Teachers Make Plans for State Faculty Meets

Majority From High School to Attend at Parsons With Some Taking Part

Pittsburg In 1938

Others Will Travel to Lawrence and
Wichita to Hear Noted Speakers
On Program

(Maxine Humbard)

Members of the high school faculty have been making various plans as to where they will attend the Kansas state teachers meetings to be held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6. Meetings will be held at Manhattan, Hays, Dodge City, Lawrence, Wichita, and Parsons.

The majority of the faculty will attend the meeting at Parsons with two members taking active parts in the program there. They are Lester Ramsey, who will be the chairman of the roundtable of commerce and William Corporon, chairman of the roundtable of English. Others going there are Miss Anne Fintel, Clyde Hartford, Miss Ferda Hatton, Claude Huffman, Miss Maude Laney, Miss Helen Lanyon, Howard Lundquest, Marion Nation, Miss Mary Nelson, Miss Frances Palmer, William Row, F. M. Snodgrass, Charles Thiebaud, Miss Madge Waltz, Miss Harriett Way, Miss Florence White, Principal J. L. Hutchinson, and Superintendent M. M. Rose.

Miss Calla Leeka, Mrs. Dora Peterson, John E. White and Gerald Carney are going to the meeting at Wichita. Mr. Carney and Mr. White must attend there as it is the only one for such music and vocational instructors.

Those attending the meeting at Lawrence are Ellsworth Briggs, Miss Clara Radell, Miss Effie Farmer, Miss Jessie Bailey, Miss Sara Stephens, and Miss Esther Gable. Several of the teachers are interested in hearing Dorothea Brand, author of "Wake Up and Live," who will be a special speaker there.

Miss Dorothy McPherson, former member of the P. H. S. faculty, will be chairman of the meeting intermediate grades at the department meeting at Parsons.

Most of the teachers plan to attend the roundtable discussion on the subject the teach. Miss Palmer, librarian, says that a round table will be held for the first time for the library teachers.

Pittsburg will be one of the places for the 1938 meeting.

NO NEW ASSIGNMENTS MADE FOR PROCTORS

No new assignments were made in the regular proctor meeting held in L. C. Ramsey's room Wednesday morning, Oct. 20. Several questions were brought up about what the proctor's duties were, among them the question of cutting across the campus. Sponsor Ramsey said the proctors could not handle that situation so well since people besides the pupils cut across the campus. Proctor pins have been ordered, Mr. Ramsey stated.

The different schedules were given to the proctors so they will know when to leave classes for their "Service" duties.

CREDIT DUE STUDENTS FOR WORK IN LIBRARY

Much credit is due the student librarians who have assisted in cataloging the new books in the library, according to Miss Frances Palmer, librarian. "Cataloging at best is a long, arduous task," Miss Palmer said. "The student librarians helped a lot and I appreciate their aid."

Acknowledgment was also made by Miss Palmer for work done by others in the library. De Wayne Turner, senior, was instrumental in numbering with white ink the backs of nearly 300 books. Jean Burke, senior, typed lists of books for use by students desiring to read for English credit. The typing was done according to the classifications of fiction, biography, and non-fiction, including travel, essay, drama, and history.

Juniors Present 'One Mad Night'

Maxine Puffinbarger and Bill Millington Have Leading Roles in Play

(Jacqueline Gore)

The juniors, sometimes known as the forgotten men and women of all high schools, are not forgotten today. Following a superb, "jim dandy," mad, hilarious performance last night in their annual play, "One Mad Night," how could anyone forget them? A large crowd attended the play.

"The play was fine. The nuts were nuttier than ever. But really the play surprised all expectations, and was remarkably well received. The entire cast was at its best," William H. Row, director of the play, said.

Maxine Puffinbarger and Bill Millington were exceptionally good in the leading roles. Gene McClarrinon, Terrell Horn and Frances Cumiskey plotted against our hero but with the assistance of Mac French, all difficulties were ironed out.

Alice Lorraine Williams and Mary Margaret Morgan played the part of the jilted fiancée and her mother very well.

The comedy roles were taken by Evelyn Pitts as Depression, the colored maid, and the "nuts" which included Lady Macbeth, Priscilla, John Alden, and Mr. Hyde. These parts were portrayed with amazing accuracy by Mary Jane Evans, Betty Montgomery, Drury Love, and Arthur Prince.

Gerald Prudeaux played the part of Wing, the proverb-quoting Chinese valet whose wisdom was greater than his size.

Grad Is Injured

Miss Betty Coulter '37 was severely cut on the face Sunday, Oct. 24, when she went through a car window. As the car in which she was riding hit a leaf-covered stump in the road. The accident occurred near Joplin, Mo. Miss Coulter was taken to the home of Ed Weeks '36, where a doctor was called. Those in the car besides Miss Coulter were Betty Davis '37, Jack Gilliland '35, and Ed Weeks.

