S. M. T. N. that is to be. Its excellency must be in its subject rather than its substance.

Department of Domestic Science

"After all, life is the great thing, the life of the child, not more than the life of the man, and domestic economy means the conception and maintenance of life at its best. Its whole aim should be to create the best children, to place them in the safest environment, and to so train them that they shall develop into the most perfect type of men or women, physically, mentally and morally.

From no source but from the homes can a nation recruit her citizens, and upon the training of her girls depend these homes."

Department of Domestic Art

Young women with high ideas, with a more complete technical training for their life work, with a broad vision of their social responsibility, are the aims of this department. To those who plan to go out as teachers, we would train them specifically for instructors of Domestic Art. A few new courses will be added to the curriculum for the coming year; handwork suitable for lower grade work, study of the home, house planning and interior decoration, history and development of costume and the home, household management in its relation to Domestic Art and a normal course in the teaching of Domestic Art

Department of Industrial Arts Building Construction.

It is being demanded more and more by our citizenship that every individual shall know some useful vocation and be able to apply it; consequently industrial training should become a large part of every school curriculum.

The ideal teacher in this field of work is one who has had sound academic and professional training; one who has teaching power and disciplinary ability; a pleasing personality, adaptability, co-operative spirit and good judgment. He must not only be a master of the fundamental principles of the trade involved, but he must be a skilled workman. He must understand the industrial conditions of the community in which he works so that the work can be adapted to its needs. This department thoroughly trains teachers and supervisors in conformity with these ideals.

Department of Iron and Metal Work

Believing that the functions of this state school and especially its department of Machine Construction, is the promotion of industrial education in Kansas, and because our graduates will have to deal largely with the boys who will want to work for a living as soon as they leave school, it is our slogan to save one year or more of apprenticeship.

Kansas needs more industries and more industrial workers, and we ought to so prepare these teachers that they can instruct others well enough to develop the talent and genius within our borders.

Our teachers will be so trained in industrial methods, that they will have the respect and endorsement of the industrial workers in any community.

Department of Drawing and Design

In the fullest meaning of the word, art is to give concrete expression to our thoughts in beautiful forms, not only in the dream world where incidents of real life may serve for artistic efforts, but also in the controlling activities of our daily work, in the structures which we build, our lives may find a full realization in terms of beauty as well as of service; for in every mind may be found a deeper impulse, a more subtle power, in which lies the personality, the desires, the ideals of the worker.

We can not make talent or genius but we can try to do better work. Art is but the visible evidence of striving towards perfection and in making the effort the worker will reach a sphere of higher value.

Department of Biology

There has developed within recent years a demand for better and more universal biological instruction. With the introduction of agriculture and domestic science into our schools, a knowledge of biology is demanded of a much larger number of individuals. Biology is also essential to a course in education.

It is the plan and purpose of the department of biology to offer instruction in biology as it applies to these fields; and many of the courses organized are especially for the student of domestic science, agriculture, or education. There are, however, a few courses of a general nature, but they are fundamental to any education.

Department of Physical Science

In the Department of Physical Sciences emphasis is placed upon that which is practical. Therefore in the development of each course offered the central idea involved is to have the student really master the subject presented to him and to arouse and keep his interest therein to the highest extent. Our ideal is to help those who study in this department to learn to live more efficiently, to have a clear cut intelligent understanding of the work they are doing and will be called upon to do after leaving school.

Department of Professional Training

It is the work of this department to study the application of principles of psychology in the field of education and to apply the same in the work of the Training School. Thus it is the purpose to combine theory with practice. The student is taught to know the child by direct study and observation, to know the home and its environment through the Parent-Teachers' Association and by visiting the homes of the children, and to acquire the art of teaching by actual teaching in the Training School.

Department of History and Social Sciences

The aim and work of this department is to give to its students the real life and spirit of the subject and not the letter. Special emphasis is being put upon the phases of History that correlate with the special phases of the work of our institution. The growth of the department has kept pace with the growth of the institution.

Department of Geography

The courses in geography have been organized with a view of training teachers to teach of humanity rather than locality; relations rather than facts; why's rather than wheres'; the science rather than the subject matter; to give ability to master geographic environment rather than to be dominated by it.

Parker says, "By geography, laws tendencies and motives are understood. Through it we learn to be merciful in regard to human weakness, and to appreciate all efforts in the right direction."

Department of English

The English Department of S. M. T. N. covers four years above the usual High School course. It is one of the strongest and most respected in the Institution. The samples of student work presented by its three teachers in their respective class rooms on last "Commemoration Day," attest the interest felt for thorough work by both teachers and students of the department.

Department of Languages

The Language Department offers adequate courses in Latin, German and French. The percentage of students enrolled increases from year to year. This term the classes are larger than usual. In Latin, the regulation classics, Caesar, Cicero, Virgil, including those of the two-year Normal course, are studied. The German classes have been reading the works of Schiller, Goethe, and the modern authors. A course in "word analysis" has been added recently, which it is expected the High School section of the institution will take advantage of.

Department of Mathematics

Mathematics in a school of this nature must of necessity branch out; first to correlate with all the various activities and meet their specific requirements in a practical way; and second, offer the usual courses which lead to degree B. A.

Several courses are offered in Shop Mathematics to meet the needs of the different courses offered in the wood working and iron departments.

Courses in Applied Mathematics are offered which are especially adapted to the various science courses.

Practical Mathematics, presented in a practical way, obtaining practical results is the aim of this department, keeping uppermost in mind the needs of the pupil who contemplates teaching.

Department of Music

The Music Department aims to develop culture, so necessary to any school, by furnishing acquaintance with and appreciation of the best in art, besides preparing students for this branch of industrial education, for such has music become.

Let the doubter study statistics and the vast sums annually expended for musical entertainment, for lessons, and for instruments, the means of livelihood it provides for an ever growing army of increasingly efficient musicians, and he cannot but concede that music has become a factor to be reckoned with in the commercial and industrial world.

J. W. Fuhrer, B. S.

Department of Physical Education

Physical Education should give an experience in, and should imbue the student with a love for, some form of healthful physical activity for its own sake, and for its practical value. Certain games, like tennis, volley ball, and play-ground ball can fulfill a mission in every person's life. They should be played well into middle life, when those more strenuous and body building exercises have ceased to be practical. By keeping this objective in view, Physical Education can give every student something that prepares him for life, and can equip him with something that he can use as a means of keeping physically efficient in after life.

