Junior Scientists Rate Publication

A review of all Pittsburg High entries in the Junior Academy of Science meeting at Wichita last April 14, was presented in the September issue of the Senior Academy of Science Magazine.

This organization, under the sponsorship of Claud Huffman, was awarded the large cup for contributing most to the program. A detailed description of each talk, paper, demonstration, and exhibit, was given in the magazine.

To UN Meeting

Harold Ray, Charles Peterman, Polly Lou Bell, and Billie Marie Johnson have been chosen to represent the Pittsburg High School Social Science Classes at the fourth annual United Nations Model Assembly for high school students being held Saturday, November 18, at Kansas University.

Each of the member nations of the UN General Assembly will be represented by two students from that country in native costume, one speaking his native tongue and the other interpreting in English.

One of the main features of the day will be Prof. J. Eldon Fields, Head of the Western Civilization Department, who will speak on "The Problems of UN in the World Crisis." The day's program will also include the model assembly, a summary assembly, and a social hour for the high school students and the 160 foreign students.

The four students attending the assembly from PHS will make reports to the classes on the various topics discussed. Marion A. Nation, social science instructor, will accompany the students.

Kazmierski To Represent P.H.S. In D.A.R. Citizenship Contest

Marilyn Kazmierski will represent Pittsburg High School in the DAR Good Citizenship Pilgrimage Contest.

Marilyn was one of three outstanding good citizens chosen by the members of the senior class. The three chosen were presented to the faculty for a final vote to determine the PHS representative.

Along with other high school contestants in the state, Marilyn will receive a questionnaire which she will fill out to send to the state contest. The state winner will be named State Pilgrim and will receive $50 and a trip to Washington, gifts from the National DAR.

The DAR Good Citizenship Pilgrimage Contest was started in 1935 by Ruth Brain Rhodes, Congresswoman from Florida.

Dragons Are After The Bucket

How many readers recognize this picture? No wonder, This is a picture of the famous coal scuttle which hasn't been in the hallowed halls of PHS since 1947.

This is no ordinary coal bucket, and it has yet to see the day that it will be filled with coal, because this is the coal bucket for which our PHS gridsters battle Columbus every year.

Weighing 36½ pounds, this special coal scuttle is made of cast iron and is slightly over the regulation size in height. It was donated in 1938 by the Pittsburg Lion's Club to PHS for the annual Pittsburg-Columbus scrimmage.

Each year after the Columbus football game the score is placed on a copper plate shaped like a football which will be attached to the coal bucket on its battered sides.

The Coal Bucket has the score of all games PHS and Columbus have played from 1938 to last year.

Up to 1949 the Purple Dragons had made 389 points to Columbus' 309, but the record of three games, '44, '45, '46, have been lost.

Of the last seven games the Purple Dragons have won four.

This is Pittsburg's year to win the coal scuttle back. PHS has the best team they have had in ages and unless a major catastrophe occurs...the coal scuttle SHALL COME HOME!!

Now Let Me See - Which Is Which

Alene Lamborn

Arlene Lamborn

"Gee whiz, which one is which?" As far as Alene and Arlene Lamborn are concerned it never bothers "the twins" a bit to have their identity switched around.

"In fact, it's a great advantage sometimes," quipped one of the twins. (Alene, I think) "We used to have a lot of fun switching our boy friends without their even guessing it. But now that we both go steady, it's a thing of the past," was the woeful exclamation of Arlene.

With six sets of twins among their relations, their family and friends soon learned the knack of telling twins apart.

Fiends for music, these twins can usually be found playing the nearest jukebox, relaxing, and just plain enjoying life. "Dadgum" and "Hi, Friend" are the familiar sayings of these bubbling personalities who are scarcely seen apart.

"Just to own a little sewing shop" is their main ambition and they seem well on the way to achieving this, since they have received the Reserved Championship and two blue ribbons in 4-H style reviews. They have been quite active in 4-H for the past six years. Arlene is secretary of her group.

As far as spare time is concerned the twins are always busy teaching their baby sister how to talk. The rest of the time is filled with studying American History and thinking about two boys ? ?

"Cheer, Cheer For Old Pittsburg High"

Simply by driving over to Javatown and outcheering, out-yelling, out stomping and outscreeaming the numerous Tornado Tillies two to one, PHSers have proved once more that you don't have to be a big school to make noise, and you don't need a pep club to be peppy.

In fact, one local citizen was heard to mutter, "I hear 'em yelling 'Dragons' everywhere I go...I'm going nuts!" (Merciless, weren't we?)