STUDENTS SOLILOQUIZE AS HOLIDAY NEARS

Senior Soliloquies: Ho Hum! Guess I'll have to catch up on my sleep tomorrow in library. I shouldn't have stayed up so late last night. It must have been all of 9 before I got to bed. I'll have to get a lot of rest this week if I don't want to flunk that chemistry test. Or are we going to have one? Seems to me that I heard the teacher say something about — Say! That was it! Yipeeeeeee! I knew I wanted to get some sleep for some reason. Vacation! That's what it was. There was something about a state teachers' meeting, but I don't pay much attention to that. Guess I better rest up next week 'cause I'm going to make a real vacation of it!

Junior jumbles: Boy! Are we going to have fun thru' vacation or are we going to have fun! Soaping windows, putting garbage cans on front porches! Boy, oh, boy! There were gobs of places I missed last time I went out "Halloweening." Thought I'd pop when they announced the teachers' meeting. All the kids nearly fell out of their chairs, and even the seniors woke up. Well, see you the next time.

Sophomore snoozing: Oh, dear, so much work and so little time to do it in! I better stay home next week-end and study. I just know I'll never find that 4-foot yardstick Mr. Carnino told me to bring Friday. I'm not sure he meant it. I th-i-n-k he's k-i-d-d-i-n-g me, but— I better look around for it to make sure. I ought to find it by Fri—Well, for cryin' in a bucket! I knew I had something to do Friday. Vacation! Well, I'll have to put Mr. Carnino off for a day or so. See ya when and if—

Ghosts 'ull get ya if ya don't run!

From the looks of the scene, it seems that Elmer has taken the wrong road home. He forgot that it was near Halloween and at that time spooks and ghosts make their appearance. It looks as if he's 'Gone with the Wind'!

Open Letter

To the Paola High School Reporter
Not that it makes any difference but

We see in your paper of Oct. 22 that Ark Light of Arkansas City, Kas. was reelected president of the Kansas Interscholastic Press Association. We should like to call your attention to the fact that The Booster was elected president of K. I. P. A. while the Ark Light was elected secretary.

Cordially yours,

The Booster

Sophs Take Charge

Class Officers at P. T. A. Program;
Mr. Hutchinson Speaks

The P.T.A. held a meeting Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. The sophomore class officers were in charge of the program. Principal J. L. Hutchinson was the main speaker of the program. The subject of his speech was, "Some problems relating to high school education."

Devotions were led by Charles Gilliland, vice president of the sophomore class, and Mrs. Clarence Hankins president of the P.T.A., gave a short response. The entertainment was furnished by Jack Cox, who played an accordion solo, and the string trio composed of Lois Williamson, Evelyn Massman, and Mardell Mangrum also gave a number. Margaret Agnes Naylor gave a reading.

Mrs. Fruit Back

Mrs. Nannie Fruit, meat cook in the cafeteria, was back Monday after an absence of six days on account of illness.

1st Echo of Year Issued By Pupils

Rooseveltians Write Own Stories;
English Classes Participate In Putting Out Paper

The first issue of the Roosevelt Echo was scheduled to be issued yesterday for the students of Roosevelt junior high school. This paper is an English class project and all the writing of stories and columns is done by the students with very little instruction from the teachers.

Following are listed the teachers who are in charge and the contributors: Miss Verna Kelly and her seventh grade English classes; Miss Patty Marsh and her eighth grade English classes; Miss Ruth Thornton and her seventh, eighth, and ninth grade literature classes, Dan Tewell and his ninth grade English classes.

The fact that the articles in the Echo are printed just as the students write them is an incentive for them to do better work improving their English, vocabulary, literature, and art of writing, according to those in charge. The work of the students in contributing the articles is divided as equally as possible. The paper is published bi-weekly and printed by a student of the Pittsburg high school printing department. The paper was established in 1929 but the policy of having the students sign their names to their stories with no corrections made by teachers is only two years old. The price of the paper for the year is 15 cents and there will be 600 papers printed.

OOMPAH!

The big event at Lincoln school at 7 o'clock tonight. Admission 5 cents.

GOBLINS'LL GITCHA AT SENIOR PARTY

Tonight at 7:30 in the library the seniors will hold their annual Halloween party.

Goblins and witches will prow and mystery will be in the air. As everyone tries to guess who are hiding behind the masks. The committees have been at work all week planning entertainment, decorations, and refreshments.

There will be prizes for the prettiest and the funniest costumes also for the last person guessed. The library will be decorated in Halloween style with witches, cats, and ghosts.

