Candid Commentary

By Chuck Davis

THE DATE today is November 10. That means that tomorrow is November 11. That means that twenty years ago tomorrow the "war-to-end-war" came to an end. It is significant that they called that day "Armistice Day". Armistice means merely an interlude. In this case it lasted twenty-one years but it was no less an interlude.

WAR AGAIN rages in Europe. A war which will probably be more deadly than the last one. Men again are killing each other. Some fighting for a leader that they believe in, others fighting for a way of living that they believe in. As the twenty-first anniversary of the last war rolls around, guns roar and men die.

THERE IS one place in the world however that peace still exists. That is in the United States of America. Tomorrow let us pledge that our unknown soldier will rest alone, and not share his glory with an unknown of a second World War. Let us swear that November the Eleventh, 1918, is the anniversary of the end of the last American intervention in a European War.

A WARTIME notice on a London church reads as follows: "If your knees knock, kneel on them."

IN 1926, a man in Arkansas deeded 160 acres of his land to the Lord. He claimed that the Lord never gave up his original ownership rights and that land could not rightfully be deeded to any one else.

The land recently had to be sold to pay delinquent taxes.

THE RECENT Nebraska-K-State football game was completely televised. It is reported that results were very clear.

THE NEW YORK World's Fair closed a bankrupt institution. We have always prophesied that if conditions continued, the World of Tomorrow would be bankrupt.

FOR THIRTEEN years the boys of North Charleston High have been trying to defeat the football team from Summerville High, but always without success. Last Saturday, however, the tide turned. The final score was 90-0 favor of North Charleston.

Springfield trounced the Dragons soundly Friday. Evidently several sports writers made some very serious mistakes in their pre-season prophecies. Somebody rated Pittsburg as a wonder team. Imagine that!

FACILITIES FOR dancing for high school students are sadly lacking in this town. There is no decent place in or around Pittsburg for dancing. As students are going to dance the result is that the cheap, low "joints" are patronized. To fill a definite need in the life of this community. After all, isn't that a job of the school?

STUDENTS MOVE

Betty Ligon, sophomore, and Arthur Ligon, junior, moved to Gardiner, Montana on October 31. Last year when the speech students had their voices tested for possibilities of becoming radio announcers, Arthur had the best voice of any student in the school.

TWELVE 'TIL BUSINESS MEETING

The Twelve 'Til' Club held a business meeting at the home of Naida Chandler, Wednesday, Nov. 8, after school. The members are as follows: Anita Ray, Ida Louise Rush, Lois Williamson, Louise Pyle, Barbara Williams, June Mardelle Lowe, Joyce Henney, Madlyn Osterfelt, Mardell Mangrum, Sarah Grassi, Wilma Jean Dean, Margaret Agnes Naylor, and the hostess. They discussed plans for their dance Nov. 24, at Eagle's Hall.

Postpones Carnival

The carnival sponsored by Eugene Field School has been postponed to Monday, Nov. 20. It was announced Thursday by officials in charge. It was originally scheduled for an earlier date, but because of the Parsons game will be held the following Monday.

Armistice Honored In Assembly With American Legion

This Celebration Was In Conjunction With American Education Week

E. P. Scrivner, State Commander of the American Legion, spoke Thursday to the general assembly, to which all parents had been invited, as a part of American Education Week.

Principal J. L. Hutchinson presided over this program which served as the Armistice Day observance, since Armistice falls on Saturday this year. Several patriotic numbers were also given by the band and girls' quartet.

Thursday afternoon "Bud" Waite told of his experiences "With Admiral Byrd at Little America". Wednesday morning Rev. Alpha Kenna of the Methodist Church spoke of "Religion in a Democracy". The G. R. and Hi-Y were in charge of this program.

During the week of Nov. 5-11 discussions on Education were held in all the home rooms. Five radio programs were presented over KOAM by the city schools.

Wednesday the radio program was under the supervision of Ellsworth Briggs with J. M. Collie and Miss Ferda Hutton assisting. Their topic was "Education for Economic Efficiency".

Marion Nation directed the radio program Thursday and was assisted by Miss Effie Farmer and Alvin Proctor. "Education for Civic Responsibility" was the topic for discussion.

Five Teachers Aid Annual Meeting

Hutchinson Speaks To Senior High Group; Teachers are Round-Table Chairmen

Five P.H.S. teachers and Principal J. L. Hutchinson appeared on programs in the Teachers' Meeting held in Pittsburg, Nov. 2-4.

Principal Hutchinson spoke at the Senior High School Departmental Meeting on "What Principles in Democratic Government Are to Be Preserved in Studies Now Offered in High School."

Miss Calla Leeka was chairman of the Home Economics roundtable. The program consisted of several speeches, one of which was by Ruby Emmett, former P. H. S. student.

The Physical Science roundtable was led by Charles Thiebaud. On the program were several talks and exhibits of scientific apparatus and Kansas products.

The chairman of the Social Science roundtable was Ellsworth Briggs. The Forum Club presented a demonstration discussion under the leadership of Miss Madge Waltz and Marion Nation. Harold Trout of Girard and Prof. Grubbs of K.S.T.C. spoke afterwards.

M. M. Rose was elected to the Board of Directors for the coming year.

The Fugitive From A Dining Room

Cautiously I looked about me; no one was looking—now's the time. Nervously I walked away from the scene of my crime. I peered at everyone to see if they were watching me. The door of the palatial lobby loomed up in front of me. I hastened my footsteps. With a deep sigh of relief I gained that welcome exit of the busy hotel dining room. "I was safe! No one had seen me!"

But no, some one was close on my heels. I was being followed. I walked faster, faster. Would I never reach that outside entrance!

"Oh, miss—just a moment, please!" The sticky-sweet voice of the head waiter.

I stopped, drew a deep breath and, pulling my coat close about me, I turned slowly.

"Oh, miss, I'm terribly sorry to trouble you, but you dropped your purse." With a carefully lacquered smile, he handed me my black bag and bowed himself away.

I stared dumbly. He hadn't known I could still go on my way, unmolested. Once outside in the blessed "haven" of a taxi, I opened my coat and drew forth my loot—a single menu. I collected them—it's my hobby!

Purple and White Staff Being Chosen

The staff of the Purple and White Yearbook for 1940 will be chosen sometime this week, according to Mrs. Dora Peterson, general sponsor of the annual.

