Athletic Contests to be Main
Interest; Nine Interstate
Towns Invited

Approximately 35 boys of the Hi-Y chapters of PHS plan to attend a Hi-Y rally to be held in Joplin tomorrow. The get-together is on a recreational basis. There will be ten towns competing in such sports as basketball, track, ping pong, and swimming. Also there will be a photography contest and an essay contest; the subject of the essay being "What the Hi-Y Could Do Toward World Peace." Awards will be given to the winner in each event.

There has been a limit set as to the amount of representatives in each event from the different towns. In track and basketball there will be nine persons eligible, eight in swimming, two in ping pong, and three in the essay and photography.

This rally is the first of its kind to be held in this section. It is sponsored by the Joplin high school Hi-Y organization.

The contests will be held at the Joplin Y.M.C.A. and the Joplin junior college gymnasium. They will begin in the afternoon at 1 p.m. climaxed by a banquet and program that night. The towns who are invited to compete are Springfield, Carthage, Webb City, Joplin, Minneminnes, Columbus, Pittsburg, Girard, Baxter Springs, and Arma.

Seventeen members of the Booster staff have been invited by G. W. Corporon, jr., to join Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists. Samples of the students' best work will be sent to Edward Nell, executive secretary of the society, to be approved.

The students who have been selected are Billie Lou Baer, Iva Mae Beard, Betty Brackett, Fred Bumgarner, Helen Carpenter, Helen Flynn, Margaret Hanes, Terrill Horn, Gene McClarrin, Irene Macari, Esther Modlin, Betty Montgomery, Art Prince, Wilma Sipes, Joe Stephens, Alice Lorraine Williams and Kathleen Cooper. Members will receive a gold pin and a year's subscription to the Quill and Scroll magazine. Initiation services will be held in the near future, Mr. Corporon said.

Kansas Seal to Be Presented to PHS by Seniors

The senior class gift this year will be "The Great Seal of Kansas," a rising sun in the right hand, corner of the seal; to the left of it, commerce is represented by a river and a steamboat; in the foreground, agriculture is represented as the basis of the future prosperity of the state by a settler's cabin and a man plowing with a pair of horses; beyond this is a herd of buffalo, retreating, pursued by two Indians on horseback; around the top is the motto, "Great Seal of the State," meaning to the stars through difficulty. Beneath this is a cluster of 34 stars. The circle is surrounded by the words, "Great Seal of the State of Kansas, January 29, 1861." This seal will hang in the new part of the library.

Legion Auxiliary Organize State Group of Lasses

Sunflower Girls' State Meet
For First Time at Topeka
June 11 to June 18

23 Units to Enroll

Encampment Held on Washburn
College Campus, Goal for 150 Registration

Tentative plans have been made for several junior and senior girls to participate in the newly-organized Girls' State, being organized by the American Legion Auxiliary for the first time this year. The branch sponsored by the Kansas department will be called the "Sunflower Girls' State."

Girls of the junior and senior classes in high school are eligible for entry, provided they possess the qualities of scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship and courage for service. They do not have to be daughters of Legion or Auxiliary members.

The program will follow the plan established by the Boys' State last year. It is a part of the American Legion National Americanism program.

The Sunflower Girls' State will be held at Washburn College, Topeka, June 11 to June 18, inclusive. There will be 150 girls, and to date 53 units have made application for enrollment. Sleeping quarters will be in the girls' dormitory with additional rooms in sorority houses located on the College campus.

Recommendations for eligibility will be made by Principal J. L. Hutchinson. The American Legion Auxiliary Unit will be responsible for expenses and transportation to and from Washburn.

Present Operetta

"Dreamboat" to Be Given Friday
Night by Eugene Field

The Eugene Field school will present "Dream Boat," an operetta in two acts, next Friday night in the high school auditorium.

The story is that of children's dreams, the main characters being myths who enter into the dreams of children. Act I takes place in a meadow where some children who have been playing lie down and go to sleep. Act II opens with the children having gone to sleep and find themselves in dreamland, where they meet personally all the characters in their story books.

Win Reading Contest

Pratt and Pridoux Place First
In Tryouts

Pratt, sophomore, and Gerald Pridoux, senior, won first place in the interpretative and extemporaneous speaking contests, respectively, in tryouts held in William H. Row's room last week.