Jack Harmon to Lead Sophomore Class for Year

Gilliland, Gay, Lance Chosen to Hold Offices in Annual Election

Voting Last Week

Incumbents Also Active in Various Sports and Activities of Junior High School

Announcement of the sophomore class officers was made Monday, following the annual election held last week.

The officers are as follows: President, Jack Harmon; vice president, Charles Gilliland; secretary, Shirley Ann Gay; treasurer, Raymond Lance.

Jack Harmon was graduated from Lakeside junior high. He participated in various sports while attending Lakeside. Jack received a P. H. S. letter in football when a freshman on the squad.

Charles Gilliland, a graduate from Lakeside junior high, is also an all-around athlete including football, basketball, and track. He played with the band, held a home room office and was in the ninth grade operetta, "Captain of the Guard."

Shirley Ann Gay was graduated from Lakeside junior high, where she had the lead in "Annie Laurie," sang in the chorus in the operetta, "Captain of the Guards," held a part in "Mignonette," and held a home room office.

Raymond Lance, also a graduate of Lakeside was active in various sports such as basketball, football, track and others. Raymond was in the glee club, the operetta, "Captain of the Guards," "Cherry Blossom," and took a part in "Annie Laurie."

Take Reading Tests

Rate and Comprehension Scores for Sophomores Are Found

To improve the reading rate of the students, silent reading tests were given to the members of the sophomore class. The tests were given by the English teachers, Miss Sara Stephens, Miss Harriett Way, and William Corporon. Miss Stephens compiled the results, and listed the names according to grades.

Out of 296 who took the test, 95 fell below the eighth grade level in comprehension. The number for each of the other grades: ninth, 50; tenth, 49; eleventh, 40; twelfth, 27; thirteenth, 30; and for the fourteenth, four.

Thirty-two students made the fourteenth grade level in rate. The number for each of the other grades: 64, ninth; 21, tenth; seven, eleventh; three, twelfth; and eleven for the thirteenth.

GREAT AMERICAN SONGS IN TODAY'S ASSEMBLY

"Great American Songs" was the theme in today's assembly.

Joe Bosco, senior, gave a short history of each song. The songs and the soloists: "America," Irene Harmel; "Columbia Gem of the Ocean," Mac French; "America the Beautiful," girls' quartet composed of Irene Harmel, Rosemary Schiefelbein, Ruth Wiley, and Helen Caskey; "Hail Columbia," Carl Mathis; "Speed Our Republic," Bailey Williams; "Yankee Doodle," Norman Dooley; and "Star Spangled Banner," Julia Ann Pogson. Leonard Sellmansberger led the audience in several of the songs. Accompanists were Wilma Carey and Jennibel Evans. Devotions were conducted by Betty Lou Hastings. Miss Effie Farmer was in charge of the assembly.

ART STUDENTS LEARNING HARMONIES OF COLOR

The art department has spent the last six weeks learning printing, color harmonies and how to use poster paint. They are now making posters. The subjects vary widely, some being health posters to be used in the halls. The art students also have done much of other departments' advertising by painting signs.

The students doing sign painting this fall are Bob Darrow, Morris Lee, Earl Moore, Arnold Smith, Leonard Stone, Ralph Taylor and James Zimmerman.

THOUGHT FOR A DAY

The meanest, most contemptible kind of praise is that which first speaks well of a man, and then qualifies it with a "but."—H. W. Beecher.

Common sense is the knack of seeing things as they are, and doing things as they ought to be done.—C. E. Stowe.

TRACK MEN?

Swish! What was that rushing down the hall? Oh, just another high school student making a record dash to class. The "timid soul" ventures out in the hall and takes his life in his hands for if he doesn't have the brawn and muscle to fight back, he will literally be, "knocked down and dragged out," in the mad scramble. The supposedly "dignified" seniors push as much as the sophomores and juniors. We have four minutes to get to class and that should be plenty of time for everyone. Let's try a moderate amount of speed, do away with pushing methods, and see if we don't get to class quicker than usual.—Jennibel Evans.

LET'S WAKE UP

If at home you stuffed paper behind the furniture and put your feet on the walls, what would happen?

Our high school is a home to us. Why deface it by standing at the blackboard or in the corridors with your feet braced upon the walls causing unsightly black spots?

If you are too tired or lazy to take paper to the wastebasket, have it passed to the front or ask someone else to dispose of it for you. This is a much better way than pushing it behind radiators or under chairs.

We want to be proud of our school. Unannounced visitors may arrive at any time. Let's not let carelessness and unworthy conduct spoil our reputation.—Don McCollister

WELL-READ?

