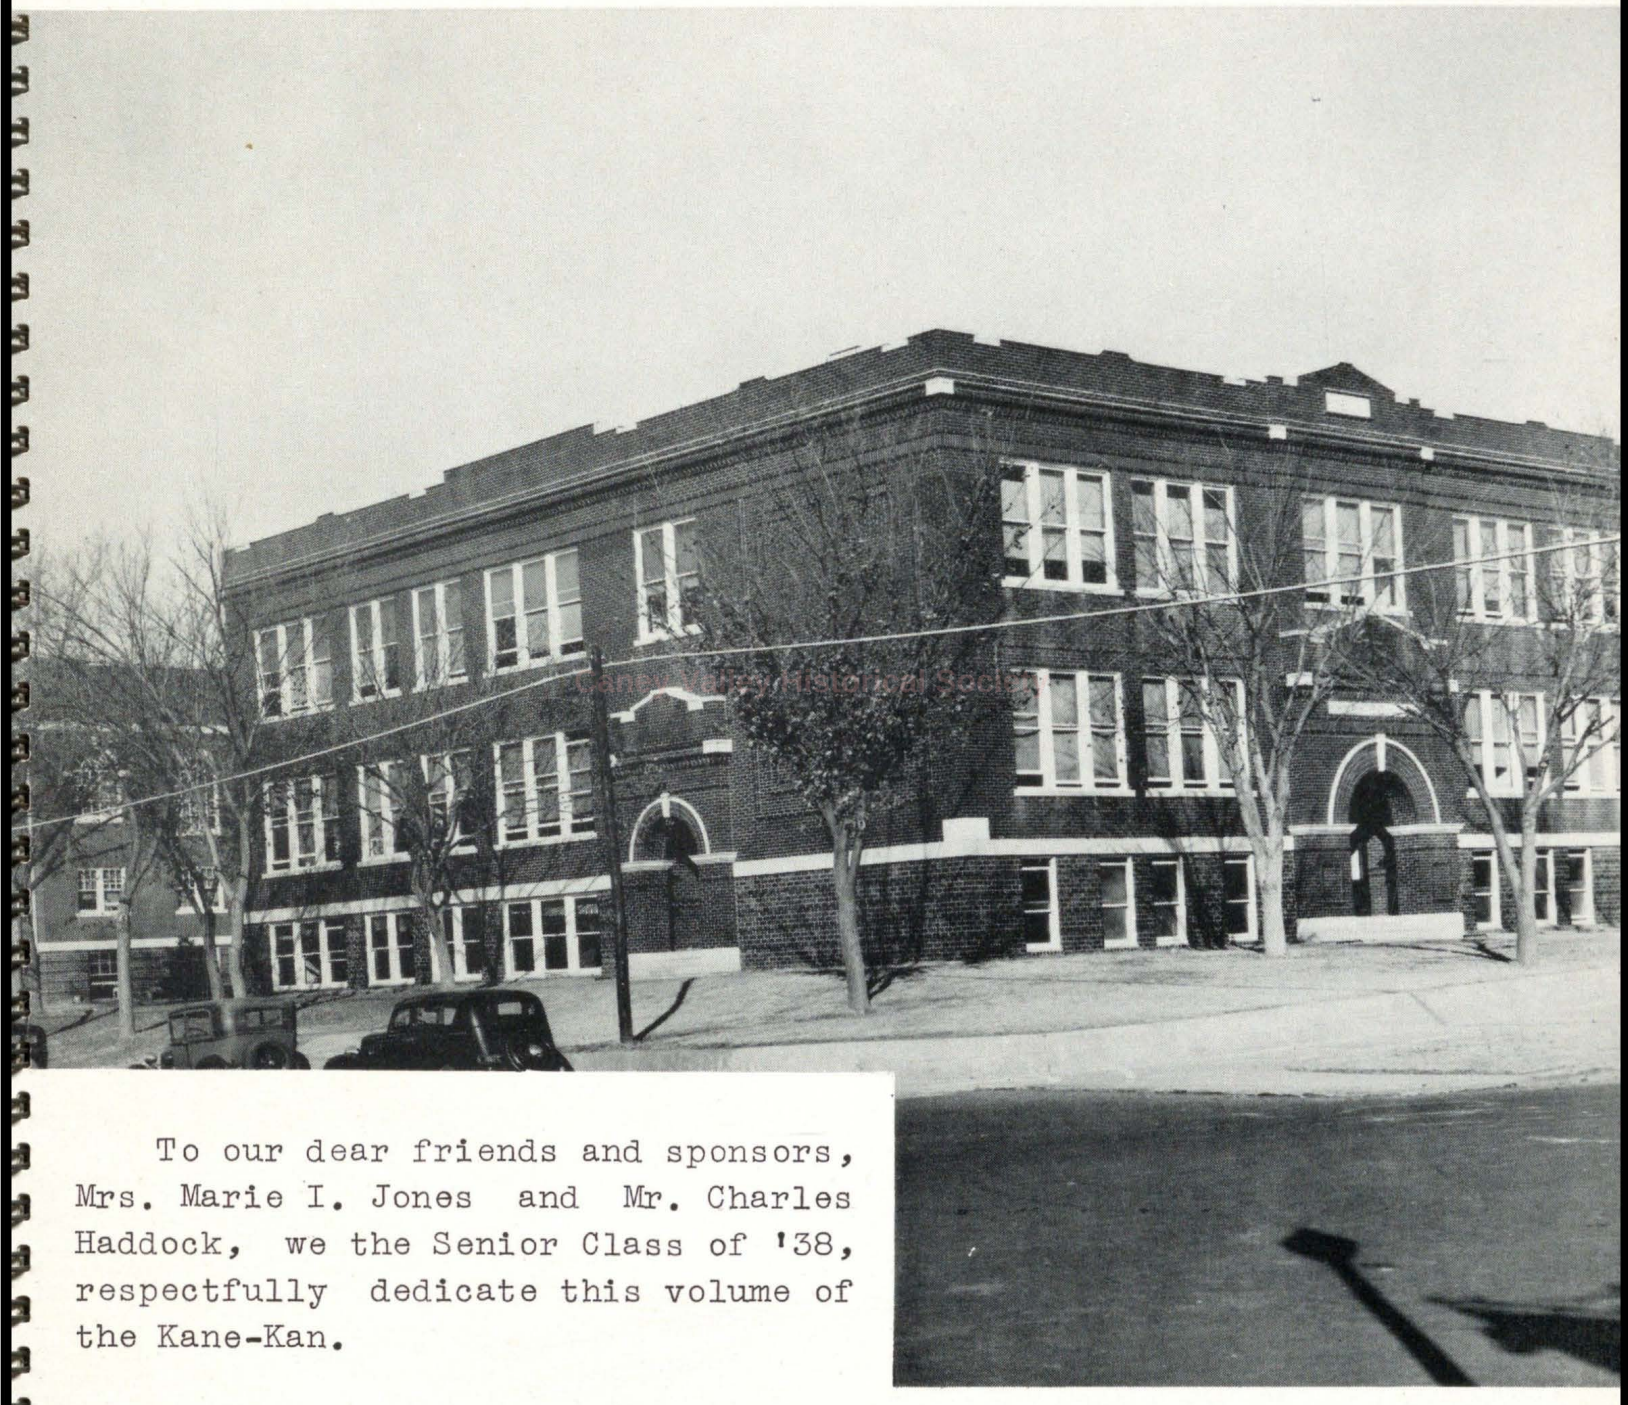
Foreword ~

WITH THE SINCERE HOPE OF PRESERVING IN THE MEMORIES OF THE DEPARTING SENIORS, THE MANY ENJOYABLE AND EDUCATIONAL EVENTS THAT TOOK PLACE DURING THE SCHOOL YEAR OF 1937-'38, IN THE CANEY HIGH SCHOOL, WE, THE KANE-KAN STAFF OF '38, PRESENT THIS ANNUAL.

Caney Valley Historical Society

THE STAFF HAS ENDEAVORED TO PAINT A PICTURE, VIVID IN THE MINDS OF THOSE HEREIN, BY RECALLING PAST MEMORIES.

IF THIS BOOK REMAINS A WORTH WHILE TREASURE AND SOMETIMES LIGHTS ONE'S FACE WITH A SMILE, WE, THE STAFF, WILL FEEL OUR TIME AND WORK HAS NOT BEEN IN VAIN.



To our dear friends and sponsors, Mrs. Marie I. Jones and Mr. Charles Haddock, we the Senior Class of '38, respectfully dedicate this volume of the Kane-Kan.

--SENIOR CLASS HISTORY--

On September 3, 1935, fifty-nine students began the first years of their real life of growth and development in the garden of success. They were led by Ralph Halk, Billie Marshall, and Mary Ewers; and were guided by Mrs. Marie I. Jones and Mr. Harry L. Daniels. One of the outstanding features of that year was a chapel program, presented as an imitation of "Town Hall Tonight." There were many rewards won by the different groups. The Band and Orchestra both won first place in the Tri-State Music Contest at Pittsburg; and Caney was awarded the trophies for both basketball and football.

