CLASS HISTORY

Caney Valley Historical Society

Unity in study, in sportsmanship, in social life and recreation and in almost any activity forms the experience of a senior's life in Caney High School. This oneness is in keeping with the highest ideals of our school and the senior class of nineteen hundred and thirty seven may be proud that they have iterated this highly praised practice. It bespeaks of an order and an accomplishment of the ideal type of life. As is distinctive of all modern life, this class is composed of a varied group of personalities. In Caney High School all students have the opportunity of developing into ideal womanhood and manhood.

The accomplishments of our class will now be history—a history which any class would be proud to leave for others. The striving athletes of our class had one perspective—to gain success for their school and for themselves. We recall the names of Price, Quiett, Toner, Mitchell, Croff, Courtney, Kannard, Caffey, Eakes, Cushenberry and O'Neal. In order to win these games it is necessary to have an inducement, and that inducement has been the senior high Pepperettes. This group was led by Mary Jane Lingle with Patty Merrill as cheer leader.

To become a desirable class the class must be led by strong personalities—the leaders of the senior class were Bill Toner, Richard Quiett and Mary Jane Lingle.

Every school must have a school paper to serve as a reminder of the school activities. Our school paper—the Nakenak—was edited by Irene Townsell and Marjorie Wilson with Joe Gregg as Business editor.

It is the unity in activity both in study and in social life that has great influence in moulding real personalities, and forming a more perfect class history.

Flashing ! !

. . . . The Last Will and Testament of
. . The Class of 1937

We called ourselves "Conquistadores."

We said, "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits."

We chose crimson and gold, for the crimson typifies the sun; it speaks of bravery and courage; it is a radiant inspiration that urges onward. Bravery is one of the foremost virtues in the well-rounded character, but it is not all-essential; there is a virtue superior even to that—a virtue of purity of which our gold is symbolical. Realizing this the class selected gold as the secondary color, hoping that the purity and perfection it typifies, may be closely woven within our personal principles. As conquistadores we vowed to attain this and all the other attributes of a well formed life.

How well we have attained this end. We began with a pioneering spirit that thrived and blossomed forth to equal that of our predecessors. In its analysis it has been of relative simplicity, but when it is composed it pays honor to every name in our class. Thus, the class of 1937 made history.

Conquistadores do not propose to produce weak, undeveloped characters who know nothing except the material printed in the pages of the books they carry from class to class. They do not design men whose ability ceases when the game is won or lost. They do not seek to develop women who cannot raise their minds above the daily "chatter" of life. Conquerors do not chose as their aspiration to bring forth the undeveloped in either body or mind. No, true conquerors strive and grasp for the elevated objects. They do not find glory in their triumphs nor do they find infamy in their defeats.

As our predecessors have willed to us their virtues, we will to you, the future senior classes of Caney High school, all of the barriers we have conquered added to the virtues to which we fell heirs. We respect them as we will bind you to respect them.

We give them with a sense of love mingled with our personal pride hoping that they may never be surpassed yet always equalled.

Future News of . . .

New York City, New York

A news headline here says: "President of his class becomes president of his country." Or vice versa.

Invitations for the New York Press affair have been issued. We notice in the foreground a few young people who seemed to think they got their first yearning for the journalistic art in some remote spot in southern Kansas. Some of them who are familiar to head lines are Marjorie Wilson, Patty Merrill, Mary Erwin, Irene Townsell and Joe Gregg.

Speaking of amusements, I saw Willma Williams in a projection room showing off her latest play. She will probably pass the field of screen lovers by 1987!

Alfred Dixon and Wallace Eakes continue as the most popular of the modern judges. They are both keen judges of horses, and they are responsible for the many ribbons their horses have won.

The artistic designs which appeared in the Fine Arts Magazine were done by Treva Shaffer, Lillian Pond, Delta Hatton and Elizabeth Frost.

Don't miss the Boxing Match between Dean Price and Dick Quiett scheduled for May 1, 1943.