Ringers-up in the reading contest were Margaret Agnes Naylor, second; Jeanne Stevens, third; and Shirley Ann Gay, fourth. Top rankers in the speaking contest were Charles Davis, second; and H. B. Cheyne, third. The winners will represent the school in the scholarship contest to be held at the college.

Thrills and Heart Throbs!!!

GENE RAYMOND

(Mary Jane Keller)

When it was suggested that I should interview Jeanette MacDonald I was thrilled beyond words. But since she has come and gone, and I did not get the interview I realize I was somewhat ignorant of the methods to be used to obtain one. Even not understanding these methods I still might have had a streak of bad luck, and have interviewed her to my heart's content.

Not knowing that there was to be a press conference Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 p. m., I stayed at school for a Girl Reserve cabinet meeting, thereby missing the conference. That night when I got home I called Mr. Wagner, Miss MacDonald's manager, and asked him if I might have an interview with Miss MacDonald that night or Thursday morning. Mr. Wagner said that he was sorry but it would be impossible, and that I should have come to the press conference the afternoon.

Thursday morning I went to school but was excused third hour, so I went to my father's office uptown and from there I sent Miss MacDonald a telegram, asking her if I might conduct an interview. In it I put my telephone number and said that if she could, to call me and I would come right down to the hotel. I went home for lunch. Miss MacDonald's secretary called me to tell me that she was very sorry but it was impossible for me to get an interview, for Miss MacDonald had been practicing all morning and wasn't feeling well and intended to rest that afternoon. Her secretary was a very

JEANETTE MACDONALD

(Betty Montgomery)

Timid and over-excited, we stepped to the desk and asked the desk clerk to announce our arrival to Jeanette MacDonald, singing star of the screen. The clerk then told us to go to suite 510-11 and eagerly we mounted the elevator.

When we entered the room we were met by E. W. Snowdown, who introduced us to Miss Grogg and Mr. Wagner, Miss MacDonald's secretary and manager. Then in one corner of the room we were rather surprised to realize we were being introduced to a young woman gowned in a green checked silk dress made "little girl" style with shirring in the bodice and sleeves, and a full circular skirt. Miss MacDonald appeared much as she does on the screen except her hair is a beautiful gold-red and it seems her eyes and smile are more radiant. She is five feet five inches tall weighs 118 and has green eyes.

Accompanied by her manager and assistants, Miss MacDonald arrived at noon Wednesday. She said, "I took a walk, way down by the railroad tracks on West Fourth street and no one recognized me."

Conversation turned to women's hats and Miss MacDonald declared, "Three years ago I decided to go without a hat. I made up my mind that I would just wear a scarf but" with a gesture of the hands and somewhat of a giggle she continued, "I guess one just has to become accustomed to them."

Miss MacDonald grew up singing.

EASTER VACATION OF 4 DAYS SOON

It won't be long now, till we'll watch with many a reminiscing sigh, and just a tinge of regret while the sister and brother rush outside on Easter morning to "see what the rabbit left."

"Them was the good ol' days," it won't be so bad after all, for we high-school students will enjoy a four-day vacation. After holding a special meeting Monday night, March 20, the Board of Education announced that our holiday will begin Thursday, April 6, at 3:36 p. m. and school will not take up again until Tuesday, April 11.

So...here's to a happy vacation! Let's all don our Easter duds and join the "Easter Parade."

Administrators Speak

Principal and Superintendent Tell
of Cleveland Trip

Principal J. L. Hutchinson and Superintendent M. M. Rose were the featured speakers last Tuesday night at a meeting of the High School Faculty Club. Forty faculty members and their wives attended. The administrators confined their speeches to the convention they attended in Cleveland, O., recently.

President Marion A. Nation announced that election of officers for next year would be held at the next meeting in April, which will be last formal meeting the club will hold this year.

Plan Luncheons
Members of Miss Calla Leeka's foods IV classes have finished serving and are beginning to plan their menus for luncheons to be served in the near future.

BULLETINS

Winners in yesterday's music preliminaries: 1st Soprano-Rosalie Methetta, 2nd Soprano-Evelyn Pitta, Contralto-June Catherine Walker, 4th Soprano-Bill Millington.

There will be no Booster on March 31 due to the special Easter edition which will be put out on April 4, before the Easter vacation starts.

The winners of the poetry contest were announced in assembly today by Jeanne Stevens, chairman of the contest committee. Three passes to the Midland theatre were presented to Harvey Evans, senior, first place; two passes to Claven Noyel, senior, second place; and one pass to Robert Dollar, sophomore third place. Betty Mae Ransing and Ida Louise Rush received honorable mention.

