The first pep meeting of the year held this morning at the regular assembly hour gave the football team a splendid send off for the game tonight with Miami.

Coach Rhode introduced the squad. The cheerleaders put everyone in the spirit to win this first gala event. New-comers Enthusiastic Over PHS Friendliness

"Look at the campus!" "What a wonderful school!" "The friendliest students!" "Such election enthusiasm!" and other flattering statements came when the newest arrivals to P. H. S. were interveiwed by your Booster reporter.

This year the new comers consist of an odd mixture of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. More exactly, there are six sophomores, three juniors, and two seniors, to make a grand total of eleven new PHS'rs.

The new "sophies" generally distinguished themselves by appearing slightly more bewildered than the rest. A member of their rank, Barbara Johnson, recently of Ellinsburg, Washington, was surprised at the speed with which assignments were handed out. "Where I went to school," she stated, "the teachers spent the first two weeks trying to quiet the pupils."

Besides Barbara, there are five other sophomores. They are Earl Cullison, Rolla, Kansas; James Harper, Chanute, Kansas; Dorosas; Donald Thiesing, Moran, Kan-summer.

sas: and June Marie Wheeler, Kansas City, Missouri.

Norman Passmore, new PHS Junior, agreed with Barbara about the speedy teachers, but then added "It's a lot more fun this way, at least I know exactly where I am, except in speech, of course." Norman shares the limelight with two other juniors, Reve Churchill and Vivian Gerold.

The Senior class was increased only by two members, Del Ruff of North Carolina, and Mary Ellen Rossel of Independence, Kansas. Del has had the honor of visiting Duke University Campus and talking to "Choo Choo" Justice. Mary Ellen, and her sophomore sister are daughters of Denton Rossel, new junior high school instructor.

After meeting and becoming acquainted with these newcomers, PHS, its faculty and its students warmly welcome them into our

A record crowd was on hand for the annual Hi-Y, Y-Teen mixer which was held last Monday, Sept. 11, on Hutchinson Field.

The mixer is a party which is held each year for the incoming sophomores to get them acquainted with each other, and the members of the other classes and to have lots of fun

Reva Deems was choosen vice president, beating Marlene Million 99 to 63 and Janet Decker defeated Carolyn McCluskey 127 to 35. Barbara Gudgen nosed out Gloria Schultz in a close race for treasurer 82 to 80.

For boy cheerleader Robert White beat Bruce Burton 130 to 31 and Irene Moore was elected girl cheerleader over Suzanne Tousiant 97 to 65.

At the close of the election P. H .-S voted as did all senior boys. All junior boys except one voted and all sophomore boys but thirteen.

Mr. John L. England, principal, stated, "I was very pleased with the election, and I have never seen such enthusiasm and clean fun as were displayed this year. Both the winning and losing candidates conducted themselves in a most sportsman-like manner. School elections are as fine a preparation for citizenship as I know."

An Election, Dear Visitor

No, poor puzzled PHS Visitor, that wasn't wall paper on the front hall—just campaign posters, but then it's easy to see how you got mixed up.

And they were pretty clever weren't they? Now the election has come and gone, some candidates won and more of them lost —that's the way it goes. But the sum total of the whole battle added up to spirited and original bids for office by PHSers in every class and for every office.

Slogans like "Be Wise, Johnstonize," "Ring the Bell with Bell," "If You Don't Care About A Face, Vote for Case," ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous and yet every one was crammed full of pure vote-appeal. If a few candidates had to be corney to get votes—then they were corney and they got their votes.

And the sucker and gum wrappers that cluttered the place, remnants from slogans like "Don't be a sucker, vote for Deacon" and "Stop Beatin' Your Gums-Vote for C. A.'

It's hard to explain to you, poor puzzled PHS Visitor, just why everyone campaigned so hard. Could be the "strong" trying to be leaders of the pack, could be political contagion brought on by the fair deal or it could be just a bunch of normal kids proving to themselves the merit of the "American Way."

