Coronate Queen Of '36 Festival Tonight at 8:30

Jane Baxter, Senior, Hostess to 27 Other Beauties of
This District

Festival Ball at Mirza

Miss Irma Gene Nevins Arranges the Program to Be Presented at Brandenburg Field.

The coronation of Pittsburg's sovereign queen, Miss Jane Baxter, will be solemnized tonight with all the pomp and ceremony due the exalted position of the ruler of the "Black Diamond" kingdom.

Her blond charm will be enhanced by a queenly robe of black taffeta with gold accessories. She will be attended by Miss Vivian Storey of the College high school, who will act as her maid of honor.

Queens from 27 towns in the district have been promised as entrants in the Queen Coal contest, which will be held at Brandenburg Field tonight at 8:30. Each queen will be accompanied by a chaperon and flower girl. The young ladies will be entertained by the Y. W. C. A. of the K. S. T. C. A royal repast has also been arranged for the visiting regents, at the Besse Hotel.

Tonight at 7 o'clock a lengthy parade will wind its way along the brilliantly illuminated Broadway. In the procession will be cars bearing the two dozen or more queens vying for the Queen Coal title, colorful floats, bands and drum corps. The musical organizations will be judged in line of march and monetary awards will be presented. The parade will terminate at Brandenburg field, where a fitting program has been arranged by Miss Irma Gene Nevins of the physical education department at the College, after which the beautiful participants will have the pleasure of executing their Terpsichorean art to the strains of the nationally known Buddy Fisher's orchestra.

The coronation ball is expected to be the scintillating finale of the dramatic coal festival of 1936.

Girls Hold Play Day

Olympic Theme Observed At Annual Gym Fete.

The tri-state Play Day, held at the College Oct. 3, was attended by about 250 girls from seventeen schools. The theme carried out was the Olympic idea. Each girl was assigned to some country that entered the Olympics. The different teams competed in games such as mass volleyball, ball, speed ball, baseball, corner soccer, and ball, bombardment and captain ball.

At 1:15 o'clock there was a program given in the auditorium for the girls. It consisted of musical numbers, dances and talks.

A Red Cross life saving demonstration was shown at 2:30 o'clock in the college swimming pool. After this there was swimming for anyone who desired.

Play Day began at 9:30 a. m. and ended at 4:30 p. m. Lunch was served in the college cafeteria at noon.

FRANCES E. WILLARD'S WORK HONORED FRIDAY

The annual observance of Frances E. Willard's birthday was held in assembly, Friday, Oct. 2.

Mrs. Arlie Page led devotions and the singing of America the Beautiful after which she gave a short speech. Mrs. D. Eiler brought a message from the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Alene Michie gave a few sketches from Frances E. Willard's life. Mrs. Corporon and Mr. Glendening gave talks on the effects of alcohol.

College Yell Leader

Jack Overman, '36, was named one of the cheer leaders at K. S. T. C. He is a person of experience having led the high school last year.

TO THE SENIORS

How much do you care about the coming senior class election? Does it make any difference who is elected?

In the past year the procedure has been about the same for electing the officers and as a result there is little interest taken and little time for discussion of candidates merits.

This year let's ask for campaigns! Why not have meetings and parties, speeches and managers, banners and a real campaign?

In this way we could really stir up interest in the election of one of the most important offices in school. We could have a fair election with a more carefully chosen officer.

If you are interested in this idea the Journalism class will be willing to aid in getting this across.—the Editor.

Motion Pictures Promote Interest

Shows in Classrooms, Chapels
Will Supplement the Work of Various Classes

A schedule of motion pictures to be given during this year has been announced by Principal J. L. Hutchinson. Some of these pictures are to be given in the different classrooms and the ones which might particularly interest the student body will be shown to everyone. They are to promote interest and to add to the interest of the different subjects to which they pertain. The dates and names of the pictures are as follows:

Oct. 12—Control of Breeding.
Oct. 19—Glass Blowing.
Oct. 26—Lead.
Nov. 2—Mollusks.
Nov. 2—Termites.
Nov. 16—London.
Nov. 23—Alaska Silver Millions.
Dec. 7—Jewels of Industry.
Dec. 14—Body Frame Work.
Dec. 17—First Aid.
Dec. 17—Preventing Spread of Disease.

Jan. 11—Story of a Mexican Gun-er.
Feb. 12—Abraham Lincoln. (for Friday assembly)
Feb. 15—Romance of Silk.
Feb. 22—Magnetic Effect of Electricity.
—Steam Power.
Mar. 8—Weather Forecasting.
Mar. 15—Story of Lubricating Oil.
Mar. 22—Feet.
—Correct Shorthand Technique.

