Tentative plans are for many improvement in the buildnig.

"We have a world of work to do in repairs. For PHS we have two major projects in mind. These are the repairing of the swimming pool and the football field," -stated Mr.

Plans for the swimming pool include tiling the walls, repairing window basings, and improving the accoustics to the ceiling.

"Had it not been for the continous rain, work on the football field would be under way. As it is now I am a little worried and fearful that time will not permit it because of the long growing season of grass. If we find it impossible to do the repairing this spring, we will have to postpone the work until immediately after next football season," said Mr. Small.

Minor changes include the following: two new doors on the main entrance, patching up places where plaster is broken, fixing up roof leaks, and proceeding with the annual floor care which include waxand buffing, repairing the window sashes, and buying new shades.

"We are also contemplating building a sidewalk from the flag pole across to city sidewalk going north east." concluded Mr. Small

This Is Our Opinion!

Farewell, Dear PHS

Looking back over the past twelve years it seems a trifle impossible that this year's senior class can be completing the required portion of their education. The years are doing, but the time passes so fleetingly. Each day is but a minute in a person's lifetime.

When junior high promotion excerises were held three years age everyone felt so proud and growup. Little did they know. There was high school yet to be completed This time it is different. No longer will there be teachers to guide one, no longer may a students rely on their elders for his future.

Many of the graduating class are gone, never to return. They have given unselfishly of their lives on the battlefield. Graduates are facing heavy responsibilities than ever before. Some may monentarily falter in the execution of their duties. Some may cease to lead. Regardless, this is always a comforting thought.

"If you can't be a highway, then just be a trail;

If you can't be the sun, be a star; It isn't by size that you win or you fail-

Be the best of what ever you are."

Mavis Brewington

Future Offers Adventure

"Cripes, there's nothing to do around here." Sure there's nothing if one doesn't try to find it. Many students are not looking forward to the future because they do not realize the opportunities present. Many say that everything has been discovered or has been improved upon for post-war plans. But that is not true. For adventure why not explore Tibet? Parts of that country have not been reached by White man? Or, if in the discovering mood, not study medicine? The cause of cancer and its cure have not been found as yet.

Others are finding that social work is very interesting There is much to be done in countries as China, Burma, and even in this country.

In reality the world is far from perfection. There is much to be done. Work, hard work, is waiting for those who actually want to work.

Rose Marie Castellani

School Days Are Happiest

As any senior prepares to graduate this spring, he looks to the future with a hopeful heart. Everything that he has looked forward to from the earliest school days comes to a climax this year. Naturally, graduating will bring its sadness as well as its happiness, but the future is what he is most interested in at the present.

Even though his plans for the future aren't completely definite, he has an idea what he wants to do and how he plans to go about doing it. He also knows that whatever he does, his days here at PHS will have a great deal to do with how

These school experiences will be remembered as the happiest days of his life, not only from the associations of such good friends that are to be found in PHS, but also from the standpoint of the friendships he has had with his teachers. May future seniors make the most of their remaining school days in every way possible. Someday they will be proud to say they attended "Good Old PHS."

The greatest problem for the leaders of the 46 United Nations will be to educate the people so they can better understand their international brother.

Comes spring and summer; what do we have; Band concerts are fine if you like to relax by sitting and letting somebody else perform. Along that same line are track and swimming meets, tennis tournaments baseball games, and others. The people entering these events learn many things. Most of the games, being competitive, teach good sportmanship; others teach cooperation, which all adds up to making better citizens. Our city has several parks, so we use them wisely, get the most out of them, but leave them orderly for the next, person.

Does your club's having a program explain to your brother how worthwhile it is? I know Jamboree Week is something most Boy Scouts look forward to. This winter let them put in a program giving the rest of us an idea of why scouting means so much to them. Don't stop there, but have other programs by Senior Service Scouts, Hi-Y, and all Youth oranizations. It would give our community a better understanding of the oranizations and help boost them when the Community Chest Drive begins. Mom and Dad should not have to sit back and seem interested in Mary's and Joe's clubs: they can show off their own clubs Dad belongs to the Kiwanis Club and Mom is one of those federated women. Their clubs' should sponsor entertainment.

There are always winter sports. It is rather hard keeping Dad from attending a basketball game to see if this year"s team is any better than the one he was on way back when. And Mom would just like to see one basketbal game between the Wac's and All Stars to see if the technique has changed since she played but that's beside the point. Then there are ice-skating, roller skating, and school programs, and how about our parents picking out a play and putting it on for us? That would really draw a crowd. Our city auditorium and some school stages are just wasted away waiting for opportunities to come along.