Students will be selected on recommendation by the teachers. Good character, leadership, dependability, previous service to school, scholarship, and honesty are factors determining membership on the staff. The Editor in chief last year was Arthur Prince. Margaret Hanes and Betty Montgomery were assistant Editors.

Switzer and Pratt Take First Place In Intramurals

Naylor and Akey, Seniors, Are Second Place Winners; K. S. T. C. Contest This Week-End

The finals of the Intramural Debates were held sixth hour Tuesday, Nov. 6, with Jane Pratt and Georgeanne Switzer coming out as winners of the school contest. In doing so they defeated Margaret Agnes Naylor and Bob Akey, who placed second.

The four-man team of Ed Booth, W. C. Wilson, Bruce Washburn, and Al McClure tied with Naida Chandler and Albert Hopper for third place. The question for debate was the same as will be used at all of the tournaments this season, "Resolved, Railroads."

"Win or lose, our teams have worked hard and I'm sure they will do their best," stated Dan Tewell, debate coach, in regard to the K. S. T. C. Tournament this week-end.

Intramurals were held in class rooms Oct. 30-31, and Nov. 1. The following students were entered in the intramurals: Jane Pratt, Georgeanne Switzer, Bob Akey, Margaret Agnes Naylor.

Hi-Y And G. R. Devotional Periods

The Hi-Y and G. R. organizations are sponsoring a devotional period in the auditorium every Monday morning before home room comes to order.

"We are trying these Devotional periods to get the student body interested in starting the week off right," asserted Mr. Hutchinson.

The Girl Reserves and Hi-Y are responsible for the music and the program in general and for creating and maintaining the interest of all, according to statements by the sponsors of the clubs.

Miss Gable as chairman of G. R. and Mr. Hartford as chairman of Hi-Y, with the other sponsors, are assisting. They will alternate in helping plan the programs.

The first meeting turned out with approximately fifty students present. The Hi-Y and G. R. cordially invite the entire student body to attend these Devotional periods.

Big-Little Sister Party Nov. 16

"The purpose of the Big and Little Sister activities of the Girl Reserve is to form new friendships and to give service to those who are new to the school," Miss Gable explained this week.

At the annual Big and Little Sister party which will be held Nov. 16, the "little sister" whose name was drawn by an old member of Girl Reserves will dress as a little girl.

The custom began when Mrs. J. L. Hutchinson was sponsor. Then the little sister knew from the beginning who her big sister was. However the present sponsors felt that it would be more fun for the girls for the big sister to remain unidentified and exchange notes with her little sister until the night of the party.

Last Nights Junior Play Proves An Exciting Comedy

Characters Cut Hilarious Antics And Amuse Large Audience

Complete audience appreciation and spontaneous applause told of the success of the Junior Play, "Spring Fever," which was presented last night in the Senior High auditorium.

The leads of the play, Howard Brant and Anne Purcell, were capably portrayed by Charles Newcomb and Patsy Ann Barkell. Their romance, the ensuing difficulties, and their comic attempts to set things aright caused many a side-splitting laugh.

Others who lent capable support were Donald Marchbanks as Ed Burns, the chemistry student who found a substitute for dynamite much to the disgust of his girl, Lou Herron, played by Zoe Wilma Baade; Morris Moffat as Vic Lewis, an art student, who mistook the school benefactor; Henry Purcell, portrayed by Jack Collins, for a mad Bolshevik; Mrs. Spangler, the distracted landlady, played by Jane Pratt; Betty Payne as Vivian George, Vic's sweetheart; Ilene Bennett as Phoebe Purcell; Gene Rogers as Prof. Virgil Bean; Billy Al Hazen as Doctor Dixon; and last but far from least, Maude Cory, Howard's eccentric, spinster aunt from California, portrayed by Shirley Ainsworth.

Those in charge of production were as follows: Assistant Director, Charlene Williams; Stage crew, Louis Axtell, Jack Lemon, Arnold Seaman; Stage manager, Jack Mocnik; Special effects, Dean Johnson; Property Manager Betty Peterson, Nancy Lee Soper, ionally well. I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those who and Uden Smith.

"I think we had a fine play and the cast played their parts exceptionally well. I wish to take this opportunity thanking all those who cooperated in making this play the successful production that it was," commented Mr. Dan Tewell, play director.

Orchestra And Chorus At Mirza

The high school orchestra and mixed chorus, under the direction of Gerald M. Carney, played a concert program at the State Teacher's meeting, last Friday, November 3, at the Mirza Mosque.

The program began at eight o'clock and lasted a half-hour. The following numbers were given by the orchestra: "Men of Prometheus," by Beethoven; "Chanson Triste," by Tschalkowsky; "Dance of the Archers," by Alexander Borodin. "Deep Purple," (with piano solo by Evelyn Massman) by Peter De Rose.

Two numbers, "Rain and the River," by Oscar J. Fox and "The Old Ark's A-Moverin'" by Noble Cain, were given by the mixed chorus.

The program concluded with the mixed chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, singing, Irving Berlin's "God Bless America."

The same program was presented in assembly, October 31. "The audience was the most receptive of any I ever had before in high school," stated Mr. Carney. "It helps a lot toward giving a good performance."

Allied Youth Makes Drinking Survey

Allied Youth met Monday Nov. 6, at 7:30, in the library. Talks were given by four of the members.

Martha Ruth Howard spoke first, the subject of her talk being, "Meet a Prohibitionist." Harold Kerby's subject was "Statistics of Alcoholism in a Boston Hospital." Barbara Huffman talked on "Alcohol and Personality." Edna Mae Price's topic was "The Extent of Drinking Among Young People."

After the meeting Anita Ray led the group in guessing games. The members voted to make a survey of the drinking question in P.H.S.

Two faculty members of the Pittsburg City Schools are on bowling teams at the Y. M. C. A. The teachers are John White, printing instructor at Senior High School and Theodore Carnino, industrial arts instructor at Lakeside Junior High.

BUD WAITE

Bud Waite, who was one of the radio operators with Commander Richard E. Byrd on his Antarctic trip, was a speaker in assembly Thursday afternoon. His story of the rescue of Byrd was illustrated with pictures.

Forum Club Discusses War

Sixteen Members Take Part In Discussion For Teachers

The Forum Club of P.H.S. held a demonstration roundtable discussion Saturday morning, Nov. 4, for the social science teachers attending the annual Teacher's Convention. The topic for discussion was "Should and Could The United States Stay Out of War?"