Yep, we DO have school spirit, and we CAN yell—the Coffeyville game is exhibit A. By the end of the basketball season the most conservative estimate is that we'll be turning in exhibit Z.

So what? So bring on Columbus—we wanta YELL!!!!

Personality Plus

JODY NEHER

Long brown hair, blue eyes, and a vivacious personality describe Jody Neher, senior majorette.

This little gal loves the color blue, "Star Dust", twirling, sleeping, "driving the little red Chevy", and Miss Messenger.

Jody favors long hair (except on certain people), dressing up, and the new clock hose.

Next year will probably find her studying at KSTC for she plans to be a school teacher.

Jody leaves to good old PHS her high (?) average grades. She will take with her in memories all the good times she has had in P. H. S.

ELLEN ROSSEL

Sweet, musical, brown-eyed Ellen Rossel, candidate for football queen, and new student at PHS admires our school's friendly spirit.

A native of Fredonia, Ellen, a fine cello player, spends most of her time practicing in the attic or tweeting with her pet canary, "Bino."

Ellen has studied the cello for three years and is mad about it. Her favorite artist is Padegorsky, world famous cellist, who gave a concert here in Pittsburg a few years ago.

Her type of man is one who is tall, dark, handsome (sounds familiar, doesn't it?) Her favorite haunt is the good old band-room where she can usually be found. Red is Ellen's favorite color, while she especially likes corduroy skirts and hates iridescent sweaters.

Although she isn't sure where she will go to college, Ellen thinks that KSTC will probably be her alma mater. Her ambition is to teach cello or kindergarten and of course—to get married.

"Will you please ring 3433 again, operator?" Yes it's Richard Brown again calling that same old number.

Rich can usually be found calling that certain gal or working on Bud's car, while humming "On Top of Old Smokey", his favorite song.

Tall, blue-eyed Rick plans to be "just one of the Freshies", at KSTC next year. He'll always remember the swell sportsmanship displayed at PHS, and his ambition is "to tell Mr. England that I've played hockey."

Inquiring Reporter

Here's your inquiring reporter again with student answers to the very simple question—If someone had given you a yerga, what would you do with it?

Emma Greer—I'd spank it.
Margaret Feagans—Give it to Mr. Cline for a Christmas present.
Jules Striver—Put it on Miss Nelson's desk.

Janis Burnidge—Look it up in a dieting book to see how many calories it has in it.
Billie Cordray—Eat it for lunch.
Velda Hofmeister—Put it in my purse and keep it.

Pat Unger—Give it back to them.
Fred Nesbit—Sit on it.
Rose Lucas—Feed it a saucer of milk.

Ted Pethtel—I'd eat it. I eat anything.
Maxine Wilson—I'd feed it.
Gene Siefert—Give it to Barb.

For all you people who are still in the dark, a yerga is a woolen material used especially for making horse blankets.

Fads And Fashions

Except for a few slight changes, fads and fashions remain generally the same here in PHS.

Medallions, short hair, corduroy skirts and loud sweaters are still sported by most PHS girls and promise to be good for a long time.

Along with rustling brown leaves and cool, clear days, autumn is bringing new and different colors and styles in dress up dresses. Black velvet, envy of most PHSers was worn by Gert Naccarato at a recent musical gathering. Emy Greer and Helen Burton have new dark corduroy suits which are the current rage. Black opera pumps owned by Norma Simons and Jane Letton are on the Christmas "want list" of many tailored minded girls, while rhinestones are the most desirable accessories for any dark dress or suit.

Although the boys aren't boasting any new fads, everyone agrees that the guys never look better than when they wear levies, white shirts, and saddles.

Tomatoes

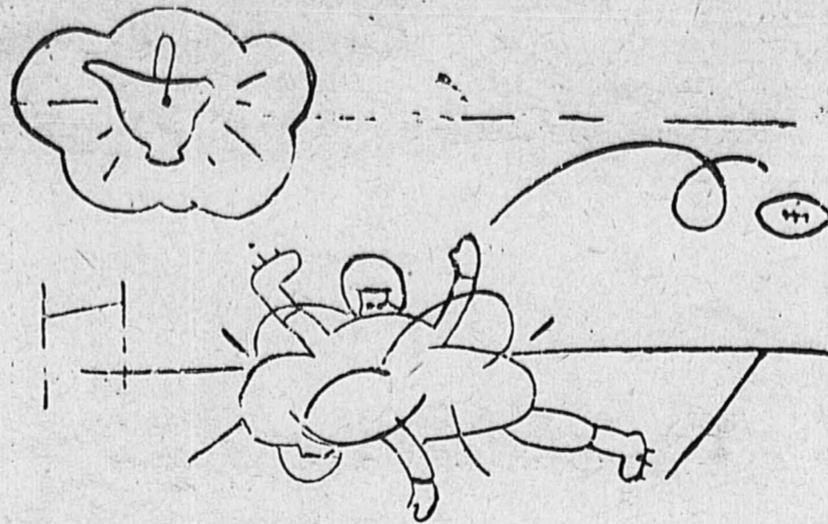

When they're on the menu fried, Who would much prefer them stewed?

