Candid Commentary

RIGHT NOW, we wish to thank Mr. Tewell and all others responsible for that fine exchange assembly last Tuesday morning. It was very interesting to us and gave us an idea. Why wouldn't it be possible for schools to make a regular practice of exchanging assemblies?

We could take our band, or one-act plays, or something like that to some school, and in exchange they could send us some of their talent. That way we would get to know what other schools were doing and we could meet and talk to some of their students. We think it would be worth while.

THE MAIN THING THAT OUR PAPERS are filled with these days is Germany's invasion of Norway. This columnist has a sort of a hunch that we Americans over here are getting a somewhat colored story in our papers. It's quite possible that the publishers, knowing that we sympathize with the Allies, are giving that side of the story.

For instance, there was a report topped by streamer headlines that British ships had blasted their way into Oslo harbor and were threatening the Germans in Oslo. Supposedly they had given an ultimatum to the Germans telling them to get out.

But the Germans still have control of Oslo. They still use it as their base from which they are steadily advancing into Norway. All our news dispatches come from rumors heard in Stockholm or broadcasts picked up. Obviously they cannot be relied upon. It's our opinion that America is getting a good dose of propaganda right now.

WE READ WHERE SOME surgeons in Georgia successfully enlarged the skull of a girl whose brain was growing. Such a doctor could find plenty of work in PHS on people with expanding heads.

GUESS THIS IS AS good a place as any to throw in a little plug for the Senior Play. It really is going to be good this year. The roles in the main are supposed to be just the age of the people who are acting in them. We have heard Mr. Tewell say several times that he was very well pleased with his cast and thought each part was casted perfectly.

Incidentally this play will probably be put on with less rehearsals than any high school play before or since. We had only six weeks when we started and since then there have been all these music festivals and track meets. That's why you see the lights burning up here 'till late at night'. But the cast thinks they will get in shape and we think you all better be on hand next Friday night.

Tennis Team Defeat Ft. Scott

The PHS tennis team won five out of seven sets from Fort Scott, Tuesday at Fort Scott.

In the doubles, Waltz and Ozbun defeated Peterson and Rudkin 6-0, 6-2. Rice and Hammer, of Fort Scott, defeated Limler and Cheek 6-4, 6-2. Thomas and Kuebler lead Nichols and Pett 6-3, 15-15. The latter set was called off on account of darkness.

Ozbun defeated Caldwell 6-2, and Waltz defeated Peterson 6-2 in the singles.

Because the coaches did not know that the Joplin Junior College was playing Fort Scott Junior College, the courts were not available until the college games were finished.

"Even though all sets were not played, we know about where we stand," stated Mr. Briggs.

Writing Contest Nears End

All entries for the writing contest sponsored by the Booster must be handed to Mr. Proctor by Friday night, April 26. There are three divisions: short story, poetry, and news writing. Any student is eligible and may enter at least one composition in each contest. The winning composition, with the picture of the writers, will be published in the Anniversary Edition; prizes will be awarded as announced in last week's paper.

Speaks On "Child Care"

"We know that the child who is sickly in childhood even if he recovers is very apt to become a neurotic adult. We must keep our eye to the future for as the tree is bent, so will the oak tree grow," Dr. J. H. Bena, local pediatrician declared when talking to miss Leeka's home Living class Wednesday, April 17, on "Child Care."

He told some of the principles to follow when a child is sick. They are to use few if any drugs or laxatives give the child absolute rest, and cut down on the diet, especially solids, while increasing the liquids. A sponge bath will do much to reduce fever. He also told some of the principals in examining children.

Musicians Win High Honors

Returning home in triumph, by special train last Friday, the music department brought with them four highly superior and one superior rating as evidence of a successful trip to Chanute.

Making a record of which to be proud. The orchestra, band, Boys'

Gerald M. Carney —Booster Lecturer

Glee Club, and Mixed Chorus received for their efforts the top rating of highly superior. The Girls Glee Club was classed as superior.

Thursday's events, made up of solos, a woodwind quintet, boys quartet, violin trio, brass quartet, and clarinet quartet, fared well, claiming several highly superiors, fourteen superiors, and two excellents.

"I am certainly proud of the music department," declared Mr. Carney, "and their success is attribute to the fact that they worked hard and faithfully all year. I can honestly say it is the best record ever made in the history of the department."

Allied youth Elects Peterson, Schasteen

Betty Peterson, junior, and Lida Lee Schasteen, sophomore, are the new president and secretary, respectively, of the local Allied Youth chapter. The election was held during a regular weekly meeting Monday, April 15, in Mr. Thorpe's room.

The retiring officers, president Kenneth Hunt, vice president Anita Ray, secretary Martha Ruth Howard, and treasurer Laurel Ellsworth, comprised the nominating committee for the election. According to a statement by Mr. Thibaud, co-sponsor, election of the other two officers will be held at the beginning of next year.