Henry Walter John,

Department of Commerce

To-day society is beginning to realize that a business failure means a social loss, because the service rendered it by such an organization is discontinued.

The Normal School is the logical place to prepare teachers of commerce who will have a broad knowledge of business, who will be capable of organizing the forces for efficient production and who will know how to finance most economically and be able to determine various industrial policies.

This in short is the aim of the Department of Commerce to help meet the demand for efficient commercial teachers who will instill into our boys and girls that which will make for better captains of industry and citizenship, a debt justly owed to society.

If ever there lived a Junior Class
Wise or otherwise, lad or lass,
Who attending this college didn't shirk
At least a little part of their work;
We think it is time to tell the school
That we do not follow this general rule.

Perchance sometime you've seen in the hall
Any of the Juniors near the wall
Our business there we wish to say,
Was in regard to work or play.
On the Kanza we've worked day and night

In time to come, the year 1913 will stand out among all others in the history of S. M. T. N. as a red letter year. For two reasons is this true. First, it is the year in which the school claimed her first president. Second, it is the year in which the school as a whole could feel proud of her Freshman Class. To them is accorded the rightful honor of being leaders, not mere blind followers. Since the very days of enrollment they have distinguished themselves. The unsophisticated manners, the delightfully green actions, which have heretofore characterized the Freshman classes have been lacking.

In all the school's activities as well as in the class rooms is there evidence of their work. In athletics they excelled. One half of the players on the football team were Freshmen. The Basket-ball team, composed of members of this illustrious class, was hindered by only one foreign element—one lonely Sophomore. In base ball and track they have the same splendid record.

The social life has been well represented and the Juniors will vouch for the ability of the Freshmen in giving parties. The Literary societies and Debating Club have felt the result of their earnest endeavors.

Large in numbers, great in loyalty, foremost in fun, leaders in school spirit, keenly alive to the best interests of the institution, they pass on to their Sophomore year with the record of having ushered into S. M. T. N. a new era of life.

In the fall President Brandenburg called a meeting for the purpose of organizing the Normal High School Students. This is the first meeting of this kind ever held at S. M. T. N. Soon officers were elected, and the Normal High School became a well organized unit.

In early fall, an assistant instructor was secured for the Biology Department. This man was also to take the part of promoting interest among the High School students in their organization and literary society. To Prof. Ringle much credit is due and the High School students greatly appreciate the interest he has taken in them.

Literary talent ranks high in this department as has been shown in the literary programs and contests. Success in this is due only to persistent work on the part of the students, to the patient help of the instructors, and to the wholesome spirit of S. M. T. N.

GREETINGS TO SENIORS AND SOPHOMORES OF 1914—ALUMNI TO BE.

For the first time in history of the Kanza, she has opened her pages to what some call the HAS BEENS of S. M. T. N., but who in reality are the ISSERS—The Alumni of the S. M. T. N. who are in the field of life, on the firing line—those children of the institution whose Alma Mater is just a little dearer—for, when viewed from afar, all the disagreeable fades into insignificance and the things worth while stand out so distinctly that the old school creeps nearer our hearts than when we were so constantly drinking in her influence. And so—one of the greatest if not the greatest Friend of S. M. T. N., the Alumni Association, bring Greetings to the Seniors and Sophomores of 1914. We watch with eager interest the advancement of each class, and gladly welcome them into our Association. Like the Institution, we have been increasing in numbers, and in activities.

A DAY IN THE MOUNTAINS

At 9:15 a. m. our excursion train left Denver's Union Depot for Estes Park, one of the many picturesque resorts in Colorado. We reached the park at 12:30. It was indeed a delightful journey; the soul of one who appreciates the productions of art, thrills with exquisite delight and enjoyment on viewing the beauties of nature.

The air was balmy and fresh; the violet, the daisy, the modest forget-me-not, the songs of the birds, the tender light of liquid depths of the blue sky, the fleecy clouds floating above the wonderous forms of the mountains, are to the soul that can feel, sources of pleasure beyond words to express. When, for the first time, we viewed the lofty cliffs of the mountains and gazed upon their rugged heights, we were filled with admiration, awe and reverence, and might well exclaim with the poet, "Oh, thou Eternal One, grandeur, strength and grace are here to speak of Thee."

Thus far, we had stood admiring the beauty and sublimity of the peaks; now for the ascent. As Emerson says, "To know a mountain, you must conquer one, and put it under your feet." Only those who have climbed a mountain's rugged side can appreciate the full truth of this statement. With brave determination we began the ascent, adopting as our motto, "Onward and Upward." We were compelled to stop many times faint hearted and weary, then with renewed energy we pursued our journey. At last, foot-sore and weary, we stood at the top.

"I saw
In one swift sweep of vision where I stood,
In presence of what beauty of the earth,
What glory of the sky, was majesty
Of lofty loveliness."

As we looked down upon the rough places over which we had traveled, we asked ourselves, "Where are those mighty gorges through which we came; the rough rocks over which we passed?" They are all blended, rock and vale, until it seems one gradual descent to the plain below. As we gazed out upon the beautiful valley beyond, the rough road upward seemed to have disappeared—we had passed beyond it, and it did not seem as formidable as when before us.

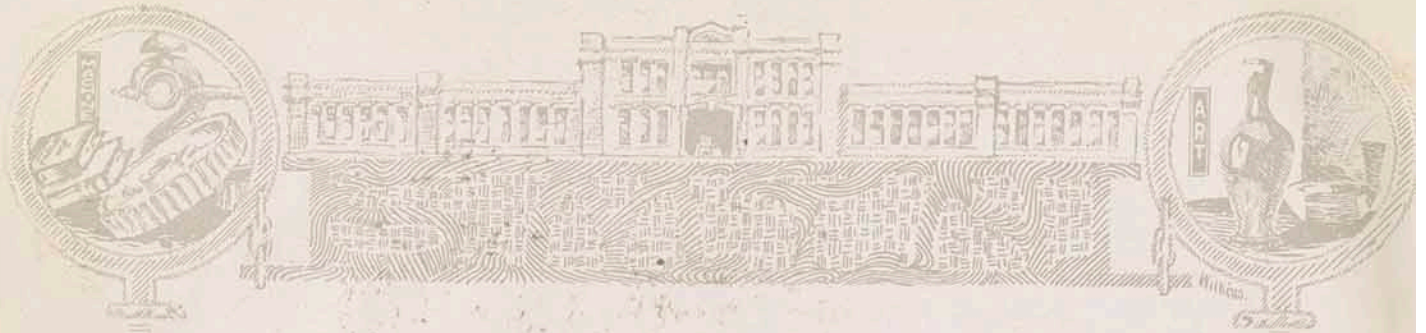

And so it is in life. When we have overcome the obstacles they are obstacles no longer; when we have conquered the difficulties, the way seems to have been easy; when we have risen to a height from which we can view the discouragements we have conquered, the dangers we have passed, the rough road we have traversed, it all appears a united whole and we say to ourselves, "This is the way we came; I thought the road was rocky and steep and full of pitfalls but it is not so bad as it seemed." We have conquered the mountain of life's difficulties and put it under our feet; but we have not yet reached the end; the divine progress does not stop here, for in the distance beyond the confines of time stands another height—a height sublime, for which all preceding culminations are but embellishments—

"One far-off divine event to which the whole creation moves."