As the most desirable of the current beaux, Lawrence Caffey leads. He appears at all of the popular places in New York. He is a favorite with all the headwaiters due to his unobtrusive manner in contrast to the usual rich play boys. You will probably remember that he is now in the possession of many millions.

One of New York's most ambitious and prolific dinner tossers is Lena Claire Roth. There is scarcely an evening she does not give several elaborate affairs. For the headline crowds.

Dwight Jones, the loose jointed dancer, is going in for chicken farming on a major scale. He has a hatchery at Pueblo and sends a large shipment to market each day. When his nimble legs lose their limber he is not going to be in line for a benefit.

News lines show that:

John Lloyd Brown likes the back seat on a street car platform for meditation.

John David Holyfield is a celery fiend.

Virginia Goudy and Louise Wilkinson are directing fashion shows in South America.

Class Prophecy . . .

Two former congressmen, Bernard Croff and Lee O'Neal, are now running for mayor of Caney, Kansas.

Do you ever think while strolling? That is how Francis Todd got all the ideas on his latest book.

I just tuned in my radio, I can write so much better with music especially when it's by your favorite orchestra leader—Wayne King Caf-fey with Jeannette Bossman as the songstress.

In the golden days Robert Phillips was the highest priced vaudeville star, now it's opera.

Fern Edinger's school days have lured her to write a play. Her large cast of characters are taken from the personalities of her schoolmates. It's certain to be good.

Mary Jane Lingle spends most of her time on the Rivera, but occasionally, we see by the Nakenak, the nation's paper, that she visits in Caney. Her musical ability remains unexcelled.

Eugene Oyler and Clyde Kirby spent the week-end in their home town—to glimpse again the scenes of their childhood days.

The sports writer, Beecher Cushenberry, scored his best report of the season in the fight between Wm. Scimeca and Mack Roberts.

The studio owned by Ogle Rhoten and Lee O'Neal has awarded Leona Lambillotte and Katherine Graves for their superb acting.

Predictions show that Warren Jones will probably be elected premier of France.

Leslie Kannard, Lewis Mitchell and Earl Courtney are now operating a chemical laboratory in Santiago.

Honor Students . . .

In past years one member of the graduating class has been selected by the faculty for an honor student. These selections were based upon the following five points: character, scholarship, loyalty, leadership and dependability. The students are:

- 1931 Donald Hansen
- 1932 Margaret Lambdin
- 1933 Carl Soden
- 1934 Wilma Rounds
- 1935 Harve E. Truskett
- 1936 Jules Theodore Charles

Junior Class History

In September of nineteen hundred thirty-five, fifty-nine Sophomores started up the ladder of education. Their leaders were Ralph Halk as President, Billie Marshall, Vice President and Mary Ewers, Secretary-Treasurer. The colors they chose were rose and green, and the flower chosen was the Sweet Pea. The motto holds true their ideals, "We build the ladder, by which we rise." They were guided by Mrs. Marie Jones and Mr. Harry Daniels. In March, Nineteen hundred and thirty-six, a chapel program, which was an imitation of "Town Hall Tonight", was presented.

At the beginning of their Junior year, the number had dropped from fifty-nine to forty-nine. In December, nineteen hundred and thirty-six the Juniors were the sponsors of the second all school dance in the gymnasium.

March 1, 1937 saw one of the Junior's guides, Mr. Daniels, climb the ladder of success to a better position. His place was taken by Mr. Charles Haddock.

April 2, 1937, the Juniors presented their play, "Trouble Ahead."

May 7, 1937, the Senior class, Faculty and School Board were invited to the Flower Garden of the Juniors, to partake of a bounteous banquet.

Both years the Juniors were represented in Pepperettes, Playmakers, Orchestra, Band, Basketball, Football and Tennis.