Miss Madge Waltz, sponsor in charge of the program, gave an explanation of the club and then introduced Charles Davis, president, who led the discussion.

It was agreed by the club that the United States should stay out of war. It would be possible for us to stand it both financially and in man-power but it would make our credit unstable. If we entered the war, it would take our best men, and low morals among the people would result, the club decided.

Those participating were Harvey Lanier, Ida Louise Rush, Bob Akey, Anita Ray, Philip Norman, Margaret McCoy, Laurel Ellsworth, Martha Ruth Howard, Charlotte Sparks, Bob Briggs, Helene Adams, Jane Pratt, Dorothy Anderson, Janet Still, H. B. Cheyne and Betty Petterson.

Sponsors of the club are Mr. Nation, Miss Waltz, and Mr. Briggs.

At the first meeting of the Photography Club, Kenneth Hunt gave a detailed speech on the use and the care of a movie camera. As an added feature the camera was passed around and some of the members were allowed to load it.

Louis Barbero spoke on a flash camera that is within the price range of everyone. Charles Davis explained the working parts of a miniature camera. He also told the advantages of some of the cheaper candid cameras.

Before the program a business meeting was held. It was decided to hold the meeting every Tuesday. A night meeting will be held the first Tuesday of each month.

Charles Davis was appointed program chairman. His committee will be appointed later.

Officers were elected at a session held recently. The officers are: president, Joe Mingori; vice-president, Charles Davis; secretary-treasurer, Betty Gehr. Alvin Proctor and Charles Thiebaud are the sponsors of the club.

Perry Speaks in Pep Chapel Today

Harold Perry spoke in pep chapel Friday, Nov. 10. The topic for his speech was the official's side of a football game. Mr. Perry has officiated at many of our games and the sponsors of the Pep Club thought that it would be fitting for him to speak.

It is the opinion of the club that the officials of games are unjustly criticized for their decisions on the gridiron. Last week in Quapaw there was a riot because of officials' decisions.

CHILLY SUPPER

A chilly supper was held Wednesday night, Nov. 8, by the Girls' Athletic Association. After the supper, tin-pin ball and corner-kick ball were played.

Kenna Stresses Democracy And Religion

Need More Serious Attention To Religion And To Democratic Processes Of Government

"If we are to continue to enjoy our freedom and liberty, such as no other people in the world to-day enjoy, we must give more serious attention both to religion and to the democratic processes of government," reasoned Reverend Alpha H. Kenna of the Methodist Church in his address, "Religion and Democracy," Wednesday.

After stressing the fundamentals of Christian religion; namely, faith in God and the individual, rights of individual freedom, right of self-government of groups, and the immortality of life; Rev. Kenna declared,

"Democracy as we know it, has incorporated these beliefs in the Declaration of Independence and in the Constitution."

"Democracy in being challenged and if it survives, it will have to be supported by free men and women, who are trained to think, to speak and to vote intelligently."

The rights that are granted us in our democratic country are denied millions in foreign dictatorships.

"Therefore," Dr. Kenna concluded, "If we are to continue to enjoy our freedom and liberty, such as no other people in the world today, we must give more serious attention both to religion and to the democratic processes of government, for they go hand in hand. If we don't use these things properly we are going to lose them as others have done."

There was also a violin solo by Lois Williamson, accompanied by Helen Otto, on the chapel program.

Funk Receives Typing Award

Lenore Funk received a pin for accuracy and speed at the typing contest which is conducted by Mr. Lundquest, once a month.

Twenty-five students competed. The highest ranking are as follows:

Accuracy	Per cent	Words	Errors
Lenore Funk	100	37	0
Juanita Scott	91.6	22	1
Don Patrick	90.5	19	1
Margie Ellis	86.4	25	2
Ruth Williams	85.9	24	2
Ray Lance	85.5	24	2
Speed
Lenore Funk	37	0
Mary Margaret Kerr	32	5
Jacque Smith	30	5
Janet Still	26	5
Margie Ellis	25	2

The pin will be held by Lenore until next month when they will compete again. The winner then will wear it. It will be passed along, unless the same person is fortunate enough to be able to keep it.

A typing film was shown last Wednesday at the middle of sixth hour for the benefit of the typing students.

Vilmer Accident

Loren Vilmer, senior, was injured last Saturday night in a peculiar accident, necessitating six stitches and a week in bed.

On the return trip from Radley, the car in which Loren was riding struck some loose gravel, throwing him against the door and forcing the door open. The open door then hit a culbert wall and swung back, striking Loren with terrific force on the side of the head.

After the accident Loren walked, without assistance, to a farm house for help, after which an ambulance carried him to Mt. Carmel hospital for treatment. Bob Helman, his companion in the wreck, was uninjured except for bruises. Because of his weakened condition from the loss of blood, Loren will remain at his home until Monday.

OBJECTIVES OF BOOSTER

1. To recognize scholastic achievements
2. To promote understanding between teachers and students
3. To back all worthwhile activities
4. To provide a means of student expression
5. To unify the student body
6. To inform students of school activities

THE LAST ARMISTICE

Just 21 years ago mid muddy trenches and bloody, war-torn battlefields came the news, "The Armistice has been signed."

What a joy and blessing this must have been to the weary, homesick boys who end war, thus barring the possibility that their sons have to fight in future conflicts.

Apparently the millions who made the Supreme Sacrifice have died in vain. This last World War does not prove to have been a war to end wars, nor a war to save the world for democracy. It only served as a means to create more hatred, more greed, and more suspicion among the already disillusioned people of the world.

Why, then, should we plunge our man power into another such war which may be destined to wipe out civilization? There is no necessity on earth for us to do such a thing!

Maybe Germany will conquer the European continent! But if she does, she cannot help but be wrecked economically and spiritually for a long time; and a nation in such a condition as that can hardly say, "More worlds to conquer" until she has conquered herself.

Our frontiers are those of "keeping the home fires burning" and preventing the necessity of our ever having to sign another Armistice!

Ida Louise Rush

STUDENT COUNCIL DEMOCRACY

"About our Student Council? Do we have one? asked a P.H.S. student with disgust. Why is this remark so prevalent among our students? Maybe we don't have a Student Council.

Not only is there a large number of students indifferent to the council's activities but some of the representatives themselves are lacking in interest.