"Thus life shall on and upward go,
The eternal steps of progress beats
To that great anthem calm and slow,
Which God repeats."

LORA LEACH, '14.

Manus Verez Literary Society

The Manus Verez Society of the S. M. T. N. is one of the prominent College literary societies, almost as old as the institution itself. Their colors are pink and green and the color scheme is carried out in the decoration of their hall on the fourth floor of Russ Hall. The Manus Verez have won many honors in contests. There is no line of literary work contested here in which this Society has not won honors, while they have the happy distinction of having never been defeated in debate. The spring contest of 1914 has not yet been held, but we are placing all confidence in our representatives in this line, Mr. Steele, who obtains his degree this year, and Mr. Fedell, a prominent Freshman. The golden cups that rest upon the pedestals at the entrance to the hall leading to the Manus Verez room have the names of M. V. winners carved upon them. The money won by these people has been used in decorating the hall, table, chairs, and pictures; one picture costing $50.00.

This year the reception in the fall to the students and faculty was in form of a circus, designed for a general good time which took place.

Several interesting public programs have been held, one in joint session with the Porterian Society. One short play produced by six loyal M. V.'s was repeated in several towns near and thoroughly enjoyed.

The Manus Verez are not for show
Nor blow nor bluster nor gay tango,
But when it comes to "stuff" and "steel,"
Come to us for the "balance wheel."

The Porterian Literary Society

In honor of Senator E. F. Porter whose work in the legislature was largely instrumental in securing the Normal for Pittsburg, the Society adopted the name Porterian; not only by its name is the Society known, but also by its colors and its flowers; so the Porterian to be always well represented, chose the crimson and white for colors and the carnation for its flower. From that time on the Porterian Society has been one of the most influential societies of S. M. T. N.

During the past year several social functions were held under the auspices of this Society. At the beginning of the first semester the customary reception for the new students and faculty was enjoyed by all. The unique entertainment for the S. M. T. N. and K. C. U. foot ball teams will long be remembered. A number of good programs have been given, one of their special features being the Shakespearean reviews.

In the annual contest with the Manus Verez Society we maintained our former standard of excellence. Misses Dorothy McPherson and Louise Thronndson were awarded first and second places, respectively, in declamation. Misses Rose Packard, Fenn Caffey and Mr. Bernard Graves presented "A Court Comedy" in such a pleasing manner as to merit first honors in Dramatic Art Contest.

We hope the society will continue to prosper during the coming years. The Porterians took everything in both Dramatic Art and Declamation 1913, a thing which has never been accomplished by any other society in this school.

The Russonian Literary Society was organized the first of the school year; and is known as the High School Society.

This society is doing most excellent work; the programs have been interesting and instructive, and the attendance large at each meeting.

The first contest in Essay, Declamation and Debate, was held Feb. 27th. The judges were Rev. Potts, Supt. Armstrong, Lawyer Malcomb, all of this city.

Drama, they tell us, is the natural result and outgrowth of a time of enthusiasm and activity. Since there is probably no period in the life of a college which is so greatly characterized by these two traits as its earlier years; since this, our school, has activity for the very keynote of its foundation; and since enthusiasm has always been the instrument by which this institution's activity has been kept in the foreground of educational thought, first in Southeastern Kansas, and later in a broader field,—it is not strange that the State Manual Training Normal should have a dramatic club. The need of such an organization—a need which could not be supplied by the more practical Agricultural and Industrial Clubs—has been felt for some time; but that necessity had not taken practical shape previous to this year. Early in the fall of 1913, however, a movement was set on foot to organize such a club, a movement which culminated a little later in the "Dramaturgic Club."

It is the ambition of the club to present to the school at least two plays each year, one each semester. Owing to the lateness of the organization this year, only one play, "A College Town," has as yet been staged. This comedy-farce, which was given for the benefit of the Athletic Association, made a decided "hit," and silenced, once for all, any derogatory remarks which had been previously directed against the society. While this play was not the type of dramatic work which the members desire to do, yet, as a beginning, it was very creditable; and the second one, which will be a heavier, more serious play, will come a little nearer to their idea of a good dramatic performance.

The wish of the "Dramaturgic Club" of 1914 is that the one which will be organized next year and all those which will follow, will aim higher ever than this year's club; and that the drama, in all its varied forms and beauties will continue to be presented to the students of S. M. T. N.

This organization is closing a very successful year. No other phase of college is so vitally connected with the inner and deeper life of the college girl as is the Young Woman's Christian Association.

The aim of the organization has been to meet the needs and changing conditions of the women students, to raise the standard of social activities, to develop a strong Christian character.

Although the initiative in the organization comes from the girls, for greater efficiency the Association has an Advisory Board to whom it looks for counsel.

The success in Mission Study and the Bible Class has been especially gratifying. A Mission Class has been organized, meeting Sunday afternoon, in which Prof. Shirk is the leader. "Mexico Today" is the text-book studied. This class was undertaken under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., as was also the class which meets one hour each Wednesday for Bible study under the instruction of Prof. Trout.

For has the social life been dormant. The reception given by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations was enjoyed by the large number in attendance. Later in the year other social events followed, the Progressive Party on Washington's birthday being one that will be remembered.

The opening of the Y. W. C. A. rest-room has been a great improvement in the school and enjoyed by those who had long wished for a quiet place in which to relax.

With the loyal support and hearty co-operation given by President Brandenburg in all the projects for improvement of school activities, this organization will be able to do even more in future years.

Along with the development of our physical and mental selves, we should not forget the importance of developing ourselves morally and physically. The Y. M. C. A. has this in mind and has worked faithfully this year to aid the men of this institution to attain high ideals. The Association this year has entered more into the life of the school than any time previous.

