Senior Class History

On September 5, 1938, a group of 54 earnest boys and girls first set forth in their canoes fashioned of ambition and courage. They had but one goal in view--to glide swiftly and surely down the stream of High School Years to Port Graduation at the mouth of the Great River of Life. They realized it would not be an easy journey; that it would mean crossing many rapids and whirlpools full of hidden obstacles; and that by merely drifting, we could never reach our destination successfully.

During the first part of our trip, our guiding canoe contained Emery Pierce, Dennis Harkness, Polly Bridenstine and Geneva Drybread.

The second lap of our journey produced another capable group of leaders who very successfully steered our small but sturdy craft into the final and most enjoyable hours of our travels. They were Bill Carinder, Betty Martin, Mary Donna Boelens, and Geneva Drybread.

We are safely and securely guided into port by Anna Mary Murphy, Charles Mull, Polly Bridenstine and Jim Bowen.

Although we are only imaginary sailors on an equally delightfully fantastic voyage, we, too, have had our guiding stars who have never failed us, and in whom we have trusted implicitly. They were Mr. Stanton, Miss Barnard, Mrs. Williams, and Miss Gaynor.

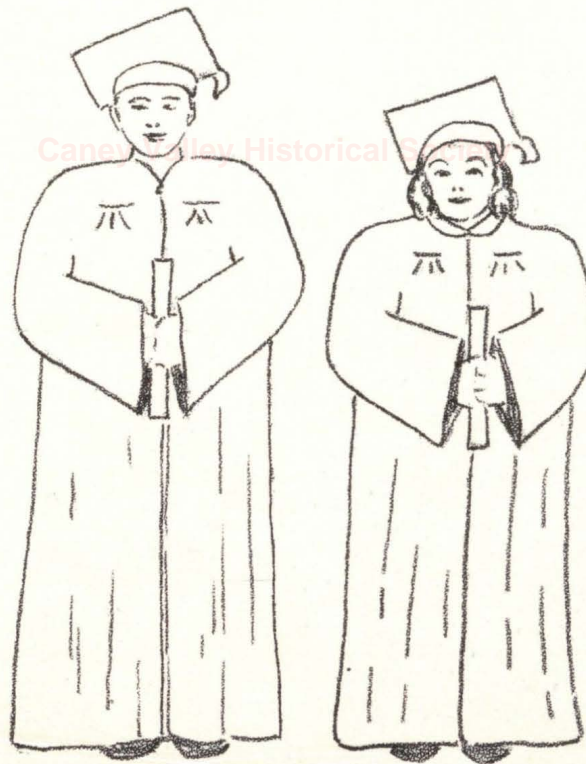

Although our regular duties were many, we managed to find time for numerous extra-circular activities. Some of our members were instrumental in the organization of the Student Council. During the two years of its existence, these members of our class have won recognition in that governing body: Anna Mary Murphy, Bill Carinder, Dennis Harkness, and Ammon Caffey.

Our athletes are prominent members of both the football and basketball teams. Among these stalwart groups were Jim Bowen, Denniss Harkness, Fred Jack, Bob Barr, George Mattix, Donald Oyler, Richard Kannard, Edward Canny, and Ammon Caffey.

The success of these fine athletes has been due to a great extent to the loyalty and encouragement they have received from the Pepperettes and the new Boy's Pep Club. Geneva Drybread and Emery Pierce, both members of the Class of '41, headed these groups.

On April 26, 1940, we entertained the Seniors with the most gala event of our school life. Swaying palms, Hawaiian girls, and soft music, combined in the creation of a vivid memory which will never dim.

Now that our journey is history, we may proudly gaze at the map of our successful route down High School Stream, which will undoubtedly be followed by many a group whose high ideals and ambition match those of the Seniors of 1941.

Senior's Will

We, the Seniors of Caney High School, Class of 1941, being indisputably of a high mental ability and great physical strength, (no cracks from the little juniors) do pronounce this our last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all previous promises, bribes and what have you.

To the Juniors we will our superior intelligence, since they would otherwise have to work hard to achieve it.

To the Sophomores we leave our ability to evade the ninth hour study hall at least once a week.

To the Freshmen we leave only good advice--remember the teachers aren't as stern as they seem.

To Mr. Hutton we, the Seniors of 1941, leave our feeling of great respect and appreciation for his help and kindness.