The Student Council should and CAN BE your voice, so why not take advantage of it. If you do not voice your opinion on the Council and do not take an interest in improving it, then maybe it would be to everyone's advantage to abandon it altogether. Should we?—Your attitude is your answer.

H. B. Cheyne

OUTLAW WAR?

Why keep the American form of republican government?

The American form of government is one of the best known in the civilized world. The people make their own laws without anybody dictating to them what they shall do and what they shall not do.

Why did nobody think of this democratic system before the American people? Civilization dates far back into history, and it seems inconceivable that no people discovered such a system before.

Other people have been oppressed by tyrants. Why didn't they devise the system which the American Revolutionists adopted? Perhaps it was because this was a union of ex-citizens of many different nations.

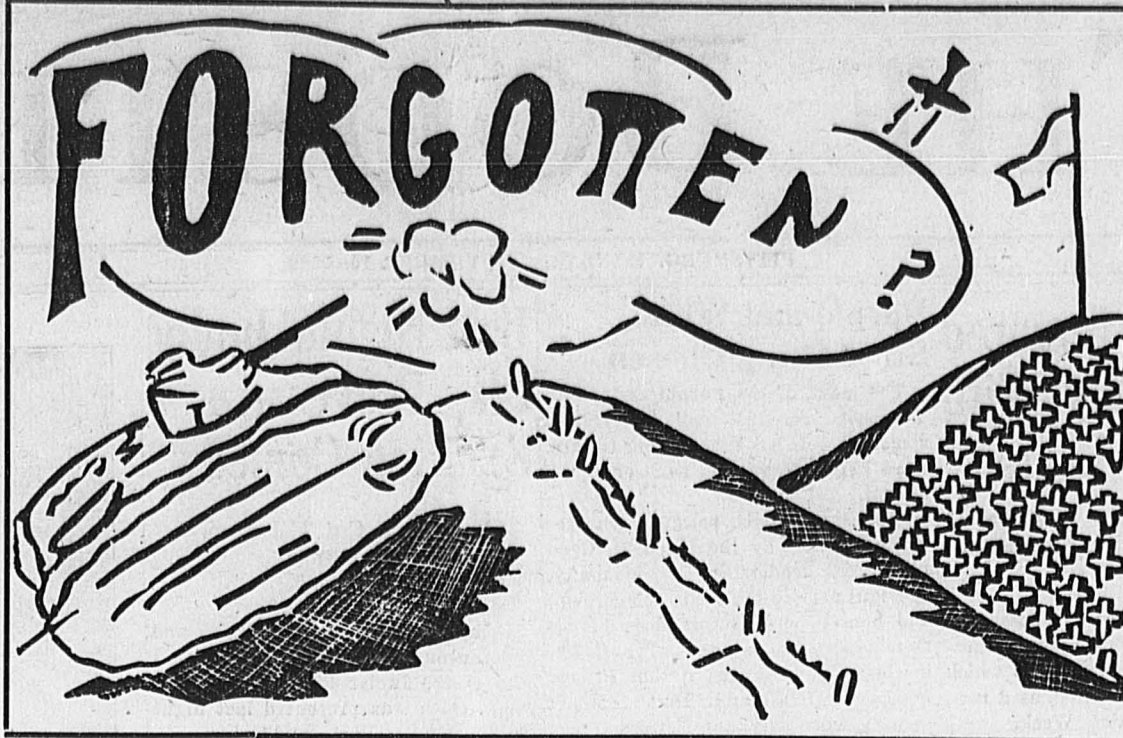

If that be the case, why, then, can't the nations of Europe put their heads together today and conquer strife.

THE SUPREME SACRIFICE AGAIN?

—Mary Lois Smith, Staff Artist

Have those who died so honorably for such a worthy cause as "Saving the world for Democracy" been forgotten? Surely we, though we have not lived through the horrors of the last war, next know something of the suffering of the soldiers.

Certainly even we cannot forget! Why can't we profit by their experiences; stay on this side of the oceans and preserve our democracy? Our will to keep out of Europe's wars must become a reality. It's up to us! Do we have the determination to stay out?

SHHH! Don't tell a soul—Gene Allred thinks Beverly Deloris Williams is pretty swell. O.K. Gene lets see you do something about it.

Well. Well! Here is a strange case. Everyone knows Virginia Gore is going with Norman Dooly, and she is seen with Clarence Forester. She also took Bob Rothrock to a recent dance. Oh my! These girls are funny creatures!

Have any of you happened to run across any of the notes Frank Freeto and Margie Ellis are exchanging ??? Well, if you do, don't be surprised for we hear they are quite the common thing.

DID YOU KNOW

1. That June Lowe and Charlene Greenwood are cousins.
2. That Bud Hooper moved to California.
3. That Marvin Tucker is a soft shoe dancer or should we say no shoes at all.
4. That H. B. Cheyne's name is Hobart Brain Cheyne.
5. That Wesley Reeder went back to Indiana.

That we get two weeks off for Thanksgiving vacation (No, and we didn't either.)

Laverna Casterman is supposed to be going with Joe Begando, '38. Will someone kindly explain this? Where does Bob Frank come in (or does he)?

Mildred Meyers, that cute little blonde junior, has been dating Marcel Truilez '39. This is bad luck boys! Here's hoping she isn't completely out of circulation.

LATEST TWOSOMES SEEN HERE AND THERE: Charles Cobb and Wanda Maier; June Lowe and Jack Broadhurst; Rosemary Skaer and Kenneth Hunt; Bill Wilbert and Lorene Blancett; Wilma Williamson and Wallace Lewis.

Why does Sammy Coles pay so many visits to Pittsburg. Our first guess would be a certain junior (Christine Walche).

Virginia Burcham has found her man at last. This time she has chosen a peppy cheerleader from Joplin. For those who haven't heard, he is J.R. Graue. Bring him around, Burcham! We would like to see him!

Do you remember Betty Lann from last year?—Well, so does Harry Stephenson! He paid a little visit to Webb City recently.