The meetings have been very beneficial to all who have attended. Many interesting talks have been given by prominent ministers, faculty members and students.

As'ide from the regular weekly meetings, special meetings have been held during which practical business men inspired the young men of the Normal by the excellent addresses.

The Y. M. C. A. sent two delegates to the Student Volunteer Convention at Kansas City; and two to the Y. M. C. A. Convention at Salina. These men brought many helpful ideas to the home association.

In co-operation with the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. put on a very attractive lecture course and have arranged for another course for the coming year.

We feel that the Association has been a success and hope that it will be a still greater success next year.

Agriculture Club

The Agriculture Club first became an organization of S. M. T. N. in the fall of 1912. Since that time it has been an interesting and advancing issue of the school. In September, 1913, the Club was reorganized with the following officers: Victor Hall, President; Fred Thompson, Vice President; Olive Gardiner, Secretary and Treasurer; and R. P. Dotzour, Reporter.

It is the custom of the Club to meet on Wednesdays at noon when a liberal lunch is served to all present and the subject in hand is discussed by the speaker. The discussions during the past school year, as a whole, have been quite interesting, some of them exceedingly so. They have dealt with many and varied topics in connection with farm life. Much study has been made of the latest and best methods and conveniences for farm work and life also of the farm in connection with the rural school.

This is an organization which should be and is well patronized. It became necessary some time ago to limit the enrollment to a given number, because of the inability to accommodate all who wished to attend. We hope that in the future arrangements may be made to accommodate all who desire membership in the Club. We know the one hour a week with the Agriculture Club, is time spent in a very interesting and profitable manner.

Muskoday Camp Fire Girls

ORGANIZED AT S. M. T. N., APRIL, 1914

Tamanous—Chief Guardian, Mrs. Ralph H. Smith

COUNT OF MUSKODAY

(Eve before Inauguration of Pres. Brandenburg)

Ye, the Maidens of the Camp Fire;
Listen to this noble record,
To this record of the North Wind
Of the South Wind, and the West Wind,
E'en the East Wind whispers softly
Of this record of the Morrow—

Where the songs of College Maidens,
Ring in joy and animation,
Where the shouts and College Yells
Oft resound thro halls and meadow;
Here we hold our Muskoday,
Here we build our council fire.
We, the guardians of the Fire,
Called the maidens of our Camp,
Called you all in trust together,
Here to listen to this Record.

Ye whose hearts are fresh and simple,
Who have faith in God and Nature,
Who believe that in all ages
Every human heart is human;

COUNT OF MUSKODAY—Continued

Ye, who sometimes in your rambles
Thro the green lanes of the country
Where the bluets and the daisies,
Where the happy violets grow;
Love the very haunts of Nature,
Love the sunshine and the Meadow—
Listen to this happy Record,
To this Record of our Chief.

In the year 1913,
The Creator of our Nation
Looked upon us with compassion
With paternal love and kindness.
Over us he stretched his right hand
And with warning spake in thus wise:
"Listen to these words of wisdom,
"Listen to these words of warning
"From the lips of the Great Spirit,
"From the Master of Life who made you....
"I am sending you a Prophet,
"Chief Brandenburg, the brave,
"Who shall guide you and shall teach you,
"Who shall toil and suffer with you.
"If you listen to his counsels
"You will gain all things and prosper,
"If his warnings pass unheeded,
"You will fade away and perish;
"From the Master of Life came He
"Brandenburg, the friend of man,
"Came to warn you and instruct you
"How by struggle and by labor
"You shall gain what you have prayed for.
"He brings life and hope and vigor
"For our every nerve and fiber.
"On the morrow when the sun
"Rise in the heavens one fourth Moon
"Chief Brandenburg, the Prophet,
"Clad in all his richest raiment
"And with guests from far and near,
"Here to see and here to listen,
"Will be honored Chief of Chiefs;
"Great the name that he shall bear,
"That of President, the Kwasind."

Thus we called you, Maidens fair,
To this Council of our Camp,
Here to show our pledge of honor,
For our Chief, the President.
Here we pledge our Faith, Wohelo!
Pledge our Loyalty, Wohelo!
To Chief Brandenburg, our President!

Industrial Club

In keeping with the spirit of practical work of S. M. T. N., a club was organized for the purpose of discussing such problems as arise daily in the Industrial Departments.

Noble Patterson was elected president; M. Allison, vice president; M. Slattery, secretary.