Girl Reserve Banquet Held Thursday in PHS

An event which is never to be forgotten in the hearts of many Girl Reserves was the Mother-Father-Daughter Banquet, held Thursday, April 18, at six o'clock in the P. H. S. library. Each girl came with her mother, father, or a close relative, and she proudly introduced her parents to her G. R. sponsors and many of her girl friends.

To start the festive occasion, Lida Lee Schasteen led the group in devotions. After the dinner, Laurel Ellsworth, president, welcomed the guests, and Mrs. F. L. Soper gave the response.

Following the welcoming, came the program consisting of a voice solo, "Hearts Ease," by Charlotte Sparks, G. R. songleader; a piano solo, "A Dream in Granada," by Evelyn Massman, and a reading, "What Price Beauty?" by Tolly Keck.

The tables and the room were decorated in gay spring color schemes by Barbara Williams, social chairman, aided by other Girl Reserves.

Seniors Present "Growing Pains" Next Friday

As the climax of weeks of work, twenty-eight seniors will present the annual senior play in the high school auditorium next Friday night. The cast of the three act comedy, "Growing Pains" includes Harvey Lanier, Shirley Ann Gay, Charlotte Sparks, and Bill Graue in the leading roles. "Growing Pains" has to do with the adolescent stage in the life of a group of youngsters just out of high school. Their troubles in adjusting themselves to being "grown up" makes the story. The play, which is by Aurania Rouverol, was presented in New York and other large cities. The newspaper reviews dwell mainly on the fact that the play presented an excellent picture of adolescent children. The story is also noted for its portrayal of the tribulation of a mother and father during this period of their children's life.

Besides the four mentioned above, Naida Chandler, Charles Davis, Al McClure, Max Yeske, Naida June Brannum, Lorene Blancett, Gene Copledge, Elvanda Buxton, Bill Griffith, Barbara Williams, Jack Cox, Madlyn Osterfelt, Margaret McCoy, and Marjorie Parr, are in the cast.

The play takes place in California, and the scenery is different than that usually used. The designing of this is under the direction of Philip Norman with the actual building being done by Robert Saar. Mr. D. J. Tewell, speech and dramatics teacher, is in charge of the play and scenery.

Fred Turner Wins Intramural Golf

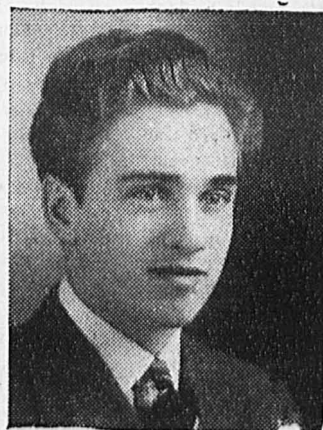

Fred Turner, Junior golf star, defeated Jack Broadhurst in the finals of the Pittsburg High Intramural golf tournament and is hailed as the golf king of PHS.

The field of entries numbered sixteen and both players in the finals had to win three matches to advance to the finals. The contest was played last Saturday on the municipal course.

Turner defeated Harry Stringham in the semi-finals and Broadhurst defeated Leland Kirk in the same round of the tournament. The scores in the final match were relatively low, with the victor shooting a 43 for the first round and a 35 in the second, making a total of 78 for eighteen holes. Jack shot a 43 on the first nine and a 38 on the latter round, making a combined score of 81.

Turner is playing his second year on the PHS golf team and has his last and best year in front of him next season. This tournament started off the golf program for the year with the matches slowed up considerably by unfavorable weather conditions.

Will Go To The National Contest

Mac French

With past victories and a musical career in mind, Mac French, popular high school tenor will go to Kansas City sometime early in May to try his luck in the National Music Contest there.

"My favorite music is semi-classical but I also like popular music very much," Mac commented. His past successes include, "Pinafore," "Captain of the Guard" and his latest triumph, "Erminie." Mac is in the Boys Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus.

Last year he went to Denver, Colorado to a contest there. He was rated as superior. Mac isn't sure what he will sing at Kansas City, since he doesn't know yet what selections will be required, or whether any at all will be required numbers.

PHS Track Men Go To Lawrence

The Pittsburg Dragons tracksters journeyed to Lawrence, Kansas, this morning to compete with 183 Kansas high schools in the K. U. Interscholastic Track and Field Meet.

To be invited to this meet, a team must have a fairly high rating among track teams. The preliminaries began at 9:30 this morning, while the finals began at 1:30 this afternoon. No more than three men from one school can enter any one event.

Mr. Snodgrass said that he would compete in the individual events but would not compete in the relays. All coaches and contestants will be guests at the 18th Annual Kansas Relays on Saturday. Some of the best track men in the country will compete in the Relays.