To Yetta, we will our used tardy and absence slips hoping she will put them to good use.

To the Faculty, we bequeath the students of Caney High School with the hope that they will not cause them as many headaches as the Seniors of 1941.

To Miss Harkness, our librarian, we leave all our funny books so the students may check them out in the future and read them when and where they like.

To our Sponsors, we leave the next year's seventh grade knowing they will appreciate them as much as we have.

To the janitors we leave our old chewing gum and paper wads--these should help them to remember the Seniors of 1941.

We do will and bequeath our individual talents as follows:

Bob Barr and Bill Carinder leave their art for argumentation to Barbara Reynolds and Deane Parsons.

Ceneva Drybread and Betty Kittle leave their "gift of gab" to Billie Martin.

Jim Bowen leaves his "way with the gals" to "Blondie" Truskett.

Erna Carlton leaves her pamphlet on "How to get Fat" to Junior Berry.

Ammon Caffey and Ed Canny confer one affectionate farewell upon each of their many girl friends.

Polly Bridenstine and Betty Martin leave their dates and car rides to the Swayne sisters---as if they need them.

Bob Dawson leaves his ability to transcribe shorthand notes to Bill Fuqua.

Norma Hipchen and Velva Foxx leave their patience while typing to Betty Goodnight and Bob Humphries.

Dennis Harkness and Claude Rhoten leave their 7th grade dancing partners to Aura Armstrong and George Woods.

Marian Ingmire wills her position as typist for the Kane Kan to whomever claims to be an excellent interpreter of handwriting.

Richard Kannard and Leroy Kincaid leave their secrets, jokes and sly smiles to Ray Swank and Jim Merrill.

Mary Ellen Mitchell and Ruth Spears leave their "love" for flirting to Estyl Olsen and Betty Wemmer.

Donald Oyler and Fred Jack leave all their past issues of "Superman" and "The Blue Beetle" to Mrs. Williams abundant and varied collection.

Lucille Scott and Anna Mae Perdue leave their sober natures to Violet Stephens and Ada Jean Harkness.

Charles Mull leaves his job as wholesale distributor of chewing gum to anyone who wants to buy it.

For the next bonfire, Alma Rardon and Ruth Schafer gladly donate their American History books which should be dry enough to start it.

Richard Mann leaves his habit of avoiding girls to Lowell Woolf.

Warren Freeman and Cecil Ohl leave their knowledge of dumb animals to Mr. Hutton who can use it in his work.

George Mattix and Emery Pierce leave their boots to any and all study hall teachers if the silence becomes too unbearable.

Richard Shafer and Helen Sublett leave their ability to reach the top shelf to Vernon Geasland and Bud Bridenstine.

Opal Fletcher and Vernon Steele leave their curly locks to Ed Townsell.

Letha Branch and Wilbert Hinman leave their boisterous manners to Katie Scimeca and Jeanne Skaggs.

If there are no violent objections, Donna Boelens and Ann Murphy will just leave---period.

Junior Class History

Sixty-three Freshmen started their high school career in the fall of 1938. They chose to lead them in this first year George Woods as President, Billy Ed Truskett as Vice-President, Margie Martin as Secretary and Georgia Ann Cooper as treasurer. Many took active parts in football, basketball, pepperettes, playmakers, band, glee club and orchestra. The sponsors were Miss Mary Kretsinger and George Haymaker.

In 1939 the number of students who enrolled as sophomores was sixty-one. Their officers were Melva Sullivan, President; Virginia Gray, Vice-President; and Marjorie Smith, Secretary and Treasurer. Most of the students took part in the same activities as in the year before. Deane Parsons was chosen as student Council Representative. One of our sponsors, Miss Kretsinger, left at the end of the first semester, and her place was taken by Marshall Sage who filled her vacancy on the faculty.

The fall of 1940 found fifty-seven students enrolled in the Junior Class. The officers chosen were Deane Parsons, President; George Woods, Vice-President; Betty Trafford, secretary; and Virginia Gray, Treasurer. Again much of the class took part in extra-curricular activities. The Juniors were well represented in the Playmaker Play "Aunt Tillie Goes to town." Melva Sullivan was chosen Student Council Representative. Marshall Sage and George Haymaker continued as sponsors.

