Observance for Senior High School Boys

Commencing Sunday, April 16, and continuing through Saturday, April 22, stretching the length of the United States in every direction, the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity will sponsor its sixteenth annual Guide Right Concentration Week for Negro youth, especially high school senior boys.

An elaborate program of activity has already been planned with this 2-fold purpose in mind: (1) to inspire these youth to relate their further educational preparations with something definite that they want to do and have natural talent for doing in life; and (2) to encourage proper attitudes of assistance toward them in their parents, teachers, religious leaders, and in the community taken as a whole.

The concentration period beginning April 16, will open on Sunday with a program at Mt. Hebron Baptist Church where Professor E. J. Hawkins of the Fort Scott elementary schools will be the principal speaker. Some activity is planned for every night during the Concentration Week.

Council Proposes Revised System

SC Method Would Change Plan
Of Awarding Honor Points
For Student Ability

Following is an outline of the revised plan of the joint system, submitted to the faculty for their consideration, devised by the Student Council and approved by J. L. Hutchinson. The plan is to give recognition to students in the various activities.

The six fields of activities in which students may be awarded points are as follows: scholarship, leadership, club organization, athletics, literary, miscellaneous.

1. Achievement letters will be awarded to those students who have earned the number of points deemed necessary by the Council.

2. The points a student may earn in one field will be limited.

3. A student must participate in at least five or six fields in order to earn a letter.

4. In the miscellaneous field will be included music, dramatics, debate, speech, etc.

5. The advisory board, other than the regular Council sponsors, shall consist of at least two faculty members.

6. Other rules will be added later and these are subject to revision.

The idea is to make recognition for accomplishment cover a broader field.

Candid Commentary

Dedicated to SPRING, the time of Sulphur and molasses. Era of maw's unpopularity in the family, with her ready access to the table-spoon and spring tonic. From March to Mother's Day, she piles her brood with spring fever purges--and paddles--churning their sluggish contentment into reproachful activity.

Clock-and-window-watching-days -- romancing nights. Johnny's mind comprehends only two things in the spring -- the deliberateness of the hours as they march across the clock's face, and the contrasting beauty without the windows to the drabness within. From other things, Johnny's mind wanders. Then there are those nights so conducive to romance, when..... (censored.)

Mother Nature showing off. At no other time does the matriarch of beauty put on the dog as much as during those spring months when the changing verdure of the trees, the fresh, natural, live appearance of everything with roots are so much in evidence. Then it is that the coconas are "hatched" making the finale of the metamorphosis from egg to butterfly. Then it is that the birds reappear commencing the mating season with their peculiar method of woo-pitching (if we could only sing like that, too).

Senior plans. Truly this phase of spring can not be construed too seriously. In high schools throughout the land, about this time, seniors are facing a problem. The problem of whether they are going to college, or going to find a job without further schooling. Whatever their decision they have still a more momentous question to answer, "What will be their life work?" After hearing so much talk along these lines of late, it is our opinion that the supreme task facing us is purely and simply - to make a decision for ourselves. A decision, after careful consideration, which we feel to be right and for our best interests. If it is wrong, we have learned something, at least, if right well and good, may all our decisions turn out similarly. Either way we have begun our education in a new school--a school, the graduation ceremonies of which are held simultaneously with funeral services--the school of experience.

Students Should Refrain From Popping Sacks

The student having finished his lunch is expecting a little relaxation. But he will not be granted a little rest because he is rudely interrupted by a loud report.