Students Inspect Hobbies Antiques

High School Is Dismissed Early
Monday Afternoon to See
Junior Chamber Display

A number of junior and senior high students attended the hobby and antique show put on by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Monday and Tuesday afternoons and nights.

Many pieces of antique furniture, ship models, dog collections, rare beads, cameo collections, Roman and other old coins, Indian relics including 2,000-year old pearls found at Spiro, Okla., and relics from Egyptian tombs, were on display.

Admission for high school students was ten cents, if tickets were purchased from the high school offices. Senior high students were dismissed at 3:15 o'clock Monday afternoon to attend the show.

The exhibit was held from 11 o'clock in the mornings until 10 o'clock at nights.

Warble and Flicker

Treble Clef Club Women and High
School Movie at Assembly

Members of the Treble Clef Club, a local women's musical organization, presented the first half of the program for assembly last Friday. Their part of the program was under the direction of Mrs. F. H. Freeto, president of the group. The program consisted of vocal solos, duets, and trios and piano selections by members of the club.

A 1-reel picture of school activities was shown. The picture showed a fire drill, the demonstration of the new fire truck, the Springfield-Pittsburg football game and several pictures made in Topeka when the band went there. The pictures made homecoming day a happy one that were made when the subjects were unsuspecting such as the ones made of the Armistice Day parade were also shown.

Charles Thieland was general program chairman.

Boys Show Girls Up

The boy members of Miss Calla Leeka's home room were winners in a contest, recently conducted on the basis of absence and tardies. Free tickets to the Hutton-Cushing entertainment were given to the girls as a prize. According to Miss Leeka, the contest will continue for another 6-weeks period.

Capt. Ed Wallace Assembly Speaker

Lecture and Pictures to Be Used
To Illustrate Theme
"Traffic Safety"

Captain Ed Wallace, public relations counsel for the State Highway Patrol, will be the speaker in 10 o'clock assembly Thursday morning, April 6. He will present an illustrated lecture with motion pictures, using as his theme "Traffic Safety." Captain Wallace will be assisted by other members of the patrol; there is also a possibility that patrolman A.M. Starbuck will also appear on the program. Many high school students will remember Captain Wallace by his speech here last year.

Captain Wallace offers the following Safety First Rules.

1. Cross streets at intersections only.
2. Do not step out carelessly from behind parked cars. You may be struck by a speeding automobile.
3. Obey traffic signals. Cross streets on green lights only.
4. In crossing streets, get the habit of looking first to the left and then to the right for approaching automobiles.
5. When crossing, pay attention to traffic. Don't talk with a friend in the middle of a street.
6. When getting on, or off streets, take care not to walk into coming automobiles.
7. Do not play in the street. Warn others, especially small children, always to stay on sidewalks. Use parks and playgrounds for games.

Select Projects

Junior Scientists to Lawrence
Next Friday

Several projects have been selected to represent the local Junior Academy of Science at the state convention to be held in Lawrence next Friday.

Those students that tentatively have been chosen to participate are as follows: John Ferguson, Nathan Moore, Kenneth Hunt; projects, "Home Made Diving Helmet and Underwater Photography," Don Slagle; project, "Fundamentals of Photo Engraving."

Others who have not selected their titles for projects are Mary Margaret Leaton and Harold Doty. Robert Akox, junior, will also journey to Lawrence to preside as state president of the Junior Academy of Science. In the academy meeting of March 21, Harold Doty gave a short talk on "Television."

Candid Commentary

"To the victor, not the vanquished, go the spoils." Sadly enough, Pittsburg was acutely reminded of this last week at Topeka, when she was edged out of the running in her first game at the tournament. And yet we will wager that not even the state champions can look back on a season with greater pride than can the Dragons regard this year's basketball accomplishments.

Though we do not intend to manufacture solace by a deal of superficial patting on the back and attempting to convince ourselves that we were robbed of the honors due us, it may be candidly reported that this season was a success. Not the shallow sort of success which is measured only by the number of victories accumulated. But a real and more satisfying success emanating from our knowledge that Pittsburg always won fairly and lost gracefully.

There were times, it is true, when we didn't always do either in their strictest interpretation but those occasions will only serve as an example by which we may better our conduct, next year.

And so, the season for PHS appears on close scrutiny, to have been one of the best in the school's history.

