THANKS AGAIN TED! Nationally acclaimed sports artist Ted Watts of Oswego, Kansas, has once again captured the spirit of Pitt State Football on this year's Football program cover and the 1990 Gorilla schedule poster. Watts, who graduated from PSU with a fine arts degree in 1966, has specialized in sports art for more than 15 years. He has produced over 4,000 art pieces for colleges and athletic organizations around the country, including nearly 900 cover illustrations. Watts has designed many special pieces of art for PSU, including the official Gorilla logo, several basketball and football program covers and posters, and a beautiful 6ft. x 4ft. color mural of PSU football which is proudly displayed in the Weede Building as part of the athletic Hall of Fame. Watts is shown here with a print of his tribute to PSU football. In addition to producing quality art for PSU, Watts has served as Alumni Association President (1982-83), and he was one of PSU's four 1988 Meritorious Achievement Award winners.

History of the Gorilla

The Pittsburg State University Gorilla is without a doubt one of the most unique mascots on any university campus in the country today. Conceived in 1920 by a group of young men dissatisfied with the state of school spirit, twenty-four students organized themselves as the "Gorillas" in order to 'accelerate college spirit and enthusiasm until it shall permeate the state.'

Thereafter, the Gorillas (a 1920's slang term for roughnecks) sponsored pep rallies, picnics, freshman hazing, special trains to athletic events, mock burials and weddings, and "night shirt stampedes" through downtown Pittsburg. Their membership quickly grew to over a hundred in just a few years.

In 1923, the Gorillas had art student Helen Waskey make a drawing of the Gorilla. Two years later, they offered their symbol as its official mascot. On January 15, 1925, the student body unanimously adopted the "ferocious beast...as a name and synonym for the athletic teams."

During his first half century, the Gorilla became less ferocious and more loveable in appearance, being dubbed "Gus" and eventually finding a mate, "Gussie" (created by Charles Galvin in 1952 for a Student Union display). Gus became a cartoon figure (first by Lee Green, Kanza art editor, in 1952) and a regular "Joe College" before the Class of '65 had him cast in fiberglass by Larry Wooster and set in front of the Student Union.

During the summer of 1980, artist Ted Watts set about to recreate the original ferocity of the mascot. On September 5, 1980, Watts signed a limited edition of 500 lithographs of his painting of the Pittsburg State University Gorilla, commissioned by the Alumni Association. And thus, for the first time in almost thirty years, the mascot is once more virile and dynamic, a symbol of strength and power.

Pittsburg State is proud to be the only college in the nation with the Gorilla as its official mascot!

History of Pitt State Football (1908-1989)

Pittsburg State University has built a tradition as one of the finest small-college football programs in the nation, with two NAIA national championships and many post-season appearances, highlighting an illustrious gridiron history that dates back to the early 1900s.

Last season, PSU continued its tradition of excellence in football, setting a school record for victories, while making the transition from the NAIA to the NCAA Division II ranks.

After competing for 81 years as an NAIA program, PSU joined the NCAA and the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association in 1989, and quickly continued its success. The Gorillas captured the MIAA football crown their first season as conference members, extended the nation's longest regular season winning streak to an amazing 45 games, and qualified for the national playoffs for the fifth consecutive year. Pitt State eventually lost in the quarter-finals of the NCAA-II playoffs, ending the team's hopes of a third national title, but PSU's 12-1 campaign was one of the best ever.

PSU has posted 46 winning seasons in its illustrious football history, capturing the NAIA national championship under Coach Carnie Smith in 1957 and 1961.

Pitt State fielded its first team in 1904, but no scores or results exist. Since its first official season in 1908, PSU has celebrated 431 victories, ranking the program sixth on the NCAA Division II all-time winningest teams list.

Pittsburg State joined the Kansas Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) in 1911 and won its first conference championship in 1921 under Garfield W. Weede. PSU added another KIAC championship in 1924, compiling a 7-0-1 record, PSU's first undefeated season.

In 1925, Pitt State adopted the "Gorilla" as its official mascot. PSU is proud to be the only college or university in the country with the Gorilla as its athletic mascot.

The Gorillas became members of the Central Intercollegiate Conference (CIC) in 1928. The Gorillas won eight league championships in 41 years in the league, six of which came between 1949 and 1966 under Carnie Smith. As the winningest coach in PSU history, Smith guided the Gorillas to 116 wins, 52 losses and six ties in his 18 seasons as the school's head coach.

The stadium where the Gorillas have played their home games since 1922, now bears the name of the legendary coach.

Under Smith, Pittsburg State won two NAIA national championships. The Gorillas achieved perfect 11-0 seasons in 1957 and 1961 to win the national honor.

PSU competed in the Great Plains Athletic Conference from 1972-75 before joining the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC) in 1976. PSU won or shared the CSIC championship eight of 12 years in the league.

During the 1980's, Pitt State regained its national prominence. PSU earned a trip to the NAIA playoffs in 1981 for the first time since the '61 championship. The Gorillas completed a 10-2 season with a national runner-up finish, losing 3-0 in the NAIA title game.

PSU's success in the '80s continued under head coach Dennis Franchione, as the Gorillas won the CSIC championship and earned NAIA post-season playoff berths in 1985, 1986, 1987, and 1988. PSU reached the NAIA national semifinals the last three years the program was a member of the organization.

From 1980 to 1988, Pittsburg State won six CSIC championships, appeared in the NAIA national playoffs five times, and produced 34 NAIA All-Americans. During the 1980s, PSU compiled one of the best records of any football program, ranking second among NCAA Division II schools with a winning percentage of .800 and a record of 88-22.

Between 1908 and 1989, Pittsburg State has built a record of 431 wins, 276 losses, and 45 ties, making it one of the most successful in small college football programs in the nation. PSU's 431 victories rank sixth among NCAA Division II schools.

Pittsburg State has qualified for post-season play ten times in the 82-year history of the football program, highlighted by eight appearances in national playoff competition.

In 1957, the Gorillas captured the first of two NAIA National Championships under Coach Carnie Smith, completing a perfect 11-0 campaign with a 27-26 victory over Hillsdale College in the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, FL. In 1961, Smith led PSU to another NAIA National Title with a 12-7 win over Linfield College at the Camellia Bowl in Sacramento, CA.

In 1981, the Gorillas returned to the NAIA National Championship game under Coach Ron Randleman, but PSU's bid for its third NAIA national crown came up short as PSU fell 3-0 to Elon College of North Carolina.

In 1985, Dennis Franchione's first season as head coach, the Gorillas qualified for the NAIA playoffs once again, but lost a first-round contest. Franchione led Pitt State to the NAIA semifinals the next three seasons, but each year, the Gorillas quest for another national crown ended in bitter defeats.

In 1989, PSU made the transition from the NAIA to the NCAA Division II ranks. The Gorillas won their first NCAA-II playoff game, a 28-7 victory over MIAA rival Northwest Missouri, before falling to Angelo State of Texas, 24-21 in the NCAA quarterfinals.

The Gorillas have compiled a 9-5 record in seven NAIA playoff appearances, and a 1-1 mark in the NCAA Division II playoffs for a combined 10-6 record in playoff competition. PSU is 8-3 at home in the playoffs, and 2-3 on the road. PSU's only two road playoff wins were in championship games in 1957 and 1961.

PSU also has participated in three post-season bowl games, the 1950 Shrine Bowl, the '79 Boot Hill Bowl, and the '80 Moila Shrine Bowl.

PSU in the National Polls

After establishing its football program as a national power in the NAIA, Pittsburg State entered its first year of NCAA Division II competition unranked in the preseason poll. However, PSU quickly earned respect from the pollsters and climbed up to the number four ranking where it remained in the final three polls. Pitt State has been consistently ranked in the national polls during the past four seasons (1986-89) and finished number one in the final NAIA polls in both 1986 and 1987. The Gorillas were ranked number two in the final NAIA poll in 1988. Here's a look at PSU's weekly ranking in last year's poll, and the Gorillas' final ranking in the NAIA polls during the '80s:

PSU was the NAIA's top-ranked team in total offense, scoring offense, and rushing offense during both the 1986 and 1987 seasons. In 1988, the Gorillas were ranked second in the NAIA in scoring offense and rushing offense. Pitt State continued to rank high in national statistics after making the transition into the NCAA Division II ranks last year. PSU finished second in rushing offense and third in scoring offense among NCAA Division II schools in 1989. Here's a look at PSU's ranking in the 1989 Final NCAA Division II national statistics:

PSU Begins '90s With New Coach, Confident Team

After enjoying one of the most successful football seasons in school history last year, Pittsburg State enters its second year of NCAA Division II competition in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association with a new head coach and the confidence of champions.

Chuck Broyles takes over as PSU's head man, after serving as the team's assistant head coach and defensive coordinator the past two seasons. Broyles was a vital part of the program's successful transition from the NAIA ranks into the NCAA, and now he has his first opportunity to direct a football program as a head coach.

And what a program he has inherited! The Gorillas will begin the 1990 campaign with confidence, after compiling a 12-1 overall record, and capturing the MIAA title in the school's first year in the league.

Not only did PSU win the '89 MIAA crown, but the Gorillas also set a school record for victories (12), beat an NCAA Division I-AA team (a 34-13 win at Arkansas State), and reached the quarterfinals of the playoffs before losing their only game of the year, 24-21 to Angelo (TX) State.

The Gorillas will enter the 1990 campaign with the nation's longest regular season winning streak -- an amazing 45 consecutive games. Pitt State has not lost a regular season game since dropping a 41-9 decision at Emporia (KS) State University on September 28, 1985. PSU has recorded four straight undefeated regular seasons.

During the last decade, Pitt State has won 80% of its football games, compiling an 88-22 overall record. PSU also made six post-season playoff appearances in the 1980s, including five straight from '85-'89. During the last five years under Dennis Franchione, PSU posted a 53-6 overall mark and won its conference title each year.

