OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

March 27, 1944

Dear Students:

It is a great pleasure for me to convey to the faculty members and students of Kansas State Teachers College my personal greetings and sincere best wishes.

In this year of total war, our educational institutions are possessed of a greatly increased significance. They light the path through the present dark days and serve as beacons for what is to be had in the future.

In the days and years ahead you will have frequent occasion to draw upon the knowledge and inspiration with which you were endowed while at Kansas State Teachers College. Let me urge you to return often in memory of these familiar halls, where you were taught the "essential, necessary and inalienable rights" of the greatest Democracy on earth. Such wisdom is lasting, and of strong substance.

Let us this year rededicate our wills, hearts and intellects to the perpetuation, by our every act and thought, of this greatest of all free lands, which is America.

Sincerely,

Andrew F. Schoeppel
Governor.

Board of Regents

These men and women serve the State of Kansas as the Board of Regents and act as a governing council for all the state institutions of higher learning. With the approval of the governor and the legislature, and from recommendations by the president, they determine the policies by which we work. Their job is that of spending, making faculty appointments and promotions, fixing salaries—they have the last word in the administration of this college.

REES H. HUGHES

President

The College yearbook represents an endeavor to portray in words and pictures the activities of the school year.

It is of immediate interest to all who have been a part of the College during the year. It relates them in many ways to their associations and experiences.

The yearbook also attracts former students. They enjoy reading new names and looking at new faces, now to be found in activities that they and their associates at one time filled.

The yearbook is also added to the archives of the College and becomes an important record for the year.

The 1944 KANZA has been prepared during a war year. Every phase of the college program has been affected by war and war-related activities. The Navy V-12 program will be reflected more extensively throughout the yearbook than any other war activity. Training students in the Navy uniform on a Kansas college campus really represents a new venture.

The long list of names of former students of the College now in active military service, found on the pages of the book is also significant.

Now that you have your KANZA, read it through. Have your college friends mark it up with many personal notations and comments and illustrations. Keep it where you can get it out and relive it occasionally. It will bring back happy memories and it will grow in value as the years go by.

Deans

DEAN DELLINGER

DEAN SMALL

Dean Dellinger, or "Doc D" is the Dean of the College and of the graduate school. So many of his duties have to do with the inner working of the school that most students do not realize what an important position he holds. He is chairman of several administrative committees which are determinants of the high standing of this institution. Students know him because he takes care of any schedule difficulties, and because he is the person who presents diplomas to the graduates at commencement time. Everyone should make it a point to get acquainted with "Doc D"; he is a most likable person.

Dean George Small is known to everyone on the campus, both boys and girls, although he is officially the dean of men. He is active in all student affairs both as an adviser and as a participant. "George," as many people call him, is the student's friend. He is always ready to offer kindly advice; more than one student is indebted to Dean Small for helpful guidance during a period of trouble.

Around enrollment time students see a great deal of Miss Belle Provorse, since she is the financial secretary of the College and the person to whom we pay our fees. She is always on hand to keep the finances straight and can often give students well needed advice and help.

To J. U. Massey goes the job of recording all the grades, and sooner or later we all make at least one trip to the registrar's office, if for no other reason than to get grade cards. Mr. Massey likes people, especially students, and never fails to have something to say when he meets an acquaintance. He can always be counted on for a good laugh.

Mrs. Mable Kane Stryker guards the portals to the executive office. Not only is she a gracious and efficient secretary to the president, but also a helpmate to the students. Always present are her ever-ready smile and a willingness to do for us what she can.

Jim Miller

Freda Elmore, Publicity Chairman; Jim Miller, President; Frances Townsend, Secretary; Doris Gant, Treasurer.

Smoothly yet enthusiastically did the 1943-44 Student Council function under the leadership of Jim Miller. The first of the school year several amendments were made to the Student Council Constitution. They were made so the council could include the Navy V-12 boys.

Sponsoring dances was at the top of our entertainment list. Ladies' Knight was a huge success and the Apple Day Dance was terrific! Not to mention the Christmas formal and the various other dances. Chapel programs was another of our specialties. Several humorous and educational ones were presented and were immensely enjoyed by both the faculty and the students.

All our duties were not on the entertainment phase, however, for we sponsored a bond and stamp drive on the campus to buy a $75,000 pursuit ship. Everyone was very cooperative and we were given a Minute Man flag of which we are very proud.

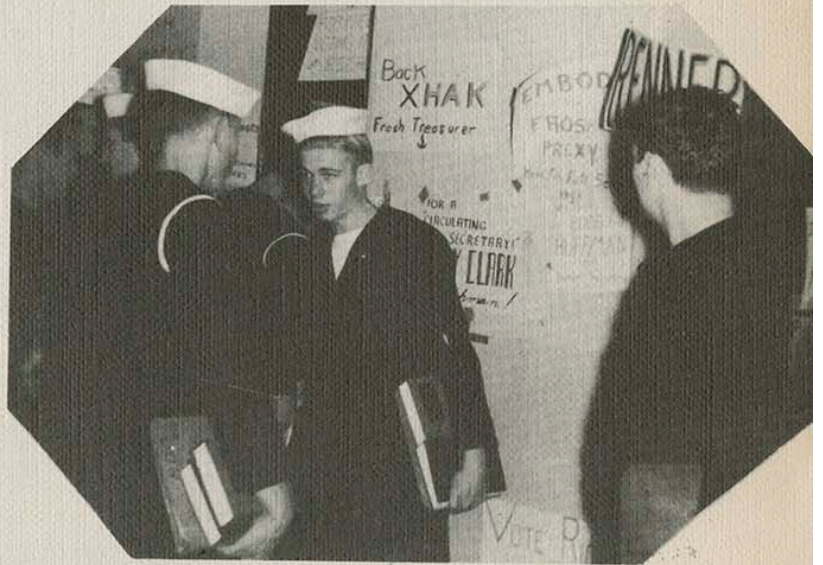

The Council was asked by President Hughes to write a letter to the boys in service telling them about the activities on the campus during the '44 school year.