Ninth Grade History

While the sirens shrieked, the bombs burst, and the airplanes droned in Europe, we the Freshman Class of 1941 in Caney High School made a most auspicious entrance. Soon our class of 83 members was organized into an efficient, hard-working organization. We selected the red carnation as our flower, adopted the motto, "The days that make us happy, make us wise," and chase red and silver for our colors.

Not to be outdone by the upperclassmen, members of our class were soon found on the athletic field, on the stage, in the Pepperettes, in the Girl Reserves, in the Student Council, and in other extra-curricular activities. We chose as our president, Billie Martin, known throughout the school as a versatile leader and student. For our vice-president, we selected Dale Wayne Gray, and entrusted our growing funds to Lois Ann Carinder. In order to have a permanent record, Gloria Parsons was elected secretary. Agnes Ingmire was chosen to be our representative in the Student Council.

We had the concessions at the Peru football game on October 28, and presented the play, "Not Quite Such a Goose" on February 14.

In putting out the Annual, it's really very queer--

Now this is on the square
Tell it? I guess I will.

The others: Those who didn't.

One hundred and eight Playmakers tried out for the play and these 11 weathered the storm then and again the night of the performance. Miss Gaynor, the director, and the members of the cast received tumultous applause for this magnificent production. After the play students of this school and surrounding schools were guests at a party given in the gym. For all this and more too we salute the PLAYMAKERS!

Coach Soden.

"Coach Soden--Assistant Coach Haddock"

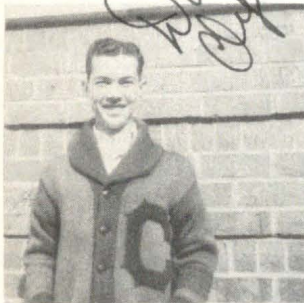

"Coach" Carl Soden has just completed his fourth successful year of coaching Junior and Senior High School Athletics. The last two years he has been assisted by Mr. Haddock who has given Mr. Soden much valuable assistance. Their record during this period of coaching is very outstanding. The season of 1940 proved to be the most successful one of the four as the S. C. K. League Championship was won through the careful training of these coaches.

1940 Champion Bull Pups

Although the Caney Bullpups began their football season with two non-league losses to Neodesha* and Nowata,* they made a quick come back by defeating Moline 15-0. They then continued a line of consecutive victories by defeating Howard 12-0, Peru 13-0, Sedan 18-0, in a championship game defeated Cedarvale 12-0, Copan* 24-0, and Altamont* 20-0. The Thanksgiving Day game with Cherryvale* ended in a 0-0 tie. The Caney team made a most unusual record due to the fact that they held all league opponents scoreless throughout the season.

The Caney Bullpups Basketeers started their heavily scheduled year with a close loss at Independence but got off to a good start in their first league game by defeating Peru 41 to 28. The Bullpups continued playing as Champs by defeating Cedarvale, Havanna, Sedan, Chautauqua, Elgin and Peru. They then suffered their first league loss to Cedarvale 24 to 25. The Caney squad again rallied to play real basketball by defeating Havanna, Elgin, Chautauqua, and Sedan to have undisputed first place in the S. C. K. League. Caney suffered a loss to Neog first place in the S. C. K. League. Caney suffered a loss to Neodesha 35 to 40 in the last game of the season.

During the season the squad entered the Peru invitational tournament winning second place. They were defeated in the finals by Sedan 29 to 25.

At the close of my happiest and most successful season I extend my fondest regards to the students, athletes and members of the faculty that have made all of this possible. Goodby until the day that I can return.

Junior High Basketball

Second Row- Carl Jones, Carl Swan, Miles Miller, Vernon Geasland, Archie Powers, Charles Fletcher.

The Caney Jr. Bullpups were a bit slow in getting adjusted to their best playing ability this year. After losing their first two games to Moline, they made a strong comeback to defeat Peru 21 to 11. They continued their victories by defeating Cedarvale 24 to 6, Havanna 45 to 17, Sedan 20 to 14, Chautauqua 45 to 5, Elgin 20 to 13, Bartlesville 25 to 22, Peru 22 to 18, Cedarvale 21 to 10, Havanna 31 to 12.