Sophomore Class History

On the seventh day of September, sixty-two Sophomores enrolled for the school year of 1936-37. Under the leadership of George Long as President, Marjorie Boulanger as Vice President and Mary Edith Harkness acting as Secretary and Treasurer, the class eagerly made their way toward the "Junior goal." Honors granted members of the Sophomore class are numerous, the two outstanding being the choice of Eloise Boles as "Queen of the Sophomores" and the receiving of the first award of the American Legion Essay contest by Marjorie Boulanger.

The tulip was selected for the class flower; blue and silver as class colors and "Success Comes in Cans" as the class motto. The Sophomores of 1936-'37 were under the sponsorship of Miss Amne Berger and Miss Lelia Hemphill.

This year marks the sixteenth anniversary of the Nakenak, the Caney High School Paper. For nine years it was edited by the students of our school as an extra-curricular activity. Since then it has been conducted as a regular subject.

The name "Nakenak" was derived from reversing the name of Kane-Kan.

This years class consisted of nine seniors.

Although there was much opposition to the publication of a yearbook in '37, the courageous reporters took up the standard and bore it to victory.

As a consequence of the noble cooperation of Dick Quiett as Business Manager, Patricia Merrill and Dwight Jones as Advertising Managers, Irene Townsell as Class Editor, Wilma Williams as Snap Shot Editor, Elizabeth Frost as Art Editor, Joe Gregg as Joke Editor, Mary Erwin as Activity Editor, Mary J. Lingle as Secretary-Treasurer, Fern Edinger and Strelsa Puckett as typists and Warren Jones, Editor, as a goal the '37 "Kane Kan" came into being. We the staff of the Kane Kan do thus hope our ideal is realized in the presenting the student body with a remembrance of the school year '37.

Athletics

..... a review
in story and picture of the Bullpups Conquest on field and court. . . .

Our Coach . . .

"Coach" Carl Killion has just completed his sixth successful year of coaching Junior and Senior High School Athletics. His record for this period of coaching is very outstanding, it includes three Football Championships, two Basketball Championships, and a cup for third place in the Junior High Basketball Tournament at Moline.

1936 Championship Bullpups

Although the Caney Bullpups began their football season with a loss in a non-league game with Bartlesville, they made a quick come-back by swamping Grenola 41-0. They then continued their good record by defeating Cedar Vale 19-0. After losing by a one-point margin in a non-league game with Copan, they again started the line of consecutive victories by defeating Howard 15-0, Fredonia 24-7, Sedan 26-0, Elk City 23-0, and then defeating Moline in the championship game by a 6-0 margin. The Thanksgiving Day game with Cherryvale ended in a 6-6 tie. The Caney team made a most unusual record due to the fact that they held all league opponents scoreless throughout the season.

Season's Record (* for Non-League Games)

|----------|-----------------|----------|---------------|
| Caney 0 | Bartlesville 28 | Caney 24 | Fredonia* 7 |
| Caney 41 | Grenola 0 | Caney 26 | Sedan 0 |
| Caney 19 | Cedar Vale 0 | Caney 23 | Elk City 0 |
| Caney 6 | Copan* 7 | Caney 6 | Moline 0 |
| Caney 15 | Howard 0 | Caney 6 | Cherryvale* 6 |

Dean Price (QB) played his last but glorious year at quarterback. His noble efforts are shown by the fact that he was chosen All-League Captain and Quarterback, as well as Honorary Captain of the Championship Bullpups. Dean's superb running was one of the major causes for the Bullpup's Championship. Individual Scoring—68 points.

Ralph Halk (C) was always playing his best and contributed strongly to Caney's victories. He was selected Second-Team All-League center this year and will be back fighting for a place on the first team next year. Individual scoring—6 points.

Jim Lindsey (T) could always be counted on for steady defense and aggressiveness when most needed. His vigorous playing always served as an example to the team. Jim was chosen All-League Tackle this season and will fit in as a veteran on next year's squad. Individual scoring—4 points.

Wallace Eakes (T) who played his final year this season was always doing his share of the playing and fighting hard. He was chosen Second-Team All-League tackle. Individual scoring—2 points.