So how does PSU's new mentor feel about taking over a program that has been so successful over the years?

"I'm thrilled to be the head coach at PSU," Broyles said at the December press conference announcing his appointment.

"There's a certain amount of pressure in taking over a program that has been as successful as Pittsburg State's, but I want our staff and players and fans to enjoy the work and challenges that are ahead."

Jay Padden, a first-team All-MIAA selection at quarterback last year, will lead the Gorilla offense once again this year. Padden is 23-2 as PSU's starting QB the past two years.

"One of our main goals will be to maintain the integrity and competitiveness that has been a trademark of Pitt State football - not just during the last five years, but throughout the history of the program. But, we have to be realistic in our expectations. Our goal will always be to win the national title, but there's only one team that wins it each year. Sometimes our abundance of success in the past makes us have unrealistic expectations. We should enjoy our wins more."

-- Chuck Broyles

Broyles said he felt the quality of competition in the MIAA will be improved in '90.

"I think that the MIAA will be much stronger from top to bottom this year. Any one of four or five teams could get things going early and challenge for the conference championship. If we continue working hard, we should be one of them."

Offensive Should Be Explosive Once Again

New offensive coordinator Jerry Kill will have an experienced unit to work with this fall, as six first-team All-MIAA selections return, including quarterback Jay Padden, tailback Darren Dawson, tight end Jody Truitt, and offensive linemen Tim Sinclair, Kendall Gammon and Brian Hoover.

Last year, PSU's offense was ranked second in the nation in rushing (350.3 yards per game), third in scoring (39.0 points per game), and 10th in total offense (430.4 ypg). The Gorillas set seven MIAA records in '89, including new standards for points (429) and rushing yards (3853) in a season.

"We've got the talent to be explosive on offense," said Kill. "The key is utilizing the talent -- getting the ball to the right people in the right spot."

QUARTERBACK

Padden, a 6-4, 210-pound senior who has a 23-2 record as PSU's starting QB over the past two years, was the runner-up for MIAA Offensive Player of the Year honors in '89. Last season, he completed 58.3% of his passes (56 of 96), good for 840 yards and six TD's. He threw just two interceptions. Padden also ran for 359 yards and 8 TD's on 148 tries as the trigger man in PSU's veer.

Todd Hafner, a 6-0, 160-pound sophomore who played in just one game last year, will be PSU's backup entering fall drills, but two talented freshmen will challenge for backup duties. Brian Hutchins, a 6-1, 175-pounder from Pittsburg High School, and Dacona Smith, a 5-8, 170-pound speedster from Wynnewood, OK, both led their high school teams to state titles.

Darren Dawson led the nation in yards per carry (7.89), gaining 1,184 yards on just 150 attempts.

RUNNING BACKS

Running back could be the strength of PSU's attack, even though the Gorillas lost fullback Kenny Davis, who gained over 1,000 yards last year.

Junior Darren Dawson, a 6-0, 200-pound All-American candidate, led the nation in yards per carry (7.89) as a sophomore last year. He gained 1,184 yards and scored 18 TD's on just 150 attempts during the regular season, then added a pair of 100-yard plus performances in the NCAA playoffs.

Kelly Lawson, a 6-0, 190-pound senior, should also have a great year at tailback. Last year, Lawson gained 441 yards and scored 7 TD's on 81 carries (5.44 ypc).

In limited action while playing behind Davis last year, Ronald Moore showed he has the raw ability -- size, speed, power -- to become a great back. The 5-11, 210-pound sophomore averaged 7.96 yards per carry last year (382 yards on 48 carries). He'll definitely get the ball more often in 1990.

In addition to the three main backs, Dawson, Lawson, and Moore, PSU has a talented stable of reserves that are very capable of doing a great job in the backfield. Sophomores Craig Jordan, Joey Tobin and Don Tolar will give PSU excellent depth.

"Runningback could be the strongest position on the team, because we are very talented and deep," said Kill. "Our backs all have a great blend of speed and power."

WIDE RECEIVERS

Speaking of speed and power, newcomer Ronnie West also has them both, and he should be a major force in the Gorilla attack as a wide receiver/return man. The 6-2, 215-pound junior transfer from NE Oklahoma A&M, is "one of the best athletes we've ever had at PSU," according to strength and conditioning coach John Johnson. Sophomore David Qualls (5-11, 160) will probably be PSU's number two wideout.

TIGHT ENDS/LINEMEN

PSU will be strong up front this year, as four first-team All-MIAA players return to the lineup from end to end.

Tight ends Jody Truitt, a 6-4, 250-pound senior who is one of the four first-teamers, and Brian Pinamonti, a 6-2, 220-pound junior are both excellent. They are good blockers on the perimeter, and both have great hands. Depth is a concern, but freshman Paul Sparkman (6-3, 225) from Lockwood, MO, should be a solid reserve.

Kendall Gammon (73) and Brian Pinamonti double-team an Angelo State defender in last year's NCAA quarterfinal playoff game.

The interior line is anchored by 5-10, 265-pound senior center Tim Sinclair. The first-team All-MIAA pick is very strong -- he set the PSU school record in the squat during the off-season, heaving 775 pounds.

PSU has two first-team All-Conference tackles returning, juniors Kendall Gammon, (6-6, 280), and Brian Hoover (6-3, 285). Gammon and Hoover are both big, strong, fast and now they have a year of experience as starters behind them. Pro prospects?

Offensive guard will be the only question mark on the PSU line this year. It appears junior Jeff Mundhenke, who is actually bigger than the tackles at 6-5, 290, will fill the strong guard slot, while sophomores Mark Issacs (6-4, 255) and Mike Brockel (6-1, 250) battle for the other spot.

PSU's offensive line will probably average around 6-3, 262 pounds... and that includes both tight ends!

"On paper, we probably have one of the best offenses we've ever had, and this school's had some great ones," said Broyles. "It's the reverse situation that we had last year. Last year, we had a very experienced defensive unit. This year, we're experienced on offense, but we have major holes to fill on the defensive side of the football."

"Our defense is going to be young and untested. We won't have much experience in the lineup, but we've got as good, or better, overall strength and speed as we've ever had. We've got some talented athletes -- we'll have competition for playing time at every position. Maybe that will make us better."

-- Chuck Broyles

Defense Will Be Young, Inexperienced, But Talented

When a team loses three All-Americans from its starting lineup, questions arise regarding the people who will fill those positions. When a team loses three All-Americans on one side of the football, the questions become serious concerns.

Such is the case with the PSU defense this year.

First-team Kodak All-American John Roderique, a starter for nearly three years at inside linebacker and the MIAA Defensive Player of the Year in 1989, will be on the field this year, but he'll be wearing a coach's jersey instead of a player's uniform.

James Gray and Ted Adams, third-team All-Americans last year and key factors in PSU's defense, are also gone. So are people like Troy Schwiegerath and Brett Potts, names that were synonymous with the great Gorilla defenses fielded the past few years.

In all, PSU loses eight starters. But the optimist would say that PSU returns three starters, and several other talented players, who have waited in the shadows for their opportunity, will get just that in 1990.

With most of PSU's recruiting efforts on filling the gaps on defense, the '90 version of "Gorilla D" may be A-OK after all.

Darryl Wren, a first-team All-MIAA pick as a defensive back last year, could be a pro prospect because of his great speed and one-on-one coverage. Wren, who has been clocked in 4.36 by pro scouts in the 40, just misses blocking this kick.

SECONDARY

Two of PSU's three returning starters on defense, seniors Darryl Wren and Ira McMillian, will lead the secondary in 1990, along with junior Michael Wilber, who suffered a season-ending knee injury in the second game last year, after earning a starting slot as a freshman in 1988.

Wren, a 6-2, 175-pound cornerback who earned first-team All-MIAA honors last year, is the only senior on the defense that has started an entire season. He is the fastest man on the PSU squad -- pro scouts have clocked him in 4.36 in the 40-yard dash. Wren probably will get a chance to continue his playing career after college because of his great speed. He was tied with Adams for the team interception lead last year (5), and also broke up 7 passes and made 49 tackles.

McMillian and Wilber are both free safeties, but either one could see action anywhere in the defensive backfield. McMillian, who was PSU's fourth leading tackler with 72 stops last season, earned second-team All-MIAA honors. Wilber is a tough, intelligent player who started the last five games of his freshman campaign before suffering the knee injury early last year.

Sophomores Duke Palmer, who became a starter at cornerback when Wilber went down, Joel Thornton, and Bob Tavernaro, a running back last year, should all see quite a bit of playing time, along with newcomer Steve Kyler, a freshman from Broken Arrow, OK. Palmer will probably miss at least part of the year after undergoing off-season knee surgery.

"We have to develop cohesiveness in the secondary," said Broyles. "Darryl has to emerge as a leader, and others are going to have to step up and play key roles."

LINEBACKERS

Junior Jamie Goodson is the only full-time returning starter from last year's unit, but several talented players with excellent junior college experience, and others with limited experience in a Gorilla uniform, are ready to fill the gaps created by the departure of Roderique, Gray and Schwiegerath.

At 6-1, 218, Goodson can play either inside or outside. Last year, he led the team in passes broken up with 9, and he also made 52 stops. He's projected as an insider in '90.

Many players will challenge for starting roles and playing time at linebacker. The returnees include: Eric Thomas, a 5-10,

Jamie Goodson's speed makes him an excellent defender against both the pass and run. Here he's able to catch Angelo State's quarterback from behind.

220-pound senior, Lance Gosch, a 6-3, 220 pound sophomore, Kris Mengarelli, a 5-11, 230-pound sophomore, Tracy Clites, a 6-1, 205-pound sophomore, and Butch Hayes, a 6-2, 195-pound senior who moves to outside linebacker from free safety.

Thomas (38 tackles last year), Gosch (11 tackles) and Mengarelli (17 tackles) will probably play inside, while Clites (15 stops) and Hayes (58 tackles, 3 passes broken up) should see most of their action outside.

