The twenty junior members and the ten sophomore members were chosen by popular election, which also was the means by which the seniors were chosen. Two freshmen who will be chosen from Mr. M. A. Nation's home room group will boost the total membership of the club to 63, three more than last year.

"Again might we stress the requirements of Pep Club members," said Miss Helen D. Lanyon, co-sponsor of the organization with Mr. F. M. Snodgrass. "Each member must have an activity ticket and be able to buy a Pep Club sweater. He must also attend every home game unless he has a good excuse not to."

Missionary Talks In Chapel Today

Special Program Yesterday Has Safety Theme: Seniors Meet Monday.

Miss Beulah Reitz, a returned missionary from Africa, was the speaker in the chapel this morning, and told of some of her experiences in the Dark Continent. Miss Reitz represented the Pittsburg Methodist church.

Loren Jones, sophomore, was the chairman for the assembly and George Cannon, vice president of the Jimmie Welch Hi-Y chapter, read the devotion.

Safety Director Here
Paul Jones, assistant safety director of the Kansas Gas & Electric Company in Wichita, was the speaker in a special assembly yesterday. Kathleen Sweet, Juanita Adams, Mildred Russel, Bernice Woods, Rowena Scott, Frances Hunt, sophomores, and Ruth Dewey, senior, also took part in the program.

Mr. Jones was brought to Crawford County as part of the Red Cross national program for the prevention of farm and home accidents.

In a senior class meeting Monday three subjects were discussed. They were in regard to the class rings, members for the Pep Club, and the senior party, which will be a Halloween party.

Printers Complete Booklet
The printing classes have completed a booklet for the city P. T. A., according to Mr. John E. White, instructor. They are now working on a booklet for Lakeside.

Near Tragedy in Biology; Reptile Will Recuperate

Oh! Wurra, wurra, wurra! A terrible tragedy has happened in the room of Mr. Claude I. Huffman, sponsor and trainer of animals. James Dafft, a small sophomore, challenged a duel with a monstrous, man-eating snake in the famous biology room. When young Dafft's hand came in contact with the mouth of the man-eater, which measured a full six inches in length, it bit him! Oh! Wurra, wurra, wurra for poor Mr. Huffman, until an observation was made, and it was reported that the snake would recover.

Carney's Outlook Bright This Year

Orchestra and Band Are Larger Than Before; New Music Here.

The outlook for a successful orchestra and band this year is exceedingly bright, according to Mr. Gerald M. Carney, director of music. Both organizations are larger than ever before, and Mr. Carney feels that this will be their best year.

The band with its 70 pieces is the biggest in the history of the high school. According to Mr. Carney, the balance is wonderful and there are exceptionally good players in every section. The band practiced several times during the past summer and is far ahead of where it usually is at the beginning of a school year. More trick formation drills will be used this year than last year.

The first public drill of the year was at the Independence football game on Brandenburg field last Friday. The band could have no better leader than Fred Schlapper, the capable drum major," Mr. Carney said. The band appeared in all its glory the two nights of the coal festival. It also has been invited to the American Royal in Kansas City in October.

The band officers this year were chosen from the juniors and seniors who had the highest number of merit points from last year. The following are officers for this year:

The quartermaster sergeants are Charles Duncan, Edward Hood, Jack Roby, and Edward Weeks.

Sergeants are Lawrence Bain, Robert Hornbuckle, John Nevin, and Hal Scott.

Corporals are Bob Cuthbertson, Mickey Grasso, Ray Armstrong, Jack Tryon, Leslie Johnston, Ted Saar, Sam Von Schrititz, and Alvadore Suffron.

Norman Dooley and Bill Walker are lance corporals.

The orchestra is also large this year with 65 pieces. The string section is large and shows great promise of being the best for a long time, the director said. Three concerts will be given in November this year, at Roosevelt and Lakeside junior high schools and this school. The orchestra also will play the first half of the Christmas program and will accompany the choir of 159 voices in the cantata. It likewise will play for the usual entertainments and the opera.

More members are taking this year than there have been for a long time. New music has been ordered for both organizations. The point system is also in force with the orchestra and officers will be selected this year from the junior or seniors having the highest number of points.

A gold award will be given to orchestra and band members who have the highest number of points and those who have a ranking of 95 percent or more will receive a school letter.