Are you well-read enough to answer questions concerning Zola, Dreyfus, Tolstoy, Margaret Mitchell, Vaughn Moody or many others? Or do you even know who they are or what they wrote? Of course, you know some of them. They're too easy to miss. The point is do you read their books and honest that you have, or can tell something about a book after you have read it? Can you present your ideas in an easily understood manner, or must you fumble about for words. If you are able to do so, it is the sign of a well-read person. Of course, some extremes are reached if you insist upon displaying to the world at large, your intelligence at every opportunity. There is a happy medium, another sign of a superior mind.

That is to have your knowledge ready for the right time. The school library is at every one's disposal and there is no excuse for not availing yourself of this handy opportunity to improve your mind.—Fay Moselle Degen

WHOSE GRADE?

So you think that you are fooling your teachers. So you think that, because you have been able to earn better grades than you rightfully deserve by various methods, you are fooling the teachers.

Far from it. What you do to get a grade doesn't fool them a bit. Of course you might cheat on a test or copy someone's work instead of getting it yourself, and lead them to believe that you obtained the results by your own efforts, but you are not fooling the teachers. You are fooling no one but yourself. You don't go to school just so that teachers can get jobs; you go to school to learn how to best take care of yourself and get along with your fellow beings. A purpose of the school is to teach you to think for yourself. If you copy and cheat, an education is doing you no good. You get only as much out of a school as you put into it. If you put forth no effort you will receive nothing to aid you in later life.

No, the teachers aren't the ones who are being fooled.—Norman Smith.

Blessings (?) on Thee, Little Man!

It looks as if Elmer's motto for this week is "Be Prepared." At any rate, he has decided to get that 'grade card conference' with Dad over with as soon as possible.

I ONLY HEARD (Jacqueline Gore)

Mack Schirk thinks Kathryn Sweet is very nice and would go with her if it weren't for Howard Mosby. I'm afraid there isn't much hope, Mack, Howard gave her a watch for her birthday so I guess they're pretty serious.

It looks as though Dorris Hudson and Louis Le Chein have patched things up between them. At a recent masquerade dance Dorris wore a bridal gown. Was that a hint, Dorris? Here's wishing you luck.

Have you noticed how happy "Billie" Smith has been lately? That's because Lee Worthington didn't go to K. C. to work after all. She was pretty worried for awhile.

Dutch Nogel thinks Irene Macari certainly is cute. Maybe he's looking ahead so that the future won't be too dreary when Norma Hudson leaves.

Did George Newcomb ever feel funny? He thought that he was escorting Jane Henderson to a recent dance but when he got there, Jane had been gone some time.

Marjorie Gillenwater seems to be going steady with two boys and as the story runs Geneva Pri-deaux is quite jealous. A similar situation seems to exist among Ralph McMurtry, Wilma Uhles and Norma Dean Lewis.

It looks as though Maxine Douglas and Ralph Taylor are going to call off their feud. I may be wrong, of course, but that's the way things look at the present.

Have you met Mary Lois Koubler? She just moved here from K. C. and I hear that several boys including "Chuck" Ray want introductions.

Have you heard about the latest bet? Of course you know that Madlyn Osterfelt has been dating Steve Elliot. Well, Bill Scott has bet Steve that he can't "partake of the usual salutations" before the first of the month. We'll announce the results later.

It seems that Kathryn Wilson has her eye on a certain sophomore. You'd better be careful, Gene.

BOOKS YOU MAY LIKE

HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE

By Dale Carnegie

The strange part about this book is that the author himself was at one time a failure as far as making friends was concerned. However, do not let this make any one of you suspicious of it. The main thoughts of the book are examples of some of the soundest philosophy on the subject the author has chosen that the reading public has ever set eyes on. Perhaps it is the fact that Mr. Carnegie has not led a very successful private life that makes him so sharply aware of other people, and how they gain or lose friends. At any rate, he is a very reliable authority on this theme of "how to get friends and hang on to them." Even if you are one of those people who scorn the ideas presented in this book, why don't you read it anyway? It may help you more than you think.

Good kisses are short and fire between.

Tragedy: There was a girl who knew all the answers but was never asked any of the questions.

Eat, drink, and be merry for tomorrow the installment collectors may take the dining table, cocktail shaker, and radio.

A straight line is the shortest distance between two points, which just goes to show why a girl with curves will go a lot further.

A New York temperance society has suggested building camps for habitual inebriates. That's one way to keep them out of cars.

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE (Irene Brannum)

What two sophomore girls ask dates to a dance and when they finally arrive, get cold feet or stage fright, and will not go in? P. S. They have dates with seniors too!

Flash! What "sophisticated" senior got lost in Kansas City and spent lonesome hours weeping in a bus station because she couldn't find her party!

We hear that George Newcomb's date "done him wrong" the other night. In other words, he was "stood up" by none other than Jane Henderson '36, that girl who breaks so many hearts . . . . .