Two junior college linebackers, Michael Rose (6-0, 210) from Hinds JC in Mississippi (a la James Gray) and Phil McCoy (6-3, 235), from Fort Scott JC, are expected to make an immediate impact and could be PSU's starters on the perimeter. Both were two-year All-Conference selections.

Several freshmen also will challenge for playing time at linebacker and on special teams. They include: Jason Gardner (6-2, 215) from Broken Arrow, OK, Tim Wheeler (6-3, 205) from Putnam City, OK, Kevin Crane (5-10, 195) from Webb City, MO, and Paul Sparkman (6-3, 225) from Lockwood, MO.

"It will be very hard to replace the players we lost at linebacker," said Broyles. "But, we have some quality people already in our program, and some excellent recruits coming in who will make an impact."

DEFENSIVE LINE

The defensive line also will be revamped in 1990, but Broyles is happy with the talent level of the people who will challenge for playing time. Like the linebackers, any combination of a host of players could start.

Sophomore returnees Ronnie Fuller (6-3, 235) and Troy Wilson (6-4, 225), a great athlete who was a reserve tight end last season, will probably enter fall camp as the ones to beat as PSU's starting defensive ends. Senior John Baumgartner (6-4, 230), sophomore John Vazquez (6-3, 220), who moves to the line from linebacker after a red-shirt year, and prize freshman recruit Derek Blackburn (6-2, 220) from Broken Arrow, OK, will challenge for time at end.

There also will be several players vying for starting nods at tackle. Ky Kiger, a 6-2, 255 pound junior, moves back to defense after spending a year as an offensive lineman, and Kent Winder, a 6-4, 260-pound transfer from Fort Scott JC, are probably the frontrunners entering fall drills.

Others who have a good chance to start or see significant time at tackle include: freshmen Otis Colbert (5-11, 275) from Tulsa, OK, and Chris Hanna (6-2, 285), who played under PSU offensive line coach Fred Redd at Springfield (MO) Catholic.

"You may not recognize many of the names on the defensive line, but player for player, we have better speed, strength and overall talent at each position," said Broyles.

KICKING GAME

Junior James Jenkins will be PSU's placekicker for the third straight year. An off-season conditioning program added strength to his leg, and he should be an improved kicker in 1990. Last year, in his first season kicking off the surface instead of a tee, he made a total of 7 of 17 field goal attempts and 41 of 46 extra points. As a freshman kicking with the tee, Jenkins hit 10 of 19 field goals and 48 of 49 PAT's.

Freshman quarterback Brian Hutchins is expected to be PSU's top punter. He averaged 39 yards per kick in 36 attempts as a high school senior. Tracy Clites could also see action as the Gorillas punter.

After a year adjusting to kicking off the natural surface, James Jenkins should have his best season yet.

Pittsburg State University will open the 1990 regular season at home September 1 against Northeast Missouri State University with the nation's longest regular-season winning streak— an amazing 45 straight games!

The Gorillas have put together four consecutive undefeated regular seasons during the winning streak, with the only loss each year coming in post-season playoff competition. PSU's last regular season loss came back on September 28, 1985, in Dennis Franchione's first season as head coach. In-state rival Emporia State defeated PSU, 41-9 at Emporia, KS. Pitt State has not lost a regular season game since, winning 45 straight regular season games.

The Gorillas kept the winning streak intact in 1989, even though the program moved from NAIA to NCAA Division II competition. It appeared the winning streak would end on November 4, as PSU travelled to Jonesboro, AR, for a contest against Arkansas State University, and NCAA Division I-AA affiliate.

But Pitt State rose to the occasion, handing ASU it's first loss ever to a Division II school with a 34-13 upset.

"THE STREAK" has had a few close calls during the past five years, yet PSU has managed to pull out victories to keep the record alive in every regular season game.

The closest call? Last year, when Southwest Baptist University jumped out to a 17-0 first quarter lead in the third game of the season. PSU answered with a 20-point second quarter explosion, but the Bearcats regained the lead, 24-20, midway through the fourth quarter. PSU scored the winning TD with 1:30 left in the game after an SBU penalty kept an 80-yard drive alive. An SBU field goal attempt that would have tied the game with :31 seconds to play was wide, and PSU survived 27-24.

In 1988, Washburn University scored a pair of fourth quarter TD's to make the score PSU 17 WU 14 with 2:13 remaining in the contest. But PSU recovered the ensuing on-side kick and scored a touchdown on the final play of the game to win 23-14.

'89 Season in Review

Gorillas Win MIAA Title, Reach NCAA-II Playoffs

Last fall, the Pittsburg State University football program was making the transition from the NAIA's Central States Intercollegiate Conference into NCAA Division II competition in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Pitt State dominated the NAIA's Central States Intercollegiate Conference during the later half of the 1980s, winning four straight league championships from 1985 to 1988. PSU also reached post season play each year, making three straight appearances in the NAIA national semifinals, and compiled a sparkling 41-5 record under Coach Dennis Franchione.

But despite this success, the question of whether the Gorillas could continue dominating opponents in the NCAA as they had in the NAIA remained to be seen. Could PSU continue its success at a higher level of competition?

It took all of one week to answer the questions. In the season opener, Pitt State crushed Northeast Missouri State, one of the leagues defending tri-champions, 43-0 on the Bulldogs home field. The Gorillas were well on their way of continuing the school's tradition of gridiron excellence.

PSU went on to post impressive victories over nationally ranked Northwest Missouri State, and defending MIAA tri-champions Southeast Missouri State and Central Missouri State. Perhaps the highlight of the year came in week #10 when the Gorillas upset NCAA Division I-AA power Arkansas State, 34-13 at Jonesboro. In the season finale, PSU defeated arch-rival Missouri Southern in the annual Miner's Bowl game, completing the program's fourth consecutive undefeated regular season.

The Gorillas made their fifth straight post season appearance, and first trip to the NCAA-II playoffs, after claiming the MIAA title. Pitt State's season finally ended in the second round of the NCAA playoffs, as the Gorillas fell 24-21 to Angelo (TX) State.

PSU's record-setting 12-1 campaign will long be remembered as one of the finest in school history. Here's a look at some of the accomplishments of the 1989 Gorillas:

- Pitt State set a school record for victories, compiling a 12-1 record in the school's first NCAA season.
- PSU posted its 4th consecutive undefeated regular season, extending the nation's longest regular season winning streak to 45 games entering 1990.
- Pitt State won its 5th straight conference title. The Gorillas won the MIAA championship its first year in the league after claiming four straight CSIC crowns.
- The Gorillas upset NCAA Division I-AA power Arkansas State, 34-13 in ASU's Homecoming game.
- PSU was ranked 4th in the final NCAA-II poll.
- Pitt State hosted two NCAA playoff games, defeating MIAA rival Northwest Missouri, 28-7 in the first round, before falling 24-21 to Angelo (TX) State.
- PSU set MIAA league records for:

Chuck Broyles, Head Football Coach

Chuck Broyles begins his first season as head football coach at Pittsburg State after serving as the Gorillas' assistant head coach and defensive coordinator the past two years. Broyles also has additional administrative duties as Pitt State's associate director of athletics.

At the press conference announcing Broyles' appointment in December, PSU President Dr. Donald W. Wilson said, "Chuck Broyles is more than capable of carrying on Pittsburg State's fine tradition in football. He is a gentleman with great integrity, and he will continue the positive momentum of our football program."

PSU athletic director Bill Samuels agreed. "Chuck will be a great head coach, following in a great line of coaches at PSU," said Samuels, who served as an assistant coach at Pitt State for more than 20 years. "He has the respect of the players, his fellow coaches, and the campus and community."

This is Broyles' first opportunity to direct a college football program as a head coach, but his leadership as a defensive coordinator at the collegiate and high school level, as well as his experience as a head baseball coach and player, has been outstanding.

Broyles came to Pitt State from the University of Missouri-Rolla, where he served as the Miners' defensive coordinator from 1974-1983, and again during the 1986 and 1987 seasons. As an assistant at Missouri-Rolla, Broyles helped guide the Miners to a share of the MIAA title in 1977, and the outright conference championship and an undefeated 10-0 season in 1980. UMR also shared the MIAA title in 1983, just after Broyles left the program to become the defensive coordinator at Miami High School in Miami, Oklahoma, where he served for three years (1983-85). Broyles also was the head baseball coach at Rolla from 1974-83 and at Miami High School.

For the past two years, Broyles has led a PSU defense that has been ranked among the best in the nation. Last year, in Pitt State's first season of NCAA Division II competition, the Gorillas' were ranked sixth nationally in scoring defense (11.1 points per game), yielding two touchdowns or less in nine of PSU's 13 games. PSU's opponents failed to score a touchdown in five contests. The Gorillas also were ranked ninth nationally in total defense, allowing a mere 233.1 yards per game.

In 1988, Broyles directed a Pitt State defense that ranked second in the NAIA in rushing defense (67.1 yards per game), and third in the nation in points yielded per game (10.2). The PSU defense also was ranked eighth in total defense, allowing just 240.2 yards per game. In 1980, Broyles' defense at Missouri-Rolla was one of the best in the country, allowing just 34.6 yards per game on the ground, tops among NCAA Division II schools. The 1980 UMR defense forced an incredible 72 turnovers in 10 games, an average of 7.2 per game.

Broyles was a former eight-man football standout at Mulberry High School, before continuing his playing career at PSU. He played both offensive and defensive line for the Gorillas, earning four varsity letters under legendary PSU football coach Carmie Smith. As a senior captain in 1968, Broyles earned NAIA All-American honorable mention accolades at defensive tackle, and he was selected PSU's most outstanding player. Broyles earned a free agent tryout with the NFL's Pittsburgh Steelers the next year.

