The junior high closed a highly successful season losing only two games, and both of these to Moline, once in league play and again in the tournament there. They established a record by "shutting-out" Chautauqua, 18-0.

Bill Toner

Billy was a small, but elusive forward. He was a good shot and accounted for many baskets during the season. He will be in senior high next year and should make good.

Junior Haynes

Junior, a new boy here this year demonstrated his ability as a basketball player by making 81 points this season. He was shifty and should be a good man in high school.

Henry Geasland

Henry was a center who controlled the tip over nearly all the other pivot men in the league. He starred in the Chautauqua "shutout" game.

Dick Quiett

Dick was a guard who could shoot well with either hand or both. He made 61 points this season and should star in high school as this is his last year with the junior high.

Dean Price

Dean was a good guard, who was especially skilled on defense, although he starred offensively in the Elgin game, making 6 field goals.

George Longstorical Society

George was a tall rangy guard. This was George's first year and he should develop into a star center.

Bernard Croff

Bernard was small, but a good shot from any angle. He displayed good footwork while in the game.

Carl Corbin

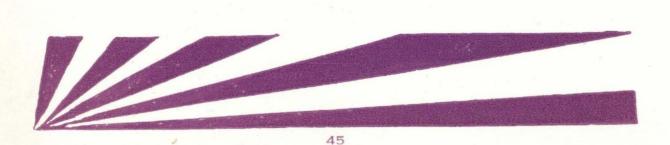

Carl was another small, but elusive forward. This was his first year and he should star for the junior high next year.

Earl Courtney

Earl was tall and a good shot. His specialty was one handed shots from the side.

Keck Kimball

Keck was another small forward. He made up for this by being a good shot from all angles of the floor. This was nis first year.

Armory Ball

A new sport, armory ball, was introduced into Caney High this year. The boys of the junior and senior high school were divided into twelve teams with two of the players from each team as managers of their respective teams. Each team played every other team and when this was written only one team, number 7, was undefeated. Frank Hill and Dale Irick were managers of this team. This sport was substituted for track.