Faculty Club Meets

Miss Stephens Replaces Jordan
As President of Body

A dinner and business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. K. Scott for the senior high school faculty club Tuesday night, Sept. 29.

Miss Sara Stephens, former vice-president, replaces Charles O. Jordan of Kansas City as president of the organization. Miss Helen Lanyon was elected to take the place of Miss Stephens.

Plans for the new year were discussed by Mr. William Row, program chairman.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hutchinson. Annually the Hutchinsons entertain the club with a dinner. This year the dinner will be combined with the regular business meeting.

Debaters Start Work

K. S. T. C. Tournament First With Coffeyville Following.

The debaters of Pittsburg senior high school are looking forward to the K. S. T. C. tournament on Nov. 20 and 21. All of the debaters will participate.

They will compete at Coffeyville and Topeka during December, and also will take part in the league tournament at Parsons in February.

The question for debate this year is "Resolved: That All Electric Utilities Should Be Governmentally Owned and Operated."

Booster Old Enough To Vote This Month As It Observes 21st Birthday; Born in 1915

(By Billie Ann Hutto)

The Booster celebrates its twenty-first birthday Thursday, Oct. 15. It was organized in 1915 by Miss Laura J. Finley, who was a member of the English and literature department of the high school.

The Booster began as a 4-column, 4-page sheet, printed on white paper. At that time P. H. S. was one of the first high schools in the state of Kansas to publish a newspaper.

The paper, a project of the senior English and literature classes, was printed by the Headlight, Saunders, and the Kanza. The first edition was published at the cost of $7.50 per issue by the Headlight.

In 1916-1917, until Thanksgiving, The Booster remained for seventeen consecutive issues a 4-column, 4-page paper; later in November it was increased to a 6-column page.

Shortage of funds forced semi-monthly issuance during the last three months of 1917. The average cost was then $19 per issue, and later $24.

During the years of 1917 to 1919, The Booster was published every two weeks. At this time every issue contained a story about either the World War or the new school building, for which $200,000 in bonds was voted for construction.

In 1919-1920, further financial difficulties were faced, since prices of labor were too high to print a paper. In 1921, the paper was costing such a high price that there was serious thought of discontinuing it. Only through the loyalty and support of the advertisers and the hard work of the staff was it possible to continue the paper.

When the new high school had been completed, the paper was printed for the first time in the school printing department under the supervision of Mr. Chester Connett, who was printing instructor.

Miss Finley was married in 1929, and Miss Frances Trimble became the journalism teacher.

Several changes were made from time to time. The Booster became a 6-column paper on Jan. 9, 1930. The

Students Listen To Human 'Guinea Pig' on Sept. 29

Although it is against the rules of the school to allow animals in the building, a human "guinea pig," Frank Fieldings, was at assembly Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The Viennese Institute of Medical Research gives several young men of various colleges expense money and transportation to nearly every corner of the earth. These men are inoculated with the germs of nearly every disease known. Frank Fieldings is one of the few who survived these tests.

Contrary to the general idea, this is not a stunt. It is mainly for the benefit of the medical science world in regard to the metabolism process. The next experiment will be in regard to pneumonia.

When asked if he were afraid when contracting these diseases, he said that at first he was rather worried about it, but that now he wasn't. He said that for all he knows he might slip on a banana peel and break his neck.

As exercise, these men learn to jump rope while wearing roller skates. Mr. Guinea Pig demonstrated his ability on skates in our assembly.

EIGHT P. H. S. GRADUATES ATTEND K. U. THIS YEAR

Eight graduates of P. H. S. are attending the University of Kansas this year. They are as follows:

Anna Katherine Kiehl, Arthur Blair, Dean Dalton, Jean Patmor, Emmett Riordan, Dorothy White, Bob Herman, and Mayme Estelle Hall. The last five attended K. S. T. C. here before entering K. U.

Dean Dalton won a Summerfield scholarship to the university while attending P. H. S.

Hi-Y Eats Spaghetti

Thirty Hi-Y boys and faculty members from P. H. S. attended the annual Hi-Y spaghetti supper at Arma Tuesday evening.

SOCIAL HOUR AT EUGENE FIELD FOR CITY TEACHERS

A social hour for the city teachers was held Monday night at Eugene Field school under the direction of Principal Vernon A. Hoggatt, president of the association. A dinner at 6:30, prepared by the women of the high school cafeteria with Miss Calla Leeka of the high school acting as chairman, was served to 149 teachers.

Supt. M. M. Rose extended greetings to the teachers. Afterward each principal gave a short greeting. During the dinner music was furnished by the high school ensemble, composed of Billie Maurine Wells, Anita Greenwood, and Kathleen Conley. Margaret Myers sang two solos. She was accompanied by Louise Baade at the piano and Harriette Ellen Carter at the violin. After dinner a talking picture, "Beyond the Caribbean," was presented.