Chuck returned to PSU to complete his bachelor's degree in education in 1970, and served as a student coach. He accepted an assistant football and wrestling coach position at Carroll High School in Wichita from 1970-72, before returning to his alma mater as a graduate assistant in June of 1972. He earned a master's degree in 1973 while serving as a GA, then served as head football and track coach at Stockton High School in Missouri for a year, before accepting his first full-time college coaching position at Missouri-Rolla in 1973.

Chuck is married to the former Helen Ellwood of Cameron, MO. They live in rural Pittsburg with their three sons, Scott 16, Kyle 11, and Mark 10.

(The following interview between PSU Head Football Coach Chuck Broyles and PSU Sports Information Director Shawn Ahearn took place on July 9, exactly one month before PSU's players reported for fall camp)

Could you talk about some of your philosophies as a football coach? I see myself as a player's coach, the type of coach that players enjoy playing for. I believe that the only way you can be successful as a coach or as a player is through hard work, but at the same time I want to run a fun program. I want everyone to enjoy their work and the success they achieve.

How does it feel to be the head coach at PSU? I've always had a goal of becoming a head coach, and it feels great to be the head coach at PSU. It's a great feeling when you're out eating dinner and a man you barely know wants to introduce his sons to you. I'm very fortunate to be the head coach at PSU, and I want to set a good example, be a good leader. A friend of mine, who is beginning his first season as the offensive coordinator at Florida State, said he was a little nervous about being in such a high-pressure job. But, in the same breath, he said that there are probably more than two or three people who would give their left arm to have it. It's kind of the same situation here, I'm a little nervous going into my first season, but I wouldn't trade a thing.

What makes PSU Football so great? There are so many people who are very sincere and caring about how well we do. Our fans want to see us win, but they have a great perspective about our mission, which is to educate the young men in our program. We're not a win at all costs program. Sure we want to win every game, but we want to do it by the rules with integrity.

What do see as your greatest challenges as head coach? I feel it's our duty to uphold the tradition of PSU football. Our greatest challenge is maintaining the integrity and competitiveness that has been a trademark of Pitt State Football.

Could you talk a little more about the pressure of being the head coach at Pitt State? I hope the pressure to win is a motivating factor. We certainly don't want to be the team that doesn't win the conference title or doesn't have a winning season. But, it's still just a game, not life or death. Our goal will always be to win the national title, but there's only one team that wins it each year. Sometimes our success, our abundance of success in the past, makes us have unrealistic expectations. We've been one of the most successful programs in the country for many years, and we should enjoy it more.

How do you want people to perceive PSU Football? Not for the wins, but for the athletes that have come through our program, earned degrees, gone on to be successful, raised families, and made contributions to their community. Our program is built on loyalty; the town's loyal to the team, the team to the school and the community, the players and coaches are loyal to each other. I also want to people to see our football program as part of an excellent university. Academics are extremely important in our program. We expect every player who comes here to earn a degree. Hopefully, people see our program as more than just wins and losses.

Your team will enter the 1990 season with the nation's longest regular season winning streak, and ranked in the national polls. How do you handle this extra pressure? I can't say that our coaches and players don't look at those things, because we do. Polls and streaks are interesting and fun to watch and they make the news. Hopefully, we'll use them as a motivational tool, because when you're ranked or have a streak, every team will play harder 'cause they want to be the ones to knock you down. The rankings kind of force a team to maintain a high level of intensity each week. But rankings don't really mean a whole lot. At Rolla, we won two MIAA titles and I don't think we were ever picked to finish higher than 3rd or 4th.

Could you briefly talk about last year's team and how it will effect the 1990 Gorillas? After we beat Arkansas State, we truly felt there was no one on the rest of our schedule that we couldn't beat, and that included anyone we might face in the playoffs. But, we suffered a disappointing playoff loss at home in a hard-fought game. It wasn't as devastating as the losses in the NAIA semifinals, but it still hurt, especially for the seniors. Hopefully, the players and coaches who experienced the loss will learn from our mistakes and it will make us a better team this year.

Will Gorillas fans see many changes on the field under Chuck Broyles? Not really, I'll run the defense, and let our offensive coaches handle the offense. We'll still run the veer, but I think we'll mix it up a little more. You won't see two tights (ends) all the time... we may use a one-back formation. We'll try to use our talent, and make the defense cover the whole field a little more.

Could you talk about your coaching staff? I'm really fortunate to have some great coaches working with me. Everything we've done to this point has been bigger and better than ever. All of our coaches are extremely loyal and hard working, willing to do whatever it takes to do the best job they can for PSU. I think our players like and respect our coaches. They're all very people oriented. Their careers are important, but not at a cost to the young men in our program.

Finally, could you discuss the importance of the campus and community to your program? It never ceases to amaze me what the people of Pittsburg and surrounding communities will do for us, whether it's financial, attendance, or just small kindnesses to the program. We're very fortunate to have a supportive administration. It's no secret that President Wilson is our #1 fan and supporter. He has a proper perspective of academics and the role intercollegiate athletics plays in the college experience. He wants us, and every department on campus, to be the best. You can't ask for more.

He also will help monitor the academic progress of PSU student-athletes as part of the athletic department's enhancement program. Stewart also works closely with various PSU camps, and he was a featured speaker at the PSU Coach's Clinic in July.

Bill Samuels Athletic Director

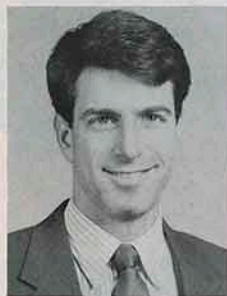

On December 6, 1989, Bill Samuels was named Athletic Director at Pittsburg State University after serving as a coach, instructor and athletic administrator at his alma mater for over 23 years.

Samuels spent 33 years coaching football at the collegiate and high school level before deciding to devote his energies toward athletic administration full time in 1987. Prior to his appointment as athletic director, Samuels served as PSU's associate athletic director for business administration for two years. He has been a guiding force in Pitt State's transition from membership in the NAIA, to the program's current affiliation in the NCAA Division II ranks and the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Samuels also has been an instrumental part of building a solid athletic booster club, the Pittsburg State Athletic Association, which does most of the fundraising for the Gorilla athletic program.

Samuels earned a bachelor of science degree in education from PSU in 1958, after playing quarterback on Pitt State's 1957 NAIA national championship team. In addition to playing quarterback, Samuels kicked the winning extra point that gave PSU a 27-26 victory over Hillsdale in the title game in the Holiday Bowl in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Upon graduation, Samuels served in the military before returning to PSU to earn a master's degree in education. He was an instructor and coach at Riverton High School for three years, joining the PSU coaching staff in 1967.

In addition to coaching football at PSU for 20 years, Samuels also has been an instructor in the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Department. Bill is a native of Carthage, Missouri, where he played football for Carthage High School. He and his wife Frances have three children and reside in Pittsburg.

Russ Jewett Assistant Athletic Director

Russ Jewett has served as an Assistant Athletic Director at Pittsburg State since the fall of 1987.

His primary duties as an assistant AD lie in the area of game administration for PSU's home football and basketball games. Jewett also is responsible for coordinating the scheduling of the Weede Physical Education Building, and he serves on the PSU athletic planning committee.

Jewett recently completed his fourth season as head track and field coach for PSU's women's program, and his third year as head coach of the Gorilla men's track and field program. He led both teams to the 1990 Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association outdoor track and field championship, ending Southeast Missouri State University's impressive string of titles. SEMO's men had won nine straight titles until this year, while the SEMO women had captured six consecutive conference crowns.

Jewett was named the MIAA Coach of the Year. For the PSU men, the 1990 championship marked the program's 10th straight league title, as the Gorillas captured nine consecutive Central State Intercollegiate Conference titles before joining the MIAA. In addition to the team titles in 1990, five PSU track individuals earned NCAA Division II All-America honors this year.

In 1989, Jewett led the PSU men's team to a fourth place finish at the NAIA national championships. He was named the College Track Coach of the Year by the Kansas Cross Country and Track Association.

Jewett earned a bachelor's degree in computer science at PSU in 1983. He was an All-American decathlete in 1982, placing second at the NAIA championships. He served as an assistant coach at PSU for three years before being named the women's head coach in 1986 and the men's head coach the following year.

Jewett started the women's cross country program at PSU, and also serves as the men's head coach.

Russ and his wife Janice, who serves as the director of Pittsburg's Parks and Recreation Department, live in Pittsburg.

Steve Bever Assistant Athletic Director

Steve Bever is in the midst of his first year serving as an assistant athletic director at Pittsburg State. He will assist Russ Jewett with game administration responsibilities at PSU's home football and basketball games this year, in addition to other administrative duties in the PSU athletic department.

In February, Bever was selected to lead the return of Pitt State's baseball program as the Gorillas head coach. PSU fielded an intercollegiate baseball team from 1962 to 1973, but the program was dropped after the 1973 season because of budgetary constraints. The PSU administration decided to bring the national pastime back as a varsity sport beginning with an exhibition schedule this fall. The first season of intercollegiate competition will begin during the spring of 1991.

Prior to his appointment as head baseball coach, Bever had served as PSU's head golf coach for the past three years, and he has held a variety of baseball coaching positions in southeast Kansas at different levels.

As PSU's head golf coach, Bever led the Gorillas to a runner-up finish at the school's first appearance at the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association championships in May. In addition to PSU's success on the links as a team, sophomore golfer Aaron AuBuchon represented PSU at the NCAA Division II national tournament, where he placed eighth in the final standings, earning honorable mention All-America honors. Bever will continue to assist with the golf program, but he has relinquished his title of head coach after building a very solid program capable of challenging for tournament team championships.

This past summer, Bever managed the Girard American Legion baseball team. He also has coached Babe Ruth and semi-pro ball, and was instrumental in initiating the development of a baseball program at Girard High School, serving on the USD #248 Board of Education.

