Mae West Comes To Town, April 3

Costumes in Faculty Play To Be Dutch Dresses, Says Laney Director.

Believe it or not but Mae West is coming to town. She will breeze in soon with her singing and her admirers. It is not for publication, as yet, who she will be, but just you wait; then come to see her April 3.

Mr. Ray Heady isn't the only one in the Heady family with talent. The director, Miss Maude Laney, in her wide search uncovered a doll; for after once seeing Mrs. Ray Heady, in the role of a doll, you will understand how she got her part.

There is a great dispute in the role of the burro. Two of the faculty members have been chosen but they are having a personal argument as to who will be the "knowledge" part of the animal and who will follow. They will be left to fight it out.

DONALD KEITH'S BIRTH-DAY COMES FEB. 29.

Feb. 29, 1936, to the "sweet young things," may mean only that they may once more start in quest of a male to satisfy their longings, but to Donald Keith, junior, it was a red-letter day, because it was the first birthday he has had in four Donald was born on Feb. 29, 1920, in Chanute. He came to Pittsburg to live at the age of fourteen, and at that time entered the ninth grade at Roosevelt junior high school.

According to Don, he never does "much of anything" to celebrate the great event. Last year he spent the day at home, but this year he visited in Kansas City.

He is the only student in high school whose birthday is on Feb.

CASH IN ON YELLOW TICKETS. Marianne would like to travel. To see England.

France, the Orient, and a thousand out of the way places is the object of all her dreams. From what she had learned in geography, she knows that the old world hemisphere offers countless experiences to those fortunate enough to have the time and money to travel.

Yet Marianne doesn't know that a little yellow card would be her passport, her steamship ticket and her money-bag. A library card. Of all things! Imagine, traveling all over the world, via books, and still be sitting comfortably at home.

If Marianne only knew, that she could have

*Richard Halliburton, Admiral Byrd, or even Mark Twain or Marco Polo for her personal guides, think how happy she would be.

Poor Marianne! Through the foresight of Andrew Carnegie, she could travel all over the world, visiting a million places, living vicariously throughout the pages of hundreds of good travel books, yet she misses it all.

Do you?-M. A. M.

SELECTIVE THINKING.

Just what does the word "selective" mean? According to Webster it means results of discriminating choice.

Now do we, as high school students, take adwe should apply our choice, not just follow the crowd, as a great majority do. We must use our will power, our mind, and do in all things what we think will be of most benefit to the school, the community, and the most beneficial to ourselves when we are ready to begin the great journey of life.

In the books we read, we should use discriminating choice. We should choose the books from which we will receive the most benefit. Not only in selecting books, but in everything we do, we should "think for ourselves." If all of us did this there would be no need for some people to do all the thinking.

Give your brain a try and just see what you can accomplish .- T. S.

"NOW IN MY DAY"

What's all this "hooey" they have been "feeding" the high school students about "the future of America lies in your hands"----

"To you, the coming generation, we bequeath all life"-and so forth and so on. Eloquent speeches made by the grandpapas in the multiple, big and little cities of a nation struggling against careless-

"Now in my day, our young people were not interested in the art of dodging telegraph poles in their speeding cars-

Humph-in your day, you didn't know what a car was. But you knew just what horsepower old Dobbin could steam up for some young lady's benefit.

But here! That is all past the point. It is not a record for which the drivers of any age, class, or creed, should strive, but the pleasure and benefit derived from actual observation behind the sign. boards-"Safety First."-R. H.

IS IT WORTH IT?

What is this school anyhow? A kindergarten? Have you no will power? (If that is what you would call it). Why all the shifting of feet, causing the seats to squeak, and loud uncalled-for blowing of noses at such times? Do you want your school to be noted for its rudeness or its politeness? Make your choice. It's up to you.

A speaker should actually walk off the stage when he finds out that no one is listening. The ones wishing to listen are just unfortunate and must suffer from someone else's misbehaving.

After all, just consider that perhaps the speaker or entertainer doesn't care to talk or give his valuable information to you anymore than you wish to listen to him. He loses something while you gain nothing. If you would listen and give some consideration of others, both speaker and listener would gain.

Are you proud of a school that a person will avoid trying to appear before?

Next time try to give merely thirty minutes of your precious time. You are bound to gain something if only learning that you can be still for thirty minptes. Isn't it worth a try?-M. F.

SPRING IS IN THE AIR

-By "Sammie Lee" Caskey.