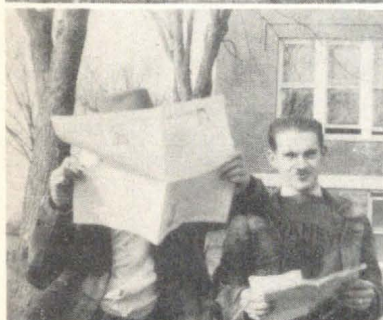

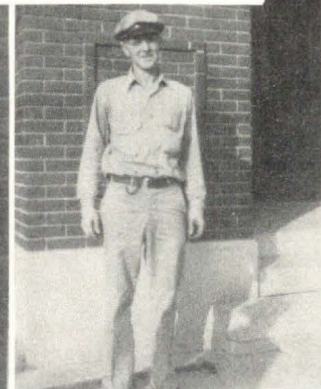

They then suffered two hard fought defeats to Bartlesville and Sedan before they rallied to win a twin victory over Chautauqua 37 to 22 and Elgin 38 to 15.

Big Vernon Geasland deserved much of the teams credit. His superior height and smooth shooting brought the team to a championship.

During the middle of the season the squad entered their own fourth annual Jr. High Tournament winning first place.

It has been a real pleasure for me to work this, my first year, in Caney. I only hope it has been the first of many such experiences.

"A Poor Married Man" was a roaring success in more than one way. Presented March 21 by a cast composed of Juniors and Seniors, it was acclaimed as one of the greatest hits ever produced by Miss Gaynor and the Thespians of C. H. S. Included in the cast and adding life and laughs to the show were a baby and a dog--both of them the real MacCoys. After the play the student body and out-of-town guests were entertained by the Juniors and Seniors with a dance in the gym.

Smiles

Just a Few of the Kicks

Getting out this annual is no picnic,
If we print jokes, people say we are silly,
If we don't, they say we are too serious,
If we clip things from other books,
We are too lazy to write them ourselves,
If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff,
If we don't print contributions; we don't appreciate true genius; and if we print them the book is full of junk.
If we make a change in the other fellows write-up, we are too critical
If we don't, we are asleep.
Now some smart guy will say we swiped this.
Well-l-l ---- we did!

Mr. Zimmerman--"Who was the smartest inventor?"

C. Mull--"Thomas A. Edison. He invented the phonograph and the radio so people would stay up all night and use his electric light bulbs."

"So you and Harry are engaged? I don't suppose he told you that he was engaged to me last year."

Geneva--"Well, he did say something about things in the past he was ashamed of, but he didn't go into details."

He--Please

She--No

He--Aw, please

She--No

He--Even if I tell you I love you more than any one else?

She--Positively not!

He--But mother, all the other freshmen stay out 'til nine.

L. Bliss--"I don't like Bob H. Last night I wanted to show him how well I could whistle, and I had my lips all puckered up--"

V. Carinder--"Yes, what did he do?"

L. Bliss--"He let me whistle."

Deane P.--"How much are your photygrafs?"

Photographer--"$12 for the first dozen, $8 for the second dozen and $5 for the third dozen."

Deane--"Please gimme two out of the third dozen."

Soden (to players) "--and remember that football developes individuality, initiative, and leadership. Now get in there and do as I tell you."

Mr. Zimmerman--"Do you have "Lamb's Tales?"

Miss Harkness--"Don't get smart, this is a library, not a butcher shop."

Shutt, the champion athlete, in bed with a cold, was told that he had a temperature.

"How high is it, doctor?" he wanted to know.

"A hundred and one."

"What's the world's record?"

Mr. Sage--"Explain who the executor of an estate is."

C. Bingham--"An executor is a person who looks after the estate of one who has been executed."

"Did you take the car out last night, Steve?"

S. Wilson--"Why, yes Dad! I took some of the boys for a little ride."

"Well, tell the boys I found one of their little lace hankies in the front seat."

"Well he can't see when the boss ain't lookin' so he has to keep working all the time."

Miss Coldwell--"This meat has a queer taste."

Pat White--"That's odd. It should be okey. I burned it but I put Unguentine on it right away."

"Why is Bowen pacing up and down in front of Mary's house like that?"

"He is awfully worried about her, poor chap."

"Why, what's she got?"

"His dad's car!"

Miss Berger--"Working out this much of the problem shows you x equals zero."

J. C. Kirby--"Gee, all that work for nothin'?"

"No, an M-R-S."
