P. T. A. ANNOUNCEMENT

The Senior High P. T. A. will have their next meeting, on the second Monday in January. The contest between classes for attendance is still in progress, and everyone is invited to attend this meeting which is in charge of the Sophomore class. The meeting begins at seven-thirty in the High School Auditorium.

Hi-Y Conference Is Attended by Local Debaters

Independence Is the Scene of Annual District
Hi-Y Conference

"Personality Theme"

Twenty-Three Pittsburg Representatives Carry Off First Honors at Independence

Twenty-three Pittsburg high students journeyed to Independence last week to attend the sectional Hi-Y conference. There were approximately 250 boys from all over southeastern Kansas present and the Pittsburg delegation was the largest.

The theme of the conference was "Respect for Personality." All the speakers based their talks on this subject. The purpose of the conference was first, to challenge boys to higher ideals and standards of living; second, to help Hi-Y clubs meet their school situations in a better manner; and third, to help Hi-Y and other boys to realize the value of and to understand personality.

The speakers at the conference were James S. Chubb, Southwestern; Guy Gebhardt, Wichita; M. C. Ay, L. E. Goodwin, Topeka; and Roy Johnson, Kansas City. Though not a speaker, Roy Williams of Ponca City, whose dynamic personality inspired every conference member and put the needed pep into every meeting by his wonderful leadership of the songs, was one of the most enjoyed members on the program. Others on the programs were Bruce Tallman and Merrill Enyeart of Topeka, who were secretaries of the conference.

Part of the program was devoted to the discussion groups of which there were seven in number. The various delegations were divided and put into these discussion groups so that the various subjects could be brought back to the clubs and discussed. Clyde Hartford and Claude I. Huffman were discussion leaders of two of these groups.

Girl Reserves to Give Christmas Skit

"The Christmas Message" to Be Shown Tuesday During Third Hour;
Jones in Charge

In commemoration of the joyful Christmas season the Girl Reserves have arranged a play involving dances, music, and readings. The play, to be given Tuesday or Wednesday, December 23 or 24, as a parting word before vacation days, is under the direction of Miss Jones, who is being assisted by Miss Brandenburg and Miss Ellis on special numbers.

The production, entitled "The Christmas Message," involves nine characters besides those in the dance, the reader, those representing peace, the violinist, and those furnishing the vocal music.

The characters of the skit include Charlotte, Juanita Updegrave; Mother, Cleve Bynum; Pippa, Helen Magie; Hiawatha, Margaret Ellen Parks; Alice in Wonderland, Ruby Fulton; Puck, an elf, Ursel Coulson; Tar Baby, Pete Sagett; Tiny Tim, John T. Innis; and Bell Girl, Esther Simion. Those who are to take part in the fairy dance are Margaret Ryan, Margaret Hilsop, Ellen Harper, and Mildred Jones.

Other students that are to participate include Frederica Theis, violinist; Myrtle Buckley, Christmas reader; Lois Hallacy and Betty Sommadossi, who represent peace; and Lida Rock, Maxine Wetzel, Marguerite Catgenova, and Ruth Askins who comprise the girls quartette. The quartette's numbers are to be "Silent Night" and "Joy to the World."

GREETINGS!

It is the wish of Pittsburg high school—its faculty, its principal, its friends—that each and every student enter upon the Yuletide season with a spirit of joy and thankfulness. Be not only joyful for yourself and your happiness but also help spread joy to those less fortunate.

Brown, Kelley Cop Second in Debate Contest

Three Pittsburg Teams Reach
Semi-finals; Miami Wins
Final Decision

Coffeyville Entertains

Row Enters Eight Complete Teams;
Final Clash Broadcasted
Over KGGF

Leonard Brown and Pat Kelly won second in the first tournament sponsored by the Coffeyville junior college held the twelfth and thirteenth of December at Coffeyville.

Collinsville, Chanute, Altoona, Coffeyville, Cherokee, Neodesha, Fredonia, Nevada, Cherryvale, Miami Commerce, Fisher, Bartlesville, Cheato, Independence, Parsons, Cedar Vale, and Pittsburg were among the towns represented at the tournament, making a total of forty teams or one hundred and sixty debaters.

With four complete teams entered Pittsburg had one complete team and a negative of another still in the tournament after the first five rounds. Ruth Merlyn Oskin and Earl Carlton, affirmative; Milton Zacharias and Frank Gavin, negative were the members of the complete team. The other negative team was Pat Kelly and Leonard Brown. During the next round Frank Gavin and Milton Zacharias were eliminated. The affirmative team drew a bye, the other negative won its debate, leaving two Pittsburg teams in the tournament. In the next bracket the Pittsburg teams debated each other and eliminated the affirmative. With only one team left the negative defeated Independence. The next debate or finals were broadcasted over station KGGF, Coffeyville. In this debate the Miami affirmative defeated Pittsburg for first honors.