Steve, a four-year starter on the PSU baseball team from 1966-69, earned a bachelor's degree in education at PSU in 1969, and added a master's degree last year. He and his wife Johna live in Farlington, along with their two children, Dawn, who recently completed her freshman year at PSU, and Gabe, who will be a senior at Girard High this fall.

Among numerous honors and accomplishments, Ortolani served as a trainer for the United States at the 1984 and 1976 Olympic Games. In 1982, he was a trainer at the U.S. World Cup in Ecuador, and he also served as the head trainer for the World Championship Games in Romania in 1981. He was the trainer for the U.S. team at the 1979 Pan American games in Puerto Rico, and the 1973 World University Games in the Soviet Union. He also has worked with the U.S. Swim team on several occasions.

Ortolani was PSU's first full-time baseball coach from 1962 to 1966, and was honored as the NAIA District Coach of the Year in 1965. He also has been honored for his contributions to the University, the community and his profession many times.

#7 Pitt State Hosts Upset-Minded SBU Tonight

Powerful Gorilla Offense Faces Stingy Bearcat Defense

The Pittsburg State University Gorillas, ranked 7th in the NCAA Division II national poll this week, enters tonight's contest against Southwest Baptist University with the nation's longest regular season winning streak.

Pitt State has won a remarkable 47 consecutive regular season games. The team's only loss each of the past four years has come in post-season playoff competition. PSU has not lost a regular season football contest since the third game of the 1985 season, a 41-9 setback at Emporia State University.

HOWEVER... the amazing Gorilla winning streak almost came to an end in the third game last season against... you guessed it... Southwest Baptist.

A LOOK BACK AT LAST YEAR'S GAME IN BOLIVAR

The Bearcats exploded for 17 first-quarter points before PSU finally got on the scoreboard early in the second quarter on a 33-yard James Jenkins field goal.

Two Gorilla TD's -- a Jay Padden to Steve Ginavan 70-yard pass, and a 2-yard Kelly Lawson run -- tied the score, then Jenkins hit a 27-yard field goal as the first half expired, giving PSU its first lead of the game, 20-17.

After a scoreless third quarter, SBU regained the lead midway through the fourth period when Reggie Johnson picked off a Padden pass and raced 24 yards for a TD with 8:53 left to play.

After an exchange of punts, Pitt State took over at their own 20, trailing 24-20 with just 5:44 left. The Gorillas then mounted a 12-play, 80-yard scoring drive, capped by a Kenny Davis 8-yard TD run, to regain the lead, 27-24, with only 1:30 left in the game.

Southwest Baptist didn't give up, driving to the PSU 24 yardline with 0:46 to play. However, SBU's upset bid ended with 0:31 seconds to play when Scott Winters' 42-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the right. The Gorillas had survived the closest threat in ending the winning streak in five seasons.

Statistically, Kelly Lawson led Gorilla rushers with 100 yards and a TD on 14 carries, while Padden was 9 of 21 for 123 yards passing with 1 TD and 1 INT.

PREVIEWING TONIGHT'S GAME

Tonight's game features a match-up of one of the strongest, most experienced offenses in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association going up against one of the stingiest defenses in the league.

Pitt State's offense is ranked number one in the nation in scoring among NCAA Division II schools, averaging 54.5 points per contest after two games. PSU is ranked fifth nationally in total offense (493 yards/game) and eighth rushing the football (299.5 yards/game).

In its first two games against two of the premier teams in the league, SBU has allowed only 20.5 points/game. Southeast Missouri, ranked 18th in the NCAA Division II poll this week, beat SBU 21-7, while Northwest Missouri, ranked 15th in the pre-season poll, defeated the Bearcats by a 20-9 margin.

GORILLA LEADER

Senior quarterback Jay Padden, who is 25-2 as PSU's starting quarterback during the past three seasons, is the nation's top-rated quarterback (226.1 rating). In two games this year, Padden is 19 of 31 throwing the ball (61.3%), good for 373 yards and 6 TD's. He has not thrown an interception in 1990, after throwing just 2 INT's all of last year (including playoffs).

Padden has the best career completion percentage of any QB in Pitt State history (54.9%), and he set the school record for career passing TD's (23 and counting) last week. He was 9 of 14 for 174 yards and 3 TD's through the air last week, and he added a 10-yard TD rushing.

THREE-BACK ATTACK

The Gorillas displayed their talent and depth at running back in last week's victory at Missouri Western.

Junior Darren Dawson had his second straight 100-yard game of the season, rushing for 129 yards on 11 carries, after gaining 112 yards (13 att.) in the opener.

Dawson is second in the MIAA and 15th nationally in rushing yards per game (120.6). The only other MIAA back with more yards rushing than Dawson is Mark Brown of Central Missouri (271), but Brown has carried the ball twice as many times (48) as Dawson (24).

Senior Kelly Lawson and sophomore Ronald Moore also had solid games at Western. Lawson scored PSU's first TD on a 37-yard screen pass, while Moore had a 60-yard TD reception (also a screen) and gained 70 yards on the ground on 13 carries. Moore, who had 110 yards rushing and scored 2 TD's in the opener, is fifth in the MIAA in rushing (90.5 yards per game).

A NEW DIMENSION

Ronnie West, a 6-2, 220-pound transfer from NE Oklahoma A&M, has added an exciting new dimension to PSU's attack.

In his collegiate debut, West caught 6 passes for 157 yards-- including 3 first-half TD's -- and added another score on a 7-yard reverse. He compiled a total of 251 all-purpose yards in the opener.

Last week at MWSC, West made five catches for 49 yards, and gave Gorilla fans a few thrills returning kicks. He had a 77-yard punt return for a TD called back because of a clipping penalty, but followed that return with a 76-yard punt return that set up Don Tolar's three-yard TD run. West also had a 40-yard kick-off return that he nearly broke for a score.

VETERAN LINE PAVES WAY

PSU's offense features a veteran line, which includes four first-team All-MIAA selections from '89: center Tim Sinclair (5-11, 265), guard Kendall Gammon (6-6, 280), tackle Brian Hoover (6-3, 285), and tight end Jody Truitt (6-5, 250).

Guard Mike Brockel (5-10, 258), tackle Jeff Mundhenke (6-5, 290) and tight end Brian Pinamonti (6-2, 220) also start up front, giving PSU an average size of about 6-3, 260 pounds.

YOUNG DEFENSE IMPROVING

The inexperience of the Gorilla "D" showed during the Northeast game, as PSU yielded 30 points for the first time since the '86 opener. However, PSU allowed just 7 points last week. Western gained 336 total yards, but scored just once. The "bend, but don't break" gang had a great stand just before halftime as Western failed to score after driving to the PSU 12-yard line.

SCOUTING SBU

The Bearcats return seven starters on offense and eight starters on defense from a team that posted a 5-5 overall record under coach Jim Hall last year. SBU won four of its last five game in '89, and seemed to have momentum and confidence going into the 1990 campaign.

But, the biggest problem the 'Cats have encountered this year has been the grueling early-season schedule. SBU opened the year at Southeast Missouri, ranked 18th in the NCAA-II poll this week, then returned home to face Northwest Missouri, a playoff team from '89 who was picked as high as 4th in the nation in one pre-season publication.

Now, all SBU has to do to earn their first victory of the season is come into the Jungle and beat the 7th-ranked Gorillas!

'CAT ATTACK STRUGGLING WITHOUT LESTER BAKER

Southwest Baptist has played pretty well on defense against two of the better offenses in the league, holding Southeast to 21 points and Northwest to 20.

However, the 'Cat attack has struggled without fullback Lester Baker, who graduated in '89, after earning MIAA Offensive Player of the Year honors. After two games, the Bearcats are averaging just 49.5 yards rushing (last in the MIAA) and 8.0 points per game.

THE MIAA THIS WEEK

Southwest Baptist at PITT STATE, 7 pm
MO Southern at NW Missouri, 1:30 pm
MO Western at MO-Rolla, 1:30 pm
Northeast MO at Washburn, 7 pm
Southeast MO at Eastern Kentucky, 7:30
Central MO is idle

LOOKING AHEAD: Pitt State will travel to Lawton, Oklahoma for a non-conference showdown at Cameron Univ. next Saturday (Sept. 22) at 7 pm.

GORILLA MENTORS

Chuck Broyles, 43, served as PSU's assistant head coach and defensive coordinator the past two seasons, before being promoted to the head coaching post in December when Dennis Franchione accepted the head coaching position at NCAA Division I-AA affiliate Southwest Texas State.

Franchione compiled a 53-6 overall mark at PSU (.898), the best winning percentage in school history... except for Broyles, of course, who is undefeated as head coach!

Broyles served as the defensive coordinator at the University of Missouri-Rolla from 1974-83 and again during the 1986 and '87 campaigns. Rolla captured two MIAA titles during his tenure.

PSU offensive coordinator Jerry Kill has returned to the Gorilla sidelines in style after a two-year absence. Kill led Webb City High School to the Missouri Class 4A state championship last fall, and a 25-1 overall mark in two years at the helm, after serving as an assistant coach at PSU from 1985-88.

In his first two games as PSU's offensive coordinator, the Gorillas have scored more points (109) than any NCAA Division II team in the country!

COACH HALL

Jim Hall is currently 8-14 in two-plus seasons as head football coach at Southwest Baptist.

Hall has been an instrumental part of the SBU

Bearcat program since 1983, the first year the football program was reinstated.

THE SERIES

Last year's thrilling 27-24 contest in Bolivar was the first meeting ever between the two teams. Tonight marks the first time SBU has ever played a football game in Pittsburg.

BROYLES ON SW BAPTIST

"They've definitely had the toughest schedule in the MIAA so far. They've had a little trouble scoring, but they are playing excellent defense, going up against two pretty good offenses the first two weeks. They haven't given up many yards or points. We didn't match-up with them well last year, and we'll have to do a better job up front this year on both sides of the ball. Southwest Baptist will be hungry to win and our players will have to be ready to play on Saturday."