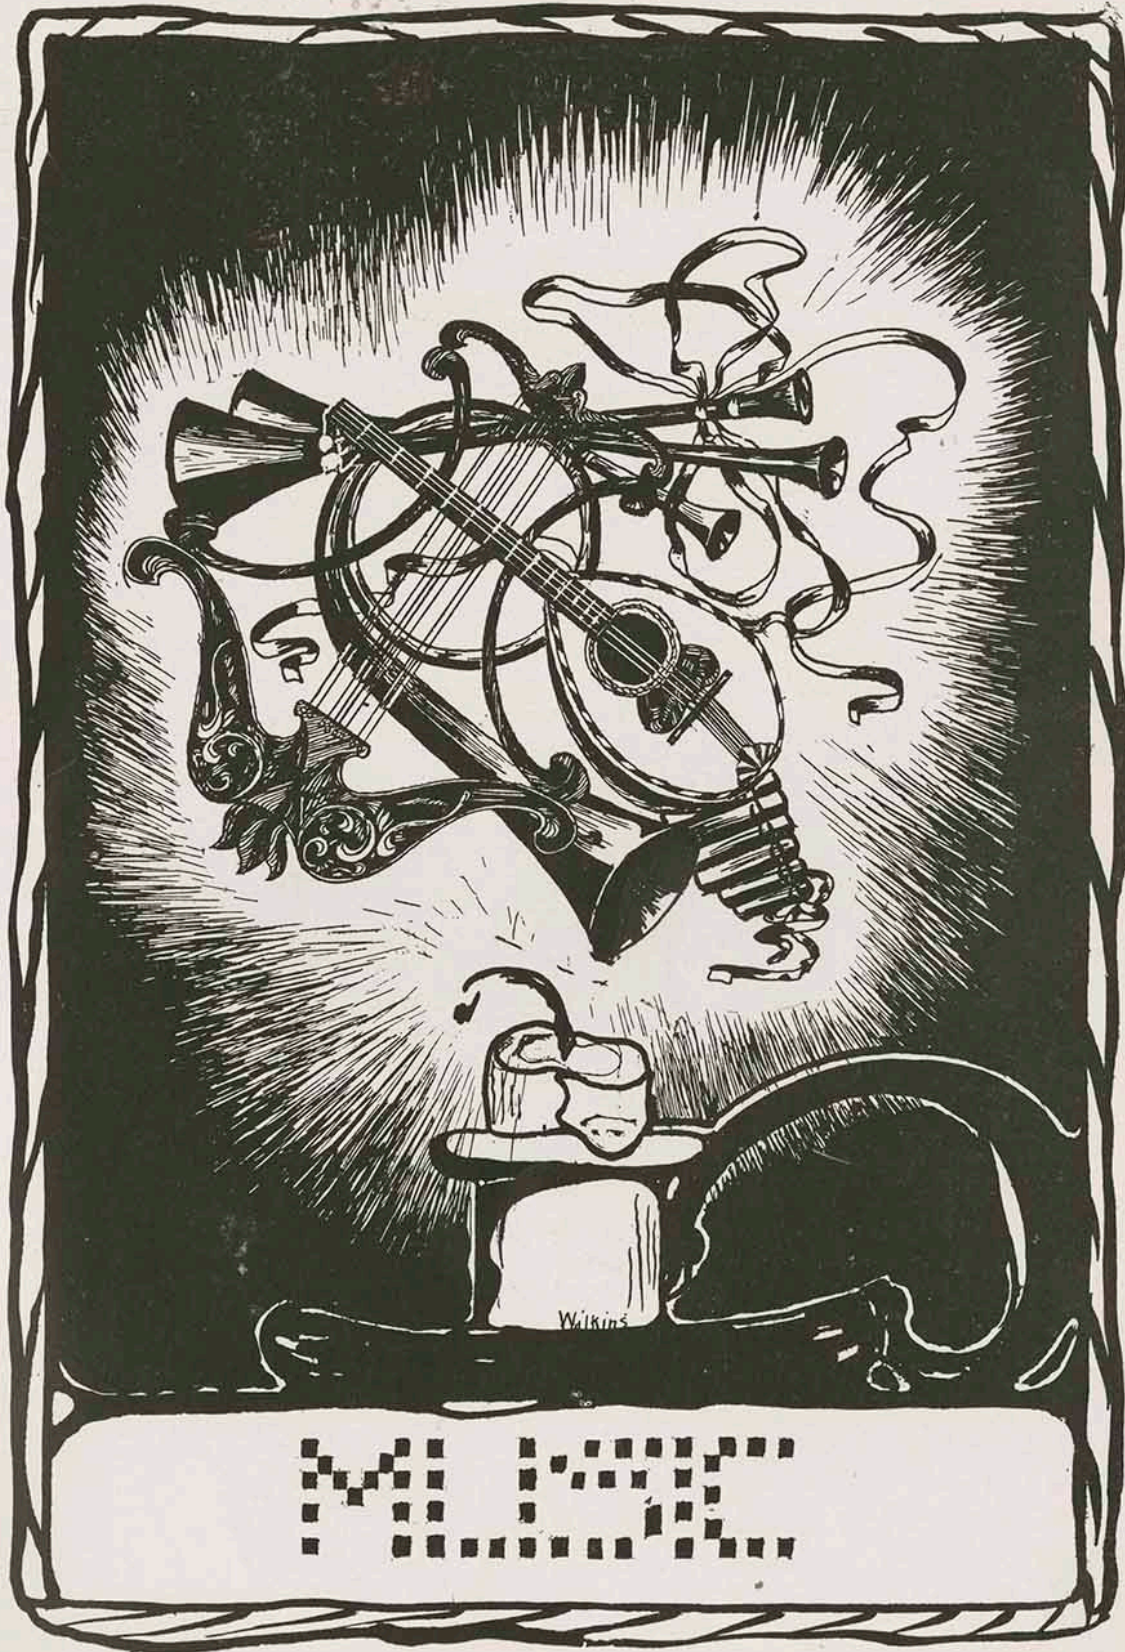

The Club meets every Tuesday at 4:00 p. m. and here practical talks are given concerning industrial work of all kinds. These talks are followed by general discussions which prove helpful to every member.

Esperanto

A class in la internacia linuo was organized last fall. Dr. Kellerman's "Complete Grammar of Esperanto" was used as a text book. The students correspond with people in fourteen countries, by means of this language. The instructor, Dwight Pomeroy, has studied this international language for several years, and through his enthusiasm much interest has been taken.

"The man who hath no music in himself
Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds
Is fit for treason, strategem, and spoils.
The motions of his spirit are as dull as night,
And his affections dark as Erebus.
Let no such man be trusted."

—Shakespeare.

The year 1914 marks the fifth year in the history of the S. M. T. N. Department of Music. Those who were on the field in the fall of 1908 when Professor Hoover came to establish this department, will recall that the outlook for a School of Music in connection with the Normal was at that time anything but flattering. It is said that the first two or three weeks had only registered some five or six pupils. To be sure not a very gratifying beginning. Then Mr. Hoover began to plan some means of advertising and letting the people of Southeast Kansas know that we really had a Music Department. He organized a Male Glee Club, a Girls' Club (now known as the Polymnia Club), a Male Quartet and a School Orchestra. By the end of the year Mr. Hoover had all the pupils that he could handle alone; and the second year an assistant was employed. The next year three teachers were necessary to carry on the work of the department. Then a great addition to the department was realized in the coming of Miss Helen Roberts as first assistant in Piano and Supervisor of the Model School Music. That year registered 176 music students. So the department has grown until now it can boast of an enrollment of over three hundred music students for the year 1913-1914.

The courses now offered are: Piano Playing, Voice Culture, Violin, Supervisors Course in Public School Music, Theory and History of Music, Harmony, Counterpoint, Canon, Fugue and Composition. The department now employs six teachers and its graduates are occupying prominent positions as teachers and as supervisors of music in other states. The rapid growth of the department and the demand for its graduates is largely due to the fact that all instruction is based on sound principles, and in accordance with the most modern and approved methods, each pupil being given personal attention.

"Time wrecks the proudest piles we raise,
The towers, the domes, the temples fall;
The fortress crumbles and decays,
One breath of song outlasts them all."