Students Grow Older

November birthdays run all the way from sports reporters to famous actors, but we maintain that Grantland Rice and Dennis King are no farther apart in talents and personalities than are some of those in P.H.S. Among those in this week's birthday column, we have reporters, debaters, actors, a drum majorette, and many of the school's foremost leaders. The Booster takes great pleasure in extending birthday greetings to:

- Nov. 4—Eugenia Griffin, Cecil Brown, Dean Johnson, Max Owensby, Charles Spencer
November 5—Betty Jean Navarre, Pauline Elias, W. C. Wilson
Nov. 7—Harlan Peterson
Nov. 8—Walter Riley, Bill Delemaide, Betty Claunch, Merl McClure, Charles Newcome
Nov. 10—Glenna Miller, Thomas Willingham, Lorene Zehr
Nov. 11—Mary Elizabeth Anderson, Billie Harrison
Nov. 14—Rosabelle Laughlin, Nadine Scavezze, Shirley Hall
Nov. 15—Bob Spragg
Nov. 16—Jack Hoffman
Nov. 17—Rosalee Myers, Roosevelt White
Nov. 18—Helen Dingman, Mildred Meier

Style Show

I suppose all of you girls know how to keep your ears from getting cold, if you don't it's time you were finding out because now the newest thing is to have something hooded—either your dress or your jacket.

Quite a few girls around our P.H.S. halls are wearing hooded jackets of various styles and colors. Most of the jackets are loose-fitting and fall a little below the waistline, but of course the others that are tight are just as cute as you could ever hope for.

Then the dress that has a hood is very smart. We have all admired Miss Laney's new dress, it is a black and white plaid skirt with a black velvet hood and a plaid hood that hangs down her back when she is indoors.

Lauretta Ashline has a bright blue jacket with a hood that is lined with red satin, it makes a very attractive outfit and looks quite nice on her.

Margaret Agnes Naylor is another one who likes to keep up with the times. She has a blue plaid jacket with a matching hood that she wore one evening when she went bicycling on a tandem.

It is apparent that a group of our sophomores all like this fad because this certain bunch all have light tan jackets alike but the hoods are all lined in different colors. Well, girls, our "hoods are off to you," we think it's a swell idea.

For Sale — or trade — One bean shooter in perfect condition. Just five notches in handle. — Wayne Hudson.

Lost — Interest of Bob Coulter. — Return to Rosie Cowan.

Personality Sketch

William Allen Prince, Jr., more commonly known as "Bill", is a junior with a very engaging smile and definite tastes. Bill is a commercial student from Mr. Briggs' home room and came to P.H.S. from Roosevelt.

Bill is 17 and celebrates his birthday on Sept. 19. He is medium height, weighs around 150 pounds, and is blond with dark blond hair and hazel eyes.

Bill's preferences clearly show that he is a real boy at heart. He prefers beef tenderloin in foods. Blue is his favorite color. He prefers band music above all other kinds, but is this understandable since he plays a baritone in the band and has attended music contests both at the College and Chautau.

His favorite subject is the driving course he's attending now because he is interested in it. His preference in literature and drama portray his love of adventure. He likes biographical adventure, aviation pictures like "Test Pilot", and Spencer Tracy is his favorite actor.

Bill's ideal girl must be of medium height, pretty but not beautiful, and reserved, but she must also be congenial and friendly. Bill's hobbies, ambitions, and spare time occupations coincide. He prefers to tinker with automobile motors, wants to be a truck driver and help his father with his trucking during his spare time. Along the line of travel, Bill also wants to see California and Florida.

After leaving P.H.S. Bill hopes to either get a job or attend college, preferably some good engineering school.

"P.H.S. is pretty good," emphasizes Bill. "I think it's especially grand because it is a leader in all activities, both athletic and scholastic."

On a cold November eve;
The Journalism class did leave,
Off to Lincoln park they did go:
And afterwards to the show,
The wind was blowing higher
As they cuddled(?) 'round the fire—
Although their teeth did chatter
They knew they were getting fatter
As they ate weiners off the platter
Away to the picture show they did go
Because it was bank night they did know.
Then off to home they all did scatter
To eat more food to make them fatter.

With a toot on the magic flute of the Pied Piper, and incidentally several hundred mouse traps, the students of P.H.S. hope to rid their lockers of the little gray rodents that scurry in and out nibbling here and nibbling there, with a bite of your lunch and a taste of your hat and perhaps a lick at the peppermint flavor in the binding of your English book.

So with a scurry
In a hurry
We'll bring our traps
And perhaps
We'll rid our halls
And all the walls
Of pips and squeaks,
The mice that speak!

Dear Booster:

This is a note of thanks to the faculty and school board for allowing the students to dance at the annual Senior party.

For several years the students of P. H. S. have wished for and tried to promote school dances as a regular activity of the school.

Now that the time has come that we are to be given this privilege, we will all try our best to cooperate and make these dances a foremost school activity of highest standard.

Long live school dances in P. H. S. !!

Don't You Know?

Don't you know it isn't nice
To eat the jam or spill the rice?
Leave the jam upon the shelf;
You might get in a jam yourself.
Don't you know it isn't right
To say you're fine—and then to fight?
Joe Louis might come down the street;
Then you'd have to be all feet!
Don't you know that it is rude
To reach and help yourself to food;
(Here I'll stop because I know
That you won't take advice, and so
All I can tell you is that you
Should watch yourself and what you do!)

Dear Booster Staff:-

There seems to be a very un-Christian like attitude in our school, and many of we students would sit by and be meek about all the things going on. If we are to make our school a top-ranking school we must have high morals—therefore, I think that we should begin to do something about it.

Don't be bashful about telling your friends that you disapprove of their drinking—show them that by their drinking and going to taverns he or she may influence some one who greatly admires them. They may laugh at you but, that is only a front and you may help them lots.

(Signed) A Watchful Eye

"The Student Council has proclaimed the week of Oct. 30 to Nov. 3 as Mouse Week. Bring your own trap and catch all the mice," announced Albert Hopper to Mr. Huffman's home room.

Deep felt sympathy is extended to the English teachers of P. H. S., who have tried so valiantly to teach us that plural of mouse is n ce.

If a student really wants to know about grades—what they do and don't mean—he should talk to Mr. Huffman. Mr. Huffman gives excellent talks about preparing for life after school. If you're skeptical you should drop into his home room some morning when there is a little Home Room business to be carried on and he will really give you some excellent pointers to think about.

The Booster is a swell old paper
I think it cuts a darn good caper—
It's new, it's novel, and it's grand,
In fact it's the best in the land.

The Armistice Is Signed

O'er all the front deep silence reigns
The shell-torn earth is still,
No whining shells, no roaring planes
The tortured souls to kill.

The trenches, empty save for dead,
So torn by shot and shell;
The fields that often ran so red
Through all this bloody hell.