BROYLES ON WESTERN GAME

"Offensively, even though we didn't feel like we played as good as we did the first game, we still put a lot of points on the board and were very explosive."

"Defensively, we stretched the old saying 'bend, but don't break' to its fullest limits. Our defense played a lot of minutes, and we were pleased with the aggressiveness -- we still have a lot of work to do."

Padden's Consistency Pays Dividends for Gorillas

Pitt State Senior QB Among the Best in the NCAA Division II Ranks

By Shawn Ahearn
PSU Sports Information Director

Before the start of the 1988 college football season, Pittsburg State University had a real dilemma.

Pitt State's All-American quarterback, a slick leader by the name of Gene Stegeman, had graduated after three years as a starter. PSU was about to unveil a new signal caller.

Former head coach Dennis Franchione was about to turn PSU's offense over to an unproven sophomore from Marysville, Kansas by the name of Jay Padden. He looked like he had a pretty strong arm, but was this tall lanky kid really the type of player who should be directing the Gorillas' run-oriented option veer attack?

You betcha!

During the last three years, Padden, now a senior, has more than proven himself. In fact, some people are starting to wonder if he isn't the best quarterback in Pitt State history.

And the numbers don't dispute their claim.

Consider this: Padden has the best winning percentage (92.6%) of any starting quarterback in PSU history. Padden is 25-2 as the Gorillas starter at QB. Pitt State has never lost a regular season game with Padden as the starting signal caller.

Consider this: Entering tonight's game against Southwest Baptist, Padden is the nation's top rated quarterback. His rating, a mathematical formula which considers completions, attempts, yards, touchdowns and interceptions, is 226.2. The next best rating in the MIAA is 126.6. Super Bowl MVP Joe Montana had a rating last year of about 180.

QB Jay Padden is the nation's top rated NCAA Division II passer entering tonight's game. He set the PSU school record for TD passes in a career (23) last week.

Consider this: Padden has thrown more TD passes than any other PSU quarterback (23), and he has the best career completion percentage in Pitt State history (54.9%), hitting 128 of 234 passes during regular season play. With 174 yards passing last week, he passed Phil Vogrin for seventh place on PSU's career passing yardage chart. He now has 2128 yards passing, and needs just 335 more to move into second place.

Padden's number's are impressive, yet his importance to the success of the Gorilla offense can't really be measured numerically. It's the intangibles that make him such a great quarterback -- reading the defense on the option, changing plays at the line of scrimmage just before the snap, and perhaps the most important quality of all, leadership.

PSU head coach Chuck Broyles may have summed it up best. "When Jay was a sophomore, our coaching staff felt we could win despite him. When he was a junior, we felt we could win with him. Now he's a senior, and I'm not sure we could win without him. He's matured into an outstanding leader."

"When I was a sophomore, the game plan was much more detailed," said Padden. "The coaches didn't have much faith in me, but we had a great offensive line and we did pretty well."

The Gorillas did more than pretty well. Pitt State went 11-1 and reached the semifinals of the NAIA playoffs before losing.

"Now, our game plans aren't as detailed," Padden continued. "The coaches have confidence in me, and give me much more flexibility. They allow me to make more decisions."

Padden was quick to add that having such outstanding players around him makes him a better player.

"When I watch game films, I see a lot of things I do wrong, reads that I miss," he said. "But when you have great backs that gain 5 or 6 yards just about every play, or go 60 yards with a screen pass, and a great line, they make you look good. When there are three open receivers, it's hard not to hit one of them."

PSU offensive coordinator Jerry Kill, looking at the national statistics Monday after practice, said, "it's pretty nice when you have the nation's number five rushing offense and the nation's top rated quarterback at the same time. Jay's doing a better job than I thought he was."

Kill's statement about Padden about sums up Jay's effective style of leadership. He's definitely not flashy, and he may not be the quickest option QB in the country, but he does a great job making decisions and leading PSU traditionally strong attack.

"I think I've been consistent during my career," said Padden modestly. "I haven't had many turnovers, and I think I run the offense pretty well."

Padden, who was runner-up for MIAA Offensive Player of the Year honors in 1989, is pleased with his career thus far, but he is looking forward to challenges ahead the rest of the season.

"I want to go undefeated and see what we can do in the NCAA playoffs," he said. "Our offense is one of the best in the country, if not the best, and our defense will keep getting better with confidence. Hopefully, we can go far this year."

No matter how far PSU goes as a team this year, Padden has already come a long way as a college quarterback. In fact, he is definitely one of the best QB's Pitt State has ever had.

Making the Transition from Player to Coach

By Shawn Ahearn
PSU Sports Information Director

After spending about nine or 10 months each year training for football seasons as college players, several members of the Pittsburg State University coaching staff are now spending their time and energy teaching others to play the game they dedicated so much of their lives to as graduate assistant coaches.

It is truly one of the toughest jobs in intercollegiate athletics.

The graduate assistant, commonly known as a GA, not only has to juggle classes -- attending them and teaching them as well -- but he must perform basically the same duties as a full-time assistant coach.

"It's very difficult being a GA," said PSU head coach Chuck Broyles. "You basically have the same amount of responsibility as a full-time coach. They're here when we're. The only difference is you're paid a lot less."

PSU has four GA's this year and two student assistant coaches who are completing requirements for their bachelor's degree.

The Pitt State GA's this year include Donnie Johnson, a former PSU defensive back who is responsible for coaching Gorilla tight ends; John Roderique, an All-American inside linebacker at PSU last year who now coaches PSU's outside linebackers; Chris Curtis, a defensive lineman at Southwest Baptist last year who now coaches PSU's defensive tackles; and Bill Kroenke, who coaches PSU's wide receivers after completing a degree in education at the University of Arkansas. PSU also has two student assistants, former PSU players Dale Fuchs and Ted Adams.

"We couldn't do without our GA's and student assistants," said Broyles. "They are position coaches in our program, and they are the head coach of their positions, both at practice and during games."

Some of Pitt State's GA's coach the position they once played, while others are coaching a new position. Each GA seems to have his own unique situation.

"I like coaching the linebackers," said Roderique. "As our defensive captain last year, it's been a natural transition. Since I played beside most of these guys, I know them pretty well."

"The toughest part is maintaining a player/coach relationship," Roderique continued. "Now I'm more of a teacher instead of their buddies. We're still good friends, but the relationship is different."

Curtis said that because he came to PSU from a different school, establishing a player/coach relationship was easy.

"It's easier for me than John because I didn't play here," he said. "My military background also teaches you how to handle an authoritative position."

Curtis, who is a sergeant in the United States Marine Corps, spent several weeks this summer training for "mountain warfare" in Northern California.

Johnson said this season, his second as a GA at Pitt State, has been much easier than the first year for several reasons.

"Last year, I had to learn our offense along with the players, because I spent four years on defense," he said. "I'm more comfortable this year, more confident in what I'm doing."

Kroenke is in a unique situation because he didn't play college football and now is responsible for coaching the wide receivers, including one of the

Chris Curtis will be coaching against his former teammates tonight. Curtis said, "I hope SBU finishes second in the MIAA this year... behind Pitt State."

Former PSU All-American linebacker John Roderique discusses strategy with current Gorilla player and former teammate Jamie Goodson in preparation for a PSU game.

Gorillas premier players, Ronnie West.

"Working with our players is a joy," said Kroenke. "They have great attitudes about learning, improving from their mistakes. It doesn't matter which coach corrects them, they respond in a positive fashion because they want to get better."

Even though each coaching situation is different, they all agree on two things: they'd rather be on the field knocking heads than pacing the sidelines, and they all want to continue in the profession.

"I still have a burning desire to play," said Johnson. "It's frustrating being in the press box and watching a player make a mistake. I just want to go out on the field and do it the right way myself."

Roderique agreed. "Sometimes it's hard getting a player to see the game the same way a coach sees it. As a player, the game is mostly physical. But as a coach, there's so much mental preparation involved. Sometimes players just don't understand why coaches want things a certain way."

For the GA's in PSU's program, the transition from player to coach continues. And for some lucky football program out there, a future head coach is currently being groomed.

The Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association is a 12-member conference of schools located in Missouri and Kansas which compete at the NCAA Division II level. First organized as a 14-member league in 1912, the MIAA has undergone several changes during the past decade, highlighted by expansion and increased participation in national championship competition.

In 1924, the league included only the five regional state colleges in Missouri: Central Missouri State, Northeast Missouri State, Northwest Missouri State, Southeast Missouri State, and Southwest Missouri State. In 1935, the MIAA added what is now known as the University of Missouri-Rolla, with Lincoln University joining the league in 1970. Ten years later, the University of Missouri-St. Louis joined the conference, while Southwest Missouri State withdrew from the league following the 1980-81 season to seek NCAA Division I status. Southwest Baptist University became the eighth league member in 1986.

July 10, 1987 marked a major milestone for the MIAA as league institutional representatives voted to admit Missouri Southern State College, Missouri Western State College, Pittsburg State University and Washburn University. The four new schools competed for MIAA championships in all men's and women's sports during the 1989-90 academic year. Southeast Missouri officials have announced their intentions to seek NCAA Division I status with plans to leave the MIAA following the 1991-92 year. Emporia State University will replace Southeast as the MIAA's 12th school in 1992.

The MIAA has gained recognition as one of the top NCAA Division II athletic conferences in the nation, conducting championships in eight men's and seven women's sports. For the men, champions are crowned in football, cross country, basketball, and indoor and outdoor track and field, baseball, tennis, and golf. For women, the MIAA conducts championships in volleyball, cross country, basketball, softball, indoor and outdoor track and field, and tennis.

Ken B. Jones is the commissioner of the MIAA, and his appointment in July, 1981, as the first full-time commissioner, marked the beginning of a new era of conference organization and activity. Jones previously served as Vice-President of Tarkio College and Assistant Commissioner of the Big Eight Conference. The conference headquarters are located in Maryville, Missouri.