The point system, which was introduced by Mr. Carney, has proved to be successful, and is to be used this year. Points are given for the following:

Invited As Speaker

Heady Asked To Talk at K. U. Journalism Teachers Meet.

At the annual journalism conference at Kansas University, which four members of The Booster staff will attend Mr. Ray Heady, journalism instructor, will speak to the teachers' section on the topic, "What We've Been Doing." This year the conference will be held at Lawrence on Nov. 22 and 23.

Representatives from all high school newspapers of Kansas have been invited to attend the conference, which has been held annually for many years.

Members of The Booster staff have attended the conference many times in past years with the exception of last year when the meeting was held in Kansas City. Dorothy Jane Wilson and Helen Marchbanks, '35, both attended unofficially last year.

Mr. Heady was invited to speak at the meeting by Paul Johnson of Arkansas City, president of the Kansas Teachers of Journalism.

Carnival Raised $172 For P. T. A.

Expenses Must Be Paid Out Of Amount, However, Says Miss Waltz.

Gross proceeds from the P. T. A. carnival held at the high school last Friday were $172, according to Miss Madge Waltz, chairman of finance. "The expenses have not been paid yet," Miss Waltz said.

The carnival is held annually to raise P. T. A. funds, a large part of which will be used for student welfare aid.

Booths And Show
The carnival this year included fifteen booths sponsored by the home rooms. The main attraction was the amateur show and the style review for 1936, which were held in the auditorium.

The "Billies", a group of boys playing tunes by blowing on bottles, won first place in the amateur act. The tumbler, Marshall Chambers, senior, and Don Pummill, junior, placed second.

"I wish to say that we are very grateful to everyone who helped make the carnival a success, and we do appreciate the time and work done by several committees and the faculty," said Mr. E. W. Richards, president of the senior high P. T. A. "It was as good a carnival as any we have ever had. Everything went off just as it was planned," Mr. M. A. Nation, chairman for the faculty, said.

Pleased With Show
"I was well pleased with the length of time it took to present the main show; everyone could go home early," said Miss Ferda Hatton, who was in charge of the main show. "Mr. William Row's international museum and Mr. Charles Jordan's 'odditorium' were especially good," Principal J. L. Hutchinson said.

SEVENTEEN HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS ATTEND PLAYDAY

Pauline Butler, president of Girls Athletic Association and one of the Pittsburg high school girls who attended the seventh annual play day sponsored by the College last Saturday, broke her arm while building pyramids, which was one of the events of the day. Seventeen other girls from this school attended. They were as follows: Maxine Petty, Jane Baxter, Jackie Gore, Frances Hunt, Lorraine Shields, Helen Caskey, Anne Nettles, Julia Anne Pogson, Doris Brand, Sarah Sample, Rosemary Schiefelbein, Maxine Douglas, Faye Mozelle Degan, Helen Winters, and Evelyn Kelly.

HUTCHINSONS ENTERTAIN FACULTY CLUB TUESDAY

On Tuesday, the silver wedding anniversary of Principal and Mrs. J. L. Hutchinson, the Faculty Club presented them with a set of silver salad forks.

As is their annual custom for the first meeting of the club in October, Principal and Mrs. Hutchinson entertained the club with a dinner at their home. After the dinner Mr. Ellsworth Briggs, program chairman, gave a talk, after which the club presented the gift. Mr. William Row also made a report at the meeting.

Band To Attend American Royal In Kansas City

Carney Says Seventy Members Are Planning To Make Journey Monday.

Boys Form Letters

All High School Organizations Will Play Two Numbers In Mass Concert In Arena.

The Pittsburg high school band, with 70 members and Mr. Gerald M. Carney, director, will leave here Monday morning for Kansas City to participate in the American Royal stock show program that day. As soon as the band arrives there it will prepare to take its place in the large parade which will be down Minnesota Avenue at noon.

There will probably be more than twenty bands in the parade, according to Mr. Carney. The boys will then be picked up by street cars, as was done last year, and taken to the Royal building.

Bands Will March.
"Each band will march separately one and half times around the arena. The high school band will form the words "Pitt Kan" while marching and playing. The Kansas City chamber of commerce will furnish the noon meal.

Monday will be Kansas Day at the Royal and the band will play before Governor Alf M. Landon.

All the high school bands will form one mass organization and will play two numbers, "Our Director" and "Warrior Bold," under the baton of the director of music for the Royal.