Let's drag our weary bodies home,
Forget this cursed war;
We'll lay our buddies deep in loam
Beside a thousand more.

We'll pass some Germans on the way,
They'll smile and stay behind,
We have no reason now to stay,
The Armistice is signed.

Bicycle Ordinance For Pittsburgh

Junior Chamber of Commerce Compels Bicycle Riders To Buy Licenses

"Be sure to ride according to all the traffic laws, and KEEP OFF THE SIDEWALKS" These were the last instructions given when the local police department began issuing bicycle licenses Saturday, Nov. 4.

The registration of bicycles is part of the new ordinance recently enacted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to do away with many accidents caused by careless bicycle riding.

All bicycle owners and operators must register their bicycles with the police department and secure licenses and license plates. The licenses are octagonal aluminum plates and 3/4 inches in diameter and are labeled "Pittsburgh Bicycle License" and have the license number in large figures.

The following rules are expressed in the ordinance:

1. Every bicycle must be registered and must carry a license plate.
2. All bicycles operated after dark must be equipped with headlight and tail light or reflector.
3. It is unlawful to ride a bicycle on sidewalks.
4. Rider intending to turn right shall keep to the extreme right. Rider intending to turn left shall keep in left side of right side of road.
5. Vehicles shall not stop where it interferes with traffic, or military or funeral processions.
6. Where there are no traffic devices, vehicles shall yield the right of way to a pedestrian at intersections.
7. It is unlawful, while riding a bicycle, to hold to any vehicle traveling in the same direction as the bicycle is being ridden.
8. Not more than one person may ride on a bicycle, and all stunt riding on public streets is prohibited.
9. Bicycle riders shall make the same hand signals as motorists.
10. Bicycles shall not follow within 600 feet of fire trucks or ambulances, and shall not stop within 600 feet of where the trucks or ambulances have stopped.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce believes that if these rules are obeyed there will not be so many accidents in the future.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council has been discussing a questionnaire to be given officers of various school organizations and has appointed a committee to draw up a list of questions for the questionnaire.

This examination will not be a stiff rigid test but merely suggestive questions to aid leaders or prospective leaders of school organizations.

The Student Council also appointed a committee to investigate the representatives work, in relation to home room reports and discussions about Students Council activities.

Tuesday, Nov. 7, Mr. Hutchinson, in a joint meeting of the proctors and students Council members, discussed possibilities of the Student Council. Next week members will ask questions of Mr. Hutchinson about the Student Council's work.

What is the Student Council's duty in the school? What do you think its place is in the activities of the school? Write your suggestions and opinions to the Booster! The Student Council is your interest!

KEEP GOOD GRADES WITH GOOD HEALTH

How is your doctor? Are you sure he isn't ill with T.B.? Why don't you go to his office some afternoon, or to his home some evening and find out?

In turn for your courtesy let him examine you. He may tell you of some epidemic that's in town and want to vaccinate you for it. Let him do it! If you are not vaccinated against harmful disease do it at once for "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

This is American Education Week. Keep good grades with good health. Are you willing?

Navy Man Visits

Mr. Clifford Barr, graduate of Pittsburgh High School in '35 and now in the United States Navy, was a visitor in Mr. Hartford's fifth hour psychology class Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Barr has been stationed 31 months in China. Since the psychology class was studying about different races and classes of people, Mr. Hartford allowed Mr. Barr to tell of his experience and answer questions about the navy.

He has studied to be an electrician and is also a qualified movie camera operator.

To complete his four year enlistment he has ten more months. During that time he will remain in the United States.

Printing Anniversary

The Three-Hundredth Anniversary of printing in Colonial America 1639-1939, is now being observed by the Printing Department of P. H. S. and by schools throughout the United States.

"The purpose of the printing department in P. H. S. is to train students who can enter the field of printing upon graduation or later on in life," asserts Mr. White, printing instructor.

"The printing classes print all forms of material to be used by the Board of Education and for the schools. The Booster is one of the responsibilities of the printing class," declared Mr. White.

"There is about $30,000 worth of equipment in this high school printing shop," explains Mr. White. "We have the Linotype machines, a cylinder press, about 100 cases of type and 9 different kinds of type," he added.

"Five different kinds of printing are used but the types of printing which are featured by the printing department of P. H. S. are the movable and letter press type," said Mr. White.

Stephen Daye is credited with being the first printer in English-speaking America. The first work to come from the press was the Freeman's oath. Probably the best known work of Daye is the "Whole Book of Psalms," which he issued in 1639.

According to historians, many centuries have elapsed since the use of hieroglyphics or sacred engravings of Egypt. There were many centuries of slow, gradual development of the human race in the recording of events. The earliest inscriptions (about 3300 B. C.) are those from Egypt. The first word deciphered was "Cleopatra." Our English alphabet now has 26 letters.

Journalism Picnic

The Journalism classes, accompanied by Mr. Proctor, instructor, went on a weiner roast Thursday, Nov. 2, at Lincoln Park.

After the picnic all the students went to the Midland theatre for a line party. The group saw the picture "Twenty Thousand Men A Year."

SUB DEBS HAVE DANCE

Hallowe'en was celebrated in style at the Lincoln park Auditorium Oct. 30, by the Sub Debs and visitors. The hall was decorated cleverly with corn stalks, cats, ghost, and pumpkins.

A black and orange color scheme was carried out. Colorful and clever costumes added to the picture. About 60 couples attended.

The members are Zoe Wilma Baade, Georgeanne Switzer, Shirley Ainsworth, Betty Payne, Betty Forrester, Irene Bennett, Rosemary Cowan, and Harriett McColister.

The next dance will be Dec. 15. It is to be a Christmas formal.

Theodore Low De Vinne has, like Franklin, come to be known as one of the great American printers. De Vinne is noted particularly for his high class work, designing of popular type faces and printing of Century Magazine.

Benjamin Franklin was apprenticed as a printer to his older brothers. At the age of 17, by prudent economy, he saved sufficient to establish a newspaper in 1729. His "Poor Richards Almanac" was founded in 1732.

Roosevelt Classes

Make Posters

The 9th grade art classes of Theodore Roosevelt Junior High School made a poster to represent American Education Week which was held from Nov. 5-11.

The poster is now posted on the bulletin board on the first floor of the Junior High building. It is about 4' by 5' and is made of cut paper. The idea for this was taken from a National Education poster which won first place in a contest last year.