What's this about a senior girl dating a sophomore boy? It is Lorraine Allen that is giving Leonard Hartwig (sophie) the break. By the way—he is her first boy friend, too . . . .

It's a wonder Earl Perry didn't break a leg trying to get out of the car when he saw his (first) one and only girl friend in Columbus. It seems that he couldn't wait for the car to stop so he jumped out any way. Well, this is certainly a big surprise, Earl! . . . .

We wonder how Maxine Douglas and Ralph Taylor felt while they were dancing to the tune of "Remember Me"? Did it bring back old memories??

Is Betty Lashbrook's passion for Ed Hood's wonderful car, or is it the handsome driver???

Alas! Donald Slagle has a broken heart. . . . He misses Connie Johnson "that" much since she moved away. His undying admiration for her is undying. Cheer up, Don, there are lots of other girls.

The sturdy old pioneers who "blazed" the trail now have descendants who "burn" up the road!

Guess what teacher said that the students didn't need to be sorry for teachers who were old maids because they were very glad they were single when they looked around at some of the married people! !

WHAT OTHERS SAY

USING HORSE SENSE?

'Way back when the first horseless carriages and steam engines were causing quite a furor among the learned men of the day . . . and especially the learned men who had no part in their invention . . . a Frenchman, addressing the Academy, advanced the opinion that such devices would not be a success because man had not the common sense in picking his way that was possessed by a horse.

Time has proved that he was wrong about the success part of the statement, for the automobile industry is one of the most thriving in our national setup. Above that, the automobile has been more or less of a boon to mankind.

And yet, horses still don't try to beat locomotives to crossings or round curves at 90 miles an hour.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: Do you think politics should be taught in high school?

Katherine Fikes: It's O. K. by me.

Bob Stover: Yes, so we'll vote for someone and know what we're doing.

Ruth Holmes: I think it should.

Joe Fields: Yes, it sure should be.

Betty Nail: I think they ought to.

George Seifert: Yes. If they teach the right kind—Republican.

Dorothy Keith: Yes. When you start talking about politics, kids all start saying something about it and they ought to know what they are talking about.

Bette Lu Williams: No. I wouldn't like it.

JEST HERE AND THERE (Caskey—Burcham—Jones)

Don McCollister—Are you one of those people who stand in the corridors with your feet on the wall?

Frances Hunt—I'll keep my mask on and shut my mouth and no one will know me.

Bob Voss—Five days of speech makes one weak.

Norman Smith—That's the rope they use to tie the Boosters up before they burn them.

Shirley Gilbert—(at a masquerade, talking to Frances Hunt). You can't fool me, Hubert, I know you!

Jest captain this week—Shirley Gilbert.

PUPIL PORTRAITS

Sophomore Boy and Girl

Two sophomores, both coming from Lakeside junior high school, appear in this week's column. The first, a girl, is Ida Louise Rush. Ida Louise is a member of Mr. Hartford's home room. She is of a quiet disposition and plays the piano very well. Last year she had one of the leading parts in the ninth grade play called "Annie Laurie." She made all "A's" in junior high school. She is a member of Miss Stephens' Girl Reserves group.

The boy this week is Albert McClure. Albert is a member of Mrs. Peterson's home room and a member of the glee club. Last year he had one of the leading parts in the Lakeside operetta called "Cherry Blossoms."

ALUMNI

1933—Evangeline Cannon gives music lessons.

1934—Ursel Coulson is a junior at K. S. T. C.

1935—Margaret Marty is now Mrs. Carl Flynn.

1936—Bud Peterson is living in Chicago, Ill.

1937—Lorraine Holloway is employed at Lindburg and Gray.

ETIQUETTE HINTS

Girls

Don't keep a boy waiting! A boy should arrive a few minutes before the appointed time and the girl should keep him waiting only a minute or two.

Boys

Here's good news (we hope)! You no longer need to walk on the outside of the sidewalk and change back and forth as though you were dancing and get your legs entangled.

Boys and Girls

Table manners. Are you puzzled about how to eat your corn on the cob or fried chicken when out in company? You can just pick them up in your fingers as you do at home and feel perfectly at ease.

POET'S CORNER

THE DEATH OF EZRA

Friend Ezra was a happy man,
No sorrow belonged to him.
His spirits were always on the up
He was full of vigor and vim.

His death was an unexpected blow,
No cause for it could be found,
And would explode each theory
That the doctors would propound.

But let me tell you grieving ones,
Oh, saddened wife and daughter,
He died of shock when by mistake
He took a drink of water.

—"Smitty"

Cruel Fate

I met my blind date
At the chosen place.
I wish I were blind!
Ye Gods! What a fate!