The Eugene Field faculty arranged the auditorium. A number of bridge tables were placed around the room. Floor lamps were used to light the room. The ceiling lights were covered with red paper. The decorations were somewhat on the order of a metropolitan restaurant.

Mr. Vernon A. Hoggatt wishes to extend his personal thanks to all who assisted.

DORSEY IS MAID OF HONOR AT JUBILESTA

Maria Davis of Macon Is Queen and Elizabeth McClung of Jeff City Named

Miss Betty Dorsey, Pittsburg's entry in the Jubilesta, was chosen maid of honor. This was quite an honor as there were 64 girls competing.

Miss Maria Davis, Macon, Mo., was chosen to be Jubilesta queen. The other maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth McClung of Jefferson City, Mo. There were eight princesses named in addition to the two maids of honor.

TO THE SOPHOMORES . . .

The proctor system is now in effect.

As you are new here and unacquainted with the school and all its rules you will probably be shown better ways to do things.

The proctors are courteous and are always willing to help but there may be a few whom you will misunderstand. But be the best sophomores you can and forget it.

The system has been in effect for many years and does the general service work in school. You probably have noticed that in these first few weeks of school there has been a lot of jamming in the halls, running at lunch time and crowding in lines. The proctors are to promote harmony in such cases. So be good to them and we'll all be better off.

Band Members to Parade at Royal

Will Take Part in Kansas Day
Festivities at Kansas City
Monday, Oct. 19

The Pittsburg high school band will go to Kansas City Monday, Oct. 19, to participate in festivities celebrating Kansas Day at the American Royal.

A busy schedule has been planned for the day. The band will leave Pittsburg about 7 a. m., and on arriving in Kansas City will go to the Chamber of Commerce offices. At noon they will be guest at a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce. Following the luncheon the band will march in a mammoth parade down Minnesota Avenue. After the parade they will be transported by street car to the American Royal building, where they will march through the horse show arena. Sections are being reserved for each band at the afternoon show.

The highlight of the afternoon will be the playing of two numbers in unison by all the bands massed in the arena.

Announcement has been made by Mr. Gerald M. Carney, director, that he will take the entire band provided enough cars are volunteered for the trip. It was also announced that the band would return the same day.

STUDENTS TOUR COUNTRY FOR SUMMER VACATIONS

Many students of P. H. S. had interesting vacations this summer. Some went to the Pacific coast, while others went to the Atlantic coast.

Among the pupils visiting the East is Marjorie Mangrum. On June 20 she left on a trip which took her through eleven states. They are as follows: Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Iowa. She was also in Washington, D. C.

Lorraine Holloway visited in New Orleans, where she spent much time on a plantation.

Rex Wiles visited in California this summer. While there, he saw many places of interest. Among them were Long Beach, Exposition at San Diego, Hollywood, Los Angeles, and Santa Catalina Island. He also crossed the border and visited points of interest in Mexico.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-9. Take No Chances

Prevent fires! The damage they cause cannot be measured in dollars, for not only is property devastated, but many lives are lost every year—over 10,000.

Fire prevention week, Oct. 4-9, is recognized annually by United States and Canada. This marks the anniversary of the huge fire which destroyed Chicago on Oct. 9, 1871.

Every home can be safe! It is time for us to realize this and take precaution before the dangerous winter season begins.

The Pittsburg senior high school is recognizing Fire Prevention Week in each home room program and general assembly and also the fire drill which during the week.

Out-wit this fire demon that has the power to destroy all, and never take a chance with fire!

Student Council Is Organized for The Year's Work

Darrel Cochran New President of Governing Body; Endicott, Burke Officers

Alternates Elected

Farnar, Radel, Palmer, Huffman, and Ramsey to Be Sponsors for Functions.

The student council, student governing body of Pittsburg high school, organized Thursday, Oct. 1, under the leadership of Miss Effie Farnar. The officers who were elected last spring and are assisting Miss Farnar are Darrel Cochran, president; Lawrence Endicott, vice president; Jean Burke, secretary-treasurer.

The four assistant sponsors and the committee each will head are as follows: Miss Clara Radel, social welfare; Miss Frances Palmer, public and private property; Mr. C. I. Huffman, sanitation; Mr. Lester Ramsey, a new student council sponsor, the law and order committee, which will be in charge of the proctor system this year.

The student council was first organized in the old high school building and has been operating under the present plan since 1920.

The chief requirement of a student council representative is that he attend all regular and committee meetings and be willing to aid the organization and the school in every possible way.