While on the subject of such deep and enlightening philosophy (deep and enlightening when the source is considered and made allowance for) a remark, taken from the Kansas City Star, of the late Oliver Wendell Holmes, the Supreme Court Justice, seems appropriate.

It seems the occasion of the remark was the receipt of a letter by Mr. Holmes, from a government surveyor in Alaska had been named for him.

Justice Holmes returned an appreciative letter in which he made the following characteristic statement: "We don't get rid of interest in ourselves, even when self is so near to vanishing (Holmes was 90 year old at the time)."

We think you've got something there, Mr. Holmes.

However, to digress from material such as the foregoing, which we present without quite knowing what we're talking about, it is an interesting fact that each member of Congress, according to an itemized list of expenditures, costs the government $196 a year for air conditioning and $610 for heating. We grant the first figure, but feel there is room for economy on the second amount--what with all the hot air circulating through this Congress which does not come from the radiators.

A few months ago, even a few weeks ago, probably the greater part of this column would be devoted to Hitler's dissection of and protectorate over Czechoslovakia. However, we must think of our reputation--CANDID COMMENTARY gives space only to the interpretation of news.

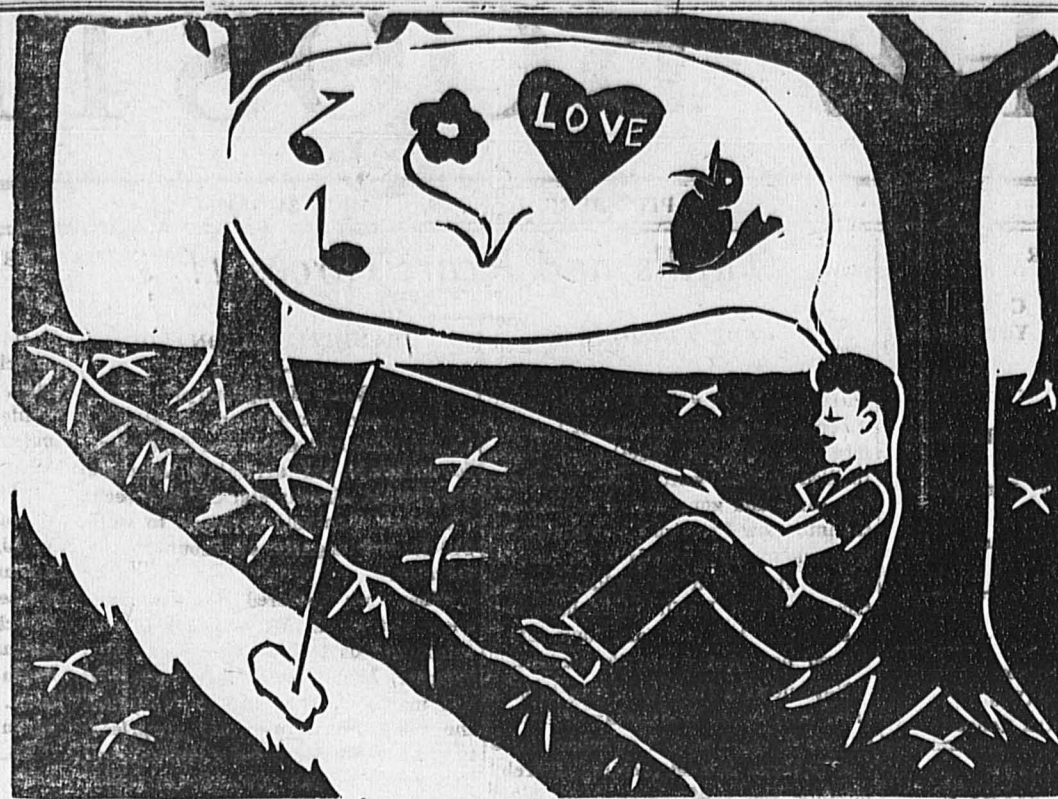

Our only comment is that Czechoslovakia always was a hard word to pronounce anyway.

Be Wise—Plan Now For Future Life

Did you know that a poll taken recently revealed that of 125,000 students, only 65 per cent had decided on the vocation he wished to follow? What are the remaining 35 per cent of the students going to do when they finish high school? It's too late for the seniors to enroll in any courses but the underclassmen can pick a vocation and by picking, choose

Spring Is Here

Alice Lorraine Williams

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to love, flowers, birds, and music. The annual drowsiness creeps upon him and even the most studious student wishes he could break the ties that bind him to sneak off to the creek, where he could dream of love in peace with a fishing pole for an excuse. (He could get caught up on his sleep, too.)