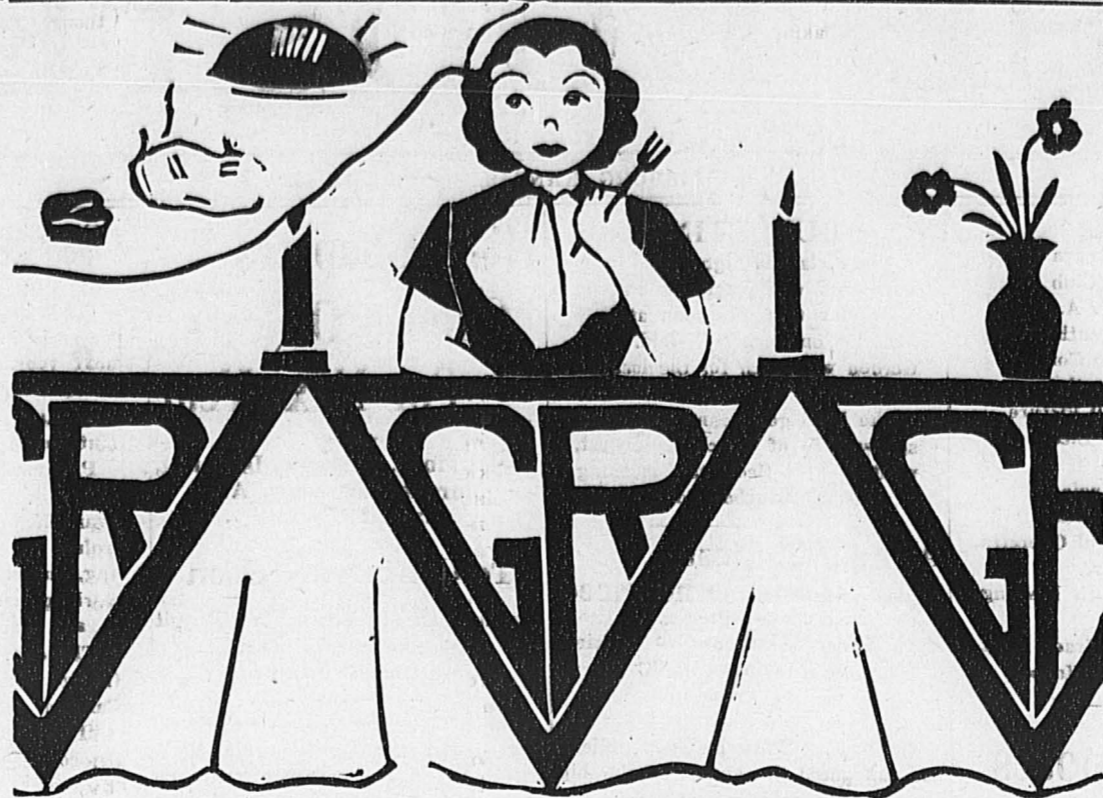

This loud report is made by a little paper sack being blown up and burst by a young person who is acquiring an education in this high school. The student does not realize that if several persons like himself were popping sacks that they could create quite a disturbance.

It is often said that when we enter high school we are supposed to be grown up. But some are doubting this and evidence will show that some of us are not living up to expectations. A little extra thinking before doing a certain thing might help to solve this problem. Gene McClarrinon

Spring Fever In The Air, So Work Hard

"Spring has come, snow has went." So goes that well-known little poem. Yes, spring seems to be here for good this time. The sun shines brightly almost every day. And--everyone has that so called disease, the spring fever. It is hard to study with so many interesting things going on about us all the time. These last few weeks are always the hardest to endure. But let's try to stick with it for the last six weeks, and then enjoy a nice long vacation. --Esther Modlin

Dragons' Double Trouble

By

Maxine

This dragonette is devoting a bit of the column to things that happened during the Chanute music contest--so take it away Chanute!

Bill Walker and Bob Coulter drove over just so they could keep an eye on their "Junes" (June Walker and June Lowe). They ate lunch at the Legionaire and from the way they acted they had nothing but "Mush."

Carl Mishmash and Bill Strong (they drove over too) had the hardest time saying goodbye to Doris Hromek and Virginia Gore. Every time the train passed a road, they were there to wave a hearty welcome.

I didn't get the address or telephone number, but Margaret Agnes Naylor certainly did. His name is Dean Williams. Oh yes, she was escorted around the town by Mister Phillip Norman.

Water, water, everywhere, and all were soaking wet. Yes, our boys showed their marksmanship by purchasing water guns. Bill Millington drenched Shirley Ainsworth once too often, and could she help it if a glass of water was handy, and the temptation too great? How was the water, Bill, fine???

A certain dark haired sophomore has cultivated the nickname of smuggle-puppy. She was called that by some of our own boys at Chanute and made a name for herself. Guess Who?

Heard on the train coming home: C. L. H.: (singing) "Oh, my heart belongs to Daddy."