Following is a list of the temporary home room representatives and alternates:

Miss Palmer—Josephine Ortaldo, Virginia Friday.
Miss Farnar—Harold Lowe, Margaret Schaff.
Mr. Ramsey—Pauline Spangler, Lillian Perdue.
Miss Leeka—Margaret Ann Pryor.

FIRE PREVENTION IN EDUCATION

This week is fire prevention week. Again we discover the enormous loss caused by combustion. Why should we just reserve one week each year for instruction on fire? Aren't we just as careful all year long as we are during Fire Prevention Week? Do we learn anything about being more careful? Very little. We do hear statistics, examples, laws and suggestions, but do we heed them? Probably not. We learn mostly by doing. We learn how to prevent fires by building fires. We learn about safety by seeing fires and losses. That is why each year a week is set aside for Fire Prevention. This is not a week to set fires but one in which speakers tell us things they have done and seen in order that those of us who have not been in a fire nor had the experience necessary to insure our fire safety might know safety from the experience of others for such in the true goal of education - to make one profit by the experience of others. How educated are we? Do we need to hear speakers?—P.B.

SMILES

Do you smile often? Your smile may be only a "toothy-grin", but it is your best advertisement of personality. Everyone appreciates a friendly smile and it isn't often that yours will go unanswered. Opinions of people are formed by their facial expressions. Is your one of boredom or contempt? Or does your face reflect good nature and vitality? A healthy grin will see you through many a tiresome interlude and will leave your disposition intact. Smiles are more than a mere display of teeth; they manage, somehow, to convey to the world what you are feeling inside. So in your daily menu—include smiles in large proportions. Learn to smile, inside and out!—W. F.

DO YOU THINK?

The unusual question, "Do you think?" often brings the affirmative answer, although it may be false. If so, what do we think about? Psychiatrists inform us that the human brain is only four percent efficient. Then it is nothing unusual for us to go to a particular part of a room with a definite purpose and when we reach the place, to forget why we are there. Memory is increased by effort. High school students find that their memories often fail them in examination. This occurs because the thought devoted to the subject was insufficient. This does not mean that little concentration was used. It has been discovered that students have little or no trouble in remembering when and where the next football game will be played. Their thought is usually devoted to the thing that is most interesting to us.—R. E.

KEEP GOING

When Frederick the Great once expressed a low opinion of a certain officer, a general objected that this officer had been through ten campaigns. "Yes," said Old Fritz, "and so has that mule over there been through ten campaigns, but he knows no more of war than when he began." Is your high school education to be like this? If you are a sophomore why not put yourself into the spirit of work and acquire a good high school education? If you are a junior or senior, you still have time, so begin right now and keep it up. There is a whole life before you and what is life without knowledge? Enjoyment also comes from knowing. You are now on the highway of learning. Grasp all that you can and prepare yourself for more that can be gained. Do not play with education. Take it and make life a treat! You will be proud of it in the future!—R. D. G.

DO YOU KNOW

The baby grand piano in the auditorium is of Ransworth make while the grand piano is a Baldwin. We have the best equipped printing department of any high school in the state of Kansas, according to reports.

COME ON, DRAGONS

We are all for you, so keep up the old fight spirit you have had so far. Let's continue to remain the favorites for the S. E. K.

THE DRAGON WHISPERS

(Mary Virginia Hubert)

Who can answer these:
When will Donna Loy learn that she is much too grown up to go running around rubbing signs off store windows—Donna found they don't all come off.

Is Howard Mosby still writing his notes to Maxine Puffinbarger in short hand? That's bad, Howard, the poor girl has to have someone else read them for her.

Isn't Jack Mitchell awful, Jean Burke? He can't even see when a girl is simply dying to have a date with him.

Did you know that Randall Deruy has a picture of Ruth Delaine Collins? Where could he have gotten that?

Will Nancy Dalton ever realize that just because you had a dime in your hand, there isn't any reason to believe you have swallowed it, when it's suddenly gone?

What is it about Raymond Brooks that makes these little sophies simply fall at his feet?

Could it be true that Virginia Lee Strecker is now going with Mary Clement's old flame? Where there's a way there's a will, folks.

Why should Beverly McCracken always be thinking of and going to Canton? It couldn't be Todd Malmberg, could it?

Won't James Kelly ever come to life and realize there is a very little sophie named Betty Oertle waiting for him?

Have you seen what Letha Brown has on her left hand? Does that mean you've promised to be his, Letha?

How could Betty June Carder even have known that a certain boy (Alvadore Suffron) carries lip-stick remover around in his pocket?

Cupid's Couplet:

Betty Jo Coulter—Ed Weeks.
Barbara Barkell—Keith Kelly.
Betty Lu Williams—Leo Ensmann.
Nadine Hirni—Wilfred Morin.
Betty Crane—Max Leon.
Mickey Garrison—Bob Tharrington.
Wanda Faulkner—Harvey Clarke.
Charlotte Newton—Harold Cann.
Alene Michie—Bill Parks.
Ginger Pence—Bud Fulton.