True words. Too true words. Although there have been a few students who have worn dazed expressions all year, a great majority have recently acquired the vacant expression of little Alfonso. Maybe it's the clouds. Maybe it's the breeze. Maybe it's violets. Maybe it's relief from red flannels. Or if you are a hater of the opposite sex, perhaps it is a dream of baseball or swimming. Oh yes- Maybe it is love.

THE DRAGON WHISPERS (by Harriette Ellen Carter)

And was Carl Mathis's face red, or to be more definite his lips? Carl, one morning, turned feminine and put on all of women's beautifying cosmetics. After finishing 'twas said he was a sight to make Garbo turn green with envy and Hepburn bite her fingernails in rage. Here's a tip though, as the old saying, "There's always a woman involved" and the one this time was Lois Troxel.

It was on a dark and stormy Tuesday night, and thereby hangs this tale. Four boys, two of them juniors and the other two seniors, called a few available girl friends to come to the junior boy's home. After getting the girls there all was well until-the curfew began to toll its warning that it was bedtime for all good children. They all got ready to leave-instead of taking the girls home the way they got there, in a car, the host opened the door and said good-bye. Away they trudged-soon they came to one of the boy's house and so he said good-bye-coming to the next boy's house he also said good-bye.

The one boy left escorted his girl friend home in a taxi, while the other girls walked-alone. Needless to say that was enough for the girls. For breaking all rules of etiquette "Porchwarmer" Mitchell, "Simple Simon" Reilly, and "Hot Shot" (so he thinks) Suter should receive all laurels and gold medals to go

> BOOKS WE LIKE "A London Story" by George Buchanan

Two ways of life are seen in this story of department store brothers.

It is a tale of the two brothers. John was a personality man, an advertising manager in the best correspondence-school tradition of success. Nicholas lost his job in John's London department store because he rebelled against the false front of success.

The brothers married. Beryl married John as an instrument toward security, and Phillida married Nicholas because he needed her and because they loved each other.

Through Phillida, Nicholas found peace, the ability to keep a little job and a capacity to integrate his rebellion and aspirations into a pattern of living. Beryl harried John to failure and despair.

Buchanan's characters, while having at times consciousness and blood of their own, are more often puppets, standing still and talking fiercely felt ideas. THE SPOTLIGHT SPOTTER (By Rosemond Hutto)

WHAT OTHERS SAY

GRADES CAN TALK (The Argentinian, Kansas City, Kas.) Yes, students, grades can talk. With the opening of the last semester of school this year, students should begin to realize that their grades can talk against them or for them. There is no getting away from the gossiping tongues of grades. As you enter college your records enter with you and tell the story of the work and effort you have put forth while in school. They can tell pleasant and nice things about you, that you will probably benefit by if you have worked up to your ability and have made a fine record, or they can tell unpleasant tales of how lazy you were and of your lack of willingness to do your best.

as this will be their last semester in high school. Have you a clear conscience that you have done all you could, and are you entirely satisfied with the record you have made? If not, why not make an effort to improve it in the time that is left? You soon will be leaving high school with your grades that have a story to tell on the tip of their tongues. What will they tell about you?

Addition of "Arkie" Hoffman Gives Pedagogues Very Slight Edge Over Champion Seniors

It may not be the game of the century but it will easily be the most entertaining game of this school year. Yes sir, when the Faculty cagers and the Carnino-Heady sharpshooters tangle at 7:50 o'clock Wednesday in the finals of the annual high school intramural basketball tournament blood is certain to fly.

The two teams seem to have rather ferocious feeling toward each other, desire of revenge for the 14-13 loss handed to them by the Carnino-Heady quintet early in the season and the senior five has intense desire to again defeat the somewhat self-confident teachers.

The addition of Coach Frank "Arkie" Hoffman, huge center, to the Faculty squad has undoubtedly strengthened the team and dope points to the teachers as slight favorites (very

After the smoke from the S.E.K. league battles has cleared away The Booster sport staff makes its annual selection of S.E.K. all-star players.

Considering the scoring ability of each player the staff made its selection. In the minds of the writers there was no doubt as to the selection of Ralph Miller, the Chanute star, Andy Tinney, leading Columbus scorer, and Lowell Long and Vern Hall, the Parsons luminaries, as members of the first five.

The selection of Ahring, Chanute guard, was due largely to his excellent performance against the Dra-