Whatever the reason, everyone agrees that this year's campaign was the best ever, and certainly the most fun!

The hustle and bustle of feverish campaigning has cleared away and the winning candidates have been selected to assume the responsibilities of the various offices.

Now that the officers have been selected, it is every student's job to back these leaders even though you were "for the other guy."

Remember that only with outstanding leaders can we have a truly successful year, and only with every student's cooperation can we have outstanding leaders.

That makes you, the PHS student, the common demoninator. So back your officers—they're worthy of your support.

Observe Francis Willard Day

Frank, as her family called her, was an outdoors type of girl. She was not very religious until she fell ill with typhoid fever. In the crisis she pledged she would be a good Christian girl if she got well. She did get well and was destined to be an outstanding leader.

After graduating from Northwestern Female College in Evanston, Illinois, she taught in several different schools and later became President of Evanston College for Ladies.

Returning from a trip from Europe in 1870 she was asked to tell of her experiences abroad. This speech, which she delivered from a pulpit of a large church, was her first paid Joining the temperance crusade in 1874, she soon became president of the organization and from there became president of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The W. C. T. U. lost a great leader when Francis Willard died of influenza in 1898. During her life as temperance leader she gave speeches in every state and territory of the United States. A statue of Miss Willard stands at the capitol of the state of Washington. She is the only woman to receive this honor. Now, we set aside September 28 to honor Francis Willard's work and to futher the cause against alcoholism.

UNDECLARED WARS

Military aggression between countries often leads to a state of formal war. Sometimes, however, this declaration of their intentions is never issued. On more than one hundred occasions in the history of the United States American forces have been used to protect shipping, American territory, industries in foreign countries, and lately to stop communist aggression in Korea, without a formal declaration of war ever being made.

There have been good reasons for military actions without formal declaration of war. In fighting France at sea to protect our ships in 1789, we avoided the risk of invasion. Action against Tripoli and Mexico were minor, not requiring formal war. In China, we were protecting U.S. interests as we saw them and were able to do so without war.

In the Korean war we are acting on behalf of the United Nations. The U.N. ordered action against Communist Koreans. So long as the United Nations acts as a world body of which we are a cooperating member, there is no need for us to add a formal declaration of war to these actions.

Marriage, College, and Work Keep 1950 Grads Busy

Accompanied by the strains of ald Damrill, Ronnie Mannoni, Joan "Pomp and Circumstance" the '50 graduates left the halls of PHS to go out into the big wide world. Some went on to college, while others embarked upon promising careers, and still others have taken the plunge known as wedlock.

Yes, love has left its mark in the hearts of some of our 1950 Grads. Since marriage is the only cure for that, Jane Ann Lamb is now Mrs. Bob Ottesen. Bob played baseball for the Pittsburg Browns last summer and now that the season is over, he and Jane Ann will go to his hometown, Chicago, to live.

Another grad, Martha Swanson, recently traveled to Calfornia where she married Virgil Manley, who transfered from PHS to Redwood, California in his Junior year. And last, so far, was June Mosier who is now Mrs. Hughie Moore. Engaged to be married some time this year are Jerry Williamson and Raymond Ford, Wanda Tosser and Bruce Meyers, and Norma De Ridder and Floyd Russell.

Those who have not yet caught the love bug are interested in getting an education. Campus Chatter

By Norma Simons

Ever since I was a young girl I have wanted to write a school life column for the Booster. . . And if you are reading this it means that Miss Marsh, like Columbus, took a chance.

The school year got off to its usual start, with sophies wearing that "lost" look on their faces as they try to find their way through the endless halls of Pittsburg High, with the speech classes toiling on the reading, "Georga da Wash" for the 15th consecutive season. . . stenography classes reciting in maddening monotone their shorthand lessons, "S-A-V-, save; L-O-V- love; F-I-T-, fight; etc.." ..excitement at student elections reaching a new high...the aroma of cooking floating up from the cafeteria to tantalize students sitting in third hour classes listening to professional discussions... the horrible rush in the halls at five of twelve...Miss Fintle traditionally halting those who forget and run down the stairs in their stampede for nourishment.... and with seniors taking their select places in the auditorium.