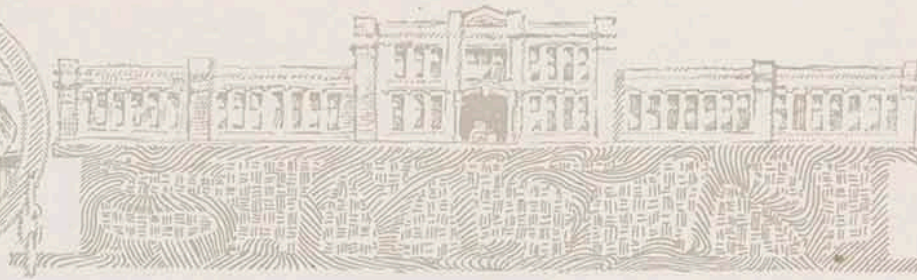

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Operas of S. M. T. N.

For the past four years it has been customary for the Glee Clubs of S. M. T. N. to give an opera. The first one given was "The Mikado," in 1911, which was a great success. The following year, "The Chimes of Normandy" was rendered, which was also successful. In 1913, "Erminie" was presented and was enjoyed by all who heard it. This year the clubs were undecided whether or not to conform with this custom, and finally decided to give the modern opera entitled, "The Jolly Musketeeer." They worked long and hard and their labors were fully rewarded by the applause which greeted them.

To live according to your highest light,
For freedom and humanity to fight,
To dare speak out the thoughts within your heart.
To persevere, despite the sneers of fools;
To speak, despite the isms and the schools;
To stand for truth, despite accepted rules;

"THE SMUGGLE MAN"

On Commemoration Day, April 2nd, the Training School presented the two act operetta, "The Smuggle Man." Assembly Hall was filled to its capacity and every one enjoyed the performance. Among many other interesting features in the presentation of this play were the costumes and the accessories which were made almost entirely by the children themselves.

The proceeds of the entertainment were devoted to the purchasing of a Victrola for the Training School.

The Athletic Council

The control of athletics at the State Manual Training Normal School is vested in an Athletic Council composed of five student members and five faculty members. The officers and members of the present Council are: D. A. Pomeroy, President; Elmer Hubbell, First Vice President; Kelvin Newton, Second Vice President; Martha Sargeant, Secretary; R. E. Williams, Treasurer; Prof. J. W. Fuhrer, General Manager, and Prof. J. A. Yates, Prof. W. H. John, Prof. B. W. Sheib, and Miss Carter in charge of Physical Education for women.

The Council meets at the call of the President to consider such matters as pertain to the managing and financing the different departments of sport; it approves all bills; it approves the scheduling of games, grants the official athletic "M," and performs such other routine duties as may fall to its lot.

FOOTBALL

The season opened with four "M" men, an experienced man from Texas, good material from last year's scrubs and promising new men.

The first game was with Drury. This was one of the hardest games of the season. The Drury team out-weighted ours considerable. But our fellows had the "pep" and the Drury coach was heard to say, "I wish I had a half back like that."

Although the score was unfavorable for our team, yet it spurred our men on to work harder for the coming game with Friends University.

The next game of the season was played on the home gridiron with Henry Kendall College. This team had played two games, to our one, and had never failed to make at least 40 points to nothing. This was the fastest game of the season and resulted in a victory for S. M. T. N.

The Thanksgiving game was the last and most exciting of the season. It was played on a very muddy and heavy field, and Southwestern had the advantage in weight of about seven pounds to the man. At no time, however, could they gain much through Normal's line. Our touchdown was made in the first quarter by Captain Newton on a run around right end. The opposing team made a touchdown in the second quarter of the game. Each team failed to kick goal, and at the end of the first half the score stood 6 to 6. In the last half of the game neither team succeeded in scoring a point. The game ended with a tie score of 6 to 6. It was one of the greatest games ever seen on the Normal gridiron.

Southwestern has lost only one game this season. They won from the Aggies by a score of 13 to 10. The Thanksgiving game puts S. M. T. N. on an equal with the best teams in the Kansas Conference.

When there was no opening made, he delighted jumping the line head first.

DWIGHT POMEROY
Pittsburg, Kansas.

The fellows showed the confidence they had in him by the way they rallied when he returned in the last minutes of the Thanksgiving game. He also made several excellent gains on fake punts.

VIRGIL McNALLY

Age, 21 years. Weight, 150 pounds.

Position: Right Half.

He was light, but fast and gritty.
He was always on the spot and ready to do his share.

JAMES BRANHAM

RALPH WELLS
Cedarvale, Kansas.

Age, 20 years. Weight, 162 pounds.

Position: Center.

This was his second year at center. He saved the game with Southwestern by recovering the ball on a fumble.

He was always under everything that came his way. Edd always did his best.

Normal High School Foot Ball

The Normal High School opened the foot ball season of 1913 with only men enough for one lineup. But new material soon came in, and at the close of the season this team had fifteen well trained men who could boast that no team had ever carried the pig-skin over their goal line.

Captain Wells

Basket Ball

The season of 1914 opened with the best prospects for a strong team that we have had in the history of our school. It seemed that to select a team from the many enthusiastic men out for the different positions, was rather a difficult proposition; because the ones remaining were just about as strong as the ones chosen for the "Varsity" five.

No less than thirty candidates were out for the purpose of helping to make basket ball history for S. M. T. N. However, their hopes were disappointed by the lack of financial support.

In the four games, not a single one was lost; neither was it necessary for our men to put forth their best efforts in order to win the games.

The final choice of the team was late in the season; consequently, there were a number of men who played in the first games who should be given due credit for their services. In the finals, Harris and Mullen played stellar ball at the forward positions; Dixon, Tanner and McNally were excellent guards. Wells was in his old position.

We must not forget that we had a Normal High School team that was worthy of note, for from these boys will be a college team of the future. Captain Needham took one defeat, and that, on a foreign court—the first game of the season.

Base Ball

The base ball spirit of S. M. T. N. is certainly growing. Never before in the history of this institution has there been such interest manifested in this branch of athletics.

This spring about twenty men reported for practice, and the "Coach" says S. M. T. N. will have a fine team—one that will make a great record for our school.

Early in the season McNally was elected captain. The team started out with a determination to "wallop" Springfield Normal. The boys had a fine time on the trip to Springfield and came back with the game. It was close and very interesting, the final score being eight to seven in favor of S. M. T. N.

Track

Track work for 1914 began the last week of March. Although many of our record makers of last year are out, still, with the new material and the return of many of last year's athletes, we hope to have a winning team.

So far we have two track meets arranged for this season—the meet with Baker University at Baldwin, Kansas, and the State Meet at Winfield, Kansas. We hope also to be able to have a meet with some near-by college on our home grounds.

