Biographical Note L. Ray Wheeler was born in Kansas City, Kansas on June 24, 1940. He received his bachelor’s degree from Kansas State College of Pittsburg (now Pittsburg State University) in 1963, and his Ph.D from the University of North Dakota. Wheeler taught composition, philosophy, and creative writing at Dickinson Sate College (now University) in Dickinson, North Dakota for 46 years. Dr. Wheeler passed away in Dickinson, North Dakota on November 27, 2018.

Series The collection is divided into eight series: Correspondence, Biographical; Clippings; Programs; Poems by James Tate; Manuscripts by James Tate; Publicity for James Tate; and Photographs and Drawings. All of the series are arranged chronologically.

The Correspondence Series includes letters from Tate to Wheeler.

The Biographical series consists of a brief biography on Tate, and two short biographies on Douglass Mellor and Dale Reipe.

The Clipping series contains biographical articles over Tate and his works.

The Programs series contains two programs for two of Wheeler’s plays.

The Poems by James Tate series consists of Tate’s poetry.

The Manuscripts by James Tate series contains two rough drafts for “A Nice Day for No Parade.”

The Publicity for James Tate Series consists of an advertisement for a reading and an interview he gave for The Matrix.

Wheeler, Ray, Collection, MS 119

The Photographs and Drawings series contains a photograph of James Tate, a photograph of downtown Pittsburg, and several sketches of Tate.