BOOKS WE LIKE

Good-by, Mr. Chips
by James Hilton

This book of only 125 pages is the story of an old retired school master who lives across the road from his boarding school. The setting is in England. Mr. Chips is spending his last days with his housekeeper. His accounts of his last days and the recounting of his life is filled with the interesting content well known to readers of Hilton.

James Hilton is well known for his short novels, but Good-by Mr. Chips is by far his best work, being a best seller and popular book of a few years ago. This is one of the few modern books whose reputation and interest has withstood for several years. As well as an entertaining novel we find an account of many historical events of England reaching on from 1848 and told as seen by the aged and lovable character. We find the book at E 4854 at the Pittsburg Public Library.

BIRTHDAYS

Oct. 9—Margaret Trisler, Joseph Ward.
Oct. 10—Josephine LeHane, Lavern Ainsworth, Gilbert Vane Maddox.
Oct. 11—Minnie Williams, Finley Porter, Bessie Passmore.
Oct. 13—Callie Lee.
Oct. 14—Margaret DeGasperi.
Oct. 15—Jack Mitchell, Charlotte Skinner, Joe Bosco, Maxine Endicott.

SPOTLIGHT SPOTTER

(Billie Ann Hutto)

Who was the guy who said, "I dedicate this column to Phillip Space?" What do we mean when we say, "A 'sponger' is like taffy?" . . . (Sophies) N. B.—He sticks to you. What do we mean by "Capwippity?" . . . How long is the largest distance between two points? . . . Why can't you play on a liar? (lyre)

The above questions are merely to test the degree of your intellect. . . if you're doomed for the "nut-house", you'll give the second thought if your intelligence is average, you'll read 'em through and smile wryly if your I. Q. is better than it should be, you'll give one look and skip to the bottom of the column to find out what's wrong. . . .

Fireman! Save my child!

The Spotter made the right connections. and was just in time to see that dashing fireman, "Si", frantically clutching Virginia Lee on the fire escape. . . . But the exact moment the Spotter appeared on the scene, he dropped the fair lady so suddenly, the unwitting onlooker would have thought the lady herself was a live coal. May be "Si" saw the Spotter's flaming tresses and thought the little fire wagon had arrived too late.

"Popeye" Mathis crashes this column again. . . It does look, though, as if he would be big enough to prevent his being all tied up in himself. . . but if you could have seen how he successfully tied himself up in his chemistry apron. . . "Tie me to your apron strings" becomes his theme song. . . . We hear that it takes beauty as well as brains to carry the coal scuttle in the Dragon manner. . . . Jane Baxter should fit well in the "Black Diamond King's" kindom. . . . We hope that the two oncoming senior girls who were seen filching the note from a fellow student's pocket, will seek a higher level than that which they have thus far attained. . . Wouldn't Lawrence Endicott blush if he knew he caused a certain senior girl to lose her appetite. . . . When a certain member of the stronger sex bade M. A. T. "good morning" she became so flustered she dropped all her books on the floor.

Little Jack Horner
Sat in a corner,
Studying for a quiz,
The next day he sunk
To below zero flunk,
And now he ain't am what he is.
(With apologies to the English instructors.)

The Spotter had occasion this summer to witness the results of a football hero's attempt at scrimmage. . . . It turned out to look like a four-legged animal. . . . but he was only reading the comic strip in the evening paper, and had become so absorbed in "Alley Oop" he tried a little imitation. . . .

One of our aspiring ad collectors takes that idea of dropping in literally. . . . She built up to a thrilling entrance, even to powdering her nose a few extra times, then just as she opened the door fell to her knees with the greatest of ease. . . .

CRACKS FROM THE CLASSES

Jane Henderson—She is giving me the once-over twice.

Mr. Row—If you were in Paris and couldn't speak French, how would you get steak?
Jane Baxter—I would draw a picture of a cow.

Miss Radell to second year Latin boys—You sound just like the girls' gossip club.

Bebe Coles, a junior, to Billy George, a senior:
Bebe—Billy, why don't you try out for the junior play?

Billy—I wanted to, but only sophomores could try out.

Mr. Nation:
I appealed to his conscience,
I appealed to his pride,
And after that failed,
I appealed to his hide!

Mr. Row—You will learn in this class what makes a baby brother talk.
Bob Eyestone—What about mothers and baby sisters?
Mr. Row—Oh! They were born that way.

Mr. Carney told the horns in the orchestra to start at C.
Carney—after the boys had started—Boys, you sound like you were at "C" without an anchor.

John Wilson—I am getting smarter every day; maybe some day I will be a half-wit.