The poster consists of a drawing of the Roosevelt building with Uncle Sam looking over it. "Education for the American Way of Life" is the theme at the top of the poster.

Those participating in the making of the poster are: Virginia Tevis, Ruth McMurtry, Mary Bell Berger, Bill Walker, Chester Smith.

The class also made a poster to represent the program being carried out each day during American Education Week.

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves met in the auditorium last week with Rev. Dyre Campbell as speaker. The title was "Loyalty and Patriotism." Sammy Lou Heaton led devotions.

The Girl Reserves will meet in the auditorium next week with Miss Leeka's group in charge.

Twenty-four Girl Reserves ushered at the morning and evening general sessions of the Teachers' Meeting held at the Mirza last Friday. Those who ushered were Anita Ray, Laurel Ellsworth, Ida Louise Rush, Colleen Vercoglio, Barbara Huffman, Charlotte Sparks, Zoe Wilma Baade, Jane Pratt, Eudene Mingori, Florine Wilson, Lois Teter.

Josephine Walche, Esther Cherry, Lida Lee Schasteen, Patsy Hutto, Virginia Plagens, Mary Paulin Guinn, Louise Pyle, Irene Kelly, June Mardelle Lowe, Daphne Shoup, Loretta Ashline, and Martha Ruth Howard.

G. R. Cabinet Meets

Plans for the Girl Reserve programs during the months of November and December were made at a covered luncheon and business meeting of the Girl Reserve cabinet and sponsors held Wednesday night, Nov. 1, at the High School.

Barbara Huffman led devotions. A treasurer's report was made and it was announced there are 178 girls who belong to G. R.

Laurel Ellsworth, president, appointed a committee to arrange for a G. R. library. This library will be in the teacher's rest room and it will be open to any Girl Reserves who desires to use it.

The Cabinet decided to have the Big and Little Sister Party Thursday, Nov. 16, in the library.

They announced that the Hi-Y-G.R. devotional period would begin Monday morning at eight o'clock in the auditorium. This program is open to any one desiring to come to it.

RAINBOW GIRLS PLAN BANQUET

Final plans for the fifth annual Founder's Day Banquet to be held Saturday night, Nov. 11, at 6:00 at the Stilwell Hotel, were made at the business meeting of the Rainbow Girls Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4.

Martha Jean Burkholder, Ann Benney, and Nancy Marie Freeto were voted on to receive the degrees of the order. They will be initiated Wednesday night Nov. 15.

Prominent Students Discuss Education

What is education? What are its objectives? Those who should know are those who take part in it. Here are the opinions of some who hold offices in the P.H.S. educational organization.

Ray Lance, president of the senior class, asserts, "Education is that knowledge we retain after we are out of school and which we use to make our lives more worth living."

"To make myself broader in knowledge, and to prepare myself for later life are the objectives of my education," says Ed Tims, captain of the football team.

Harvey Lanier, president of the Student Council, defines education, "That opportunity for the betterment of ourselves, offered to all, but which sadly enough, few take advantage of."

"The insurance of the future of our country through the insurance of the future of the individual is the prime purpose of education," asserts Charles Davis, head of the Forum Club.

H. B. Cheyne, senior cheerleader, declares, "Education is that intangible, material thing that shows us how to leave the world better than it was when we came into it."

"In this age education is a prime necessity in earning your livelihood. It also helps you enjoy living more," maintains Francis Ryan, president of junior class.

Laurel Ellsworth, president of the Girl Reserves, summarizes education, "That thing which helps us get the most out of life and which preserves our democracy for better living."

CATHOLIC DANCE

Plans were made by a newly organized group of Catholic girls for an invitation formal dance to be held Friday Nov. 17, at the New Knights of Columbus hall at 712 1/2 N. Broadway. The last meeting of the club was at the home of Cloven Nogel. Hostesses were Cloven and Lula Nogel and Josephine and Christina Walche.

Purple Clad Crew Given Large Advantage; Iola Yet To Win A League Game This Year

Several dates of coming football games have been changed because of conflicting activities. The Parsons game will be played on the night of the seventeenth. Frontenac gamewill be played on the night of Nov. 23

The Pittsburg Purple Dragons will clash with the Iola Mustangs on the opponents gridiron in a league game Saturday. The game will be played under the lights.

The Purple gridsters are doped out to win this game by a large margin. Iola has lost four straight league games and has won no conference tilts this season. Iola will boast a fairly large team but will not quite measure up to the local players.

The Mustangs are given but a slight chance to win this game and this is only because of the appearance of the Dragons in their last two contests losing when they lost both to Fort Scott and Springfield. Iola lost to Parsons 40 to 0 last week, proving that Iola is weak on both offensive and defensive play.

Pittsburg will try to regain its winning streak in this game and get back in the S.E.K. running. If the Dragons win this game and go on to beat Parsons and Columbus, they will win the S.E.K. title because of a tie between Fort Scott and Columbus.

Dale Bush and Clifford Gregg, the newcomers to the Dragon's lineup, are gaining a little experience and should be playing better football for this game. The P.H.S. team will not be in very good physical conditions due to injuries received by players in earlier games. The majority of players have minor handicaps.

First Queen

Esthers Meeting

The first monthly dinner beginning the series of Queen Esthers met at the home of Miss Jessie Bailey Monday night, Nov. 6. The dinner consisted of chili, salads and relishes. Miss Bailey was assisted by her mother and sister.

Miss Iva Mae Beard, president presided at the meeting. Laural Helen Ellsworth had the lesson on the "Church of all nations." Mary Margaret Kerr led devotions.

A candle lighting service took place and each girl present repeated "The Aim" of the organization. The group sang "God Bless America." Dr. Kenna gave a short talk on his trip to Europe and compared our conditions with theirs. About 40 girls were present. The guests were urged to join the group. The meetings are held the first Monday of every month.

Bottenfield's "Water Wagon" Is An Invention Designed For Football Players

"Time out," calls the referee. Immediately onto the field rushes the water boy of the opposing team with a bucket of water and a dipper from which his team drinks. But not so with the Dragon water boy he pushes onto the field a contraption that makes the eyes of the spectators bulge with amazement. It is a new invention of Warren Bottenfield, P.H.S. tackle, designed to give sanitary drinking water, hot towels, and even medicine to the Dragon's warriors.