Clattering Coins Cause Trouble

The stillness of the church was interuppeted by the sudden clinking of money as it went through the hole in the collection plate. This upfortunate person got down on her hands and knees and by the light of her face picked up the errant coins. Getting back in the pew she discovered during the excitement of getting the coins that her corns hurt. Juietly she unfastened her shoe straps and slipped off her shoes. Everything went well until the man next to her kicked her shoe under the next pew. Again she went under the chair to hunt for her lost shoe. She then made the mistake of taking old of the wrong shoe. When the church service was over the girl turned to her mother and asked, "Mother, what was the sermon about this morning?"

Ad Lib From the Campus Inae M. White

End of the year has finally come at last. Won't say I'm glad but it will be nice to get out for a little vacation.

Congratulations to the boys who were chosen for Boys State. They really picked a grand group.

Several if the Senior Service Scouts spent last week-end in Wichita for a Scout Convention. They were Marilyn Hyatt, Ferrol Coulter and Shirley Sherman.

A group of girls had a slumber party the other night and a number of smart boys decided to give them a little scare. They did all right when they pulled the light switch. At the moment the switch was pulled. one girl was slicing a tomato. The next thing she knew she was laying on the floor with her face in the tomato.

One boy's mother gave him some very embarrassing jobs to do. The other day she sent him over to his sisters to measure her for a formal. Can you imagine a boy measuring a girl for a formal with a lot of girls standing around giggling.

In the show "National Velvet" a scene showed a whole class room of girls. One girl remarked to the other, "Gosh, the man shortage must have hit there too!

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

What girl is in love with what boy who is in love with what other girl who is in love with what other boy who is in love with the girl in the first place??

. . A PHS cutie answered the phone the other night. Some male volse whose name was Hellen. The voise said, "Hello, is Helen there?" The girl answered, "Yes, but she is in bed ill" The male voise insisted, "But I must speak to Helen To this the girl answered, "Really, my mother is sick in bed and you can't talk with her." The much surprised boy exclaimed, "Oh, my goodness, did you say your mother? I've got a date with her tonight."

The outcome was that the boy had the wrong number. Blush!!! Blush!!!

One girl was mighty thankful that the war was lover in Europe, but she had some worries to go along with her happiness. What if all those boys she had been writing to came home all a tonce, Or even maybe they would Pacific and all get together and compare letters.

. . Several very funny things happened at the Booster Bandquet the other night. Reverend Thompson ame in cand ask Mr. Green if he got to dine with the smartest people from the high school and Mr. of course answered, yes, because he was afraid to say anything else.

A good story was told about Mavis Brewinton. Seems liker her favorite dish is sourkraut and weiners. One night after four or five helpings she kept looking at the dish until he mother remarked", Now Mavis if you eat anymore you'll pop." To this Mavis answered." Pass the dish and scoot your chairs back.'

Mr. Green told little story about seeing a certain journalist tell her boyfriend goodnight. I only say Mr. Green, what were you doing over there? And you must have good eyes cause it was so dark vou couldn't see. (Editorial comment: How does col-nmist know how dark it was?) Poor Mavis with her excellent appetite was very unhappy the other night. Everytime they would pass the rolls she would be in the wrong place and the dish would be empty when it got to her.

One girl got to dinner darly and upon entering the room she found one lonely man there. "Oh," she remarked, "You must be the guest speaker an dif you are going to speak on what the program says I'm going home." After much explaining he assured her that he knew nothing about "the subject of Einstein's Theory of Relativitly is compared with that of Darwin's Theory of Evolution."

Jo Ann Laughlin went to the show "The Very Thought Of You" Through out the whole picture she cried, that is the way Mavis Brewington who was with her told it. After they left the show and got on the bus Jo Ann was still feeling rather sad. Instead of asking for tokens and change she just dropped her fifty cent piece in.

This being the last paper, the Sports Department would like to pick a boy and girl as typical athletes. They must have taken part in a number of sports, be good sports, and really like sports of all kind. This is .. not for being outstanding in the field of athletics. For the boys Jack Thomas gets the honor, and for the girls, Evelyn Bennett rates first.

This is it. The time we've been waiting for a long time. This is the last Booster and our high school career will be over in a couple. So I leave this column to next year's sports editor. My last wish is that the Dragons will win every game they play next year.