Some of the boys who went to Lawrence are: George Ahrens, Tommy Askins, Frank Bettge, Harry Bradshaw, Jack Broadhurst, Robert Frigieri, Joe Gray, Clifford Gregg, Charles Ishmael.

Glenn Lottman, Donald Patrick, Bill Poland, Bill Ramage, John Shattuck, Tommy Shultz, Raymond Trumble, Marvin Tucker, Sammy Van Gordon, Keith Velia, and Jack Walton.

Prepare Safety Projects

Projects are being handed in now by Miss Lanyon's safety education students. The girl's papers contain reports that a certain number of people, in a certain length of time, crossed the street on a certain corner on a red or yellow light. They, also, keep count of the number of cars "running" red lights at corners.

Kathryn Buck, Dorothy Ensmann, Delores Williams, Helen Dingman, and Ferrol Myers are working to find the names of the largest city in each of a number of counties.

"This will help the girls to become acquainted with the counties," explained Miss Lanyon, "and know a little about where the different license tags on cars are from."

Will Go To The National Contest

Don Schwab

Donald Schwab, having received "highly superior" in the French Horn section at the annual music contest at Chanute, was honored with an invitation to attend the National Music Contest held at Kansas City, May 11.

Donald, well-known in PHS because of his ability as a "French Hornist," can be found in the halls after hours "pushing a broom." Counting change in the cafeteria is another past time of Donald's.

All in all, Donald is an all-around high school boy, and in the near future, the school is waiting for him to "toot his way to victory" at the national.

Forty-Three Students Enter Scholarship Contest Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be a big day in the lives of forty-three PHS students, as well as about one thousand other high school students of this district, for the annual scholarship contest at KSTC will occur then.

The winners in the various contests will receive a scholarship for their freshman year at KSTC. The second and third place winners receive an engraved pen and pencil, respectively. The details of the contest were given in last week's Booster.

GOLFERS PLAY CHANUTE TODAY

Today the golfers of Pittsburg and Chanute are engaging in their second contest of the year. In their first meeting Chanute was victorious 10½ to 9½, but the Comets will be without the services of their star player, who is in the ninth grade and will be with the Junior High.

Pittsburg has a slight edge for that reason, and is also playing much better golf, than at the start of the season. The members of the team are Fred Turner, Leland Kirk, Eugene Vietti, Marvin Edwards, Frank Thogmartin, and Frank Kirk or Kenny Smith.

Amott, Briggs Are Guest Debaters

"Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Own and Operate The Railroads" was the topic debated in a general assembly Tuesday, April 16, when the Ft. Scott debate team was the guest of PSH. Jane Pratt acted as chairman.

The Ft. Scott team, composed of Charles Briggs and John Amott, have won first at KSTC, Topeka, and Wentworth tournaments and have defeated the national champion. The team debated the affirmative and the PHS team composed of Bob Akey and Maryaret Naylor, the negative. Briggs Is Outstanding Debater

"Three reasons why the private railroad now, are financially unsound. In 1939, fifty per-cent of the railroads failed to make expenses of fixed charges. Second, the railroads failed to pass in economic consideration. One billion dollars could be saved by consolidation.

"Third the railroads operate under a wrong principle. They should be operated in the public interest, but as it is controlled by financial interests, Charles Briggs, first affirmative speaker, asserted.

Charles is considered an outstanding debater by the debaters and coaches of Kansas. He is ranked second high to John Amott.

Conditions Due to Depression

"The railroads might be in a bad condition, but this is due to the depression, which not only affects the railroad, but all the other industries in the U. S. It has not been the policy of the national government to cooperate with the railroads; in fact, it has built barge lines to compete with the private industries.

It would, also, cost the federal government about twenty-five billion dollars to buy the railroads, and the federal debt is now forty-three billion dollars," Bob Akey, first negative speaker, stated.

Bob is well known to the PHS students, not only for his outstanding debating ability, but, also, for his musical ability. He had one of his leads in the opera in his junior and senior year. Bob is a senior this year.

Not Managed Scientifically

"The railroads could not sell new bonds since 1939 during a short boom under the present system, and they do not have adequate funds to make the necessary improvements."

"The big fault, now, is the railroads are not managed scientifically. Under the government ownership, there would be a government corporation to run them, and the railroads would be an earning proposition," John Amott, second affirmative speaker declared.

The debaters and debate coaches of Kansas consider John one of the best in Kansas. He has been offered several scholarships to the various colleges and universities in this district.