The members of the band who are going and the instruments they play are as follows:

Music Room Improved

Mr. Carney Tells About the Use of New Acousti-Celotex.

A treatment for reducing reverberations and absorbing sound has been given the music room, according to Gerald M. Carney, supervisor of music.

The material used is acousti-celotex which has been glued to the ceiling of the room by acoustical engineers from Kansas City. Acousti-celotex is a fiber composition one inch thick pressed together so it is still spongy.

Mr. Carney states that although the room is a little small for the band and orchestra it is just right for the vocal groups; and is like a studio used for the broadcasting of big orchestras. The music room is also equipped with twenty new chairs.

Instructor Says Art Department Has A Fine Group

A fine group of art students make up the art classes this term, according to a statement by Miss Florence White, sponsor of the art department. The groups are much neater and more accurate than the average group, she said.

The number of projects show that the sign painters of the department are busy. Four junior boys, Lee Fritts, Morris Gibbs, Leo Webster, Leroy Uttley, are specializing in this work. The boys say they find this an interesting project.

Printing mottoes for the Latin department is an amusing project for the advanced students, especially for those who haven't taken Latin, says Miss White.

Carnino Selected As New Teacher

Butts' Successor Comes From Crawford County High At Cherokee.

The successor of Mr. Gilbert Butts, former industrial arts instructor, is Mr. Theodore (Ted) Carnino, a teacher for five years in the Crawford County Community High School in Cherokee. Mr. Carnino was elected by the Board of Education in a special meeting Monday night.

Mr. Carnino received his bachelor of science degree at the College in 1930 and his master of science degree in 1934 at the same place. Besides teaching industrial arts, for the past two or three years Mr. Carnino been coach of Cherokee high school athletic teams.

His basketball teams were consistent bidders for the class B state title, and were successful in Mineral Belt league competition.

Mr. Carnino will start teaching here as soon as he obtains his release from Cherokee. Mr. Ralph Watkins, substitute industrial arts teacher, will continue to fill in until Mr. Carnino gets here.

Mr. Butts left two weeks ago today to teach in the Roosevelt Junior High School in Wichita after resigning from the high school on Oct. 4.

Discuss War Question Row's Classes Will Give Chapel Program Armistice Day

With interest centered on the Italian-Ethiopian question, the international relation classes, taught by Mr. William Row, have been kept posted on the subject by two junior boys, Moses Martinous and Tom Thomas, who keep the bulletin board in Mr. Row's room up to-date.

The classes will give a program in chapel for the League of Nations meeting on Armistice Day, Nov. 11. The debate classes have just received copies of the "Reference Shelf" which will be the official study in the state debate question.

At the present the debate classes are analyzing the affirmative side of the question.

The date of the first tournament will be Dec. 13 and 14 at Coffeyville. It is hoped that every debater will go to Coffeyville, said Mr. Row. Last year 32 made the trip and this year probably more than 40 will go.

There will be a tournament at the College in the near future, but the date has not been set yet, he said. Every one of the debaters are expected to enter, since it is a requirement of the course.

Speech Class to Give Assembly

A program will be given by the speech classes in an assembly to be held Oct. 31. All those taking speech at the present time and those who have taken speech sometime in the past will be privileged to participate in the affair, which will be an entertainment and also a demonstration of what the speech classes are doing. Interpreting poetry and telling and reading poetry make up the work of the speech classes this first six weeks.

Mrs. Dora Peterson, plant biology teacher, took her students on an early morning field trip recently to study different kinds of trees. They are planning to visit Rhode's green house soon.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.—Ecclesiastes 2:23.

Virtue would not go far if vanity did not keep it company.—Rochefoucauld.

READ THE ADS

Do you read the ads? Do you notice what merchants advertise in The Booster?

The advertising staff advocates your reading the ads. This year the staff is putting the "whozit" in an ad, but after you find that don't stop—continue reading.

This year there has been a heavy run of advertising. Last week there was a total of 129 inches of ads. The merchants already know the large circulation of The Booster. What they want to know now is: Are the ads read? If so, it will make them advertise more.

So read the ads. When you buy something from a merchant who has advertised in the paper, kindly mention that you read his ad in The Booster and he will be pleased.—M. C. R.