Four Teams Enter Tournament

The following people were selected by Mr. Row to represent Pittsburg in the Coffeyville junior college tournament: Ruth Merlyn Oskin and Earl Carlton, affirmative; Frank Gavin and Milton Zacharias, negative; Doris Rogers and Myer Rosenberg, affirmative; Pat Kelly and Leonard Brown, negative; Lois Hallacy and Kelly Manning, affirmative; Nelva Hand and James Stafford, negative; Anna Hill and Wilma Shoemaker, affirmative; and Lavon Jackson and Willa Soward, negative.

Annual Christmas Cantata Presented

Five Hundred Voices Sing-Out Joyful Praises of Holiday Season's Glorious Greetings

The college auditorium was the scene of one of the outstanding performances of the high school year. Five hundred students of Pittsburg senior high school appeared in the annual Christmas concert, joint direction of Miss Lorraine Ellis and Mr. Gerald Carney, supervisors of music. This annual affair is unusual in that not many high schools throughout the country attempt to feature so many voices in a production of this type.

"Yuletide Concert," the name given the cantata this year, featured many of the old time Christmas carols and presented a true Christmas attitude to the very appreciative audience present.

The dramatized orchestra selection introduced Santa and interpreted his journeyings through the world. Soloists for the occasion were soprano: Ruth Askins, Maxine Wetzel, Mildred Repass; altos: Marguerite Catgenova, Lida Rock; tenor: James Hazen, John Shafer, Ugo Marchetti; and bass: Herman Babcock, Richard Tripp.

Accompanists were Mary Adele Brinn, pianist, and Velma Askins, organist.

At the Fox Theatres

The gay affairs of a master lover are depicted in "The Boudoir Diplomat," the Universal special production with an all-star cast, which will be the attraction at the Colonial Theater, beginning Sunday—3 days. The roster of players includes Betty Compson, Ian Keith, Mary Duncan, Lawrence Grant, Jeanette Loff, Lionel Belmore and Andre Beranger, together with a large number of minor players.

Like any other curious member of the human race, Nick Stuart has often watched firemen work at a big conflagration. And equally like the average citizen, he has believed that fire fighting is a matter of water and manpower.

"But I know better now," he said after completing "The Fourth Alarm," the Standard Photoplay showing at the Colonial Theater Friday of next week.

Helen Twelveteens, who plays the leading feminine role in "The Cat Creeps," the Universal mystery drama which comes to the Midland

ALUMNI

Mrs. Howard Lenoard, formerly Miss Adele Kirkwood, Jaunita Smith, Cleo Fowler, Shirley Burnette, Evelyn Bates had lunch in the P. H. S. cafeteria Friday. The four latter ones were graduates in 1930.

Ruth Jackson was a visitor at the all-school chorus Thursday at the third hour. Ruth was graduated last year was a member of the annual staff and was also class secretary.

Clyde Bailey, Edward True, Keith Wright, and Morgan Finke are attending the University of Illinois. The three former ones are P. H. S. graduates of 1928 and the fourth was a graduate in 1929.

Constance Hill '29 is a student at the University of Kansas. Constance was a member of the Booster staff when in high school.

Dorothy Gibson '28 is now employed as a teacher at Lakeside grade school.

Take a look at the Peoples Music Ad.

Almost a Helen of Troy in Our Midst

Did you know we had a Helen of Troy in our midst? We do, indeed! Not only do her admirers gather outside the door and take their turns, but have even been caught trying to tell a funny story while his rival is trying to swallow.

When you enter the room you look for dear Helen, but alas, broad backs are all that greet your view! Who will be the Menelaus to conquer Helen, or will she be conquered? Who're the conqueror may be, there are some qualities he needs must have; namely, height, breath, and last but not least beauty.

Height to see Helen, or our dear teacher; breadth to conquer his foes and beauty to conquer Helen. Who indeed is this Menelaus this conqueror to be? Yes, who can Helen be? Why should I tell, just do as ye reporter did, follow the crowd into the music room.

Vera Holcomb motored to Parsons, Sunday evening.

Christine Galbraith and Allen de Steigare drove to Joplin, Sunday evening.

Debate Team Places

Pat Kelly and Leonard Brown Beaten
in Finals; Hi-Y Wins Honors.