1990 Bulldog Outlook

First-year head coach Eric Holm will guide the Bulldogs this year, but MIAA sanctions against the football program will prevent the team from contending for the league title. After compiling a 4-7 overall mark in 1989, NEMO has seven offensive starters returning. Senior quarterback Jeff Frost (153-of-384, 1990 yds, 10 TD's), a two-year starter and an MIAA honorable mention selection in '89, will direct the attack. Frost's favorite target, second team All-MIAA selection Benny Pardue (54 receptions, 786 yards and 3 TD's), also should have an outstanding senior campaign. Scott Bresaw (16-17 PAT's, 10-15 FG's) returns as NEMO's placekicker after earning second team All-MIAA honors. Two of the Northeast's seven returnees on defense received conference honors in '89. Third team defensive back Bill Strickler (team-leading 86 tackles) and All-American candidate Greg Rideout will lead the secondary. Honorable mention defensive lineman Chris Cannon (73 tackles) returns to anchor the front line. Northeast's key to success in 1990 will be the team's ability to stop the run. The 'Dogs yielded 268 yards per game on the ground last year.

1990 Griffon Outlook

After logging its first winning campaign since 1981, Missouri Western hopes to keep improving during the 1990 season. Coach Dennis Darnell's squad was 6-5 in 1989, and the Griffons posted a 6-4 mark in the program's first season of MIAA competition. Western has broken its school record for rushing yardage the past two seasons, and the team will rely on the ground game again this year. Troyce Gill gained 906 of the team's 2964 yards on the ground as a sophomore last season, earning third team All-MIAA honors. Quarterback Joe Reid, also a third team pick as a sophomore in 1989, is back to run the offense, as is the entire starting offensive line. Nine starters return on defense, including All-MIAA third team cornerback Dee Brownlee (78 tackles, 5 blocked kicks) and honorable mention linebacker Bruce Hollowell, the team leader in tackles (120) in 1989. Defense, and continuing the effective running game, will be the keys to Western's success this year. Last season, the Griffons allowed 411.5 yards and 32.2 points per game.

1990 Bearcat Outlook

Southwest Baptist posted several impressive victories under Coach Jim Hall during a 5-5 campaign in '89. The young team also lost three games in the fourth quarter after leading, including a heartbreaking near-upset of league champion Pitt State. SBU matured as the season progressed, winning four of its last five games. This year, seven starters return on offense and eight starters are back on defense. SBU must replace the MIAA Offensive Player of the Year, Lester Baker, who set 17 school records. Cody Franklin (49 atts, 237 yards and 1 TD), Randy Crystian (injured last year) and several others will challenge for backfield positions. Senior QB Heath Kuykendall (38-of-62, 566 yards, 5 TD's, 3 INT's) started the last two games, but transfer Trevor Spradley should challenge. Wade Hopkins (51 receptions, 527 yards and 5 TD's), a first team All-MIAA pick, leads the receivers. On defense, leading tackler and second team All-MIAA linebacker Tony Berry (100 tackles) returns, along with Gary McMurphy (81 tackles) and Bryan Carruth (61 tackles). Reggie Johnson (5 INT's) and Todd Leach are back in the secondary.

1990 Aggie Outlook

In the Gorillas only non-conference game of the year, PSU will face Cameron University, the team which twice ended PSU's quest for a national title in the semifinals of the NAIA national playoffs (1986 and 1987). New head coach Frank Crosson, the Aggies' defensive coordinator for the past six seasons, hopes to lead the team out of the lower division of the tough Lone Star Conference. Last season, Cameron posted a 3-7 overall mark, and tied for 5th in the LSC at 2-5. Losses at quarterback, offensive line, and linebacker could slow the improving process for Cameron. Crosson has brought in five high school recruits to battle for the trigger position, so the youth may show on the Aggies offense. Key offensive returnees include running backs Michael Ivory (83 carries, 420 yards and 2 TD's) and Kerry Kyle (69 carries, 308 yards and 3 TD's). Ivory won the Lone Star's Freshman of the Year Award in 1989. Senior defensive linemen Stoney Mathis (47 tackles, 13 for losses) and Herman Stevenson (55 tackles) will lead a defensive squad that ranked third in the LSC last fall.

1990 Indian Outlook

After 67 years as a member of the MIAA, Southeast will move to NCAA Division I status and membership in the Ohio Valley Conference in 1991. However, the MIAA Infractions Committee ruled SEMO ineligible for the MIAA football title this year because of unethical conduct by former coaches and a lack of sufficient institutional control. John Mumford, a 1979 PSU graduate, takes over as head coach after serving as SEMO's defensive coordinator last fall. In 1989, SEMO lost four of its first five games, but reeled off six straight victories to finish at 7-4 and in third place in the league. Six starters return on both offense and defense, but SEMO must replace the MIAA's leading passer, Jim Eustice (2,128 yards, 12 TD's in '89). Sophomore QB Jason Liley (35 of 61, 445 yards, 2 TD's) figures to be the starter. Junior wideout Darrell Philon (43 catches, 679 yards, 4 TD's) was a second team All-MIAA selection in '89, while senior Steve Jones (382 yards on 79 carries, 6 TD's) leads the ground game. The entire line returns intact. On defense, Southeast will be led by cornerback Roy Amos (47 tackles, 3 INT's) and LB Michael Dickerson (62 tackles).

1990 Bearcat Outlook

After finishing second to Pitt State in the MIAA standings in 1989, Northwest Missouri has plenty of experience returning for another charge at the conference crown. The Bearcats also have the potential to reach the NCAA national playoffs, where they lost a first-round game to PSU last season, again in 1990. Eight starters are back on both sides of the ball for Coach Bud Elliott, including a pair of All-American candidates. Jason Agee, a 1989 first team Kodak All-America selection as a junior, returns at free safety after snagging seven interceptions and blocking four kicks. First team All-MIAA middle linebacker Dave Svehla (154 tackles) also returns to lead the defense. On offense, Ed Tillison (182 attempts, 1219 yards, 8 TD's) is back at fullback after earning first-team All-MIAA honors, and junior QB Jeremy Wilson, who also ran for nearly 1,000 yards last year as the trigger man in the wishbone, returns as well. Northwest's offense produced 407.3 yards per game, including 349.4 yards per contest on the ground. The Sporting News ranked Northwest 6th in its pre-season NCAA Division II poll. The Cats could easily live up to the expectations.

1990 Mule Outlook

Central Missouri posted a disappointing 5-6 overall record last season, and the Mules will try to rebuild this year under head coach Terry Noland, who begins his eighth year at the helm with new a offensive philosophy. Central, primarily a passing team in the past, plans to place more emphasis on the ground game in 1990. Mark Brown (144 atts, 537 yards, 2 TD's) an MIAA honorable mention selection last season, is the Mules' top returning rusher and pass receiver. Central's quarterback position is up for grabs. Jim Nienhaus (77 of 159, 806 yards, 13 INT, 3 TD) was the starter last fall, before losing his job to Nick Puhlick (64 of 132, 989 yards, 9 TD, 9 INT), who suffered a season-ending knee injury in the seventh game.. Whoever is at QB will have a veteran corp of receivers led by Brown (29 rec, 284 yard) coming out of the backfield and wide receiver Edwin Coleman (20 rec, 320 yards, 5 TD's). On defense, CMSU will switch from a 5-2 to 4-3 this season. First team All-MIAA performer Mark Peoples (51 tackles, 3 INT's) returns at cornerback, with tackle Mike Glass (63 tackles) anchoring the line, and Greg Sloan (79 tackles) leading the linebackers.

1990 Miner Outlook

It is highly unlikely that the Missouri-Rolla football team can start the 1990s in the same fashion they did the 1980s. After all, the 1980 UMR team went undefeated, and last year's Miner team was only 1-9. However, veteran head coach Charley Finley, who begins his 19th season at the Miner helm, is optimistic that this year's team will be much better than the previous one. Offensively, six starters are back, including an experienced offensive line with four returning starters. Tight end Chris Kennedy (12 rec, 169 yards, 1 TD) and wingback Vincent Banks (26 attempts, 257 yards, 3 TD) are the only returning starters at the skill positions. Junior Mike Wise (2 of 7, 68 yards, 1 TD, 1 INT) appears to be the frontrunner at QB after seeing limited action last year. Defensively, the Miners have eight starters returning, led by second team All-MIAA defensive end Mike Swinford (63 tackles, 5 QB sacks). Mike Noble (59 tackles) leads the linebackers, while a talented secondary is headed up by free safety Mark Diamond (75 tackles) and cornerback Dan Herzberg (26 stops).

1990 Ichabod Outlook

As the Ichabods enter their second season in the MIAA, the Washburn University coaching staff will try to mesh 15 returning starters and many young players to improve on last year's campaign. The Ichabods ended the 1989 season with a 3-7 record under Coach Larry Elliott, but the school had to forfeit the three wins due to the use of two ineligible players. This year, senior quarterback Mark Johnson (81 of 197, 924 yards, 4 TD, 9 INT) and senior running back Les Williams will lead a young Washburn offense that features just four seniors. Williams, who was redshirted last season due to an injury, rushed for 947 yards and five TD's on 206 attempts in 1988. Defensively, the secondary appears to be WU's strong point with Scott Koranda (60 tackles) and Kevin Marshall (30 tackles, four fumble rec.) back from a year ago. Junior college transfers Lawrence Minnifield, Scottsdale (AZ), and Todd McGhghy, Fort Dodge (KS), are expected to upgrade the linebacking corps. The key to WU's success will be the offense's ability to generate more than the 241 yards of total offense and the 13.2 points per game it registered last year.