We don't want to hear any more jibes about those-big white Pittsburg letters with "D E B A T E" down the middle. The other day we saw uptown a burly fellow with a huge letter "M" on his sweater. He looked like at least an all state football tackle. But looking closer at that letter we spied in small letters"C H O I R."

Everybody is more than anxious for the start of the football season against the Miami Eagles. All of our out of town games this season will be played at league towns that are the farthest away from Pittsburg. Chanute, Iola, Independence and Coffeyville. The average distance to the towns is about 63 miles....that isn't bad. (Who can give this columnist a ride?.)

....We're going to be proud or our twirlers this year Pat Thomas, Janis Burnidge, Jody Neher, Carol Hawley, Carolyn Buckley, Nancy Simone and Carol Pipkin. They've been working hard planning routines..... for the games.

Fullback Bob Hawley likes everybody and everybody likes him We hear that last week Bob signed seven petitions for the office of senior vice-president.

Local Would-Be-Cow-Girls Ride In Colorado 'Bronc Day' Parade

wonderful doesn't it? That's just what happened to six P.H.S. girls this summer,

Those who made the trip were Jeanne Freeto, Judy Timmons, Letty Lemon, Norma Simons, Mary Jo Kincaid and Jane Letton. They were chaperoned by Mrs. F. H. Freeto and were the house guests of Mrs. Lillian Kincaid of Green Mountain Falls, Colorado.

It was a great day for the girls and as the car pulled away from the curb, all loaded down with six screaming females and a driver, people might have had the idea that they were something out of "Cheaper By the Dozen." (Half Dozen, that is)

For weeks in advance the girls planned what they were going to wear; they had all agreed to dress alike. White shirts, blue jeans and white baseball caps were the chosen attire. In the white caps with their long visors, it was difficult to tell one girl from another. People at the filling stations where they stopped, asked if they were a baseball team, "No" one of the girls replied, "We're a tennis team on our way to Colorado for a rest."

It took a day and a half to get there. The very first thing everyone wanted to do was to go horseback

A week in Colorado! Sounds riding, although a few of the members of the little party didn't know the first thing about a horse. Since riding is fashionable and practically a MUST on a Colorado vacation, these vacationists were willing to suffer whatever pains were required in straddling their mounts.

Arrival at Green Mountain Falls was perfect. Just in time for the annual "Brone Day", with a big parade of Western riders. The girls found that it was a written law of the town, that each and every resident must participate in the event one hundred per cent. It was also rumored that the penalty for noncompliance of the rules, was a trip to the well-filled horse trough at the town pump. This bit of information sent all the girls hurrying to the General Store, where they purchased "Dude Cowboy" levi's. You know, those blue denim monstrosities that are designed to best display bowed legs.

The entire week was a whirl of activities. Sightseeing, mountain climbing, swimming and dancing. The girls also made many new and lasting friendships.

Then, just like all other vacations, before they knew it, the time had come for them to pack their bags and head back for the "Sunflower State."

Dragons Invade Chanute Friday

Next Friday the Purple Dragons will invade Chanute for their second gridiron game of the season. The Dragons will be plenty rough as they will be out for their first league victory when they tangle with the Comets on their own field.

The Dragons will have a somewhat stronger opponent this year than they did last year when they defeated, the Comets 19-13 on Hutchinson Field.

Since this will be the first league game for the Dragon gridsters there should be a crowd of rooters to make the trip to Chanute next Friday to cheer the team to victory.

Hats off to Jim Konstanty, the respected reliefer of the "Fighting Phillies". The Phillies can be truly proud of their ace pitcher who has been a big reason for their position in first place in the National League this year.