Her face and form were beautiful,
What meaning her dark eyes carried!
But in spite of it all,
My hopes took a fall,
Alas! The lass was married.

KNIGHTHOOD'S FLOWER
PROVES WORTH

Earl Perry, gallant knight of P. H. S., leaped from his thundering steed to greet his lady fair maiden, he greeted her with vigor and vim in an unconventional manner. Joy reigned supreme on the streets of the fair city of Columbus. His gallant band of warriors could not contain their guffaws, and Sir Perry, his face turning the color of a fresh cooked beet, departed with a sigh.

FASHIONS AND FADS
(Bebe Coles)

Boys! If your ears get cold and you won't wear a hat, how about one of those new jackets with hoods attached? They're called "Parkas." It is the Admiral Byrd influence.

If you get cold hands, don't sit on them, stick them into a great warm muff: the larger the muff the better. Or try a pair of old hand-knit mittens.

Tie your head up in a woolen "Gretchen" and keep your hair from blowing in the icy wind. One couldn't help noticing the large number of K.U. co-eds who were wearing them. Have you noticed all the girls with their throats tied up in bright satin and wool kerchiefs? It isn't an epidemic of sore throats: it's just a fad. Those noisy plaid shirts of last year have reappeared. But look again! The girls are wearing them too. Under the title of "lumbermen's shirt," they have become almost a necessity for school and sports.

Boys are on the way to snitzier jackets. Suede, pigskin, and cloth. They are belted and pleated, or short and bloused.

Girls are wearing sweaters and skirts more and more.

Student Council

Students are asked to please refrain from dropping paper from the upper floors onto the basement floor. This only causes more work for janitors and it gives the school an untidy appearance.

Students are also asked not to walk on the grass.

SKATING PARTY

Remember the all-school skating party tonight from 10 to 12 at the skating rink. The prices are 15c for girls and 25c for boys.

'Hedron' Family

Going in Circles

Tetrahedron! Hexahedron! Octahedron! Dodecahedron! Isosahedron! What is all this?

Miss Anne Fintel's geometry pupils were wondering the same thing one night last week when they attempted to make those "things".

Those "things" happen to be solid geometry figures made of tape and paper to help the students with theorems.

With a clip here and a little paste maybe the next one won't take so long. (I hope, I hope, I hope!)

It looks easy enough, but is it? Well you might ask some studious(?) geometry pupil who spent most of the night clipping and pasting and whose fond parents lost a good night's rest also because they were afraid Mary or Johnny would forget to extinguish the light when (or if) he hit the hay."

Latest estimates show that there are 333,500,000 Catholics in the world. This is the second largest religious body in existence.

Ebenezer's Efforts

Ah, to be a knight of yore! To polish brightly my arms and armor, mount my super-charge with its streamlined nose and silver trappings, and gallop off in search of adventure.

Perchance to rescue some fair maiden, to slay a dragon with six heads. With my rusty—I mean trusty—broadsword I would hack my way through countless hordes of infidels.

I would swim deep rivers and traverse great forests in search of some quest. My name would become a myth, a mystical symbol of bravery and courage throughout the world.

Would that I could turn back time and live in that era when knighthood was in flower. Ye have heard that these fair knights were flowers of manhood. This perchance is true but a bozo as tough as me wouldn't have no trouble at all to put the slug on them mugs.

What visions I see when I look into the past! I see myself now, the towering figure in the midst of a great battle. The odds are overwhelmingly against me. I cast a hurried glance around me. I am the last man on our side. 20,000 Turks are clamoring for my life.

I look in my scabbard; my sword is gone. I look in my quiver; my arrows are gone. I look in my hands; my lance is gone. But do I follow the craven's course and flee from the battle?

Nay, but when I see so many of the enemy coming to get me, I shrink from them in fear. In fact I shrink so much, I find a worm hole and crawl away.

Dragons Playing at Springfield Today

Gudgen Gridmen Seek to Repeat Over Bulldogs

Purple and White Forces to Tangle With Missourians At 2 o'clock

Both Are Undefeated

Pittmen to Rely on Defense to Stop Fighting Charges of Red Warriors

With five straight victories to their credit, 22 mighty Purple Dragons left for Springfield, Mo., this morning to play the red-clad Bulldogs of Springfield.

Last year the Dragons eked out a 6 to 0 victory over the Bulldogs when "Jumping Joe" Begando sliced off tackle and galloped 57 yards for the one counter of the game, and this year Missourians will be trying to avenge that defeat.

Little is known about the Springfield team except that they have a big club and haven't lost a game so far this season. The Missourians use a style of football that promises many long passes and tricky plays.

This game will be the dedication tilt of the new stadium at Springfield. The radio reported that Springfield, after scouting the Fort Scott game, went back home and called a special practice, the first one of the year, and it looks as if Pittsburg is in for a tough afternoon.