Alvadore Suffron—Blonds were put in the world to keep married life from running too smoothly.

Marx Tavella—Look! Look! Greyhound Tiger News, I wonder if it is a bloody paper.
Marjorie Mangrum—Only when they wrap meat in it.

Wanda Faulkner—You don't have to pick the whole boy.
Ruth Delaine Collins—No, you just have to pick his teeth.

Marx Tavella—I saw Jane Henderson riding in a brown car called Ferdinand I.
Marjorie Mangrum—She wasn't in a brown car, that was a brown raincoat.

WANDERING REPORTER

(Alvadore Suffron)

Question—What do you do while waiting for a tardy date?

Betty June Carder '37—I sit and gradually burn up.

Sam Von Schritts '37—I twiddle my thumbs for a while and then walk out (if she doesn't come).
Irene Brannum '38—I walk up and down and tear my hair.

Ralph Taylor '38—I talk to her mother or read jokes to keep up my spirits.

June Walker '39—I get madder and madder.

Bill Millington '39—I wear out the rug.

PUPIL PORTRAITS

Bill Magie is the junior boy to enter the column this week. He is about five feet eleven inches in height with straight dark brown hair and snappy brown eyes. As you remember, he was the Purple and White king for the sophomores last year. He can usually be found almost anywhere Harvey Carney is.

Maxine Douglas, the queen of the sophomores last year is the girl of the week. She is about five feet two inches in height with blond wavy hair and gray eyes. She can usually be found bowing in front of some senior girl, but we hope she won't have to do that always.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

GENTLEMEN NEVER INJURE ANYONE

"A gentleman is one who will never knowingly injure anyone else," said a faculty member the other day. This consideration for others should presumably be an innate part of the man who cares to be classified as "gentleman." The definition takes adequate care of the vital meaning, the essence of courtesy, but the outward form of it, the frosting of its expression, if you please, may still be forgotten. Why not go further and say, "A gentleman is one who will never knowingly injure himself or anyone else?"

American youth tends toward indifference to the social graces. Yet the man who ignores the fact a lady stands while he sits talking to her; who never holds a door open for anyone; who, figuratively speaking, dashes through life stepping on people's toes is constantly cheating himself. Habits of courtesy may be open sesame to opportunities, social and otherwise. By their manners shall ye know them.—The Bulletin, Emporia.

POET'S CORNER

IMAGINE THAT

I know a very little lad
Who envies very much
His daddy's glistening bald head
And wishes his were such;
I don't know why that heads without hair
Seem gorgeous things to son,
So by and by he hopes to wear
A lovely shining one;
It seems to me this queer desire,
This hankering for bald dome,
Is because our little sony thinks
He'll have no hair to comb;
No curls to tease,
No hair brush sought,
No cowlick there, by gosh;
He doesn't know
This little thought—
He'll have more face to wash!

SURPRISED MAMA

At the Lamar football game, Mr. Howard Lundquest was selling tickets at the box office when a mother and her little "Junior" approached. The mother stated that she wished to buy one ticket Mr. Lundquest told her that children of school age must have tickets also.

Surprisedly the woman answered, "What! with Junior just in kindergarten?" Junior looked proudly up into his mother's face and said, "Oh, no, mother. I'm in the first grade." The woman exclaimed very excitedly, "Oh, you are?"

Some mothers just can't seem to realize that children grow up.

The year's programs of Hi-Y are being planned up to date. All of the S. E. K. Hi-Y sponsors will meet at Baxter Springs, Oct. 14, for a general session.

Pittsburg High School was founded in 1884 and the first class graduated in 1888.

In 1928 two pep clubs were organized. The boys were called the "Pep Props." The girls were called the "Peppy Janes."

There have been only two girl student council presidents in the history of our school. Edna Blackett was president in 1931-32 and Mary Montgomery in 1935-36.

P. T. Ellis was editor of The Booster the first year it was published, 22 years ago.

The Girl Reserve organization was begun in 1917 under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Ringle, instructor.

FOOD CLASSES LEARN TO PREPARE BREAKFASTS

In the girls' food classes foods for breakfast are being prepared. The boys' food classes are preparing fruits for breakfast.

The home living classes are studying home in the family, family relationships, and home management. The girls have been telling short stories that represent a commendable trait of character.

Booster Reporter Interviews Track Star At Midland

(By Beverly McCracken)
Many persons flocked to the Midland theater to hear Archie San Romani tell of his experience at the Olympics in Berlin.