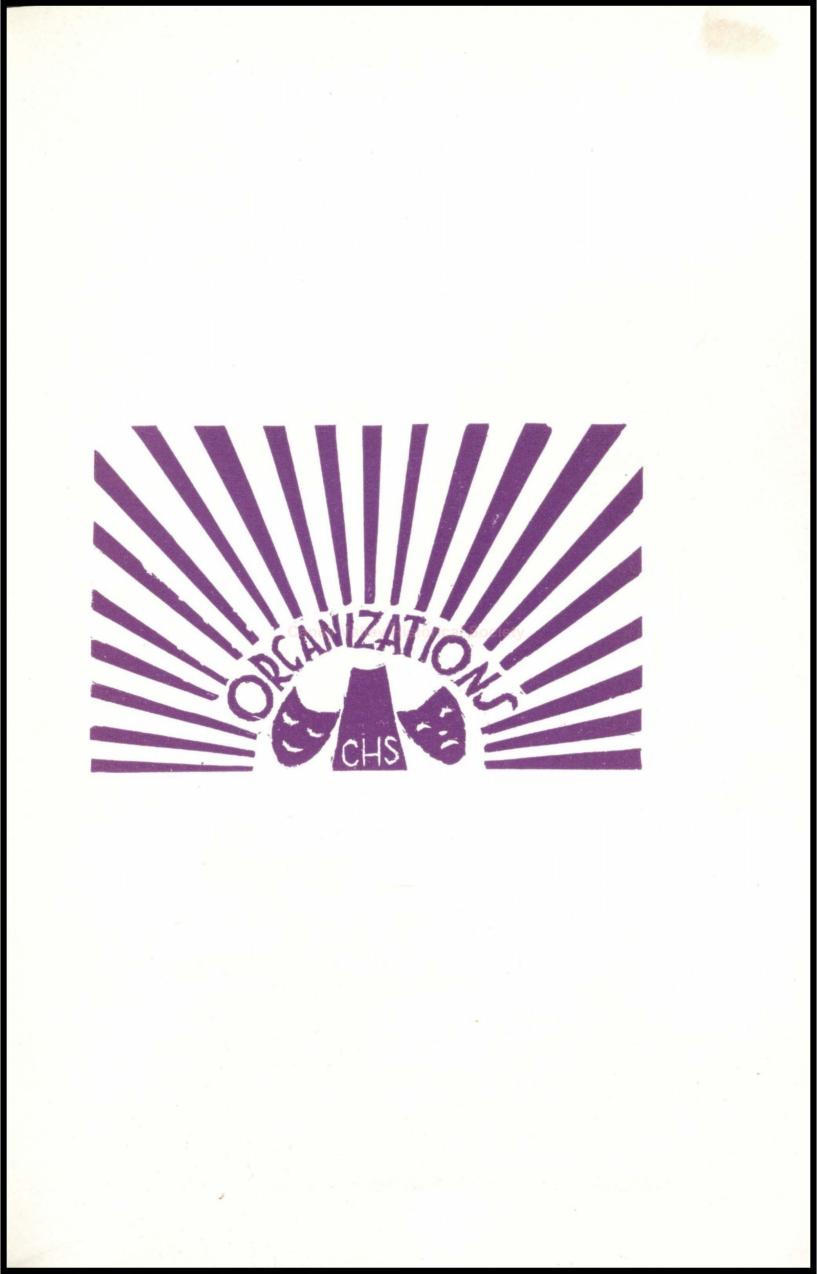

Horse Shoe Pitching

Horse Shoe pitching was another new sport taken up by Caney High this year. In this contest Mr. Haymaker, Mr. Roberds, Mr. Killion, Mr. Popkins and Mr. Daniels made the boys pitch very, very well to beat them. Some of the outstanding players were: John Holt, Bud Troxel, Mr. Popkins, Mr. Roberds and Mr. Daniels. Medals were awarded to the first, second and third place winners in an élimination contest.

Tennis

The four members of the tennis team were selected from the following boys: Earl McBride, John Dee Ewers, Bill Nichols, Phillip Schaub, Dick Corle, Bill Toncr and Dick Quiett. Earl McBride was a member of the team that last year won the regional doubles championship. The first game was played at Independence, April 17.

Junior-Senior High Music Organizations

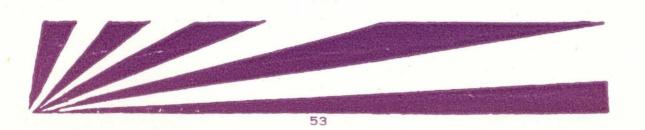

The Senior High Orchestra is one of the organizations of which Caney High may well be proud. The orchestra is mostly Junior High, and has only one Senior. In spite of the fact that there are so many younger students, the standards of the orchestra are of the very highest for a school the size of Caney. The orchestra and band will enter an interstate music contest at Pittsburg, Kansas, April 27, 1934.

The Junior High Orchestra was the means of making a real High School organization, as all of those who were capable of doing a high grade of work were moved into the Senior High Orchestra after Christmas. This made the Junior High Orchestra rather small, but later in the year twenty-six more boys and girls were added, which made the orchestra again of real size.

The Senior High Band is an organization that has made unbelievable progress, starting in the fall with only thirteen members of over one year's experience, and the rest beginners. When they started in the fall they could only play the scale of C, but by spring they were playing music of an advanced grade and doing it very well. No better example of school loyalty could be found, as these boys and girls came to school forty-five minutes early, three mornings each week, so that Caney could have a real band., Valley Historical Society