THAT TOO BUSY PERSON

Carnival time and other rush activities always call for much help, cooperation, and hard work. During these times a crop of "too busies" always springs up.

"Too busy to help" seems to be the slogan of the self-important person. Just where he gets the idea that his services are so wanted and that he is so rushed seems to be from his own egotism.

You will rarely find a really important person who brags about the work he does. His slogan is usually "I do what you want me to first then I'll have time for my other work." Hooray for the handful of this type of persons! Indeed, he makes the other "too busy" person seem more shallow and more self-sufficient than ever.

STUDENT COUNCIL

For a number of years the students of Pittsburg high school have been building a form of self-government, and they may well be proud of that system, the Student Council, sponsored by Miss Effie Parner, English instructor, with Mary Montgomery, senior, as president.

The Student Council is the largest and most efficient organization in the school. It is made up of representatives chosen from each home room by the students themselves.

Each year more respect and faith is placed in their ability to settle matters concerning the school, therefore, making the high school a truly self-governing institution.

Two years ago for example, a great deal of trash was being thrown about the building and on the campus. Faculty attempts to remedy this were of little avail, but soon after the Council took the situation in hand the halls and grounds were kept clean, for with the Council supporting such a campaign the members exercised their influence on the other students in having them put their trash and waste in the proper receptacles.

Many other difficulties such as this have been handled with great ease by the Council.

This is only one instance of the work accomplished by self-government.

As the students learn to govern themselves in school they are learning something that will help them in later life when they will be "on their own".—R. R.

WHY HAVE G. R. AND HI-Y?

Why have Girl Reserves and Hi-Y in our school? This is a question asked by a few unknowing students. Are they truly worthwhile or are they a waste of time and money?

Did you ever enter a new school and have the feeling that you didn't have a friend to speak to or to show you where to go? If you have, you know the lonesome experience.

It is the duty of each Girl Reserve and each Hi-Y member to make friends with new students and make them welcome to the school.

When asked to take part in school activities, Girl Reserves and Hi-Y members respond in the best way they can. They back the school in all its undertakings.

In the busy rush of school life members of these fine organizations find time to devote a few minutes to God.

The habits formed when young will carry through until the end of life. Now is the time to form life habits. Girl Reserves and Hi-Y can be of great assistance to you.—N. M.

SUPPORT THE JUNIOR PLAY

We all like to support the football team and other sport teams, but then there is another phase in high school that needs support—that is the dramatic presentations.

Soon we will have the first play of the year—it will be presented by the junior class.

This is going to be one of the snappiest comedies ever presented in this school. The cast is working hard, and if the students will get behind and promote it they will feel more like their efforts have not been wasted.

Especially the seniors should support this play since the proceeds determine whether there will be a banquet and just how nice it will be. The school wants to see the seniors' graduation complete and it just couldn't be without the banquet. So let's all show we have the spirit.—E. B.

CAN YOU?

"My men grow mutinous day by day. My men grow ghastly, wan, and weak!"

With the swash, swash of angry waves, the curse of starving men, and the call of death in his ears, Columbus stood rigid, fearing that at any minute one of his men would stab him when his back was turned.

His mouth was dry and cracking for water. His eyes ached from lack of sleep. He was weak from hunger. Shall I give up and turn back? It may cost me my life—more important still the lives of my men.

If I turn back what will they say? I will destroy the faith which Queen Isabella has in me. They will scoff at me—call me a coward.

He turned his face to the west, squared his shoulders, took a deep breath and commanded his half-crazed men to sail on.

Columbus got there! Can you?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

(The Bulletin, Emporia, Kansas)
Leisure Time Makes All the Difference Between Students

How should leisure time be spent? The intervals between classes, on Sunday and holidays will determine the usefulness or uselessness of students.

Very few students take an inventory of their leisure time. This question is of such importance that educators are spending much effort to teach people to spend their leisure time profitably. Many great men spent their leisure time experimenting. One man spent all his time watching spiders spin webs and later this same man thought of the idea of building suspension bridges.

The person who rises to presidency of a club or corporation capitalizes his leisure time. Changing conditions must be met and if leisure time is not made profitable, individuals will fail. But if students have capitalized their leisure time during school they are certain to gain a position of responsibility in this world.

