The Story of Apple Day

On February 21, 1903, Governor William J. Bailey signed the bill creating the Kansas State Manual Training Normal School Auxiliary, the first name of what is today Pittsburg State University.

Classes began the following September in the city-owned Central School building at the northwest corner of Fifth and Walnut. Very soon the growing enrollment created a need for a larger facility. Senator Ebenezer F. Porter of Pittsburg led a successful fight for a building appropriation with the assistance of Principal Russell Station Russ, the faculty, and community leaders.

After the funding bill was passed, Clarence Price, then mayor of Pittsburg, was fined a barrel of apples for lobbying on the floor of the legislature. Senator Porter, it should be noted, graciously donated two boxes of cigars to the house for passing the bill.

Upon their triumphal return to Pittsburg, the story of the fine was told. In those days, students were disciplined for their absences. In the spirit of the celebration, Principal Russ and members of his faculty were fined a barrel of apples by the students because they had been gone to Topeka to help lobby. Thus, with the funding of the building we now call Russ Hall by the Kansas Legislature, the tradition of Apple Day was established in 1907.

Andy Tompkins

Andy Tompkins, president and CEO of the Kansas Board of Regents, will deliver the keynote address at Pittsburg State University's 108th observance of Apple Day at 3 p.m. on Thursday, March 5, in the Bicknell Family Center for the Arts. Tompkins will speak on "Servant Leadership."

The Kansas Board of Regents is the governing board of the state's six universities and the statewide coordinating board for the state's 32 public higher education institutions, which includes seven public universities, 19 community colleges, and six technical colleges.

Prior to being named president and CEO of the Board of Regents, Tompkins most recently served as the dean of the College of Education and as associate professor in the Department of Special Services and Leadership Studies at PSU. From 2005 to 2007, he served as an associate professor in the Department of Education Leadership and Policy Studies at the University of Kansas.

Tompkins served as the Kansas State Department of Education's Commissioner of Education from 1996-2005.

Throughout his career he has held various positions in K-12 and higher education serving as a high school teacher, principal, superintendent, university associate professor, department chair, and college dean.

Tompkins earned his undergraduate degree in English at East Central State University in Ada, Okla. He earned his master's degree from Emporia State University and his doctorate from the University of Kansas in Educational Administration.

Tompkins has earned numerous honors including distinguished alumni and service awards from Emporia State University and the University of Kansas. He was inducted into the Kansas Teacher's Hall of Fame in 2001, was recognized as a master teacher in 1999, and was awarded the leadership Kansas Alumnus of the Year Award in 2002.

Tompkins and his wife, Glenda, live in Topeka. They have two children, Kyle and Amanda.

Dr. Ralf J. Thomas

Distinguished Service Award Winners

Jan Allai
and
Pete and Shirley Esch

The Dr. Ralf J. Thomas Distinguished Service Award honors persons who have demonstrated significant volunteer service to the PSU community. This year's honorees are Jan Allai and Pete and Shirley Esch.

Jan Allai (BS in elementary education 1969, MS in elementary teaching 1977) and her late husband, Wayne, helped organize the university's first capital campaign in 1985. At that time, they pledged their support for creating an endowment to provide scholarships for student athletes. Today, that effort has grown to become the Endowment for Excellence in Athletics, which plays a vital role in supporting student athletes across campus.

After Wayne's death in 2003, Jan continued the couple's support for PSU and its students and is a familiar face among the fans at most PSU athletic events. She has also given valuable service to the Alumni Association through the Alumni Association Board of Directors.

Pete Esch (BSBA 1951) and his wife, Shirley, have been faithful supporters of the university and the Kelce College of Business for decades. Pete has served on the Alumni Association Board of directors and he and Shirley are lifetime members of the President's Club. They are also University Fellows in the Centennial Society and have established two scholarships in the Kelce College of Business, where they also funded a Faculty of Distinction position.

A loyal PSU alumnus, Pete continues to share his knowledge and business experience with PSU students and with the Kelce College of Business.

Dr. Robert K. Ratzlaff

Outstanding Faculty Award Winners

Jeff Poe

Executive in Residence

"Professor Poe is one of the most approachable and encouraging professors I have had the pleasure to be taught by. Not only does he teach relevant, usable business skills, but he also gives every student the opportunity to contribute their ideas for the overall benefit of the class. It is an incredibly conducive environment in which to learn."

- Myka Ross, nominator

Phil McNew

University Professor

"He comes to class with a positive mood and eager anticipation which encourages us to do the same...He takes time, even beyond office hours, to help students in need. He comes across not only as an instructor but a relatable person too."

- Anonymous nominator

Dr. Phillip Harries

Assistant Professor

"He has made me a better student in many ways: he has helped me out with learning study skills, made my education feel of great value with all that I've truly learned, and given me confidence in my knowledge. I feel like he truly cares!"

PSU Alma Mater

On the plains of Southeast Kansas,
 'Neath an ever cloudless sky,
Far away from surging ocean,
And the storm-bird's plaintive cry;
With her prairies rolling Westward,
Where the buffalo once were great,
With her ensign proudly waiving,
 Stands our own Pittsburg State.

Refrain

Let us greet the Gold and Crimson
With a strong and cordial cheer,
Let our hearts be ever loyal
 To our Alma Mater dear.
