

Ruth W. Brown Archive: 37
Tulsa Tribune
Nov. 13, 1950

WHAT GOES ON IN BARTLESVILLE?

Editor, The Tribune:

Last winter a group of Bartlesville citizens set out to "purge" our community of everyone whose ideas they don't like. One of the victims was our librarian, who made the mistake of believing in Christianity and democracy.

Now we have a new library board and, strangely, one of the first books approved by them for the library was by Lewis Corey. Now it happens that Corey is an old Communist party line follower from way back. Back in the thirties he confidently predicted in his book "The Coming American Revolution" that our form of government would be overthrown by the "glorious" Communist revolution.

Just what is going on here, anyway?
Bartlesville

A. R. A.