Jay Rennick: "Daddy can have it!!!"
 Martin Lee, can you tell me what you call that

Is It True? Is It Useful? Is It Kind?

Is it true? Is it useful? Is it kind? These are the words on the poster in the front hall of the main entrance. You pass by going in and out of school and many times between classes but have you ever stopped, read and given a moment's thought to the significance of those three short sentences?

Girls (and boys too) like to gossip but how much of that gossip would stand the test of those three short sentences? You know yourself that most of it would not. As a good deed for the day, think of those three sentences before you gossip.

Is it true? Is it useful? Is it kind? --Irene Macari

FASHIONS AND FADS

For traveling, the tweed sports jackets in stripes, plaid, or checks with skirts of harmonizing colors are voted best this season.

One strikingly attractive costume was a tweed jacket of vertical stripes in blue and rose. The skirt was a solid blue a blue kid-suede sports hat, gloves in blue, and purse in rose kid-suede as the accessories. Either a rose or a blue close-knit sports sweater could be worn with this.

 Sweet dreams were had by all, we hope.
 Now for some home town stuff--

Does the girl that stepped out on Jimmy Kelly to go with a Columbus boy know that he stepped out with the PHS school queen?

It seems as though the old flame between Glenna Miller and Bob Meiers is burning once again. At least they have been seen together quite a bit.

As your snooty reporter has it, Gordon Dunn has it bad. He talks about, dreams about, and even sings about Jean Marie Resler lately. You have heard the old saying "pick them young and raise them right," that seemingly is Gordon's policy.

It seems that our PHS girls are going for 'soda-jerks' at the present. Harriett McCollister, who we thought was going with Gordon, finds that she too has a growing thirst and nothing but a coke from the Ash will satisfy that thirst. BUT we wonder if the real reason isn't a soda jerk named Max Yeake.

Opportunity Is Ever With Us

Here as we are in the proverbial "last half of the seventh inning," with a little over eight weeks of school remaining. Now that the annual plague of spring fever has descended in our midst, we find it ever more and more difficult to turn away from the "wee small voice" that would lure us from school books and various paths of leaning.

Oh yes, it's lots of fun at the time-- what a joke on those teachers who think we should be in class when there is such balmy weather and the whole big out-of-doors to enjoy.

But it is a much different story when the end of school draws near and all the knowledge that should have been slowly absorbed during the past months threatens to sweep us overboard. Perhaps by burning great quantities of the light plant current with the accompanying task of cramming, the necessary requirements can be met--barely. However, there is not a great deal of pleasure in an accomplishment of this sort. For that reason, it might be well to exercise a little effective self-discipline in the near future.

A kiss is a noun because it is common and proper.

It is a pronoun, because "she" stands for it. It is a verb because it is either active or passive. It is swell, if you don't mind my saying so.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Hello, oppressed readers! This is secret operator 198, plus tax, once again bringing you the low-down on some of life's deep mysteries. In our search for a "modern" subject, what is more practical than the business district of our city?

Our first stop is a restaurant. Here we take a double order of Democrat and Republican, topped off with a Commissioner and Mayor Dessert. Strange, no one mentions food, but for safety first, we agree with each political sage. Our eating is interrupted by the murmured prayer of a pale, thin man operating a slot machine.

The drug store also holds sights of interest. Here we see a beaming four-flusher murmur a sigh of relief as he is presented the check. If one is observing, he will notice among the din and turmoil, the generous youth who slyly deposits a "slug" in the nickelodeon.

Visiting the barber shop, we meet with a thrilling experience. A "shoe shine" is unavoidable. The ingenious shine boy waits until the razor is on the customer's throat and the points of his shoes. A nod of the customer's head would mean a decapitated chin, while a wagging would mean an ear to ear jugular operation. Silence gives consent and the customer receives the "shine." Who said our town was so "commonplace"?

SEEING STARS

Grace Moore

The golden-haired, vivacious lady of a dozen different careers believes that everyone should hitch his wagon to a star, then reach for it through personal effort. She evidently practices what she preaches, because she is not only a grand opera prima donna, a musical comedy star, a concert singer, and a radio entertainer, she is also a perfect cook, expert sportswoman, a charming hostess, and a happy wife.