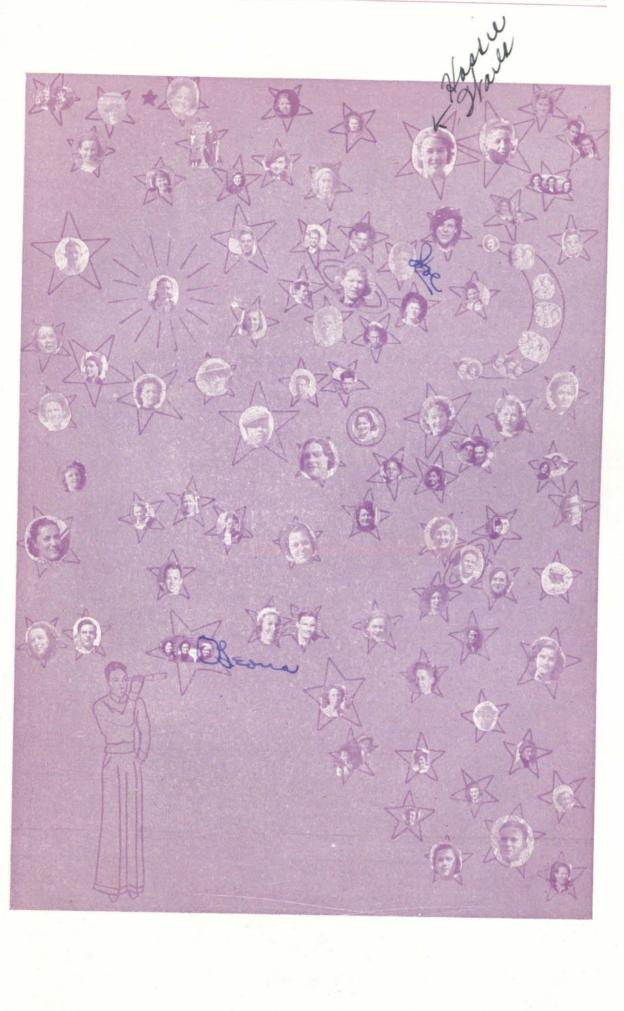

The Senior High Chorus is very small but of high quality. They sang a much higher grade of music than school choruses usually sing. Caney High hopes that the chorus period next year will be at a period when it will be possible for more students to take it.

> "The man that hath no music in himself, Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds Is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils; The motions of his spirit are dull as night, And his affections dark as Erebus: Let no such man be trusted."

22. We lost the Bartlesville football game.

29. Miss Victory weds Mr. Caney in Senior High Pep chapel. We won the game with Grenola 24-0. Not bad, boys.

OCTOBER

Senior High Pepperettes tried to revive some of that old school spirit in a pep chapel. Cedar Vale beat us 6-0, but we can't let a little thing like that bother us.

9. Seniors selected their class rings.

13. Neodesha beat us 3-0.

18. "Inter Nos" Latin club had a Hallowe'en program.

20. Howard beat us 6-0. What's the matter boys?

23. A norse-snoe pitching contest was held on the east side of the school house.

25: We hear that "postoffice" was the main feature of Bill Toner's Hallowe'en party.

27. We lost the football game with Fredonia.

28. The seniors attempt to get rich quick by having cook food sale.

NOVEMBER

3. We tied with Sedan.

5. "Peppers," seventh and eighth grade boy's pep club organized. 6-10. This week is called education week. Wonder what they call all the other thirty-five weeks we spend in this school building?

Seniors are sponsoring a Light Bulb Selling Campaign.

11. Armistice Day! We paused for a few minutes to think a few serious thoughts about the boys who went across for our sakes and never returned.

16. Reverend Dussair gave an interesting talk about "Thanksgiving".

17. We won the game with Moline.

18. Bill Askren, Marion Maze and Junior Truskett sponsored a dance at Elk's Hall for the Junior Class. We really cared for your orchestra, Mazie.

24. The Playmakers presented "Phillip for Short". The rooster was by far the best actor.

28. The Playmakers enjoyed a picnic and dance at the Prairie Club House.

29. "Dupe" Dussair really told the seventh hour American History class the cold facts about college. 30. We lost the game with Cherryvale.

DECEMBER

1. It won't be long until Old Santa will be here—or will he?

8. White Way celebration! Some fun, eh kids.

15-16. The domestic art classes are making toys. Don't you think they are rather childish?

18. The audience was entertained (or were they?) by an orchestra and band concert given in the auditorium.

As usual, we lost the basketball game 19. with Independence.

22. The expression class presented an interesting Christmas program. We won the basketball game with Grenola.

31. Another year gone or going.

JANUARY

New Year's resolutions were broken. Over three-fourths of the 1. students slept through their classes. We wonder why?