Those students from PHS who are entering the contest, the subject they are entering in, and their classifications are as follows:

Advanced Algebra: Helen Kriegsmann, Charles Newcomb, juniors
Biology: Betty Jo Latty, Jean Helbig, sophomores
Bookkeeping: Frances McCrea, Coral McClure, seniors
Chemistry: Anita Ray, Ruth Williams, seniors

Freehand Drawing: Helen Otto,

Mary Lois Smith, seniors

Interesting Stories Of Twenty-five years In Anniversary Edition

The anniversary edition, coming out May 10 or 15 will complete twenty-five years of publication of the Booster. It will be a combination of graduation and anniversary news having about twelve or sixteen pages.

At least eight pages will be a survey of PHS news of the last twenty five years. There will also be a society page containing social events of the high school through the years.

The various departments and clubs will have a special page. There will be pictures and articles showing the development of different classes.

One special feature will be descriptions and short stories about former PHS students who are now business men and well-known citizens. A page will be devoted to sports, with pictures of sports events of the past and present.

Here Come The Brides!

One by one many senior girls are acquiring slender bands of gold to accompany a solitaire, but P.H.S. was almost flooded when they began appearing in mass groups, such as those girls who arrived home from the Chanute Music Contest with them.

Of course, Kress' ring counter might have looked bare after Maxine Scott, Barbara Williams, Beverly Verocchio, and Helen Kleinhammer breezed by, but we wouldn't divulge their secret!

It is understood that one wedding ring wasn't enough for Queen Barbara, for she and June Lowe also "bought" one at the Music Festival in Joplin, and, contrary to tradition, Bob Coulter soon removed the evidence from June's finger.

What next?

Tennis and Golf Coaches Deserve Praise for Fine Service

This year for the first time in PHS, golf and tennis rose to a prominent place in the field of sports. Approximately thirty boys answered the call for tennis players and a large number went out for golf. All this was the result of much time and effort on the part of the two coaches of these sports, Mr. Ellsworth Briggs, tennis; and Mr. Howard Lundquest, golf.

Both men have worked diligently in order to create interest and enthusiasm in them and to produce better teams to represent the school. However, the main objective is to give more boys a chance to participate in some sport and to give those who play tennis and golf an opportunity to practice and to improve their game.

Both Mr. Briggs and Mr. Lundquest took over their coaching tasks when PHS sports. Through their efforts, golf and tennis have risen to a much higher place in the sports field, and they certainly deserve the praise and cooperation of the student body.

Youth's Greatest Debate: Good Literature Vs. Bad

In these days of modern medicine and scientific miracles we are prone to feel safe and free from harm, not realizing that the youth of today must fight one of most undermining diseases yet presented to this world. Today we eat the right foods to build up our body, but often forget that our mind must be built up with the right food as well. One of the principal parts of our mind's diet is literature, and never before in the history of the United States has the reading of cheap literature become so universal.

Literature is an all-important subject in the school pupil's life. Take the student who wishes to go ahead, to succeed in life. How will he make ready to realize his goal? Should he take his school days as an unimportant interlude between his birth and the time he leaves to lick the business or political world? Or should he utilize their every minute, using them as a preparation and fortification against the day he will strike out on his own.

If he decides on the former course, he will read fun books, dime novels and other cheap periodicals. These books are not worthy of his attention, and if he does not tire of them, and soon toss them aside, he will sink to their level. Such impossible muscular heroes as "Wonderman" and "The Human Airplane" will be his idols. On the other hand, if the student spends his time reading books by and about the outstanding men of America, he will unconsciously imitate and pattern his life after down-to-earth, real successes.

Blouses

Busses, tucks and lace add feminine touch to new blouses

When should a gal look feminine? Always—but especially when she is late for her date. Do you girls know just what to wear to look feminine. There is nothing so feminine as these new spring blouses.

You can't escape looking pretty across the table, or any other place, in one of the new frosty, white crisp blouses. These feminine blouses are very pretty with tucks here, a touch of lace there, yokes, ruffles, even a bit of black rayon-velvet. The materials used are organdie, batiste, pique, and rayon crepe. A quick spring-time refreshment for your spirits as well as your new suit.

One which will be utterly becoming to you is the cotton organdie, with deep-tucked yoke, being trimmed with dainty white lace. MARJORIE HUMBARO is very bewitching in this blouse, which she wears with her brown tweed suit.

The blouse with a baby collar of lace made of cotton batiste, with hand drawn tucks worn with a black, straw-brimmed sailor, and a black, sheer wool suit makes a very charming outfit.

LOIS TETER has been wearing a sweet blouse of velvet embroidered organdie, which she wears with a pink skirt. Another darling blouse is worn by WILMA WILLIAMSON. It is crisp, white organdie, with a velvet embroidered yoke, trimmed with lace. She wears it with her black transparent velvet and leather belt.

These blouse styles are not new but rather a modernized version of what mother wore when she was a girl.