Rollie Kessel, Bob Evans and Melvin Harry journeyed to Cherokee one evening and were in the company of the belles of the town. They thought they would pull a fast one and told the innocent girls that they lived in Ringo and had to drive their grandfathers horse and buggy to school every day. Incidentally the school was ten miles away. They might get by with that in Cherokee but they know better that to try it closer home.

The seniors may think they own the school, but the under-classesmen have a pretty big percentage of the interest . . . as far as football is concerned.

BOOKS WE LIKE

by

William McFee

"The Beachcomber" concerns the great passenger liners and modern sirens of the sea.

The story is told in the words of Henry Spenlove, chief engineer on an ocean liner, as he describes the adventures of his captain, handsome young Sidney Neville, who is the dashing hero.

The young captain's career was dangerously near the shoals at times because of the manner in which his fatal beauty affected women who traveled as passengers on the liners he commanded as well as others with whom he came in contact.

Young Sidney fell under the spell of the Greek enchantress, Elli Phalere, to a far greater extent than any other.

The third woman Neville met was a singer, Alma Phillips, whom he married.

Ada, young Neville's second wife was worthless and selfish.

There were other attractive women, young and old. But the one who captured the fancy of old Henry Spenlove was Athalia Rhys, with whom Neville could never come to an understanding. She shares with young Neville the principal place in the story.

For the reader who finds enjoyment in well-drawn character studies and sea adventure in far-off places, this book is ideal to read.

FASHION

SAYS

Tweed tailored suits lead off. There's a nip in the air, and that means that it is time to pack away the last of our summer wardrobe.

The tweed tailored suit is almost indispensable for the autumn; nothing is so comfy and so practical, and this year's tweeds are of infinite variety, softer and more colorful than before. There is the simple "classic" type, more elaborate with velvet sleeves and those of the strictly tailored double-breasted fashion which is the joy of the younger generation.

Jackets are rather short and the skirts have a bit of fullness. They are slit up the sides to make walking easier.

The winter coats, except those of the strictly tailored lines, are elaborately trimmed with fur.

SO SHE BLUSHED!

Mr. Charles Jordan, chemistry instructor, was talking about peroxide. He asked about the peroxide blond and happened to look at the girl in the first seat in the first row. She must have a guilty conscience because was her face red? It happened to be that Mable Farrell, dignified senior, and she just blushed—and blushed—and blushed.

"LITERARY DIGEST" GOOD FOR REPORTS IN CLASS

The high school is receiving several magazines which some of the students do not know about.

"The Literary Digest" is one of this group. It is a weekly summary of the news events of the world. Material taken from this magazine makes interesting reports for international relations and government classes.

Copies of this magazine may be found in the library and in the journalism room.

Write Letters

The writing of letters to foreign boys in foreign countries is the main project of the B. V. Edworthy Hi-Y chapter this year. The project was started last week in the first meeting. Paul Byers, junior, had charge of the program.

The names of the foreign boys have been selected from the magazine "Open Road for Boys." Each member selected a boy with whom he wished to correspond.

Harriette Ellen Carter, senior, has been playing the violin since she was three years old.

La Verne Ferguson, senior, won a trip to Hutchinson to the Kansas state fair last year.

Mrs. B. M. Babcock has supervised the high school cafeteria for the past three years.

Pitt To Play Third S. E. K. Tilt Tonight

Coffeyville is Favorite Over Purple Dragons

Lewismen Have Won From Ft. Scott And Columbus; Roll Up Huge Scores.

At Brandenburg Field

Tornadoes Have Light Backfield But Use Heavy Line Which Averages 174 Pounds.

Parents of the members of the Dragon grid squad will be guests of the high school tonight at the game between the Dragons and Coffeyville, according to Principal J. L. Hutchinson. An added attraction will be the Coffeyville high school band and perhaps other organizations of that school which plan to attend the game.

Trying for their first S. E. K. victory of this season the Pittsburg Purple Dragons will tangle with the Coffeyville Tornadoes at 7:30 o'clock tonight under the floodlights on Brandenburg Field.

Although the Dragons made a fine showing when holding the Chanute Comets to 13 points in their fray last Friday, they are picked as the underdogs in tonight's game.

The Tornadoes, under the coaching of Leland (Babe) Lewis, former Gorilla gridiron star, have won three and lost one game this season. They crushed Cherryvale 74-0, Columbus 33-7, and Fort Scott 32-0. Their lone defeat was 8-0 loss to Bartlesville, Okla., high school team.