The meet that arouses great interest in the school is the annual inter-class meet which occurred May 1. At this contest four school records were broken.

EDITORIALS.

The Weather Forecast: The esteemed Weather Bureau has sprung a new one. It is the word "smog," and it means smoke and fog. There are times when this mixture is apparent in the atmosphere, and the Bureau considers the new word a great idea. Very well, "smog" let it be. But why end there? Let's call a mixture of snow and mud "smud," a mixture of snow and soot "snoot," and a mixture of snow and hail "snail." Thus: "Snail today, turning to snoot tonight; tomorrow smoggy with smud."

Notice—With each new subscription Sunny Sambo's Smiles will give a solid pin tooth-pick.

Freshmen are essential to all schools because all pranks are laid onto them. They are green, but it is only green things that grow. Therefore all things that are not green. Sophomores, for example, have little chance to grow. The awkwardness of the Freshmen relieves the dull monotony of school life. Therefore Freshmen are essential to all schools.

A Bit of Kind Advice to Our Graduates.

Don't allow your head to get swelled by flattery. Measure your own importance and use common sense in doing so. Take success modestly and don't go around telling your friends of your wonderful achievements. If you first meet with failure, steady yourself; then with clear thought and sure determination step into the collar and push forward.

One-half of the people we see talk with their hands. A tip to the campus strollers, hold your own hands.

SCANDAL.

One of our professors, formerly a minister, is accused of being the greatest story teller in the institution.

It is a known fact that he has sued the S. M. T. N. students for libel. He has secured one of the best lawyers of the state.

Lawyer Avis Kidwell will defend the student body.

First hearing July 23, 1915.

RESIGNED.

President W. A. Brandenburg has resigned his position as president of the State Manual Training Normal, to accept a position as first baseman with the White Socks. He considers this a much greater field and expects to make his mark in this new work.

We consider him very fortunate in securing this position. The faculty and students regret losing him, but they wish him success and happiness in his new field.

NOTICE.

For the benefit of the thoughtless public, and also at the earnest request of Miss Swain, we print the following information concerning the cafeteria and urge that all read and take heed:

1. Faculty members will please step aside until students are served.
2. Ten crackers is the limit with one bowl of chili.
3. Tooth picks served only with soup.
4. If you see any thing you don't want, ask for it.
5. Never return trays to counter.
6. Never stay in line. Knock down everyone necessary, just so you get in.
7. Always yell madly for trays.
8. Work off your slick dimes and counterfeit money whenever possible.
9. Always ask for the biggest coffee cup.
10. Demand your chili bowl to be brim-full—accept nothing less.
11. Get all you can for your money, always.

Divorces.

Reese and Walker. Case dismissed because parties were reconciled outside of court.

Character Sketch—Member of S. M. T. N. Faculty.

One member of our faculty came to us from Clark College, at Worcester, Mass. Before that he had spent many years attending school and teaching in Indiana. It was here that he met his frou, sewing buttons on a gym suit, but we have heard him tell another tale to the effect that it was a bright red bathing suit that attracted him. Altho' quite a ladies' man, he does not believe in mother-in-law ideas.

After spending a month of Sundays in the Chicago jails, he came out west and became a member of the S. M. T. N. faculty. Up to the present time he has been sly enough to evade the Pittsburg police.

Early in his career he became noted for performing surgical operations on all the neighbors' cats. He is very fond of eating, but he likes his frogs best served with acid on a ring stand.

This good man is a shark at card playing and dancing, is strong for punch, and is a great advocate of picnics on snowy days, no matter how "blooming" cold it is.

He is a leader in all the social activities of the school and will never grow old because he is in sympathy and enters into any wholesome pleasure that is proposed by the students. He has done as much for the school as any man that has ever been connected with it.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Police Court.

Ketterman, charged with disturbing the peace of the community by escorting a young lady to one class. Sentenced to cease from all social frivolities for six months.

Eula English, found guilty of chewing Spearmint and sentenced to a lecture from Dr. D.

Bill Williams, arrested for bootlegging. His friends bailed him out and not a drop of liquor was found.

Property Transfers.

Mary McKitrick received of Donna Nash one rose-bud ring in exchange for two opera tickets.

Miss Marshall received a long thesis on "Bread," for which she gave a "j."

Fashion Notes for College Men.

1. For spring wear, use cylinder oil.
2. Shirts will be worn much longer than formerly—not over three weeks, however.
3. Cigarettes will be worn in the left hand corner of the mouth. If the coach is apt to be passing, they are best held in the hand and an occasional clandestine inhale taken.
4. Collars should be worn high—somewhere around the neck is considered high enough.
5. Freckles should not be worn between October and May.
6. A small package of five dollar bills worn in the waist coat pocket is very effective in making a man hold up his head.

Eligible for the Matrimonial Bureau

Ralph Ermy—A tall, handsome fellow whose charms have won for him the title "Six-foot Idol." A studious person who cannot easily be distracted by frivolities. He is neat, and not addicted to bad habits.

Jones—A very good looking S. M. T. N.'er who takes little interest in politics and other lines of study, but pays a great deal of attention to fashions and the theater. Said to be rather fickle, but the right kind of woman could probably manage him.

Jas. Branham — Exceedingly talkative, and an especial favorite among a certain set. Plays football and begs eats from the D. S. department.

A little lady aged four, was visiting at the Astor House. Everywhere she turned she beheld girls, all she heard was girls, all that was mentioned was girls. Becoming discouraged, she gave a sigh and said: "Hain't you got no papas here?"

Answers to Correspondents.

'Who obtained an A. B. thru the wisdom of his parents?' Ans. "Steele."

'How many children are there in Prof. Trout's family?' Ans. "Six or seven—enough to prove that he is a social success."

'What is meant by Labor Lost?' Ans.—"Labor lost is playing a hand organ in front of a deaf and dumb asylum."

L. F. and A. W.—It is hardly proper to write to more than six or seven boys at one time

"What is the benefit of a third party?"

I have never seen any benefit.

"Can you please tell me what a 'mutt' is?" Freshie. Ans. A mutt is one who doesn't subscribe for the Kanza, but goes around sponging on others.

President Brandenburg to student: "Young man, before you start out on your modest but checkered career, permit me to spill a few valuable notions into your head."

Hart—"Say, Pa, I saw a negro go into our chicken house and steal six of our chickens last night."

Dad—"Didn't you try to stop him?"

Hart—"No. Doesn't our President say that we should always help the colored man to help himself?"

Same Old Story.