It's near graduation, so everyone is planning on what they're going to give who and so-on. That's why Paul Theobald has planned to give his steady Mary Margaret Leaton a ring for graduation.

Is it true that the grass is always greener on the other side, and the girls are always more attractive in other towns? Apparently so, for Columbus boys seem to find deep interest in Pittsburg girls and keep the highway hot.

What is Betty Lashbrook's interest all of a sudden? We thought it was still Jack Mitchell as far as she was concerned but it seems Bob Logan is trying to hold the spotlight.

What senior girl, who is supposed to be going steady with a football star in Ft. Scott, is always trying to get George Seely to take her to Columbus? Martin Lee is again interested in Charlene Williams but when he goes up to her locker to see her, he always finds he's been beaten by Marvin Tucker, so he goes on his way.

Mary Kuebler must have marriage and love on her mind. Everyone she meets in the hall must listen to her love story. Oh yes, Charlie Duncan and she have planned their house and furniture.

If—
Most Used Word
Today

If!

What a little word, but what a world of ground it covers! Many people will give up a slight task because they say, "If I could do this," when the truth is known that they are either too lazy or else don't really want to do the work. Does the word "if" sound like a gigantic Gibraltar to you? If it does just think of what will be accomplished without the word, and you will find that it will not represent such a huge citadel to overcome.

CORRIDOR INTERVIEW

Question: What would you do with your last dime?

Jerry Billiard: I'd play "Stardust" and "A Room With a View" on a nickelodeon.

Don Kuebler: The only thing I'd do is play a game of pool--maybe make some more.

Norma Dae Stone: I'd keep it.

Bill Williams: I've never had my first one.

Don German: I'd buy a "hamburger" with lots of onions.

Bette McAnnally: I'd buy a cup of coffee and a "hamburg."

Ruth Ann Scott: I'd get me something to eat.

I wouldn't have anybody know who put you up to this but the next time you see Don Schwab, just ask him why it takes him so long to sweep his floors on the third floor every night. P.S. Her initials are M. H.

You've been doing pretty well with your guesses thus far; see if you can guess this one. Why is it that Mabel Windsor is so interested in basketball games? Yep, you thought right, he is John Toeller.

Bob Meiers, the Romeo of PHS, again comes back into the spotlight. Haven't you seen him with Virginia Osredker? If you haven't, you haven't been keeping your eyes open.

Gordon Dunn, post grad, has found new interest in school rather than his studies. Jean Marie Resler seems to be the spice of life in this case. You know, they say variety is the spice of life.

Could Bob Nichols be Flora Mundt's reason for standing at the front door every day at noon? Bob goes home for lunch so Flora waits by the door until he gets back. The other day we heard her remark that this reminded her of waiting at the church. Experience doct.

It is reported that Fred Shelton and Wanda Morgan have that certain look in their eyes BUT Wanda has another interest, D. B. Lillard.

Albert Hopper, upon being asked his opinion of the signs that have been posted around school linking his name with Naida Chandler, said he had nothing to say.

The Helen Winsby-Jack Blackshear affair is on the rocks for good this time it seems. Helen's interest now lies in Harold Wilkerson, she says.

Anita Greenwood and Leroy Jackson have agreed to disagree. Although everyone thought it wouldn't last long, it appears to be definite. We wonder.

What is Norma Dae Stone's recent interest in the College and Eddie Strickler's orchestra? Could it be a certain musician whose name is Max Struble?

"Why Have a SCHOOL PAPER?"

Why does your school have a student publication? Since it certainly is not a money-making proposition, you will probably say that our school publishes a paper for the purpose of giving the students accounts of the current happenings or merely as an entertaining feature to relieve them of the monotony of the school-day routine.

But, in reality, those are minor reasons in comparison to the experience and knowledge gained by the work of staff members.

We may not realize it, but in a large sense, we are publishing the paper, not for our fellow students, but for ourselves-- for it is we, the makers, with the passion of journalism flaming in our hearts, loving the smell of ink, the monotonous rhythm of the typewriter, eager to learn and cultivate ourselves in the "immortal art of writing," who receive the fullest and greatest benefit of our school publication. Let us make the most of our opportunities.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Hello, readers! Here goes something entirely different from the general run of trash I have written. I've been in literary work long enough to have lost all reasoning. Naturally, I think I am a philosopher and will now push my feeble advice on the public.