Wanderin' And Listenin'

This last week seemed to make more than one person stuck. For instance, Virginia Davis has a charm bracelet with a small ring on it. She was trying it on her finger in orchestra between numbers, and one time she couldn't get it off. Betty Gohr also had her troubles. She was sitting on the wastebasket when all at once she fell in. The harder she tried to get out, the farther she sank in. We should have let her stay, and we could have charged admission but being kind hearted, we helped her out. This is the price we pay for being helpful.

They say that we all have a second childhood sooner or later. Evidently, Charlie Bennett and Max Rose are having theirs now. Both of these famous examples of manhood seated themselves on a bicycle. Charlie usually sits on the bars and does the peddling, and Max on the seat steering. Well, as luck would have it, they were demonstrating their skill(?) at this when they smashed into a curbing and both pitched headlong to the ground. Neither one seemed the least bit embarrassed and merely got up and started off again.

Miss Radell is going to have to go in search of somebody to be in her third hour class. She only has six students enrolled, and three of them are sick. Two are proctors, leaving only one the last part of the class. Miss Laney is another teacher short of pupils. There are just three or four in her sixth hour class.

Charles Davis put on quite a demonstration the other day for the junior English students. He was sitting in the journalism room leaning back in his chair. Well, he leaned back too far and fell over backwards on his head. He says he's all right now, but you know how it is. When Charles reads this, he probably won't like it; but it was awfully funny at the time, and he can't help it because he makes news.

Congratulations!

On The Splendid Coronation Ball

Congratulation to all the students and teachers involved in making the coronation ball and dance a success! The co-business managers of the Purple and White deserve the credit for planning this regal event, which has been the largest coronation in the history of P.H.S. They did untiring work toward arranging and carrying out this beautiful coronation.

Congratulations should be given all the students who took their time to decorate the gym so beautifully. The teachers deserve a vote to thanks, also, for the time they gave for chaperoning the dance. The dance band deserves credit for faithfully playing for the dance, after they had played in the music concert just before the dance.

Of course, King A. M. Brim and "Babs," along with the other candidates, deserve much credit for selling so many annuals, which, all in all, made this splendid, regal coronation possible.

THE NEWS IN CARTOON

—Mary Lois Smith,
Staff Artist

Trembling in their boots, the faculty of the school this week awaited the word from the Board of Education telling whether they would still inhabit PHS next year.

The Student Officers say, "keep off the grass and play on the sidewalks. We say this is the best way to do it. Put armed guards out there."

Next Friday night, Ye Olde Auditorium will resound to the Senior Play.

People

This week's "hall of fame" includes sophomore girls only. Here's the first girl and her clues. She is vice-president of the sophie class. For her brief life history, we find that she came from Springfield, Mo., two years ago and attended Lakeside Junior high in the ninth grade. During her stay at P. H. S., she has been elected Student Council alternate for Mr. Collier's home room, is a member of Girl Reserves, and plays the viola in the orchestra. Tomorrow she goes to the college as a scholarship contestant in biology. Work hard, Jean Helbig!

Here's one of the two songbirds we're mentioning this week. She's a cute, sweet blond, who had the lead last year in the Lakeside operetta. She is a member of the Glee Club and has sung several times on the P.H.S. stage. She usually sings in a duet with Jack Toussaint. Betty Lou Thomas, you have a lovely voice, and we enjoy hearing you sing.

We said we had two songbirds. Well, just to prove it here's the other one. This quiet, dark-haired little miss is about the third of a long line singers. You've probably heard of Rosamond and Billie Ann, so you ought to get acquainted with this one. She, too, had one of the leading parts in Lakeside's operetta, and she has demonstrated her singing ability in chapel and Girl Reserves. We're certain that success is head of you, Patsy Hutto. Make the most of it!

Peppy, lots of fun, and a grand friend, here's someone you should really know. She's a member of Girl Reserves and also has had famous people go before her. Her brother was president of Quill and Scroll last year; o if you'll get out last year's annual and hunt up his picture, you will have an inkling of who this girl is. Camilla Bumgarner is usually seen around with either Rosemary Skaer or Margaret Ziegler. Know her?

Music Critic Analyzes Ratings Received At Chanute

Those highly superior ratings received at Chanute were quite a pleasant surprise to everyone. This is the first time since the rating system was inaugurated that Pittsburg's musicians have rated so high. Seven solos and a small ensemble received highly superior, and five large ensembles won highly superiors. All the rest were superior ratings except two, which were excellent.

This evidently means Pittsburg is at last coming abreast of Ft. Scott, Chanute, and the other surrounding schools which have heretofore been far in advance of us in music.

The fact that so many soloists received the highest and next highest ratings bares out the improving factor in our music department. The average degree of excellence with which each member of an organization plays determines the degree of excellence with which the entire organization performs. Good men in every section tend to raise this average of playing ability.