Fearful Freshie—"How shall I break the news to my parents that I have flunked?"

Experienced Senior—"Merely telegraph them: Examination over, nothing new."

Miss Alumbaugh, to Model School boy—"Willie, why don't you keep your hair combed?"

Willie—" 'Cause I ain't got no comb."

Eva A.—"Why don't you ask your mother to buy you one?"

Willie—" 'Cause then I'd have to keep my hair combed."

The latest Latin verb: Tango, tangere, turki, trottem—to dance furiously.

Miss McLeod—"Are there two t's in permission?"

It is reported that B. B. remarked to a friend on the morning after the Opera Picnic, that she had said good night with her mouth.

Whoever heard of saying it any other way?

Miss Turney—"Sometimes you appear really manly and sometimes you are effeminate. How do you account for that?"

McGinnis—"I suppose it is hereditary. Half of my ancestors were men and the other half were women."

Dr. D.—"The time is at hand when many girls have already made up their minds not to make the personal sacrifice required in establishing a home."

Gertrude P.—"I wouldn't call it a sacrifice."

Wheeler—"If I were to speak to you of marriage, would you think me too hasty?"

Hutchinson—"Well, I should say, never put off till tomorrow what you ought to have done many weeks ago."

"THE SEASONS."

Seasons are four in number, which same I will name—spring, summer, fall and winter. In summer it is hot and in winter it is not. Fall is nice, but I fall the most in winter when it is slippery. In the spring the little birds sing and the frogs they sing, too. I like spring, because then the water gets warm enough to go swimming. I like fall 'cause it has Thanksgiving and I eat lots. I like winter 'cause it has Christmas and I gets lots of things. Leaves fall in the fall and this is all.

School census taker—"How old are you madam?"

Miss Leach—"Sir! such impertinence!"

Census taker—"I, I beg pardon, pardon, madame. I mean, uh! how young are you?"

CAFETERIA NEWS.

Rose Packard—Oh! do give me two onions. I'm so fond of them.

Mrs. Elzinga—I want a hot cup of coffee.

"Venus"—Mac, please give me five crackers.

John Wilkins, surveying well filled counter—"Is this all you have to eat?"

Carrie Brent—"There's chili and soup and meat orders and sandwiches and coffee and salad and pie and ice cream. What more would you like?"

Mr. Matthew—"All women are beautiful."

Mr. Allison—"Yes, naturally."

Mr. Matthew—"No, artificially."

FACULTY NOTES.

There isn't a hair's breadth between Mitchell and heaven.

Trout has his children indexed.

The spoonology dept. would be in a deplorable condition without Cranberry and H-ane.

Smoking was certainly a detriment to one person—Miss Roseberry was unable to make the basket ball team.

Dr. Dellinger has purchased some new equipment (dancing slippers).

A crying baby left in a basket is a good example of "basket ball."

"Are you Hungary?"

"Yes, Siam."

"Then I'll Fiji."

Why is Jacob Buller so cruel? Because he is Ruthless.

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN.

1. If at any time the building begins to shake on its foundations, do not be alarmed; it is only a Senior walking across the floor.

2. When you pass a Senior on the street, tip your hat. It will blow off if you don't.

3. If you want any poetry written, go to the Seniors; they have a good supply.

4. If you want to know anything, ask the Seniors; they know it all.

COMMON SENSE DIDACTICS.

Success comes in "cans," failure in "can'ts."

Diplomacy consists of getting what you want, whether it be lessons, a steady, or what not.

Dance while you like it; you'll soon be too old to enjoy hopping around.

A mean proportional—

He : She :: She : He.

Florence H. (Hearing of Mr. Ryal's marriage)—What's her name, anyway?

Ivor R.—Sure, and its Mrs. Ryals now.

Mullen—Now, Retta, won't you please help me sweep this floor?

Retta—No! I wouldn't sweep for anyone—except John.

Edna B.—Do I speak again in the last act?

Lola B.—You talk all the time.

Virgil Cook's Tongue—"The double octette will now render a seduction."

"All girls should learn to spend money in a sanitary—you know what I mean—well, an economical way."

Mary McK. and Kelvin Newtons latest roles are "Two Babes in the Wood."

Florence—Charlotte, don't name all my apple seeds Wheeler

Charlotte—I can't think of anyone else.

Florence—Neither can I.

Perfume (Kress) once descended from the heavens upon Vic Tanner and he has forever remained a sweeter man.

Miss Marshall to Miss English—You do "A" work with a "B" attitude.

Miss English—Yes, and I got a "C" grade on my card.

Miss Leach—"Have you finished your home reading, Mr. Lortz?"

Mr. L.—"No, ma'am. I'm not there long enough."

Sociology teacher—"What is meant by poverty?"

Miss Swain—"Well, it's—er—It's when somebody is in a bad fix."

The Assembly becomes a more popular spoon holder.

BIG ANNUAL PICNIC AT NOEL

Special Train and Nine Coaches Full

Prof. Moore (On train just this side of Missouri line)—Well, they put that fellow off back there.

Crowd—Why? who?

Pres. B.—Now we won't have any of that. Nobody is going to be left off this train. Who did you say it was?

Moore—Why, Budweiser.

Mr. B.—? Oh.

Mr. Ralph Smith gained the reputation of being the best fisherman in the crowd which went to Noel. Several would-be Isaac Waltons patiently dropped the lines at different points along the river, but it remained for Mr. Smith to bring back the finest display, thirteen fish. When questioned, he declared they were not "caught with a silver hook." Later it was learned that his wife, Lena, bought them for two ice cream cones.

Poor Old "Pa-pah"

Dear old Dad. You all know him. His heart is big and tender, or he wouldn't work his head off as he does to support his loved ones. And then the children must be educated so they will not have to slave as he has slaved. Dear, deluded old Dad. His earnings ALL gone, week in and week out, year in and year out, a stoop to his shoulders, a shuffle to his step, a dimness of the eye—yet he toils on for its "Pa-pah, I need this" and "Pa-pah, I need that" and Pa-pah, good old soul, continues to dig. We hope he is appreciated at his true worth. He ought to be provided with a dandy harp and set of wings when the tired hands are done.

He made money but there was so little left after the bills were paid that it wasn't enough to pay for saving. You are 20 years old, my son. Do you realize that if dad had quietly dropped a dollar in the bank every Saturday night since you were born—only a single dollar—with no interest added, that he would now have $1,040.00? Add 3 per cent. interest to that for 20 years. Then sit up and take notice. Compound the interest and then sit up some more.
