PRODUCTION NOTES

"Sabrina Fair" by Samuel Taylor has proved to be an extremely popular vehicle for production groups in college and little theatres thru-out the United States. The first professional production of the play was done by the Playwrights' Company at the National Theatre, New York City, on November 11, 1953. It was directed by H. C. Potter and the set design was by Donald Oenslager. In this original production the leads were as follows: Sabrina, played by Margaret Sullivan; Linus Larrabee, Jr. by Joseph Cotten; Linus Larrabee, Sr. by John Cromwell; Maud Larrabee, by Cathleen Nesbitt; Julia McKinlock, by Luella Gear; and David Larrabee by Scott McKay. In the motion picture production, Audrey Hepburn, William Holden, and the late Humphrey Bogart were the stars.