M. L. Pearsall (G) was one of the most earnest players on the team. Although this was his first year out he played like a regular and his return in the lineup next year will greatly be looked forward to.

The Squad

SECOND ROW: Jim Eastman, Phillip Ingmire, Bob Bolinger, Henry Geasland, Lewis Mitchell, George Long, Wallace Eakes, Louis Souders, J. R. Forman.

THIRD ROW: Beecher Cushenberry, Lee O'Neal, Norman Keller, Dub Hodges, John Cofer, Keck Kimbell, Calvin Edinger, Conrad Burns, Howard Coltharp, William Scimeca, Coach Killion.

Calvin Edinger (E) was one of the "scrappiest" men on the team. His ability to catch forward passes added greatly to our team. He was given honorable mention and will be back to serve again next year. Individual scoring—6 points.

Conrad Burns (E) was considered one of the hardest tacklers on the squad as well as an excellent hand at snagging forward passes. He was also given honorable mention and will be back to display his ability again next year. Individual scoring—8 points.

John Sandoval (HB) was one of the outstanding swift runners of the squad. He could most always be depended on for a needed gain and was given honorable mention for his playing. His position will be a full-sized one to fill on next year's squad. Individual scoring—36 points.

George Long (HB) was one of our peppiest players. His continual peppy spirit, combined with his football ability made him a valuable man on the team. He was given honorable mention this year and hopes to be back for a greater season next year. Individual scoring—18 points.

Junior Haynes (FB) was indeed a valuable player in the back field. His unsurpassed blocking ability was frequently the cause for successful plays. He was chosen for the All-League second team this year. His place will be a worthy one to fill next year.

Wayne Caffey (G) played his last year of football but his capable playing earned him a fine record.

Leslie Kannard (G) although he was not able to play much of the season because of illness his sincere efforts contributed a great deal to the victories of the team. He is another who will be missed next season.

The Substitutes, while they do not get to play so much in actually winning the games, they nevertheless play a vital role in practicing and training the regulars. They are very seldom given the credit which is really due them. The substitutes this season consisted of: (HB's) Croff, Boggs, Harkness; (QB) Kimbell; (T's) Bolinger, Keller, Eastman; (G's) Mitchell, Geasland, Ingmire; (E's) Cofer, O'Neal, Souders; (C) Forman. Most of these players will return to help make a winning team next season.

1936-37 Basketball

The Caney Bullpup Basketeers started their heavily scheduled year with a close loss at Independence, December 10, but got off to a good start in their first league game by nosing out Grenola, 22-20. The Bullpups, handicapped by the absence of Toner, suffered their first league defeat by Moline in a close battle of 23-26. After losing to Independence again by another close score they rallied to win from Copan, Cherryvale and Howard. This series of victories was interrupted by a bow to Elgin, but the Caney Squad again rallied to play real basketball and defeated Cedar Vale 32-19, in a hard playing tussle. The outcome of the games from here on became a bit irregular: a one-point margin defeat by Chautauqua; a prominent victory over Peru; a close loss to Neodesha; triumph over Longton, Cherryvale, Sedan and Elk Falls; another close defeat by Neodesha; a royal beating of Elk City; a loss to Coffeyville and a close defeat by Bartlesville. The most exciting game of the season was with Bartlesville in which the Bullpups emerged victorious after two over-time periods. The season was completed by a hard-fought game with Pittsburg in the regional tournament of Coffeyville, March 11, in which the Caney team was defeated.

The Senior High Squad

Quiett (G) was one of the outstanding guards of the league. He was a valuable player both on defense and offense and was chosen honorary captain of the Caney squad. This was the last year of high school basketball for Dick.

Halk (G) was another guard who was a valuable player on the team. He always played hard and many times came through to make much needed points. The team will look forward to Ralph's return next year.

Price (C) played a good game most anywhere on the court. He could always be depended upon to play fast and hard and served in the center position well, regardless of his small size. Dean was another senior to play his last season of high school sports.