5. Senior and Junior high won Howard basket ball games.

We lost the Independence game.

10-11. We all wished we had studied for the exams. They were awfully tough.

13. Pandemonium reigned in fourth hour study hall when "Red" Miner and Dale Irick decided to settle differences with fists.

15. Guy Green from Kansas City talked to the students.

We lost the Moline basket ball games. 16.

We lost Cedar Vale basket ball game. 19.

We got a big surprise! Junior High 26. 'shut out" Chautauqua holding their men to no points.

FEBRUARY

We won the basketball game with Peru. 1.

We didn't have to work hard to beat Longton. 9.

14. We beat Sedan 17-15. Everyone was on the lookout for cupid today.

57

Betty Bell won first on her essay "The 20.Ideals of American Citizenship."

23. Claire Louise Connelly and Marjorie Gregg were elected Carnival Queens.

We won the basketball game with Elk Falls.

26. Joe Barrington says the reason he never has a current event in American History is because all their best newspapers are at home under the rug.

27. We won Elk City basket ball game.

6 The Junior play was a big success.

A speaker from Chanute talked to the students.

17. Bill Nichols toddled so swiftly down the front stairs that he forgot to stop and ran his hand through the window.

13. If we ever had any dignity we lost it when the pepperettes gave the football and basket ball boys a banquet and dance. The girls wore print dresses and hair ribbons and the boys overalls and red bow ties.

16. The expression class entertained the student body with a one act play.

24. Rita Dougherty and Dick Corle were chosen the most love-sick couple at the box supper sponsored by the sophomore class at Pleasant Hill.

25. Say, wouldn't it seem funny not to see Claire Louise and Bill Nichols together?

26. Fred Smith has acquired astigmatism. (We really care for his glasses.)

29. Some students just can't take it. Mrs. Jones says we look like we'd been drawn through a knot hole after practicing so late every night for "Glorious Virginia."

APRIL

The April fool Easter Bunny didn't leave us any Easter eggs. 1. 2-3. The Business Professional Women's club sponsored a play "Glorious Virginia". Many of the students participated in it. 5.

The senior picnic postponed indefinitely on account of rain.

6. Betty Bell won second place on an essay "The Ideals of American Citizenship" in the cssay contest at Independence sponsored by the American Legion. Nice work, Betty.

9. The boys have been having lots of fun playing armory ball.

13. The seniors changed scenery on us. The setting of their play was on a dude ranch.

20. The Cinema Stars entertained the Searchers of the Cosmic Ray with a Banquet.

27. We hear that the orchestra had a big time in Pittsburg.

MAY

4-5. What's this about a fishing trip for just the men of the school?

11. Class day. Annuals came out.

11-12. The Industrial arts classes gave a display of their work.