"Botts" first got his idea for this outfit from the Arkansas University Razorbacks who had a similar thing modeled to represent a razorback.

"Why not," reasoned Botts, "have something like this for the P.H.S. squad; only modernize it and make it the latest thing in 1940 streamlining."

So, Botts designed a purely original water carrier that will be about five feet long, four feet wide, three feet high, and will weigh about 150 pounds. This will have regulation size automobile wheels on which it will roll; and inside this compact little structure will be a tank containing five gallons of water with eleven separate hoses running from it to a nozzle from which the boys will get their water. To these hoses will be attached a small spring which will enable the nozzle to be pulled out from the wagon and then snap back into place when the player has finished drinking.

Inside, also, will be a gas heater which will provide hot towels "to rejuvenate the maps" of the P. H. S. battered heroes" and a shelf for medicine "to provide iodine for hangnails that are suffered in the game."

The outside of the water wagon will be covered with tin painted white and on which the word "Dragons" will be printed in purple on each side.

It will also have a sort of a handle by which it can be pushed onto the field or hauled in back of the school bus from place to place; and two detachable guide wheels which will balance the wagon when it is stationary.

Bottenfield has already completed the model and it is now necessary to have it approved by the School Board and money appropriated before the actual construction can begin.

"I hope to have this ready for use by next fall," asserts Botts. "It will, I believe, vastly improve the sanitation of the drinking water and also provide articles of medicine and hot towels so necessary in football. Pittsburg High will be the first school in this section of the country to have such a convenience."

Intramural Basketball Begins

A meeting was held last Tuesday night in Mr. Snodgrass' room of all Junior and Senior boys interested in intramural basketball.

"The intramural schedule will be carried out in a different way this year," said Fritz Snodgrass, who is in charge of intramural basketball.

The second round will start December 1, and the captains will be chosen from the basketball lettermen of last year. All boys will be allowed to take part in the first round if they are not out for football.

The second round will start December 1, and boys out for basketball will then be eliminated and captains will be chosen again from the remaining bunch. The games will be played in the new gym on the cross courts, allowing two games to be played at once.

There will be about eight teams which will play twice a week. The teams will be made up of the Junior and Senior classes and the Faculty.

Mr. Snodgrass stated that it is not to late to sign up and that he expected more boys to sign up before the scheduled gets under way.

The district attorney refused to say whether the woman sought is Mrs. S., wife of one of the indicted men in custody and husband of Harry of B., another.

Thiebaud At Home Among Test Tubes

Our teacher portrait this week is Mr. Charles E. Thiebaud, chemistry teacher. Mr. Thiebaud came to P.H.S. from Neosho, Mo. where he taught as principal of the Junior High and as assistant principal of the Junior and Senior High. He taught in Neosho eight years.

Mr. Thiebaud was born Jan. 4, 1906, in Danvers, Illinois. He went to Springfield College one summer and went to K.S.T.C. and got his B.S. degree in education and his M.S. degree in chemistry.

Laboratory research is Mr. Thiebaud's hobby. But these days he spends a good part of his spare time entertaining his one year old daughter, Gertrude Jo.

His favorite sports are football, baseball, and golf. Mr. Thiebaud played football in high school. He also likes to read.

Mr. Thiebaud is one of the few persons who likes most all foods. The only one that he does not enjoy so much as some others is lima beans.

This summer Mr. Thiebaud spent a few days in Minnesota, and about a month entertaining relatives here. He also spent some time refinishing the floors at home.

He likes teaching school in P.H.S. very much. His plans for the future are indefinite except that he plans to go on to school, and to continue teaching.

Columbus Reserves

The Pittsburg Reserves romped over the Columbus Reserves, 32 to 0, November 1 at 3:30 p.m. on Hutchinson Field.

Pittsburg exhibited a better running and passing attack during the entire game; but the Columbus lads hung on to the very finish, and even tried to stage a comeback in the final quarter.

Those scoring touchdowns were Zimmerman, Edwards, Bush, Cezar and Crews.

The extra points were made by Edwards and Zimmerman.

After playing good football in the first half, the Purple Dragons weakened and dropped a non-league game to the Bulldog eleven of Springfield on the opponent's field, Friday, Nov. 8. No scoring took place in the initial half, but after intermission the Bulldogs completely routed their opposition.

The Purple crew was decidedly outclassed and outplayed in the fray last Friday as proved by the score and statistics. Springfield has a fairly big team and exceptionally fast.

The first half was practically a punting duel in which no scoring was made. The Dragons received a break when the half time whistle blew, for the Bulldogs were on the Pitt four-yard line and were driving hard for a touchdown.

Early in the third stanza Patterson, sub-back, galloped 72 yards for a Bulldog touchdown and McConnell converted, giving the Missouri lads a 7-point lead. In the same period the Purple crew made a spectacular drive for a touchdown. Gilliland's place-kick was blocked.

In the fourth stanza the Dragons team lost its spirit and Springfield stormed over the Dragons' goal line. Teague went over the goal for a touchdown from the two-yard line, McConnell from the 9-yard line, and Teague scampered 50 yards for another. This time McConnell made his placekick good and made the score 26 to 6 in favor of Springfield.

Both coaches gave their entire squad a chance to play. This was Springfield's first victory against Pittsburg in eight years.

WE THINK

By The Drugstore Cowboy

What's the matter with the Dragons? That is the question on most everyone's lips and probably one of the most difficult questions to answer. In our opinion they are still a plenty good team and one of which we can be proud. Even the best team loses once in a while and certainly the season's record of the Dragons show that they are good.

Dressing-room remarks after the Springfield game led us to believe the Springfield gridsters are plenty handy with their "dukes."

Red Lottman, sophomore guard, has been showing up well in relief roles this season and much is expected of this hefty lad in his coming years of competition. Red lettered in his freshman year.

Dale Bush made his debut as a starter and played plenty good football. Bush is a sophomore and has been playing with the Petunias the first part of the season.

Patterson, Springfield's fleet back is reported to be able to trot the century dash in the neighborhood of ten seconds, so he really is fast.

The basketball prospects don't look any too bright as there are only four returning lettermen from last year's championship team. They are Wells, guard, Poland center, Lance forward, and Broadhurst guard. Jack Broadhurst made the second S. E. K. team last year and is depended on a lot this year. Lanky Ned Tryon is a senior this year but will be ineligible because he has already gone through four years of High School competition.