The climbing now became more strenuous but a group of forty-nine began the journey anew as Juniors. They were led by Mary Ewers, Ralph Halk, Bob Bolinger, and Jerry Ewers. In March, one of the Junior guides, Mr. Harry Daniels, advanced further toward success by obtaining a better position, but the class was fortunate in obtaining another very capable guide, Mr. Charles Haddock. On April 2, 1937, the Juniors presented their annual play, "Trouble Ahead." Then on the seventh day of May, the Senior Class, the Faculty, and the School Board were guests at a bountiful banquet, in the Flower Garden of the Juniors.

Despite the obstacles confronting them, a group of fifty-one, started on their last and fateful journey up the ladder of success. In all the extra-curricular activities the Senior Class was well represented by active and faithful workers. Many were members of the band, orchestra, pepperettes, playmakers, football, basketball, chorus and glee club, and they have received the promised rewards.

Now, regardless of all the broken rungs of the ladder, we are about to mount the top. As we are about to graduate into a new, different and broader field, we hope that the goals and standards which we have reached may be attained and upheld by all the succeeding graduating classes.

Class Colors----------Old Rose and Green.

Class Flower----------Sweet Pea.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 7, 1936, sixty-two individuals were enrolled as Sophomores and began their journey on the road of success. They were under the leadership of George Long, assisted by Marjorie Boulanger, and Mary Edith Harkness keeping the class records. They were sponsored by Miss Lelia Hemphill and Miss Amne Berger.

The class was represented in all the various outside activities. Marjorie Boulanger received the first prize in the American Legion Essay contest. Eloise Boles was the Sophomore nominee for the Carnival Queen.

One of the minor activities was a Major Bowes Amateur Hour which was presented as a Chapel program.

On September 3, 1937, forty-five members were enrolled as Juniors under the leadership of Martha Young assisted by Betty Louise Riggs, and Mary Edith Harkness keeping the class records.

The Juniors sponsored the first all school dance of the fall in the gymnasium.

Eloise Boles won the Queen contest and was crowned as Queen of the Carnival.

Football, Basketball, Playmakers, Pepperettes, and Glee Club claimed many of the Junior Class.

Now through the efforts and willingness of each one, they are striving to become Seniors and make the last stages of the journey successful.

--SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY--

On September 6, 1937, fifty-six sophomore sailors started out in their first trans-high school voyage. These striving sailors proved themselves as master mariners. The navy chose the following officers: Raymond McQuillen, captain; Ray Smith, commander; and Gilda Wilson, purser.

Many of the mariners are taking active parts in the Caney High activities, including the pepperettes, glee club, band, orchestra, and football. Two of our boys were on the first squad of this years football team.

The admirals of this class are Miss Gertrude Hunt and Mr. Dave Evans.

Class Motto: To win without boasting; to lose without excuses.

Class Colors: Rose and Silver.

Class Flower: Larkspur.

Caney Valley Historical Society

Band

The musical abilities of the students of Caney High School have been well represented through the honors awarded the Band. The Band has been invited to take part in parades in many cities and has thus built up a good reputation both for playing and marching. This organization has also taken first place at the Tri-State Music Contest for the past three years. On December 10, 1937 the Band received new uniforms of blue capes with red linings and blue caps trimmed with red. Now with so many advantages, the Band should be able to uphold and probably surpass these standards which have already been achieved.

The Glee Club

There are twenty-six enrolled in the Girl's Glee Club which meets on Mondays and Thursdays. With the aid of their sponsor, Miss Hemphill, these girls are improving quite rapidly, considering that this is a comparatively new organization. The more experienced girls of previous years have graduated leaving a great number of inexperienced ones to build up the organization.

AN INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts department, under the sponsorship of Charles Haddock, is organizing an Industrial Arts club, which held its first meeting, February 4. At this time a committee was appointed to work out plans to be submitted to the group at the next meeting.

The committee, including James Lindsey, George Woods, Charles Holeman, Marvin Friedline and Bud Denman, met with their sponsor for a business session Wednesday, February 9. Suggestions were made to be presented to the group for approval. Officers will be elected, articles will be submitted, committees will be appointed and all other necessary business will be transacted at the next meeting.

Department Organizes Club

The Industrial Arts Department under the sponsorship of Mr. Charles Haddock has organized a club. They held their first meeting February 4. At this time a committee was appointed to work out plans for future meetings.

The committee, including Jim Lindsey, George Woods, Charles Holeman, Marvin Friedline and Edwin Denman met with their sponsor for a business session February 9.