The Coffeyville backfield is probably the lightest in the S. E. K. league, averaging 149 pounds, but the line offsets this shortage in weighing 174 pounds to the man. The Pittsburg backfield averages about 152 and the line 166.

The game tonight will have a great deal to do with the outcome of the league race for it may be possible to pick the winner by the way the score runs tonight. Should Coffeyville hand Pittsburg a bad beating it will probably stand out as a favorite over Chanute, the probable runner-up. But should the Dragons upset the Tornadoes it would provide a rather bright outlook for the Comets.

Coach Prentice Gudgen announced that his team received no serious injuries in the Chanute game and that he will start practically the same lineup as started against the Comets.

Ralph Miller, Chanute star, showed the crowd at Chanute last Friday night that he really is an all S. E. K. halfback. His forward passing and kicking were good but his lateral passes and end runs were outstanding. Several times after being tackled while falling, he tossed the pig skin into the arms of Trembley or Baird who continued to gain ground on these plays.

Kenneth Farnsworth, fleet Dragon halfback, was the Pittsburg star of the evening, gaining ground on his dashes around end and through the line. He made the Chanute tackle look rather weak when he would twist and turn out of their grasps.

George Holmes and Raymond Brooks, Dragon ends, played a bang-up game. Holmes was down field on almost every Pitt punt, and Brooks succeeded in breaking through the Chanute line to break up their plays and recover fumbles.

Chanute used a deceptive spinner play against the Dragons. Some times as many as three players handled the ball before it was carried around an end.

The Dragon trackmen are out nearly every afternoon getting in training for the distance run to be held between the halves of the Fort Scott-Pittsburg football game at Fort Scott, Nov. 8.

"House of Morgan" Nears Finish of Great Record in Athletic History of Pittsburg Dragons

(By Fred Schiefelbein, Sports Editor Pittsburg High School Booster)

On May 26, 1937, a gigantic celebration will probably be held in Southeastern Kansas with all the schools except Pittsburg being celebrators; for on that day the last of the "House of Morgan" will pass from the Dragon school.

Ever since the year of 1923, with but one exception, at least one Morgan has been a thorn in the side of the other teams in the S.E.K. League during basketball, football, and track.

seasons. That one exception was the school term, 1931-32. From 1923 to 1937 will be fourteen years of Morgan achievement.

The first Morgan was Coach Charles H. Morgan, who during his eight years of coaching at the high school, acquired a record which almost any coach would be proud to possess. Each year of his regime he succeeded in winning at least one of the three S. E. K. championships.

He received in 1931 an offer for a position at the Kansas State Teachers College of Pittsburg. At the college he has been assistant coach of basketball and football and director of intramurals. Last year the college basketball team under his direction tied for the Central Conference championship with Southwestern.

Chanute Comets Hand Gudgenmen 13-0 Touncing

Dragons Give Strong Fight But Skeltonmen Manage To Score Twice.

Miller Outstanding

Farnsworth is Star of Pittsburg Line-up, Leads Attack With Fast and Clever Runs.

The Chanute Comets handed the Pittsburg Dragons a 13-0 defeat last Friday night, on the Comet's battlefield.

Kenneth Farnsworth, Pittsburg speedy halfback, led the Dragon attack with outstanding performance in running and clever maneuvering.

Ralph Miller, star halfback on the Comet's team, showed fine style in carrying the ball. He was responsible for Chanute's two touchdowns.

Chanute scored in the first and last stanzas; the opening tally coming when Miller passed to Baird, who made the touchdown. Eaton, left tackle and the Chanute team's chief "booster," place kick for the extra point.

In the last period Miller ran around the right end for three yards to score. Holmes, Dragon end, blocked Eaton's attempt to place kick and saved the extra point.

The Comets had a large margin of 230 to 78 in rushing plays, but the Dragons were outstanding in passing, completing seven out of nine passes for a total of 49 yards. The Pittsburg men also made eight first downs to Chanute's nine.

The Dragons' only chance to score came in the fourth quarter when Simonie, Dragon fullback, snagged an attempted lateral by Miller and ran 43 yards before being brought down on the Chanute 14-yard line. However the ball was lost on a fumble the first play and thus ended the threat.

Pittsburg's defeat marked Chanute's third straight victory and also the first triumph in the 1935 S. E. K. championship league race.