Also supporting this fact is the fine showing of highly superior which the woodwind quintet made in the Chanute contest. The quintet composed of George Pyle, flute; Jay Rennie, oboe; Harvey Lanier, clarinet; H. B. Cheyne, bassoon, and Edwin Payne, horn samples one man from each woodwind section.

Being small, the quintet depends more greatly on the individual than does even the band or orchestra. If, then, the players of these comparatively difficult instruments receive a commendable rating in a small group, they surely must play up to their responsibility in a large organization.

A humorous angle to the contest was that the woodwind quintet had never, as a whole, been coached by the director. A week before the Chanute contest it didn't even look as though the quintet would even enter because of difficulties within the ranks.

But after a word here and a word there by Mr. Carney, the quintet did show up at Chanute with shall we say—beginners, luck.

Congressman

Harlan Peterson who was honored by the Hi-Y is an athlete and musician

Tall, blonde, shy, and gentlemanly is Harlan Peterson, junior, who was selected as District Congressman by a spring conference of the District Hi-Y.

Harlan, who was President of the local Bunny Carlson chapter last year and was also elected to preside in his senior year, has contributed to others school activities, too. He is principal of the second violin section in the orchestra, played forward on the Dragons basketball team, and was a member of the football team.

"It is an honor to be elected District Congressman and Official delegate to the National Conclave, and I'm going to do my best to represent this district," he asserted after his election.

Borrowed Bits

Promising to be one of the most novel dances of the year is the Headline Hop, scheduled for Friday, April 12. On this night, the girl the students have picked as the most typical girl of Santa Rosa High School, will be crowned the "Princess of the press." The girl's identity will not be revealed until the night of the dance.

"The Santa Rosa"—Santa Rosa, Calif.

At last we've found the secret of the continual trend to the west:

"The boys are bigger, the girls are prettier, the people are friendlier; and we like liquid sunshine," so stated members of the Cleveland John Adams High School orchestra, after their second performance last Thursday.

"Manual Arts Daily"—Los Angeles, Calif.

During night school, which will probably be April 29 and 30, the Science Club will sponsor a hobby show. Various collections made by students—such as stamp collections, doll collections, and antique collections will be on display.

"The Lampoon"—Iola, Kansas

A new angle on entertainment was given us by the Tech News, Omaha, when we read about the "Jitney Concert"—their Spring Round-up. Ten big acts comprise the program which promises to be a rodeo of laughs, with music and good times for everyone.

Disaster was narrowly averted one evening last week when Rex Jones was locked in his locker. It seems that Rex was inside looking for some book or other, and someone came along and shut the door on him. As it was after school hours, Rex was afraid he would have to spend the night in those cramped quarters, but the night watchman, Wiley Beal, heard his shouts and came to the rescue.

WANT ADS

WHAT...Makes boys think they are so wonderful? No, it isn't a riddle; lots of girls are just wondering.

DISCOVERED... In Spain, they say "Si, Si," in France, they say "Oui, Oui," but here's a new one. In Pittsburg, they don't ask them.

BOYS...Are you lonesome Are you blue? Why don't you get up a lonesome heart's club. At least in your own opinion you'd be in good company.

EGOTISM... Was created with the masculine sex. There are some who don't think so—they are a small and exclusive class.

ARE YOU wondering about the above ads? Well you aren't the only one.

Party Line

Here are your school snoopers back again to give you the latest headlines in the world of gossip. First, we feature Eva Fern Clark and Louis Reimeri who have shown the first signs of love by going steady! You're off to a good start kids. Keep up the good work!!

It is rumored that George Ahrens and Ann Marie Wilbert are also going steady. We wonder what happened to George and Mickey Van Arsdale???

Scoops!—Here's another couple who deserve to be mentioned --Bette Parsons, that cute senior who did so well in "Ermine," and Albert Snyder,-- or did you know??? Yes, Bette is quite fond of him.

Flash! Betty Lou Thomas likes a certain little basketball star, Boots McWilliams, by name.

Bob Coulter tells a fly in your soup is better than no meat all.

Aw...Lets skip that subject and discuss a little romance between Charles Cobb and Kathryn Buck. It looks pretty serious, holding hands in the hall. Oh, well, we guess its time for us to shut up at least about our good friends Katy and Chas. OK, kids you can breathe easy now, we won't tell any more.

Come on, my little dears, tell me this. Why does Mary Lois Smith blush every time Joe Linden's name is mentioned?

Here's something that doesn't need to be told. Just keep your eyes open and you can see for yourself. Just a hint if you don't catch on. (Lois Williamson and Jay Rennie.)

Its impossible for two little girls to follow all of you Chills around everywhere, so why not give us a little help. Write us some good juicy gossip. Leave out nothing that will make it interesting, and hand it to any member of the Booster staff.