As I walked into the theater someone told me that Romani was sitting in the balcony. I went up and sat down by him. By way of conversation I asked him how long the feature had been going on. He told me and we talked of various things. I pretended not to know him. I happened to make the remark that I was anxious to see this San Romani. He looked rather queerly and asked my name. After I told him, he said,

"Well, er-ah-I'm San Romani." I pretended to be very surprised. He was entirely different from the person I expected to see. He is about five feet, eight inches tall, with a weight of 132 pounds. He has a pleasant voice and a very nice personality.

Of course, I began to ask questions. He said that he enjoyed the trip over on the S. S. Manhattan. The Olympic boys traveled in the steerage. San Romani said they had a very nice time although he was in very strict training.

Every few minutes he glanced at his watch. He seemed very proud of it. He told me that it was a railroad 21-jewel Elgin which his home town people presented him at his homecoming reception at Frontenac. He seemed rather nervous but he said it wasn't stage fright but merely the suspense of waiting. He had the same feeling just before entering a race.

When asked if he were glad to be back, he said that it was a relief to get back to the more feminine American girls. In his opinion, the German girls are very masculine in appearance and actions.

While San Romani was making his speech, I had the chance to interview his father, who said, "My first thrill was when I heard over the air that Archie had placed and was to enter the Olympics. My second was when I heard that he had helped break the world's record."

San Romani won the Princeton invitation mile run last Saturday, defeating Lovelock, the Olympic 1,600-meter champion, Cunningham, the world's champion miler, Dawson and Lash.

EX-TEACHER MATRON OF WICHITA FORCE

If you should ask the ordinary person: is a teacher very versatile? you would get an emphatic no! But by tracing down teachers who have left this high school we find this to be so.

Unique is the case of Miss Pearl Le reaux, former speech instructor, who, after much practice of pulling high school students' ears, is now head police matron of the Wichita police force. Miss Le reaux is also one of the country's lead students of female criminology.

From the rank and file of Pittsburg's teachers came Vance Randolph, who is successfully writing novels of the Ozarks.

The International Harvester Co has taken over the talents of two former teachers: Mr. Rice, chemistry instructor, and Mr. Williams, woodwork instructor.

Charley Morgan continues his work in athletics by coaching the college football team, in place of Coach "Blue" Howell.

A number of instructors who formerly instructed here are teaching in other schools of the city, namely: P. O. Briggs, principal of Lakeside junior high; L. K. Brous, Loren Jarrell, and Miss Laverne McCall, who are all teacher in the two junior highs.

The organization of the Girl Reserves is rapidly being completed. A membership drive was held from Sept. 24 to Oct. 2, Sept. 23 a mixer was held for all the girls of the school. Games were played so that the girls could get acquainted. In conclusion some new songs were learned. The girls who are now members of the Girl Reserves have been divided into six groups. Miss Gable, Miss Leeka, Miss Bailey, Miss White, Miss Way, and Miss Stephens are the sponsors for the groups.

There are now about 180 girls who are Girl Reserve members.

Grads On College Staff

Three Former Editors Assist in Publishing of Paper.

Seven P. H. S. graduates made the staff of the Collegio, the K. S. T. C. weekly paper.

The graduates and their positions on the staff are as follows: Robert Dorsey '34, business manager; Warren Loy '35, assistant business manager; Fred Sellmansberger '30, forum editor; Irene Phillips '34, campus editor; Lorene Gaines '35, exchange editor; Jeanne Malcolm and Nevella Miller, copy readers.

These positions are for the K. S. T. C. official student news publication and are for the first quarter of the school year.

Advice to the Girls

1. Keep away from the track-men; they are usually fast.

2. Never take dates with biology men; they enjoy cutting up too much.

3. The football man is all right; he will tackle anything.

4. The tennis man is harmless; but he enjoys a racket.

5. Watch out for the baseball man; he hits and runs.

6. Be careful of a dramatic man; he usually has several good lines.

7. Don't play cards with a civil engineer; he is a bridge specialist.

8. Always let the band member talk about himself; he enjoys blowing his own horn.

Chanute Plays Here This Afternoon

Dragons, Comets To Square off in Postponed Tilt

Battle to Be on Hutchinson Field Instead of Brandenburg As Scheduled.

Crucial Game for Pitt

Purple Team in Good Shape to Go up Against Lockyear Gridsters This Afternoon.

The Pittsburg-Chanute high school football game was scheduled for this afternoon after a postponement of the tilt, which was slated for Wednesday. A muddy field caused the moving back of the game.

The game this afternoon will be the turning point in the S. E. K. for the Dragons. If they win, they will be the favorites for the circuit crown. But Chanute, the league champs now, will be a hard team to beat. The Dragons are in fine condition and are expected to put up one of their best battles of the year.

This afternoon's game will see the Dragon's line averaging about 166 pounds against the 167 pound line of Chanute's. Backing up the line for Pittsburg will probably be Morgan at quarter, Loftus and Rogers at half, and Simoncic at fullback, averaging about 165 against D. Miller at quarter, R. Miller and Cloke at half, and Strange, at fullback who will average 162 for Chanute.

