BARRY KOPETZ

Barry Kopetz is currently Associate Professor of Music at the University of Minnesota, conducting the Chamber Winds, Symphonic Band and the Minnesota Marching Band. He also teaches a class in arranging to both graduate and undergraduate students as well as a class in conducting wind literature.

Prior to coming to the University of Minnesota in 1986, Dr. Kopetz taught in the public schools of South Carolina and Ohio, and at Bowling Green State University, where he spent three years as Assistant Director of Bands and one year as Assistant Dean of the College of Musical Arts.

Dr. Kopetz received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Ohio State University, and he holds a doctorate with distinction from the School of Music at Indiana University. He studied conducting with Frederick Fennell in Tokyo for a month in 1989. His previous conducting teachers included Frederick Ebbs, Ray Cramer and Donald McGinnis.

Dr. Kopetz is active as a composer, arranger, and guest conductor. He also maintains an enthusiastic interest in research, having written interpretive articles for "The Instrumentalist" on works by Peter Mennin, Norman Dello Joio, and Paul Hindemith. He is currently completing extensive research on the life and music of Karl L. King.

Dr. Kopetz resides in Shoreview, Minnesota with his wife and daughters.

WARREN BARKER

From the arrangement of "Hello Dolly" on film and the score of "Bewitched" on television all the way to compositions for the Norwegian Army Staff Band and workshops for Canadian composers, Warren Barker has made a unique and lasting impression on the music world.

Today, Barker brings his rich background and broad experience to the next generation of composers by writing exclusively for educational ensembles around the world.

Born in California in 1923, Barker attended the University of California at Los Angeles. He later studied composition with Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco and Henri Pensis. At the age of 24, he was appointed chief arranger for the "Railroad Hour," NBC's prime musical radio show, a position he held for six years.

He later turned to writing for television and quickly became an established figure at 20th Century Fox, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and Columbia Studios as composer-arranger-conductor for motion pictures and television. Barker has written for more than 30 television series, including seven years as the composer-conductor for the highly rated comedy series "Bewitched." Other series included "That Girl," "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," "Daktari," and "The Flying Nun."

In 1970, The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences honored Barker for his original music written for the award winning series, "My World and Welcome To It," based on the life of James Thurber.

Barker was a member of the arranging staff for the Oscar winning film, "Hello Dolly." Today he receives commissions from some of the finest bands around the world.