The Assembly last Monday, Dec. 15, brought out two important factors. First the debate teams under Mr. Row went to Coffeyville and succeeded in taking a second place; second, Mr. Hartford and Mr. Huffman took a group of Hi-Y fellows to the conference at Independence and succeeded in winning the honor for attendance. Sixteen debaters were taken to Coffeyville; they debated with about forty other teams. One team from Pittsburg went into the semifinals, and the same team into the finals. Although beaten, the team composed of Pat Kelly and Leonard Brown captured second place and brought back a cup which was presented to the school by Pat Kelly.

Marvin Hutman gave a short talk upon what the Hi-Y boys did at the Conference and then presented the banner to the school.

Seventh Hours

If any of you have ever been absent for several days, you will realize the necessity of seventh hours.

In order to make up lost work and come up to the standards of the other students, we should become acquainted with our instructors and also become acquainted with the course of study of that particular subject. If there is a phase of the subject you don't understand or if you are unable to get the right angle on it, your teachers are willing to straighten it out for you. It facilitates the preparation of each lesson if you understand the motives and purposes that stand behind it.

It is a necessity for students to leave the school immediately, but it is a matter of courtesy to the teachers and aid to yourself if you allow yourself the privilege of talking to your instructors. When you are tired and feel a little overworked, you can remove many of your obstacles by staying a short time after school and interviewing the teacher of the particular subject that is worrying you.

Just remember, the teachers are glad to aid you in any way they can; and you are not only aiding yourselves, but you are being courteous to them when you remain for a "seventh hour".

Desirous of Fame

The thrill that comes first to a student in high school is seeing his name in the Booster. Many students say, "Gee, I never get my name in the Booster!" This is a very simple matter. All you have to do to get your name in the paper is to write a poem. This poem may be any length you want it. It can contain any subject matter that isn't cheap or off-color.

When you hand your poem to your English instructor or the Journalism department, it will be put in the poetry corner of the school paper with your name at the bottom.

Do you not think that taking a few minutes off to write a little poem is an easy way to obtain notoriety in the Booster?

Puckery Persimmons

Puckery persimmons—who likes them? None of us. Yet how good they look from a distance! Such is fame. Craved by many, gotten by few, and as puckery as a persimmon before frost. The little, round, yellow sphere hanging from the highest limb is the most tempting. We climb the tree, ruin trousers, tear shirts, and skin shins for only a round yellow sphere.

Can one wait till they reach the ground to taste of the fruit? No, not any better than one can wait to collect his senses before he tastes of the fame he has gotten.

How bitter is the reward of such a taste! Fame, like the persimmon, looks well, but when tasted puckers; after which it leaves one much the wiser or a greater fool.

The Spotlight from Lyons, Kansas, says that they have "a" place on their school building wall where one can see fingerprints. Before complaining perhaps they had better visit a few other schools and make a tour of inspection.

Chances are they shall go home rejoicing at the glossed cleanliness of their own Alma Mater.

"Cream Puffs" given by dramatic students. So read the head in an article in the Kington "Oracle." Don't jump to conclusions, however. It is only the name of a play produced by said students.

We wonder where Columbus high school got the idea that we were featuring "Silent Night" for our annual cantata. Gossip must surely carry false tales. The name of our cantata is merely "Yuletide Concert."

We see in the Lyons Spotlight that someone from Lyons wants a nice thick letter from Pittsburg. Santa never falls good little boys. Have you been good, Robley?

"Hi-Y"

Bunny Carlson
Jack Stangland led the devotions which were closed with sentence prayers. Following the roll call by the secretary, Marvin Brooks, the dues were collected by the treasurer, Frank Gavin. Earl Carlton took charge of announcements. Mr. York, sponsor, announced the coming of the Independence Hi-Y conference, and Mr. Hartford took the names of boys that expect to attend. After the business part of the meeting, the remainder of the time was turned over to Elwood Hume, chairman of the program committee. Ugo Marchetti started the program by giving three solos on his guitar. The remaining time was spent in discussing character.

David New

Devotions were led by Wyatt Wells, who read the second chapter of St. Matthew. Then there was a short discussion about the Independence conference. Six boys, namely Harry Guinn, Jack DuBois, Wesley Stuessi, Pete Farabi, Harold Kanske, and Daniel Shield are to represent the David New chapter and are to have the next weeks program. Following the checking up of the Hi-Y play by Max Plattner, finance chairman, the Bible study chairman James Stafford, led the club in a game of Bible baseball.

B. V. Edworthy

Devotions were led by Billy Kneebone and were closed with sentence prayers.

Following devotions, Harold Mason, Bible study chairman, took charge of the meeting. After the Bible study the remainder of the time was spent in discussing the Independence conference.