Born in Jellico, Tennessee, she was one of five children, and originally wanted to be a missionary to China. But while in school at Ward Belmont, she heard Mary Garden sing, and immediately changed her ambitions. Her parents disapproved of her operatic ambitions so she ran off to New York. She lived in Greenwich Village and for six months Grace Moore sang in a cafe for her supper. She sang in musical comedy to get money to study opera, and in 1928 she made her Metropolitan Opera debut in "La Boheme."

Grace Moore was once selected by the late Florenz Ziegfeld as one of the world's most beautiful women, and by a famous international photographer as one of thirteen supreme beauties.

ALUMNI

The other day we were browsing through some annuals when we saw familiar faces we see every day but never give a thought to. Some of the ones we saw were a girl of '38, Francoise Trumble who is working in the coffee shop in the Hotel Besse. Turning to another book we find a pianist of '37, Virginia Cooper who is continuing her studies at KSTC. This time we picked a songstress of '36, Dorothy Dean Decker who attends the college. Now we find a little house wife from '35, Dorothy Spicer who is Mrs. William Scott. Idling through another year we found a grad of '34, Howard Cochran who drives for 802 taxi. Well, goodbye for now.

The Santa Rosan high school, Santa Rosa, Calif. will be represented at the World's Fair this year. What luck!

AMUSING THE MUSES

"Time Will Tell"

One year I toiled 'till midnight,
 One more I worked 'till one,
 And still I'm working just as hard,
 I guess I'll never get done.

One year a silly sophomore
 Then a junior, clever,
 Now I am a senior
 And I'm just as dumb as ever.

So younger ones below me
 Don't think you are so smart,
 For those great big senior teachers
 Will only break your heart.

Three years I planned my future
 Three years I looked toward fame,
 And still I'm just nobody
 I'll always be the same.

Are you one of the students in Pittsburg high school who does not take notice of his campus? If so, why not make a research and find out the names and variety of trees and shrubs on the campus? This will be both interesting and educational for you.

This year has seen much progress in the improvement of our campus. The school has just purchased many different kinds of shrubbery and trees to be planted around the new building.

The Student Council sanitation committee, with the cooperation of the high school custodians, through tireless effort, have succeeded in beautifying our campus.

Do you do unto others as you would have them do unto you? By this I mean do you destroy what would be pretty lawns if they were not marked by paths? Some of our own citizens are forced to put up fences in order to keep the pedestrians from cutting across their lawns; others put up signs which are very seldom observed. The campus of our own school is marked by wide ugly paths. Won't you help by not making needless paths?

As graduation draws near, many of us look backward enumerating all the benefits and pleasures we have derived from dear old PHS. At the conclusion of commencement exercises, many of us shall part--never to meet again, but at least we have the consolation of knowing that our list of true friends is lengthy.

We have studied diligently and dreamed much. Now is the time to prepare to convert those dreams into reality. Some will enter college; others will enter the business world. We shall meet again in the future-- not as students of the classroom but as brothers in the great world of achievement. Success will come quickly to some; to others, more slowly. But remember, in spite of disappointments and failures, the best weapon for misfortune is determination. Keep your chin up and say, "I will!" You have all the expert guidance and tradition of PHS behind you. If only we exercise patience and perseverance, we will be duly rewarded for the hours spent within the piousness of this worthy institution--PHS.

SUSIE Q

Oh I'll bet you couldn't guess where I went the other day. Yep, Jack (Long) took me to the track meet. I sure thought it was exciting. I don't see how those guys can make their legs go so fast. I've tried to run fast but it seems like my legs just won't work.

And I just held my breath when Homer Little jumped so high. It looked like he just folded up his legs and up he flew. I was trying to jump in gym the other day but I just can't seem to jump over three feet. But you know I think that is pretty good. Don't you? I've just about come to the conclusion that I haven't learned how to fold up my legs just right.

I can't for the life of me see why those guys have to carry sticks around the track when they run. Then when they get so far they hand it to somebody else and this somebody else starts runnin'. Jack made fun of me cause I asked so many questions but you know the best students are the ones that ask the most questions they say.