This is your gossip reporters signing off until next week,

That Old Admonition "Keep Off The Grass"

We were impressed the other day by the set of rules sent around to home rooms by "a group of interested student officers." Perhaps you heard it, and perhaps you did not. It was supposed to be read in home room, but we know that sometimes that is not done.

Anyway, those rules had to do with student conduct outside the building on warm days. Ever since we can remember, the administration has tried to keep the lawns in a pleasing condition. Often, they have worked against the direct opposition of the student body. It is very difficult to understand this opposition.

Sure, it saves a little time to cut across the middle of the lawn, but what are a few minutes when most of the time we don't have any place to go in the first place. We noticed a picture in one of the old annuals the other day showing this building when it was first built. It really was beautiful, and it still could be. All it takes is a little honest cooperation.

Okay, we're sorry if we've started preaching to you, again. That's not part of the game, but we still think it would be worth while to work on the lawns a little.

SOCIETY

JOYCE HENNEY

Allied Youth Picnic

Allied Youth members and their guests were entertained with a picnic and line party Monday night. The group met at Lincoln Park at 5:30. Afterwards, unable to decide upon which show to attend, the members went to the show they preferred. Twenty-six members and guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Thiebaud, and their daughter, Gerry Jo, were also present.

Mr. Dan Tewel, Max Yeske, Al McClure, and Chuck Davis spent Saturday and Sunday at Stockton, Mo., on a fishing trip.

Have Group Discussion

The Foolish Fens met Monday night at Betty Hood's home. A group discussion was held. Lunch was served. Elliott, Dorothy Edwards, Virginia McBride, Betty Jackson, Arlene Kirby, and the hostess. The next meeting is to be at Dorothy Edwards' home.

Ramsey, Glover Are Hostesses
Mary Ramsey and Mary Alice Glover entertained members of Sigma Delta Chi with a dinner at Mary Ramsey's home, Tuesday evening. Plans for a annual graduation formal dance to be given the night after graduation were discussed.

Members present were: Naida Chandler, Katherine Gaston, LaVerna Casterman, LaVon Casterman, Edna Mae Price, Barbara Cornelius, June Lowe, Margaret McCoy, Naida June Brannum, Patty Barkell, Sammy Lou Heaton, Sue Bales, Shirley Johnston, Nellie Jo Tharrington, Dorothy Elliott, Betty McAnally, Eva Fern Clark, Joyce Henney, and the hostesses.

The physics class is still studying electricity. The second group is in the laboratory making experiments with electricity.

The senior science class is studying heat and the methods of heat transfer, fuels and their comparative costs; the setting up of air-conditioning.

Mr. Thiebaud's chemistry classes are working in the laboratory making soap, etching glass, making bleaching powder, and they are bleaching cloth. They are starting to run their "knowns" in preparation to running their "unknowns".

W. G. Pittman, manager of the Newspaper Union in Kansas City, is giving a demonstration of the photographing machine.

"We do not know as yet whether we will buy this machine or not," stated Mr. White.

The chemistry classes are studying the properties and uses of metals and their alloys. They started work in the laboratory yesterday.

Miss Laney's Girls' Discussion Group is discussing etiquette and good manners. The girls are going to take tests from a booklet put out by the Association of Education Sororities.

Economics Projects Show Work of Grads & Students

Have you ever wondered what last year's graduates are doing this year? Or what students in PHS are doing to work their way through school? Mildred Masquelier and Hazel Workman did, so they took these questions for their economics projects last semester. Below you will find Mildred's results on last year's graduates, and Hazel's results on the work of the students in school.

"Because of limited facilities and lack of time, these results may not be perfectly accurate. However, they do give an ideal of the kind work last year's graduates and students are doing, and they represent student research," Mr. Briggs stated.

There are 6 boys that work as janitors for the school board and the other boys that do janitors work are among the ones listed on the N. Y. A. They all receive twenty cents an hour, but the boys that work for the school board work two hours a day and the others only work one hour a day. The average wages are $4.00 a month, some make more than four dollars and some make less.

The girl that gives dancing lessons at her home works only four hours a week and the charges fifty cents for class lessons and seventy-five cents for private lessons. Of course, there are others girls in town who give dancing lessons, and some charge more and some charge less than she does.

The average wages for a store clerk is around ten dollars a week. They usually put in about eight hours a day. The average wages for a curb boy is about fifteen cents an hour, and they usually put in from seven to eight hours a night.

The girl that gives music lessons works about three hours a week and she charges thirty-five cents an hour. She has only three pupils now because she has so much other work to do concerning music.

The boys that work at the Nu Grape Bottling Company spend about twenty hours a week and the average wages is about eighteen dollars a week and I think that is including the ones that work all day as well as the ones that work after school because I don't think that any one working after school would get that much.