The Dragons, on the other hand, have not lost a game this season and are trying to keep in the win column. The Purple Shirts have one of the best, if not the best, defense of the S.E.K. league and should hold back the charges of the Bulldogs, but if the red-clad gridmen start slinging those long passes, anything can happen.

ON THE AIR

Listen! Hutchinson Field on the air!

The Armistice Day football game between the Pittsburg Dragons and the Parsons Vikings will be broadcast over KOAM directly from the high school field. Spencer Allen, with the assistance of two boys who know the players of both teams, will announce.

The offers of several up-town merchants to sponsor these game broadcasts are being considered.

Victor Baxter, president of the Pittsburg Broadcasting Company, made this broadcast possible. The high school athletic committee made arrangements with Mr. Baxter.

Bill Robison '37 is planning a program. He plans to have the school song and cheers heard over the air waves.

"Y" NOTES

The local Y.M.C.A. has a fine hobby department. This department has turned out some splendid model airplanes ranging from less-than-one-ounce gliders to a gas-motored plane with a 6-foot wing spread. Bob Stover, one of the licensed pilots, got his preliminary training by building model airplanes there-not so long ago. Harold Green, senior, is doing a splendid job handling this department.

This department has a table tennis team that is ranked as one of the best in this district. It holds a yearly city championship which draws many boys --why don't you girls get in it too, you're welcome to do so. The winner last year was Russel Neas '37.

The Y. M. C. A. now has a work-out room equipped with a bar bell, dumbbells, punching bag, wrestling mat and chest weights. The "Y" purchased an $18 bar bell set with complete equipment for this department.

Several P. H. S. students are becoming bowlers of no little renown. It seems that two of the outstanding ones are Bob Crews and Bob Stover. Not only that but the faculty team seems to be doing all right --for amateurs.

Speaker From K.S.T.C.

Player Sketch

The first lad to crash the column this week is none other than Co-captain Lawrence (Bud) Fidler. Bud, who does the quarterbacking for the Dragons, stands five-nine in height and tips the beam around the 160 mark. Although small in size, he is dependable and is responsible for many long gains through the enemy line.

Second on the list is Co-captain "Dutch" Nogel. Dutch, five-eight in height and weighing around 150, holds down a wing position for the Pitt eleven. Many times when the Dragons are in a tight spot "Dutch" breaks through to spill the enemy backs for huge losses.

Last but, by far not the least, is Fullback Carl Beard. Carl, who is five-nine in height and weighs 165, was all-S. E. K. guard last year, and although he has been changed to full is doing all right by himself.

Mr. Lundquest III

C. H. Lundquest, typing, was absent from school the greater part of this week because of a mild attack of "flu." Mrs. Wilma Smith conducted the typing classes during his absence.

Mrs. Crane Assists

Mrs. Henrietta Crane has been drilling the string sections of the orchestra on the days the band rehearses. This is being done to enable the members of both organizations to have more rehearsals.

Student Leaves

Miss Norma June Hudson, senior, left Pittsburg last Saturday, Oct. 23 for San Francisco, Cal. Miss Hudson came to this school from Muskogee, Okla., at the beginning of the school year.

Trip Through Ozarks

Miss Ferda Hatton, commerce, her sister, mother and aunt drove to Eureka Springs, Saturday. They traveled through Rogers and Bentonville, and Roaring State Park on a pleasure trip through the Ozarks.

Soph-Fresh Team Whips Cherokee

Cremer and Gilliland Tally Counters in 13-0 Victory, Tuesday

The fighting Pittsburg sophomore-freshman team scored an impressive 13 to 0 victory last Tuesday afternoon when they tromped over the charging Braves at Cherokee. Gilliland scored first for the home team when he plunged over from the 3-yard line in the first quarter.

The next Pittsburg score came in the fourth quarter. Clugston, Cherokee halfback, had galloped for 57 yards to the Pittsburg 7-yard line. On the next play a pass was intercepted by B. Davis, fullback, in his own end zone and raced it back 70 yards to the Cherokee 30-yard line. The ball then was toted by Cremer, halfback, who carried the mail for a touchdown.

Cherokee's only threat came when Clugston raced to the Pittsburg 7-yard line where it was stopped by Davis. After the first three plays, Cherokee sent in its first string bunch to stop the reserves, but found the going tough.

Theodore Carnino and F. M. Snodgrass are in charge of the sophomore-freshman team.

In Queen Contest

Betty Dorsey '36, Margaret Ann Naylor, Scammon, and Cecelia Ensmann, Pittsburg, won in the election at the College Monday, Oct. 25, as candidates for homecoming queen. The one winning in the final election will be queen with the other two as her attendants.