The topic for this week is LOVE. This is a popular subject since we respond so easily to its beckoning call. The French contend that we Americans take LOVE too seriously.

I, myself, feel that I am an authority of the subject, having been a Don Juan all my life. With sleek wavy hair and a kiss like a vacuum cleaner, I have always been a heartbreaker.

But now for the definition of love. Scientists say it is a disease. Others say that love is that feeling we feel, when we feel that we are going to feel something that feels just a little different from anything we have ever felt before.

However, as a philosopher, I will give you my contention of love. It is not a disease but a condition which one is susceptible too only when under tiring circumstances. In other words, we fall in love at the end of a day's work when we are exhausted. The best remedy is fourteen hours of sleep followed by a cold shower. Then, one can start the new day free from love's clutching talons.

Well we have covered this subject pretty thoroughly so good by until next week, when we will again uncover some of life's dark mysteries

SONGS YOU ARE HEARING

After Looking At You

After looking at you,
How could a rose look sweet to me.
How can a star be heavenly
After looking at you
No other love could fill my heart
After looking at you.
No other love could fill my heart
No other one could thrill my heart
After looking at you
The mellow music of the breeze,
The moonlight through the trees,
Oh! what can I compare you to?
The garden in the rain.
A Mendelssohn refrain,
They all run second to you.
You're so different and new
Here in my arms its paradise
No other dreams before my eyes
After looking at you.

AMUSING THE MUSES

A Perfect Day

"Get up!" someone shouts,
And my weary bones squirm,
Yeh, just gotta get up
To go to school and learn
About what a situation
Our country is in,
And I'm worn out already
Before I begin.

Six hours of drudge
Oh, so doggone long,
Nothing is right
'N everything's wrong.
Through half-closed eyes
I gaze at my lesson
And when asked a question
I just keep on guessin'.

At last it's all over
I'm home for a rest
Except for my housework
I can't do my best
Cause I'm sleepy and tired
My head's going to burst
But remember, dear child,
That your homework comes first.

Ah, my work is all through,
For sleep I am dead,
And the hour has come
To tuck into bed.
"Get up!" someone yells
In that same old way
And I get up again
For another day.

TWO TRUCK FIRE ALARM
"FIREMAN SAVE MY CHILD"

But it so happens that the "fireman" got there too late.....!!! For the "child," Jeanne Stevens to you, had already put out the flame when they arrived.

In a personal interview, Miss Stevens stated that she had been talking to her one and only over the telephone when she looked up and discovered that the wallpaper had caught on fire from the flue. Excitedly she told him that the house was on fire, lung up, and called the fire department. Jack, thinking it was the only thing to do, called a fire truck also.

In the meantime, our heroine had grabbed the coffee-pot and put out the flame, and by the time the two trucks got there, all they had to do was extinguish a few sparks.... Oh well, it's all in a day work.

Allied Youth

The Allied Youth Post had their weekly meeting last Monday noon in Willard Thorpe's room. A business meeting was held.

A committee composed of Julia Claire Mathews, Margaret Hanes, George Bartholow and Don Slagle, seniors, was appointed to make plans for chartering services to be held in Pittsburg April 16. Roy W. Breg, executive secretary, will be here for the ceremonies.

Allied Youth members should remember that money is due for Allied Youth pictures for the Annual, dues of the month and the girls are requested to pay their share of the bill of the refreshments for the last night meeting.

Thrills And Heart Throbs !!

charming woman and I had a nice visit with her. I, of course, was very disappointed that I did not get an interview.

Thursday afternoon, when I returned home from school, I was playing the radio on station KOAM. It happened that they were interviewing Gene Raymond. I decided that I might try to get an interview from Mr. Raymond, so I took the car and rushed down to the radio station in order that I might see him, but when I got there he had gone, so I went to the hotel to see if I could catch him there. The bellboy said that he had gone to the College auditorium, so I went out there. Mr. Raymond was just leaving as I got there so as he came out the door I stopped him and asked him if he would give me his autograph. Much to my amazement, he said, "Sure, why not." I asked him how he liked Pittsburg and he stated, "It's little but mighty." He laughed, "If you see the girl that took my handkerchief will you please tell her to bring it back to me." I told him that there was going to be a big crowd. He replied "I know it and I hope that everything turns out all right." Then he said goodbye and got in a taxi and drove off. Mr. Raymond is a very charming man with good manners and personality. I liked him very much.

