

THE DAILY WORKER
WM. F. DUNNE
J. LOUIS ENGBAHL, Editors

THE LITTLE RED LIBRARY
Communist Books & Pamphlets

THE WORKERS MONTHLY
EARL R. BROWDER, Editor

DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.

Publishers & Printers

1113 W. WASHINGTON BLVD.
CHICAGO, ILL., U. S. A.

Phone: MONROE 4712

MORITZ J. LOEB, Mgr.

October 9, 1925.

H. Maxwell,
Box 366,
Mulberry, Kans.

Dear Sir and Brother:

Replying to your letter of October the 1st with remittance enclosed of $45.00 we are pleased to inform you that we have placed this amount on account to your credit and will comply with your instructions and send you 15 copies daily of the Daily Worker for six months.

We will make a monthly invoice covering the daily shipment from the 16th of one month to the 15th of the following month. This invoice will be sent to you, but please do not take offence at it, as it will merely be for the purpose of charging your account with the items sent forward. This will be taken off the $45.00 which will stand to your credit and when the same is used up we will so inform you.

We thank you for your interest in the Daily Worker and trust to co-operate with you in making it successful in Mulberry and district.

Yours fraternally,
DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.

A. Henderson
Accounting Dept.

AH:SK