Buy New Flags

The Board of Education is buying flags for seven of the classrooms. The teachers receiving flags are Miss Florence Gable, Miss Calla Leeka, John E. White, Theodore Carnino, Miss Frances Palmer, Gerald M. Carney, and Miss Helen Lanyon. The rest of the teachers reported to student council representative that their flags were in satisfactory condition, a number having received new flags in the spring.

Foods Pictures Shown

Miss Calla Leeka's first and fourth hour foods' classes saw two films Tuesday, Oct. 26. They were "Corn, The Golden Grain," and "Something about Crackers." They were presented by the Castle Film Co. The classes have been studying cereals and these pictures illustrated many important facts concerning these subjects.

Play "Baseball"

Students in William Row's international relations classes have been playing the game of "Baseball capitals." The room was divided into two sides. The side "at bat" gave the name of a country and the other tried to name its capital. Failure was on "out," "success was a hit." Each side was given three outs. Few stolen bases were attempted although there was plenty of sliding into home.

Skating Party

Don't forget! Tonight's the night. You don't remember? Why it's the night of the skating party. Tonight from 10 until 12 the Pep Club will take over the rink at Kansas and Broadway and sponsor an all-school skating party. Everybody come and let's have a big time.

AMATEUR NOTES

What mighty football player's face turned red when a nice senior girl recited poetry to him?

At the recent Fort Scott football game, the Dragons induced a small colored boy to do a song and dance number for them, by throwing pennies at him. But when the higher coinage came tumbling in, big James (Tiny) Zimmerman said he would oblige the players with a good dance for the coins. Tsk! tsk! and he a senior.

The real secret behind the Dragons' winning streak seems to lie behind a 1900 Liberty head nickel which the players call their lucky piece and which they prize very highly. The nickel has been in the medicine kit since the Independence game and nobody knows where it came from.

I would like to have a few predictions on the remaining football games. I will accept the first 12 predictions that come in. The winner's name will be published in this column the next paper after the game predicted.

Edwin Ryan, sub-halfback, showed plenty of zip and good running ability during the Fort Scott game. Another player showing up in games is B. Davis of the soph-fresh squad. Don't let his innocent look fool you. Lyle Strahan.

Hold Tryouts

Gerald M. Carney, music instructor, has announced that the date for the opera tryouts has been set for the first of next week. The opera, "The Gondoliers," has many roles in it and the picking of the cast will take quite a while. The opera will be presented March 6.

Lecturer at College

Captain Carl Von Hoffman, internationally known lecturer and explorer, spoke last night in the College auditorium before many students and townspeople.

TENSION LESSENS AFTER GRADES ARE KNOWN

Grade cards have been given out and the tension that has been felt in P.H.S. has lessened. Headaches, dizziness, sports before the eyes--there are many who have experienced these. But the ecstasy, the thrill, the joy, the excitement of those who made the high grades and the disappointment, the despair, the let-down feeling and the stern parental talks of those who don't do so well. It happens every six weeks so there is something to look forward to. Of course, our resolve is--We'll do better next time!

Dragons Make It Five Straight In Trimming Tigers

Purple and White Use Power Plays in Trouncing Ft. Scott, 25 to 0

Pass Attack Fails

Defense of Pitt Men Outstanding; Beard, Lance, and Ryan Score Touchdowns

Using powerhouse plays and putting up a strong defense, the Pittsburg Dragons trounced the Fort Scott Tiger, 25 to 0, last Friday night in the Bourbon county fair.

The Gudgenmen scored first in the opening quarter when "Chuck" Ritter, guard, intercepted a pass and galloped within one foot of the goal line, where he was forced out of bounds. On the next play Fidler fed the ball to Carl Beard, fullback, who crashed over the line for a touchdown. The try for extra point was fumbled.

The rest of the first and second quarters was a dingdong battle with Pitt doing most of the ball carrying. Late in the second quarter the Purple and White team marched to the 1-yard line of Fort Scott, but on the fourth down a pass in the end zone was incomplete.

In the third period a punt was blocked by Pittsburg and recovered on the Tiger 3-yard line. A plunge at the line failed, but on the second play Ryan, halfback, skirted left end for the tally. Falder placekicked the extra point.

With their ground plays clicking, the Dragons rallied again in the fourth quarter. With the ball resting on their opponents, 4-yard line, Fidler sliced off right tackle but fumbled on the goal line where John Lance, halfback, pounced on the pigskin for a touchdown. Later in the same quarter flashy Edwin Ryan twisted and sidestepped his way for the fourth and last touchdown of the game.

The Dragons are still in first place of the league and are the only undefeated team of the circuit. But the rest of the remaining games are looming up to be as tough.