13. Baccalaureate Sermon.

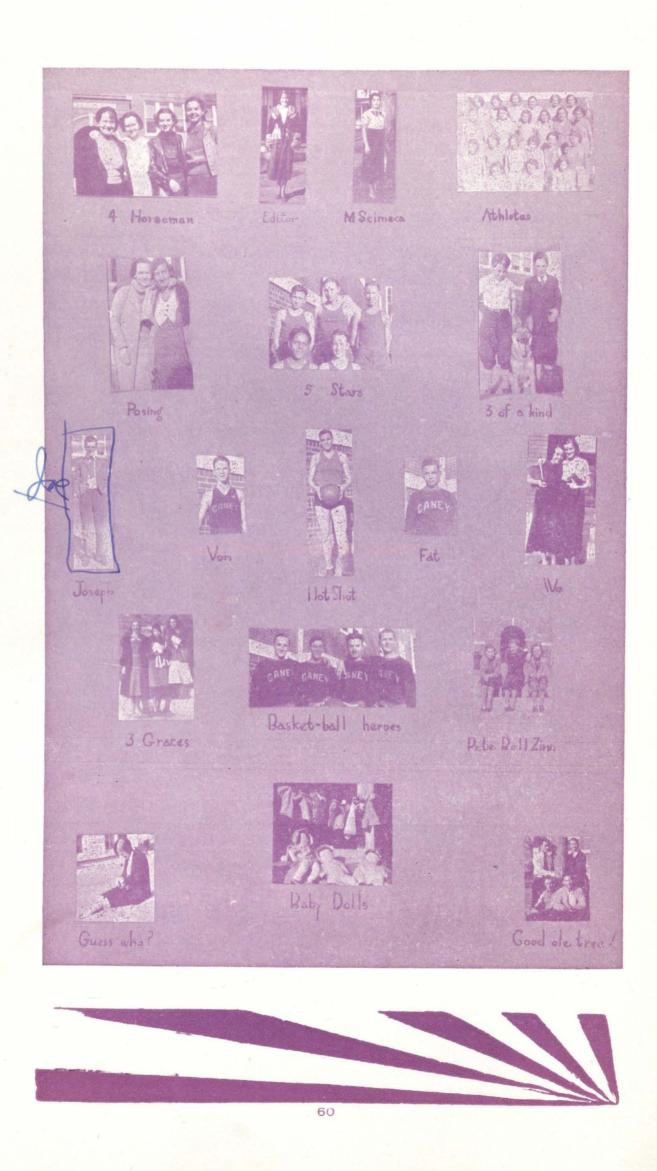

18. Commencement.

20. Oh boy, the calendar is finished and am I glad!

EDUCATION Comes Before ADVANCEMENT

Our country has advanced to the leading position in this world, because of one thing-EDUCATION.

Every child in the United States is given the chance to go to school and educate himself or herself.

Every person is treated as an individual progressing by his or her own efforts and ambition, limited only by the person and the will to achieve.

EDUCATION—is the cornerstone of Electric Service —The life work of thousands of individuals, highly trained scientists, engineers and business men, has developed THE MODERN ELECTRIC SERVICE far above that of any other country in the world to the very necessary position it holds in our everyday commercial and home life.

L'ENVOY

(Apologies to Kipling)

When the last of the pictures are pasted,

And the last of the copy is sent,

When the last page of proof is corrected,

And our last red penny is spent;

We shall rest, and faith, we shall need it,

We shall sleep for a week or two,

We shall star once more in our classes,

And study the whole week through. Caney Valley Histor

Then no one shall shirk at our coming For pictures that haven't been made. And the couples we hunted for pictures

Shall spoon once more unafraid! Our brows no more shall be furrowed With lines of worry and care— And we'll rest from our weary labors With time enough and to spare.

We'll swear by all that is holy That we'll never again be caught Trying to publish a blamed old book That doesn't pan out as it ought We'll seek no more for the glory that Goes with an Editor's name,

But we'll be content if our days are spent

In other paths of Fame.

When you flunk— You could have answered Any ten but those; When you pass— You could have answered Any ten you chose. Mrs. Thompson: (In English) Bill give me a review of John Milton's Life.

Bill Schleicher: Well he got married and wrote "Paradise Lost," and then his wife died and he wrote "Paradise Regained."

Mrs. Harden: Is my boy really trying?

Mrs. Jones: Very!

Did You Ever See?-

Dick Hicks tripping lightly down the steps?

Joanne Stone quiet?

Betty Bell trying to look sophisticated?

"Doc" Hayes primping?

Miss Rounds without her wit?

Joan Shore talk "baby talk?"

Earl McBride, alias "McDitty," reading, "How to get big in a week?"

John Dee Ewers' ears get red?

J. Shelby Barrington serious?

Paul E. Harden with his pipe?

Keeks Connelly without a smile?

Dwight Jones and his "get along?"

Fred Smith trying to act funny?

The fish that "Bud" Troxel caught?

Bill Nichols without Connelly?

Phillip Schaub and his loud mouth?

Joe Gregg saying "Be Careful?"

"Pete" Hilford give her Horse Laugh?

Joe Gregg: I got a big kick out of kissing Dorothy last night.

Dick Quiett: Any more than usual? Joe: Yeah, her dad caught me.

Pete Hale: Jr., does Pansy always rattle like that Jr. Truskett: Only when it's running. We Recommend "SCRIBBLE INN"