You'd.

Let the menu list them stewed, Who would rather have them fried?

I'd!

Pittsburg Teachers Drop Dignity For Halloween Fun at Lakeside

Some teachers are actually human! This strange fact was brought to the attention of your Booster when the news of a Halloween party for teachers leaked out. The party was held Oct. 24 in the Lakeside gym.

At the beginning, the costumed teachers sat in chairs around the gym merely staring at each other without saying a word. At irregular intervals a loud and piercing scream issued from one of the quaint-masked faces. Later it was discovered that these fierce sounds came from meek-looking Mrs. Hand.

The first event was the grand march. In the costume judging Mr.

Small as Dracula, and Miss Troxel as an old woman took the prizes.

A square dance band under the direction of Mr. Garin took the spotlight. Four business men and their wives gave a demonstration square dance.

There were several contests during the evening. Mr. England and Miss Messenger had a broom race which Mr. England won by a narrow margin. Bunk Bournoville outdistanced Mr. Cline in a doughnut race, and Miss Ludlow and Mr. Hardy unsuccessfully bobbed for apples.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

Here and There.... What football player's letter sweater did Vicki Smith wear to the Coffeyville game?....Speaking of the Coffeyville game, our cheering section was really on the ball.... We overheard one Coffeyville instructor say it was the noisiest he'd heard this year.... There were 24 PHS girls wearing purple sweaters.... Before the Parsons game John Deems vowed he would shave off his mustache if we'd win.... We tied the game and you can guess what happened....Yes, he looked funny running around with hair on one side of his nose....Have you heard the nicknames the senior boys have been pinning on everyone?....Do you know who answers to these names: Mole, Worm, Weasel, Beaver, Ostrich, Rabbit, Ape, Cat, Red Rider, Heifer, Mouse???

Hi-Y Prepares For Legislature

Both girls are planning on graduating before taking the big step. Eula stated, "I'm not sure when we'll get married but sometime after school's out!"

Did you know that many of the alumni girls come back to swim?

The physical education department likes to have them back. Every week or so the girls come back, meet their friends whom they haven't seen since graduation, catch up on all the gossip, laugh, have fun just remembering things that happened down in the dressing rooms, intra-mural tournaments, and, of course, their swimming classes.

Schedules seem to be known all over town and even at K. U. Miss Messenger has inquiries all the time. "Still swimming on Tuesdays and Wednesdays? I'll be home Wednesday- all right if I come up and swim?"

Miss Messenger invites alumni to come up for a swim during any class period on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Sporting cowboy hats and boots, mustaches, holsters, and guns, levis, plaid shirts, and playing their ukes Letty Lemon and Norma Simons won first place of $35 in the Republican Talent show Nov. 2, with their "Haddie and Homer Home Brew Program."

"We were a little scared of the big stage at first," admitted Norma, "but once out there we were all right."

"Fifth place didn't even enter our minds, let alone first," Letty added.

The prize money was divided among Letty and Norma and Jim Valentine, Jim McDaniels, Bill Stutterfield, and Gene Seifert, who helped make the show complete.

A.J. Cripe, master of ceremonies, asked the prize winners if they'd do a number on his radio show Nov. 4, but they were unable to.

Other winners were Larry Rouse and Rhoda Lou Birkenshea, who won second place of $25 in an adagio dance. A quartet from Arma won third prize of $15.

Assembly Speaker

Elliott James

With a generous supply of liquid air, Elliott James entertained high school students this morning in the second KU assembly of the year.

Mr. James, who has spent many years in platform work, amazed his audience by making the liquid boil on ice, propel an airplane motor, freeze mercury to a hammer, freeze kerosene into a candle, drive rubber "nails" into wood, contract a solid brass ball, greatly lessen the resistance in an electric conductor and completely change the properties of lead at the low temperature.

Student Council Helps

At all the nine home football games Student Council members have served as official representatives of P.H.S. Their artistic efforts on the goal posts have added color to the game. PHS is proud of its active Student Council.

Bees End Season

The Pittsburg junior Dragons ended their 1950 football schedule Nov. 8 in a victory over the Arcadia varsity.