The following officers were elected —Jim Lindsey, president; Edwin Denman, first vice president; Glenn Bradford, second vice president; Marvin Friedline, secretary and treasurer, Tuesday, February 15.

INDUSTRIAL ART CLUB MEETS

The Industrial Arts boys held their first regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 15. Officers were elected after which articles for the club were presented by the committee to the club for their approval. Suggestions for a name for the club were discussed.

The following officers were elected: James Lindsey, president; Edwin Denman, first vice-president; Glenn Bradford, second vice-president; Marvin Freidline, secretary-treasurer.

Considerable interest is being shown by the boys of the department, more than two-thirds being present.

SUMMARY OF 1937 SEASON

The Caney Bullpups completed the current season with five wins, 2 ties, and three defeats, only one league contender being able to dethrone the Caney team. Another successful season is thereby tabulated in the annals of the Caney High School. The 1937 coach and squad should be duly complimented upon their style of play though the league title was relinquished to a deserving rival. The exceptional reputation of preceding teams has been thoroughly preserved or heightened in almost every respect.

Coach Carl Soden has successfully completed his first year in the coaching field as tutor of the athletic forces of Caney High. Returning to the high school from which he was graduated in 1933, he has rendered services of the highest type. His winning smile and pleasing personality has helped him to win his way into the heart of every student.

SUMMARY 1938

Little opposition was experienced by the Caney High Bullpups in conference basketball competition during the 1938 season. The championship was won by a decisive and secure margin though several strong quintets were included in the league. Accompanied by their exceptional ability and team play, the team was principally distinguished by their resolutions and determination to win. Several victories were realized in the closing minutes of play and by small margins while none were lost in this manner.

The 1938 title is the first to be won in the recently organized league, a fact of no mean consequence, and is recorded in the first year of coaching experience for Coach Soden.

Esteem only should be awarded to a seasoned record of this kind.

SUMMARY 1938

The Junior High team though turning in a mediocre record was capable of outstanding play. They lacked last quarter stamina however and frequently succeeded in the latter period of the game. Their ability is shown by their victories over several of the league leaders and their occasional championship performance. Beginning with excellent prospects, the team was weakened heavily by the inopportune loss of three regulars although two returned after a period of illness. The 1938 seasonal record is in addition a definite improvement over immediate previous seasons.

The first annual Junior High Tournament sponsored by Caney resulted in an all-around success. Though Caney did not win a cup, they exhibited one of the best teams and reached the consolation finals. Peru was the winner of first place with Cedarvale runner-up. Another tournament is planned for next year.

Miss Berger: Give me the definition of trigonometry.
Edward Blair: It's a man who possesses three wives.

Mrs. Jones: Give me Lincoln's Gettysburg address.
John Cofer: I didn't even know that he ever lived there.

Miss Hunt: I will give you 3 days to get your reports.
Jim Roth: O.K.I'll take Christmas, Easter & July 4th.

Mr. Haymaker: What is the formula for water, Paul Adams?
Paul: HIJKLMNO.
Mr. H: Nonsense.
Paul: Yesterday you said it was H20.

Eileen Ford: Which would you prefer, a man of brain, wealth or appearance?
Clara Mae:Appearance and the sooner the b e t t e r.

Mrs. Jones: Why did Grant stop in the middle of his brilliant charge?
Bob B: His supporters fell away on both sides.

Mary Ellen: My father said that he would kill the first boy who kissed me.
Ralph Halk: Well, did he do it?

Our advice to Mr. Popkins in his speech making: To have a good beginning and a good ending as close together as possible.

Calvin: What degree will you try to get if you go on to college, an A. B., B. S. or-?
Rozane Croff: A M. A. N.

Max said that Martha was outspoken. Then John C. wanted to know by whom? Women, women everywhere and not a one can think.

Mr. Haymaker: What is the difference between the North and South pole?
M.L. Pearsall: Why there is a world of difference.

You're late again Salvatore, don't you know when we start our work?
S: No, they are always started when I get here.

Obie: Miss Hunt explored my pockets.
M. Gregg: What did she find there?
O: What does an explorer find,-material for her next lecture.

Melba: I hear that Clara Mae is filing her old love letters.
Irene Mathes: Why, are they as rough as that?

Carl Francis: Do you know the height of painlessness?
Chas.Bingham:Yes, a splinter in a wooden leg.

Miss Berger: (explaining a problem to the class) Now if you'll all watch the board, I'll go right through it.

The census taker asked: Are you unmarried?
Shirley A. replied: No, I've never even been m a r r i e d.

Betty Riggs: Does Marjorie talk in her sleep?
Eileen: No, and it's terribly exasperating-- she only smiles.