You just ought to see that guy throw that ball thing. I think they call it a discus. He acts like it is hard to throw. But I bet-cha' two cents I could throw that little tiny ball farther than that. I even threw a basket ball ten feet one day.

Last week in the Booster in Joe Stephens' column "Candid Commentaries" he said he didn't see why I thought his column should be called "Through the keyhole" or something like that. But I still insist that I haven't seen a picture in his column yet and candid is a camera. And his News (if I may call it that) sounds like he might have heard it thro. somebody's keyhole.

He seemed to think I had his column confused with the gossip column but I had no thought of confusing the two. I don't think the "Dragons' Double Trouble" Column could be beat when it comes to news. And I have never read any thing new in his column yet. It is even so old and stale and dry that it 'stinks'. My column at least don't have smell. TRIANGULAR CONCLAVE TO DRAGON TRACKSTERS

The Purple Dragons track squad captured first place honors in a triangular track and field meet last Friday afternoon, on Hutchinson field as they ranked over Columbus and Mulberry.

The Dragons scored 83 points, and Mulberry 34. The Pittsburg tracksters captured ten first places, Columbus four and Mulberry 3.

Riverton Pitchers Throttle Dragons

Allow Locals 5 Hits in Winning by 12-0 Score; Strike-out Thirteen

Dragon batters were sewed up last Tuesday afternoon in a game against Riverton on the Riverton diamond.

Behind the 5-hit pitching of Brown and Bond, the River Laddies had little trouble in winning by a 12 to 0 score. Brown struck out ten Dragons in five innings while his teammate whiffed three for a thirteen total.

Johnny Gordon, southpaw, on the mound for the Dragons, gave up seven hits and fanned six. "Chuck" Gilliland caught.

Score by Innings

Pittsburg 000 000 0-0 5 7 Riverton 420 015 x-12 7 3 Batteries: Gordon and Gilliland; Brown, E. Bond and Sandford.

Too Rough

Bill Lawrence '38, former PHS athlete, received a broken collar bone, during a spring practice scrimmage at KSTC Wednesday, March 22. Medical attention was administered at the Smith Clinic.

Track Notes

Tom (Dutch) Shultz, sophomore, has the makings of a top-flight weight man. Tom has been pushing the metal sphere around the 40-foot mark and, with a little improvement in form, should add a few feet.

E. Robinson, Columbus Titan dash man, turned in a very respectable time in the century, winning over the Dragomite Bob Friggeri, in the time of 10.3 seconds, on a slow track in last week's triangular meet.

Milo Farneti, is this department's choice as "hard luck" man of the Purple tracksters. Milo heaved the javelin 188 feet plus in the triangular meet, but fouled when his hand went over the board. His winning toss was 166 feet 5 inches.

Homer Little, rubber-legged, broad and high-jumper, bettered the SEK broad-jump record in last weeks meet with a leap of 21 feet 4 inches. James Zimmerman

Recent Survey of Composite Standings Reveal Dragons Leading League by 77 Points

Composite standings of SEK teams in basketball and football shows that the Dragons of PHS top the loop with a margin that leaves no doubt as to their superiority.

The Dragons, by virtue of their six wins in football and seven basketball victories, increased their margin from .665 in 1938 to .694 in 1939.

Runner-up to Pittsburg in the composite standings are the Chanute Blue Comets, who, with the sensational Ralph Miller to rely upon in the past few years, turned in a brilliant record of victories. Chanute has a .617 rating. In third, fourth, and fifth places come Coffeyville, Independence, and Columbus respectively.

Composite Standings

Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct.
Pittsburg	87	37	5	.694
Chanute	77	47	4	.617
Coffeyville	61	53	10	.532
Parson	55	68	5	.449
Independence	59	62	6	.488
Columbus	53	65	6	.461
Fort Scott	43	74	9	.377
Iola	16	58	5	.234

Holding undisputed title to first place in the basketball standings are the Pitt Dragons who by virtue of their all victorious '39 season, increased their lead to a comfortable margin. Parsons ranks second, with Coffeyville and Chanute tied for third.

Sport Gossip

In the article in the last week's paper this column stated that Eugene "Cappy" Ridenour received honorable mention on the all-state football team. We were promptly informed that he received a berth on the second honorary grid eleven. The Booster is very, very happy to make this correction.