The Bearcats were no match for the stronger Dragon reserve crew. The Dragons got off to an early start with Amoneno scoring in the first quarter, and Remington going over two more times before the half, which ended 19-0. In the third quarter it was Anderson who scored for Pittsburg, which was to be the last time the junior Dragons were to score this season. The Bearcats came back in the fourth quarter and scored before the game ended.

The Dragon Bees had won their sixth game of the season with their 25 to 6 victory over the Arcadia Bearcats.

Gridsters Roll Over Bulldogs

Last Friday night the Dragon gridsters rolled over the Independence Bulldogs in a league game by the score of 33-6.

The Dragon offense looking fine proved too much for the Independence Bulldogs, and when in the shadows of their goal line were able to ward off any threat of a score.

Montgomery scored first in the second quarter on a lateral from Nettles on the 27 and went over standing up. Amoneno's try for the extra point was good and the Dragons led 7-0.

After Jerry Hamm recovered a fumble on the Bulldogs 10 yard line Carl Klobassa hit Peters with a pass in the end zone for the second tally. The try for the conversion was low and at the end of the first half the Purple Dragons led 13-0.

Coming back in the second half the Dragons quickly took advantage of a 15 yard penalty against the Bulldogs with Ernie Amoneno passing from the 48 to Jim Peters on the 20 and Jim going over for the tally.

Montgomery scored for the second time after the Bulldogs fumbled on the second play after the kick-off and after the kick the varsity lead 26-0.

Ned Wilson ended the scoring for the Purple Dragons taking a pass from Nettles in the end zone.

The Bulldogs scored their lone tally against the reserves in the fourth quarter.

Fumbles were costly on both sides in the cold temperatures but the Dragon crew took advantage of the Bulldog's mistakes to romp to the victory.

Gym Class Intramurals

"The girls' gym class will begin their volleyball intramurals some time next week," Miss Helen Messenger, teacher, stated. "The games will be played in the little gym and anyone wishing to watch will be welcome."

Basketball Opener With Wichita East

Dragon hoopsters will open the 1950-51 season Friday, December 1, when they entertain Wichita East Quintet on the home court.

Four lettermen from last year spark the Dragon Squad. They are Ned Wilson, Eldon Nicholson, Charles Peterman, and Charles Bell.

The schedule calls for eighteen games, nine on the road and nine at home.

Hunters Out Early

Jim McDaniels, Bob Schmidt, Carl Klobassa, and Bob Bell have been getting up early in the morning lately with some fifty million other would-be hunters trying to get the mythical duck which is in season now.

After rising at an early hour it usually turns out that every lake, pond, pit, or other waterway they visit is all ready lined with scores of ambitious people with shotguns ready to blast at anything that comes in sight.

When they are lucky enough to have a blind they are apt to find someone else using it when they arrive at their secret paradise for all types of water fowl.

After finding every stream covered with more hunters than birds the weary hunters trudge back home with nothing but hot tempers and cold feet.

The Fifty Yard Line

The Purple Dragons lost a heart-breaker a couple of weeks ago when the Golden Tornadoes defeated our boys by the score of 7-6. The game had the Dragon squad in the lead to the last few minutes of the game but the Javatown boys took advantage of a bad pass from center and went over for the T.D. and kicked the winning point.

The 1950 football season closes with tonight's game and for many members of the squad it will be their last for PHS. The boys on the "B" team have something to look forward to when they fill the vacancies left by these players.

The reserves who played the biggest part of the fourth quarter at Independence did a fine job although the Bulldogs did tally once. These will be the boys who make up the varsity next year so the experience is valuable indeed.

Turning to the collegiate football we find Kentucky is still in the unbeaten ranks while the Mustangs of S.M.U. seem to be faltering. Kyle Rote and company have lost their chances for a bowl game as they were beaten last week for their second straight loss.

Some fine football will be on tap for tomorrow when Ohio State goes to battle against Illinois. Missouri will have a rough battle on their hands as the strong Oklahoma sooners will be trying for their 29th straight win. This should be another victory for the Sooners. The cadets of Army should have another victory when they battle with Stanford but might be given trouble by the strong Stanford eleven.

Snake Dance Arouses Pep
Our annual snake-dance before the Columbus game was held last night at 7:30. The students met on the practice football field and there built a huge bonfire on which a Columbus player was burned in effigy. At the bonfire, Coach Martin Rohde gave a short speech then the cheerleaders led the students in a few yells. The snake dance was led by the PHS band and football team.

after 5th hour Wednesday and will resume Monday morning, giving the students a 4 day vacation.