The Dragons are looking very good although they have one injury on the list. "Butch" Ritter will probably not start. He is still out because of an injured ankle. Though he has not played much this year, his help would boost the Dragons a lot.

Dick Miller, Ralph's younger brother, will be in the line-up against the Purple Dragons at quarter. Cloke, a fast and shifty player who formerly played on Erie's first team, will team with Ralph. Together he and Ralph make a fast pair. The Comet fullback also plays a bang-up game.

Officials for today's game will be Bill Collins of William Jewell, Bailey Ricketts of Baker and Franklin of Emporia Teachers.

The Comets are piloted by a new man this year, Tony Lockyear, formerly of the junior high of Chanute, who replaced Dale Skelton, who went to Kemper Academy.

Probable line-ups:

Chanute	Pittsburg
Hayes	LE
Roberts	LT
Hudson	LG
Ahring	C
Heilman	RG
Showalter	RT
Taylor	RE
D. Miller	QB
Cloke	LH
R. Miller	RH
Strange	FB
	Simoncic

Will Not Officially Be in League Until Fall of 1937.

Iola high school has rejoined the Southeast Kansas League. Although they will not be in the league until next year, the Dragons have a football game with them Nov. 6. It will not be a league game. In the basketball schedule, Iola will play where there is an open date. Also at invitation track meets they will follow the same plan. They will not be officially in the league until the fall of 1937.

At the fall meetings when the S. E. K. officials were elected, the debate, basketball and track schedules were planned, Iola made its bid for its place in the S. E. K. again.

YOUNGER DRAGONS BEAT CHEROKEE FIRST TEAM, 6-0

The Pittsburg Reserves came back to trounce the Cherokee Braves, 6-0, in their second game, after having been beaten 7-0 in a game during the second week of school.

Completing a pass into the end zone in the second quarter from Lance to Little for the touchdown, the younger Dragons played a brilliant game.

John Lance and Verle Hunt, the new recruit from Joplin, were outstanding.

Player Sketch

Vance Rogers, the 165 lb. hard hitting half back, is one of the Dragons who has done much leather lugging this year.

So far this year Vance has done very well making a touchdown against Independence after a brilliant 10-yard run.

Last week against Webb City he ran about 30 yards for the first tally of the game.

LYLE'S ABILITY IS RECOGNIZED AT LAST

The unsung hero of the athletic department has received his due fame at last. Lyle Straham, trainer, handyman, stooge, and all around pest for the athletes of P. H. S. is in the spotlight at last. Little is known here about Lyle's ability since he is not seen in action very much, but at the Webb City game last Friday there was a mad rush for autographs. As the fair damsels made the dash the team got out their fountain pens and braced themselves for the mad scramble. When the cyclone struck it went on past a worthy football squad and headed for our hero. Lyle made a dash for the car and locked himself in to keep away from them. It seems that Lyle has a better press agent than the team.

Dragons Trounce Webb City, 18-0

Rogers, Loftus, Brooks Score Tallies as Missourians Get Bad Breaks

The courageous Webb City eleven tried to stop the power of the Purple Dragons of P. H. S. who marched to a decisive victory over them of 18-0, but were unable to stem the tide. Webb City was outclassed on every play and the Dragons avenged the 12-12 tie they were held to last year. Playing on the Webb City field last Friday afternoon Pittsburg opened up an attack from the very first plunging, passing and out playing the Webbers in every quarter.

The Dragons' first tally came in the first period after Morgan had intercepted Spencer's pass on his own 45 and made a brilliant run of 25 yards, to smash to the opposition 30-yard line. From here Vance Rogers took the ball and raced around end for 30 yards and a touchdown. On a try for the extra point a quick pass from center caused a fumble and the try failed.

In the second, after Pittsburg had marched down to the Webb City 10-yard line, the Dragons were penalized ten yards. On the fourth down a pass from Morgan to "Dutch" Nogel failed a few feet to complete the first down. A bad punt by Webb City behind their own goal line dropped on about the Webb City 13-yard stripe from where Tom Loftus quickly snatched it and crossed the goal line for another touchdown. Simoncic's place kick failed.

It was late in the last quarter when Brooks broke through the Webb City line and intercepted Robinson's pass running twenty yards for a touchdown. Again Simoncic's kick from placement failed.

Nutty Brown Bread

Nutty Brown Bread has a nutritive value of more than five times that of wheat flour, three times that of lean round of beef and three to thirty times that of many of the best known and most frequently used articles of food. Yet this bread is non-fattening because it contains practically no starch. It can therefore be safely used in the treatment for diabetics.