Joe Dance

Byron Triplet led the devotions which were closed with sentence prayers. Gilbert Bennington opened a business meeting and checked up on the Hi-Y play tickets. After the business meeting Randa Purcell, Bible study chairman took charge. His topic for discussion was, "A Christian's View point on Disarmaments." This point was freely discussed by the members and Randa gave a talk about the subject from his view point. Then Mr. Williams, sponsor, told of some of the honors of war and the reasons why there should not be disarmament.

USE VARIETY OF DESIGNS FOR CHRISTMAS CARDS

If anyone wishes to see snowy trees and houses, Santa Clauses, camels, modernistic girls, snow men, artists, madonnas, and trumpeters, he might step into the art room any first or second hour.

These are some of the designs used on the Christmas cards that the art students are making.

No art appreciation study was held on Monday, but the time was spent in working on the cards.

Probably the next project of the class will be the making of bracelets. They will design the patterns themselves and then transfer them to the metal.

Lets Get Acquainted

Her name is known to many, but the girl herself may not be—who knows? She has brown hair, not too curly and not too straight, blue eyes and a happy-go-lucky smile. Her talents are in the commercial line and talking. She is none other than Lois Sears. Lois is the type of girl that wonders why people call seniors dignified, because she is a senior, and she doesn't feel dignified. Lois is also a member of the Girl Reserves.

We expect you know this boy, for who doesn't? He is the prominent junior president. Now, of course, you know that he is Joe Wilson. Joe, with blue eyes, light hair, and the winning way with everyone is a member of the band, orchestra, and Hi-Y. He had a part in the Girl Reserve play this year. We have heard several girls say that he is most entertaining. Now, girls, here is your chance if you want to meet him, and boys, too, perhaps you might learn how to be friendly.

A brunette from Roosevelt is the star of attraction this week for the sophomores. She has gray-green eyes, dark hair, and a very light skin. This year she is a member of the Girl Reserves and Girls Glee club. If you don't already know who we've been talking about, we'll tell you; it's Ruth Laney, and we are sure she would be glad to know any of you.

An all star football selection made by each coach in the league, received from Chanute, placed four Pittsburg high gridders on the first eleven and two on the second team. Each of the Dragons received honorable mention.

Howard Walker was named as on the first team, while three Dragon players were named in the backfield.

They were Paul Ludlow, Quarterback; Joe Scalet, Halfback; and Ralph Russell at Fullback. Ray Karns, Halfback and Fred Kees ends were named on the second team.

Ralph Russell, Fullback, and leading scorer of the S. E. K. league, has the honor of being given the Captaincy on the first team. Dowd, Columbus; and Phipps, Independence; tied Russell for the most votes.

Lee McDonald, Captain-elect of the Dragons, received honorable mention but we believe he should have been placed on the second team if not the first.

Darwin Tavella, tackle, would probably have fought someone a good race for that position if he hadn't had his shoulder hurt in the Parsons game.

Mogran Basketeers Get Outside Games

Dragons Get Chance to Show Power Against Springfield, Joplin, and Neodesha

Schedule for 1931 Season

Jan. 9—Pittsburg at Neodesha.

13—Pittsburg at Springfield.

16—Pittsburg at Coffeyville.

23—Independence at Pittsburg.

27—Columbus at Pittsburg (non-league game).

30—Pittsburg at Chanute.

Feb. 6—Joplin at Pittsburg.

10—Springfield at Pittsburg.

13—Parsons at Pittsburg.

17—Pittsburg at Joplin.

20—Iola at Pittsburg.

27—Pittsburg at Fort Scott.

Mar. 6—Pittsburg at Columbus.

* Non-league games.

Coach Charles H. Morgan has secured games outside the league that will bring lots of thrills and good playing to our Dragon followers; possibly giving the Dragons plenty to worry about.

The Purple Dragons open the season play with the old grad game, sometime after New Years. Then they start on their outside foes stopping at Neodesha January 9, journey to Springfield January 13. A week later they stage their first S. E. K. league game at Coffeyville. The first two non-league games are merely to get the Dragons in shape before they start their S. E. K. play.

Independence brings the first home league game to be played possibly at Lakeside gym, Jan. 23. Columbus comes to Pittsburg for a non-league game January 27. Although it is a non-league it will possibly uncork the dope box for their final league game clash March 6, at Columbus.

Joplin comes to Pittsburg for a Feb. 10 non-league game. Feb. 17, Pittsburg journeys to Joplin to return the same game. Springfield returns the game of January 13, played at Springfield and play here February 10.