Dr. Glenn Cunningham, world famous miler, will be the main starter at the Fredonia Relays this afternoon. Later in the day he will run in a special mile event.

The PHS baseball nine got skunked 12 to 0 in their first practice game last Tuesday. John "Lefty" Gordon hurled the horsehide sphere for the local bunch.

There were seven errors charged to the team. They played Riverton high school.

The Dragon Mercuries will travel to Columbus Monday to compete in a dual meet with the Titan speedsters. The dash events should prove very interesting with E. Robinson and Bob Friggeri both battling it out for first position.

Fans and runners came close to freezing last Tuesday afternoon and night when they attended the eighth annual invitation track and field meet on Brandenburg field, as the mercury hovered around the freezing point of the time.

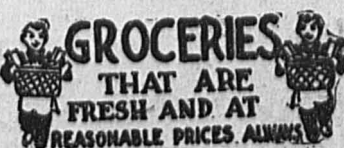

PHS Hi-Y boys had a pretty fine time at Joplin a couple of weeks ago. They won a first-place track trophy and went to the finals in the basketball tournament.

The meet was held indoors and the runners "strutted their stuff" in the balcony of the gymnasium. The track is one of these oval affairs and you run around it 27 times to a mile. David Cunningham reported that after you run a couple miles you feel like an 8-day clock.

When Homer Little broke the broad jump record of the invitation meet last Tuesday, it didn't take him long. On his first jump he won first place and established a new record. Distance 21 feet and 8 inches. -Terrill Honn

Ned Tryon also has shifted from the Parsons lineup and joined up with Pittsburg. Charles Gilliland a promising young catcher is playing his first year in Ban Johnson competition.

GIRLS' SPORTS

In the home room volley ball games played after school Monday night, Gable was victorious over Hartford and Huffman forfeited to Bailey.

In the finals played Tuesday after school, Gable defeated Lanyon 15-8 in the first game and 15-9 in the second.

All girls interested in playing tennis please report to Miss Helen Lanyon.

Receive Oaths

The newly elected Student Council officers were administered the oath of office in a special assembly, yesterday afternoon. Joe Stephens, Arthur Prince and Betty Jean Lashbrook, present officers, formerly "installed" Harvey Lanier, president; Raymond Lance, vice president; and Shirley Ainsworth, secretary-treasurer. Lanier and Lance are juniors and Miss Ainsworth is a sophomore. Bruce Washburn, junior, led devotions in the program.

Don Slagle, senior, presented an illustrated talk on photography to both journalism classes Friday, March 31, and Monday, April 3.

Snodgrassmen Win by Comfortable Margin in Eighth Annual Meet

Two Records Broken

Farneti and Little Outstanding for Locals; Latter Broadjumps 21 Feet 8 inches in Frigid Air

Competing under conditions similar to those encountered in the Arctic regions, ten schools of class A rating and nine of the class B, competed last Tuesday night in the eighth annual invitation track and field meet held under the lights on the KSTC cinder paths.

Led by Milo Farneti and Homer Little, the Dragons captured six first places to win by a comfortable margin in the class A division with 69 1/2 points. Independence placed second to the Pitt tracksters with 56 1/2, who although having seven first places and tying for another, were unable to finish in front of the Dragons who piled up a good margin by winning numerous other events.

Individual performances for the meet were good considering the harsh weather conditions. Two meet records were broken and another tied. Homer Little shattered a mark of many years when he broad jumped 21 feet 8 inches to better the mark set by Arnold McAlpine of Cockerill made in 1934.

Pruitt, Independence Negro, did the low hurdles in 23.4 seconds, which topped the mark set by Revelle of Girard last year. Rudy Fanska pulled out of his favorite race, the mile, to compete in the 880-yard event and turned in a record tying time of 2:08.5.

In class B Mulberry won with a total of 51 1/2 points. Oswego was second with 45 and Frontenac finished third with 42.

Roosevelt junior high of Pittsburg won both the relay events for junior high tracksters.

5 feet 9 inches. Low hurdles—Ahrens, fifth. Winner's time 23.4 seconds. (New meet record, old record, 23.7 by Revelle, Girard, 1938.)