That night I went to hear Jeanette MacDonald sing and I thought that she was beautiful, she had charm, poise, and sang most pleasing. I enjoyed her last five songs the most. It may be some day I will be fortunate enough to interview a celebrity even though my first attempt was a flop.

SUSIE Q

Hi folks! Guess what! Ebbie and I just had a bust-up. Yes sir, we sure did. You know he told me he was getting jealous, 'cause I flirt with so many cute boys up here.

Last week I had a date with Jimmy Myers and Madlyn got mad at me; then, when Ebbie heard about it, he got mad, too. He wrote me the awfulest letter you ever read but I don't let him stand in my way any more 'cause I found out he has been going with some other girl.

I'm going to the next dance with Joe Mingori. When I wrote and told Ebbie that, he said he was getting tired of me going with all those "City slickers" up here (that's just his name for them). So I just set myself down and wrote right back and told him he could just go jump in the lake far as I am concerned. We're through, I tell you, we're through.

I am going to the high school band concert with "Si" (Ralph Scifers). I think he is just about the handsomest boy in school except Arthur Prince. You know Art won first prize in baby contest when he was a little boy (P. S. that was about eighteen years ago).

You've seen that guy running around school here with a camera taking pictures when you aim' lookin' they call him Super Sleuth or something like that (Don Slagle); well, anyhow, the other day when I was coming down the stairs in a very graceful manner, my feet just hopped right out from under me and guess who was there, yes, siree, he sure did, he took my picture. I don't think that was a bit funny, but just you wait I'll get even with him.

You ought to come to some of our Allied Youth meetings. We have the best times and you just ought to take a look at our president, now, there is one boy that is really pretty. There is one good reason it would be worth your while to come; and, say, boys; the cutest girls in school are charter members.

One Eraser Gets Heavy, Strenuous Typing Workout

"Toss me the eraser." "Here it comes." "Goah, you missed me three feet." This runs the daily conversation in the typing laboratory room. Every commercial student is supposed to be equipped with a typing eraser but, due to a superiority feeling of accuracy, no one has one.

However, sometimes in the remote part someone was thoughtful enough to lose a rickety eraser in the room. The strenuous labor "the" eraser withstands is almost pitiful. Never can it rest. Always, it must fly through the air from one typewriter, to the next. No student would be so disloyal as to "take" it from the room. There is even talk of suspending "the" eraser from the ceiling on a string so that it can "swing" to any typewriter in the room.

Will someone be thoughtful enough to relieve "the" faithful eraser from duty by bringing a new one from the 10-cent store?

Judges Read Entries After Sixth Hour Today; Three Prizes Awarded

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Fellow poets, we'll soon know the winners of the poetry contest that was sponsored by the journalism department. This very afternoon in the journalism room, five judges are fretting away, trying to decide what poems will place as tops. The five worthy judges are Jeanne Stevens, Betty Hastings, Wilma Sipes, Arthur Prince, and Joe Stephens.

There are poems about spring, high school students, and other surrounding "matter," but the most written about subject is love.

The prize will be awarded to the winners next week. The journalism department wishes to thank all those students who entered the contest.

Sport Gossip

The SEK league had two representatives in the state tournament last week and both of them were defeated by two points in their opening game. Leavenworth downed Coffeyville and Arkansas City defeated Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg high school Negro basketball team had a very successful season. Compliments are to be extended to C. B. Walker, manager of the Rockets and to Bob Caldwell, coach.

The visions of an SEK baseball league is soon to become a realization, if plans now in order go through. This being the one hundredth year that baseball has been played, what year could be more appropriate to revive the National Game in southeastern Kansas high schools.

Schools that have signified their intentions to enter a team are: Parsons, Coffeyville, Columbus and possibly Pittsburg and Chanute.

At this time of year there seems to be an abundance of sports. Track is in the spotlight with golf and tennis right behind. Ban Johnson baseball will soon be started and possibly an SEK league for high school swimmers. Some schools in this area are even having swimming matches.

F. M. Snodgrass said that the high school pool is open for swimming and that it may be possible to have an intramural swimming meet before the year is over.

A horse-shoe tournament will be held in the near future for the intramural groups. So, boys planning on entering had better pay a visit to the blacksmith and borrow a couple of shoes as we understand there is going to be some pretty tough competition.