Although a single round-robin schedule is followed this year the Dragons have enough games to keep them busy. There will be a game every week and some weeks two until March 6, when they close the league session.

MISTAKE CORRECTED

In the last issue of the Booster, the story of Morgan's announcing his lettermen carried a sentence which could be easily misinterpreted by the casual reader who is not familiar with high school standards.

This sentence stated that sweaters had been ordered for the boys; however the chance for misinterpretation leads to more definite explanation. If any sweaters or other apparel is bought it is to be done by the boys themselves. Not even a friend or anyone else is privileged to make presents in recognition of participation in athletics.

Pittsburg senior high school has always prided herself on the way she has so closely adhered to the standards set up by the Kansas high school organization for athletics and would, under no circumstance, wish to have her stand or practices misunderstood.

Suspicious Character: What am I supposed to have stolen?"

Cop "A horse and wagon."

"It ain't sanitary," protested the traveler, "to have the house built over the hog-pen that way."

"Well, I dunno," replied the native, "we ain't lost a hog in fifteen years."

Mr. Rice (in chemistry): "For example, name a phosphate mixture."

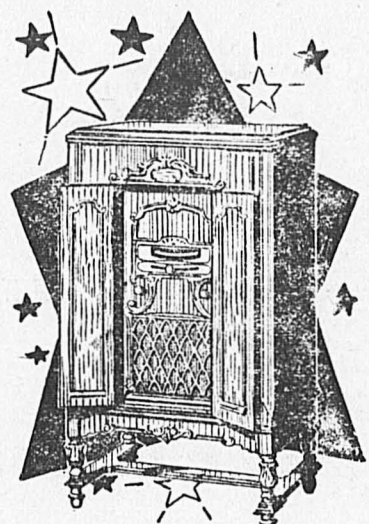

Eugene Rankin: "Cherry phosphate."

RALPH RUSSELL LEADS S. E. K. LEAGUE SCORERS

Ralph Russell, Pittsburg high full-back and captain of the co-champs, won individual scoring honors in the S. E. K. league with a total of 60 points, averaging 8.5 points each game.

Joe Scalet, halfback and teammate of Russell was only 18 points behind Russell; while Phipps, Independence, was 16 points back of Russell to take second place. Scalet rated third and Kees, end, fourth with a total of 33 points.

Perhaps this accounts for the great number of points the Dragons scored. Three Pittsburg high gridders with in the first four places.

DRAGONS PLACE THREE ON ALL-STAR TEAM

The Pittsburg Purple Dragons placed three positions on the first team of the S. E. K. sectional all-star team. The sectional teams were selected from eleven counties by Justin Anderson of the Independence Reporter. The players chosen were the most outstanding of the officials, coaches, and sports writers.

The Dragons placed Howard Walker, right guard; Joe Scalet, left halfback; and Captain Russell, full-back on the first team. The Dragons lead the list with the three players named while Independence has two.

Paul Ludlow was named quarterback on the third team with Fred Kees, end; Lee McDonald, center; and Ray Karns, halfback received honorable mention.

HOW COLOR AFFECTS MAN

Man has apparently become careless about one of the most important items in his environments—color. As soon as he realizes fully the inhibitive and repressive influence of drab, uninteresting color surroundings, the vistas about him will be immediately transformed. Man has always conquered or changed conditions unfavorable to his best development. There is no reason to believe that he will not rise to the present situation and reinstate into his daily life the color which is so important to his well-being.

Girls Sports

The girls drill team held a short meeting Friday afternoon in the gym. A short discussion was held concerning pictures to be taken for the annual.

The G. A. A. are still practicing basketball. No teams have been chosen as yet.

Kathleen Patton, one of the outstanding members of the physical education department, has been attracting some attention through her soccer ability. Kathleen is a small girl, but in spite of that she is a very capable athlete. The first time you get the chance, watch her on the gym floor, for she is very graceful when it comes to sports playing.

Theater on Sunday was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Christmas Day, and received her education in New York City.

Coming here preceded by the most glowing praise from every city in which it has been shown, "Oh, For A Man!" Fox movietone production at the Midland Theater next Tues.-Wed., promises to delight and entertain local audiences to a greater degree than any picture which has been shown in many months.

"Oh, For A Man!" is the directorial product of the youthful Fox director, Hamilton MacFadden, who is hailed in filmland as having ideas of such a modern and progressive note that he is topping such directors as Lubitsch.

Jeanette MacDonald, who rose to cinema fame as co-star with Chevalier in "The Love Parade," is co-featured this time with Reginald Denny and the combination is even more impressive.