1990 Lion Outlook

Under the direction of first-year head coach Jon Lantz, Missouri Southern was one of the surprise teams in its first MIAA season last year. After compiling a 6-4 record and a fourth-place tie in the league standings in '89, the Lions could be a contender for the MIAA title this season as 32 lettermen, including 16 starters, return. The defensive unit, which led the NCAA Division II ranks in pass defense (93.0 yards per game), returns nine starters, led by third-team All-MIAA picks Lamonte Blanford (58 tackles) and Jason Wright (63 tackles, 11.5 for loss) at the strong safeties and two-time honorable mention All-Conference tackle Jeff Henault (63 tackles, 11 for loss). Three All-MIAA performers are among the seven returning starters on offense. Wide receiver Heath Helsel (32 rec., 460 yards, 9 TD) and guard John Reynolds were first-team choices, while guard Mike Cherry earned honorable mention honors. MSSC must replace Alan Brown, tragically injured in an auto accident, at QB, but fullback Cleon Burrell (86 car., 420 yard, 6 TD), and tailback Sean James (71 car., 279 yards) are a solid backfield duo. Rick Lairmore (21-22 PAT's and 4-6 FG's), a second-team All-MIAA choice last season, also returns.

Indian Stadium, Jonesboro, Arkansas

PSU upset Arkansas State, a Division I-AA opponent, to extend the Gorillas' regular season winning streak to 44 games. Gorillas in the Pros

Pittsburg State's tradition of excellence in football doesn't stop at the gates of Brandenburg Field/Carnie Smith Stadium. For six players, it has meant continuing with careers in the Professional football ranks. PSU can stake claim to producing a two-time American Football League all-star, and the coach of one of the best teams in the National Football League.

Eldon Danenhauer, who was an offensive tackle for the Gorillas in the late 1950's, played six seasons (1960-65) and served as a scout for two more (1966-67) with the Denver Broncos of the AFL. He was named to two All-AFL teams by The Sporting News players poll, and also played in two AFL All-Star Games.

LeRoy Andrews played on some of the school's earliest teams, and can lay claim to coaching one of the NFL's most successful franchises. As player/coach of the Detroit Wolverines in 1928, Andrews led his team to a 7-2-1 record in their only season of play. The Official NFL Encyclopedia of Pro Football ranked the Wolverines as the franchise with the highest winning percentage. Andrews coached six teams, four as a player/coach, and posted a 53-32-6 record in nine seasons.

John Levra never played pro football, but he's in his 11th season as a pro assistant coach. He began with the British Columbia Lions in 1980, then joined on to Bum Phillips' New Orleans Saints from 1981-85. Levra joined the Chicago Bears as defensive line coach when Vince Tobin, who he worked with in B.C., was named defensive coordinator in 1986.

Ron Freeman played linebacker in the United States Football League with the Pittsburgh Maulers and the Orlando Renegades from 1984-85.

Bob Tarrant, a split end, played in 1936 with both the NFL's New York Giants and the Boston Shamrocks of an early AFL.

Joe Murphy, who coached football and swimming at PSU from 1949-76, played briefly for the St. Louis Gunners in 1934.

While these six actually played or coached in the regular season, several others were drafted or signed as free agents and earned a chance to make the roster. Among them are Monte Weathers, current Gorilla head coach Chuck Broyles, Rex Garner, Richard Overton, Len Mansfield, Ted Stahura, Jerry Archer, Alan Spencer, Phil Vogrin and Albert Schmidt.

Smith Scholarship Winners: The 1990 recipients of the Carnie and Cora Smith Scholarship are juniors Darren Dawson, Jamie Goodson (front) and Brian Pinamonti, and sophomore Troy Wilson (back). The scholarship winners, pictured here with Cora Smith, wife of former PSU coach Carnie Smith, have all achieved a minimum 3.0 grade point average. The Carnie and Cora Smith Scholarship Endowment was established in 1979 to benefit PSU football players who excel on both the field and in the classroom. Several hundred people have contributed to the endowment, which has benefitted nearly 50 PSU players during the past 12 years.

"The Voice of the Gorillas"

KKOW play-by-play announcer Tom Van Hoy (left) and field man Tom McNally (right) will call Gorilla Football games in 1990.

For the fourth straight year, all Pittsburg State home and away football games can be heard live on KKOW Radio, 860 on the AM dial. KKOW and Pittsburg State are in the second year of a three-year agreement which makes the radio station the official "Voice of Gorilla Football" through the 1991 season.

In addition to carrying all PSU football games, KKOW also will broadcast all of PSU's men's basketball games live, and carry six women's basketball games during the 1990-91 campaign as well. KKOW's nightly sports show will also feature each Gorilla team.

Veteran sportscaster Tom Van Hoy returns to the Pitt State broadcast booth this year. Van Hoy was the play-by-play man for Gorilla football and basketball from 1977-81, and he also broadcast PSU basketball during the '84-85 and '86-87 campaigns. Van Hoy has hosted a variety of sports shows during his broadcast career, including KKOW's nightly sports call-in show. Lynn Meredith, former defensive coordinator at PSU and currently the general manager at KKOW, is pencilled in to do color commentary this year, while Tom McNally will once again provide updates from the sidelines during games.

The pre-game show, featuring interviews with PSU players and both coaches, begins one half-hour before kickoff each game.

KOAM-TV Channel 7

"Home of the Chuck Broyles Show"

For the third year in a row, KOAM-TV Channel 7 will telecast the Pittsburg State Coach's Show, a weekly half-hour television program featuring previews, reviews and feature stories on Pitt State Football.

The "Chuck Broyles Show" will premier this fall, feature the Gorillas new head coach.

KOAM-TV sports director Darren Prather will serve as host of the television show once again this year, with sports reporter Jay Radzavicz providing weekly features.

Prather, a graduate of Southwest Missouri State University, has worked at KOAM Sports for the past seven years, serving as sports director for the past five. Radzavicz has been with the TV station for nearly two years. The coach's show has received several awards during the past two years. In 1989, the Association of News Broadcasters of Kansas recognized the program for a segment entitled "48 Hours to Gametime" which previewed the preparation by players and coaches leading up to kickoff.

The show will air each Friday night and early Saturday afternoon during the season. Please check your local listings for exact time and channel. The pre-season show was telecast in primetime for the second straight year.

The Pittsburgh State University "Pride of the Plains Marching Band" will perform at halftime of all of Pittsburg State's home football games once again this year.

Under the leadership of first-year director, James Tapia, the band will carry on the fine musical tradition that has become a part of Gorilla football. Tapia comes to PSU from the University of Texas, where he was an assistant conductor and teaching assistant

The Pride of Plains Marching Band took the field sporting new cadet-style uniforms last year that were designed by former director Dr. Corcoran. The new uniforms feature a cadet-style white coat and cap, gold wrist gauntlets and a cape with red on the outside and a gold lining.

We're sure you are going to enjoy the 1990 version of the Pride of the Plains Marching Band!

Courtesy Cars

Two Pittsburg-area automobile dealers, Pittsburg Ford and Huebner Motors, provide courtesy cars to coaches in the Pitt State athletic department. Because the cars are used primarily for recruiting purposes, the automobile dealers play a vital role in the success of our teams and their generosity is greatly appreciated.

PSU Athletic Hall of Fame

Twenty-one former Pittsburg State University coaches and student-athletes have been enshrined in the Pittsburg State Athletic Hall of Fame during the past two years.

Five new members will join the Hall as PSU's third class of inductees during Homecoming ceremonies on October 13. Six members were inducted to the PSU Hall of Fame in 1989, after a group of 15 charter members received the honor the previous fall.

"Pittsburg State has a long history of a very strong inter-collegiate athletic program," said PSU President Donald W. Wilson. "We are proud of the accomplishments that these individuals have made to that strong tradition, and they will be honored from now on as members of our Hall of Fame."

A six-person selection committee composed of alumni and current athletic staff members evaluates the merits of the candidates who have been nominated for this distinction. The committee will select a new class each fall, with an induction ceremony scheduled as part of PSU's Homecoming festivities.

The Hall of Fame is located in the south hallway on the first floor of the Weede Physical Education Building, where the photos of the inductees hang along with a mural honoring PSU's national championship football teams.

Brandenburg Field/Carnie Smith Stadium

The Pittsburg State University football stadium and field, now known as Brandenburg Field/Carnie Smith Stadium, was built in 1923 with volunteer labor and money donated by students, alumni, faculty and citizens of Pittsburg.

The facility was first named in honor of William Aaron Brandenburg, the first president of the University. In 1987, the University announced that the field would continue to bear the name of PSU's first president, but the stadium would now be called Carnie Smith Stadium in honor of the legendary PSU football coach who led the Gorillas to two NAIA national championships (1957 and 1961) and six conference titles during his tenure from 1949 to 1966.

During the past three years, Brandenburg Field/Carnie Smith Stadium has undergone over a million dollars worth of renovations, making the stadium one of the finest small college athletic facilities in the nation. The state-of-the-art August and Helen Rua Press Box was completed in time for the 1989 football season, and PSU hosted its first outdoor track meet on the new polyurethane Prentice Gudgen Track last spring. Other parts of the major renovation project included the installation of an electronic message center and scoreboard, a new sound system, new lights, comfortable seating mounted in the bleachers, as well as a new bermuda grass playing surface.

Construction of the facility began with volunteer labor during the summer of 1923, after a successful fund drive raised the necessary $100,000 to build the stadium. To ensure the stadium would be built in time for the 1924 season, PSU faculty members were required to contribute up to eight hours of labor per week.

On October 11, 1924, the first varsity football game was played between PSU (known as Kansas State Teachers College) and Baker University in front of approximately 4,000 fans. The Gorillas didn't disappoint the many people who worked so hard to build the new facility, earning a 6-0 victory over Baker.

The west stands of the stadium seat 3,600 spectators, and the east stands, added in 1940, seat an additional 2,000 people. The stadium is architecturally notable for the concrete relief over the front entrance, which was sculpted by PSU alumnus Waylande Gregory.