Toner (F) was outstanding for accurate goal shooting. Although he did not play in several of the major games, he contributed strongly to Caney's scoring. Bill is still another senior who will leave the team this year.

Kimbell (F) was another who was particularly noted as an accurate goal shooter and was high point scorer of the team. Keck was always playing his best and made the large players hustle, in spite of his being small. Keck will return next season to again star on the team.

Croff (F) was a "dead-shot" substitute who played much of the time. He was always "hustling" and working hard for the basket. This completed Bernard's play in high school athletics.

Cofer (F) was a substitute who always managed to score several points and make a good showing while he was in the game. John gained much valuable experience this season and should be an outstanding player next year.

The Senior High Squad . . .

Courtney (C) could always be depended upon to fill the center position in fine style. His height was particularly useful under the goal. Earl was another senior who will not return to serve next year's squad.

Edinger (G) well upheld the bullpup's name with his unusual aggressive playing. After benefitting from this season's experience, Calvin should be a valuable regular next year.

Long (G) was another capable guard who was well known for his fast and lengthy passes. George played particularly notable basketball several times during the season when he got "hot". He will return for even a greater season next year.

'Jack' Jesson

CUSTODIAN OF BUILDINGS for Twenty Years

Mr. Jesson is rated by the athletic department as an "assistant coach." His work in keeping the gymnasium and locker room clean, has aided in more than one "Bullpup" victory.

The Junior High Squad

The Caney Junior Bullpups were a bit slow in getting adjusted to their best playing ability this year. After losing their first two league games to Grenola and Moline, however, they made a strong comeback and defeated Howard 19-9. They then suffered three hard played defeats to Cedar Vale, Chautauqua and Peru before they rallied to win a victory over Longton of 13-3. They then met defeat in a hard struggle with Sedan but again turned the tide, receiving a forfeit from Elk Falls, defeating Elk City and Independence in outstanding games.

As this was the end of the regular league season the squad entered the Junior High Tournament at Moline, Kansas. They were defeated in the first round by the fighting Peru squad. Then after defeating Howard in the Consolation, they again were defeated by the aggressive Sedan five by the small margin of one point.

The Junior High Squad

Jim Roth (C) was the "sparkplug" of the Caney Juniors. He was always playing a fast and steady game which tended to serve as an example for the other players on the team. His fine leadership earned him the rank of honorary captain. Jim will be playing with the high school team next season.

Alfred Guillaume (F) was an active and aggressive forward who could be depended upon for regular playing as well as regular scoring. He will also graduate to the senior squad next year.

Bob Graves (F) also did a fine job of filling his forward position. He always tried hard and played fair. This was Bob's last year for junior high competition.

Jim Bowen (G) was a dependable player both on defense and offense. His record for the entire year was outstanding in aggressiveness and sportsmanship. Jim was another to play his last year for the Caney Junior squad.

Ray Smith (G) always did his part on defense as well as playing the aggressor. His record is notable for "fair and square" play. Ray is another who will be eligible for high school competition next season.

R. C. Mattix (G) played as a "regular" in many of the games. He was a dependable player on any part of the court and outstanding in several of Caney's victories. R. C. is still another who played his last year on the Junior High squad.

August Fleming (C) could always be depended upon to capably fill the center position. He always tried his best and made a good record. August's return will mean much to next year's team.

Lee Geasland (C) was one of the dependable substitutes for a steady, aggressive game. His playing was always fast but fair. Lee will fill in nicely as a regular on next season's team.

Jim Courtney (F) was noted for fast and accurate goal shooting. He usually played a large part of the game and filled his position capably. Jim is another to enter Senior High competition next year.

Stanley Woods (F) always made a good showing in spite of his small size. He always played hard from the moment he entered the game to the finish. Stanley is still another to leave the Junior High group.

Ammon Caffey (F) always played a good game regardless of lack of experience. With this year's experience he should make an outstanding forward on the team next season.