There are twenty-six boys listed in the office that carry papers. I think they get two cents a paper and then they have to pay for all papers that they lose and they also have to pay for back bills that other people owe them. Besides that, they have to pay social security. They have to keep their dry if it is raining or snowing and if the house has no porch, they have to knock on the door and give the paper to the one that answers. They have early hours if they carry the Sun or Kansas City Times, and they have late hours if they carry the Headlight or Kansas City Star. I don't really know what the average wages of a paper boy is, somewhere between five and six dollars a week, I imagine. That of course, is according to the route.

As far as being able to pay their own way is concerned, I don't think there is any job listed here that would do that. Take, for instance, the job of delivering for a drug store. You work about six hours an evening or night, which ever you prefer, and you make somewhere around eight or ten cents an hour, which seems to me would be very little in comparison with what it takes to send one boy or girl to school.

There are, of course, exceptions to everything and there may be an exception in this list that I have, but I think they would have to do better. I think they do to be able to go to school on what they make. These jobs might furnish spending money, but if that is what they are working for, they are not working because they have to, but as a matter of choice.

Miss Gables clothing classes are working on the clothing projects that they begun last week.

Miss Laney's French and Spanish classes are translating novels. This will be their work for the next six weeks.

Miss Laney's sixth hour Spanish class has begun to read a new three act Spanish comedy, "Zaragueta."

Both second year French classes are reading the novel, "Colomba."

Cotton pickin' time is here again. At least it seems so in Mrs. Peterson's biology room. We have a real cotton plant right here in P. H. S. It was in a yard and transplanted to a pot and brought to school. It had leaves and bloomed last year; this year it has new leaves and bolls of cotton. "This just goes to show that annuals can make perennials," declared Miss Peterson.

Pittsburg Finishes Third In Fredonia Meet

Pittsburg finished third to El Dorado and Coffeyville in the annual Fredonia invitation meet. El Dorado was first for the second consecutive year, as they tallied forty-five and Coffeyville second with forty-four and half points. Pittsburg made thirty-nine, and Columbus and Independence tied for fourth. Twelve new records were set, one being the mile run by Don Patrick.

Lottman continued his point taking rampage, as he took first in the javelin and third in the shot and the discus. In class "B", Leon, Kansas emerged victorious by chalking up forty-nine and one-half points.

From Where We Sit

Woods, Coffeyville track star, looked mighty nice in the invitational meet last week. He bettered the state broad-jump record by almost a foot, and set new meet records in the high-jump, as well as the broad jump. Also, he ran on two winning relay teams.

Fred Turner may be called P. H. S. golfer number one, as he just won the intramural tournament last week. Out of sixteen entered he emerged the victor, which is not half bad in anybody's tournament. Jack Broadhurst finished second to Turner, but can not play with the team on account of track.

The tennis team got off to a bad start in the match with Independence as they failed to make a single point. Ozbun, Waltz, Kuebler, Thomas, Lemler, and Timmons make up the team. D. W. Cheek was unable to make the trip because of conflicting activities. We are looking forward in the season, and expect the boys to make a better showing in the future.

Theopolis Earle's colored softball team is leading the league. They have won all three games by decisive scores. Pelphrey and Esch are the nearest contenders for the championship. The first round is nearing completion with one more complete round to be played.

"Arkie" Hoffman expects his basketball team in this to be the best in the history of PHS. Several Junior High boys are looking good as cage prospects in the future. Rusty Russell assistant coach to Snodgrass and Hoffman, is playing baseball for the travelers, local baseball club.

Paul Ozbun Wins Tennis Tourney

Paul Ozbun, junior, defeated Bill Waltz, junior, in the finals Monday, to be the Tennis "King" of P. H. S. Paul played on the basketball team and on last year's tennis team. Waltz also plays basketball and was on last year's tennis team.

Charles Thomas is in third place. He defeated Don Kuebler. This is Charles's second year on the tennis team, Don is in his second.

Bill Graue was defeated by Dana Lemler for fifth place. Lemler is only a sophomore. This is his first year on the team. Graue is a senior and is playing his third year for P. H. S.

There is a tie between D. W. Cheek and Bob Timmons for seventh and eighth place. This is Cheek's third year of play. Timmons is playing his first year on the P. H. S. tennis Team.

These boys will probably make up the tennis team. Of the eight boys the first three are juniors and of the other five, three are seniors and two are sophomores.

Students from Miss Marshall's "Methods Class" from the College were with Miss Leeka to observe the foods classes last week. The girls were Inez Yeargon, Wilma Brekenridge, Eileen Doores, Evelyn Smith, Mary Virginia Corporon, Marjorie Smith, and Wilma Johnson.