At the end of the second semester we lost several Navy V-12 members since they were transferred to other stations. The new members who replaced them were J. D. Milner, Dave Kilmer, Bill Hall, Bruce Foster and Hall Bowling.

It has been truthfully stated that a more cooperative group was never found. Miss Lula McPherson served faithfully throughout the year as the faculty sponsor.

Lambda Sigma Kappa

To further the precepts of true science and to seek the truth is the purpose of Lambda Sigma Kappa. It is the outgrowth of the agricultural club which originated in 1912. This organization is an honorary professional fraternity whose membership is open to biology majors on the basis of scholastic standing and interest in the field of biology.

Meetings are held bi-weekly and consist of social activities, interesting speakers and subjects of interest to biology majors as well as pre-medical students. One of the highlights of our social activities was the annual Christmas party held at the home of Dr. Wells.

The office of president was on a rotating chairmanship basis among the seniors of the department. The permanent officers were Secretary-Treasurer Dorothy Gathman, and Reporter James Widner. Sponsors were Dr. J. Ralph Wells, Dr. Claude Leist and Prof. George Ruggles.

The Home Economics Club, whose purpose is to promote professional interest in the field of home economics and to develop the social life of its members, was organized in 1919. It is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association and the Kansas Home Economics Association.

The club adopted the "College Victory Program" set up by the state and national organizations and participated in the following activities: giving a picnic at the beginning of the year at which all new majors and minors were guests, donating a Thanksgiving Basket to a needy family, honoring the club members with a Christmas Tea, contributing to the International Fellowship Fund, issuing a state club newsletter, having a joint party with the honorary chemistry fraternity, helping with such war activities as mending uniforms for the sailors on our campus and working at the Kansas City-Southern Red Cross Canteen. The last meeting of the year was a picnic honoring the graduating senior girls. The sponsor is Miss E. Louise Gibson.

Club

Pep during war time is hard to promote but the Pep Club under the leadership of the president, Marjorie Bennett, has done a fine job. The actual membership being small much credit should be given to the entire Navy unit. These boys, unable to wear the characteristic crimson sweaters with gold gorilla emblems played a large part in keeping up the pep spirit at our games.

Membership is determined by peppy personalities and leadership on the campus. Anyone who attended a home football game this year can remember the enthusiasm brought about by BUDDY LOWE, FRANCES McFARLAND, JANE WEST, RUTH MARIE TRABUE and A. J. ARMSTRONG. They were the cheerleaders for the year and were always working to get pep and noise from the students.

True to the tradition the football team came through the season undefeated and our basketball team made a fine showing on the home court. The year's activities included several bonfire pep rallies, as the opposite picture indicates, a big Pep Club dance in the gym and several Pep chapels.

Young Women's

YWCA has for its purpose "the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God." To carry out such a program, The Church, Interpreting Christianity, Choosing a Vocation, Personal Relationships and Peace are used as themes. In the determination "to have a part in making this life possible for all people" the organization promotes good fellowship on the campus through the Jolly-Up, YM-YW mixers and the Senior Honor breakfast.

Regular meetings are held each Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The program chairman tries to give each member an opportunity to appear on a program during the year, making the meetings as varied as possible in the type program presented. Whenever possible outside speakers are presented.

Activities involving interests beyond the campus include the World Student Service Fund, the World Student Christian Federation, attendance at the Rocky Mountain Regional Student Conference held each June at Estes Park, Colorado, and the World Week of Fellowship and Prayer. Every year a "Design for Living" week is held on the campus for which a special guest is brought in to conduct meetings and conferences. This year the group sponsored a drive for books for prisoners of war. They also held a special Easter chapel with a pre-Easter devotion period held daily.

Young Men's Christian Association

The college Y. M. C. A. of '43 and '44 has played a definite and vital part in our college program. It has helped steady our men in this crisis and tried to bring to them, with a Christian emphasis, a picture of life that will stand the battering of the world's storm. Realizing its responsibilities the Young Men's Christian Association has formed a strong link in the chain of organizations here on the campus.

It was capably counceled by Paul R. Murphy, J. C. Straley, George Small and Jarvis Burner.

The Debate squad, as many other activities, did not have the usual number of members this year. Six debaters worked on the National Question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Cooperate in Establishing and Maintaining an International Police Force Upon the Defeat of the Axis."

Dr. J. R. Pelsma, debate coach, took teams to two tournaments this year. Two teams attended the Economy Tournament at McPherson. Evelyne Roeber and Hazel Marie Waggoner composed one team and Helen Crouch and John Paul Hudson the other. One team composed of John Paul Hudson and Hazel Marie Waggoner attended the St. John Junior College tournament in Winfield.

Dale Foote and Jack Jenkins, other members of the squad, were unable to participate in tournaments away from home because of employment.

After the close of the 1942 football season the prospects for this great sport looked rather gloomy to mentors of the Central Intercollegiate Conference, including the Gorilla coach, Charley Morgan. Charley had produced a great team in '42 and was well pleased with the closing season, but he agreed with the other C.I.C. mentors that the league be disbanded for 1943.

Then a great surprise was handed the brilliant coach. The Navy decided to use the campus of KSTC for the training of men enlisted in V-12, and the best part of it was that they would be permitted to play football. When the trainees arrived on July 1, Charley put out a feeler to see what kind of football material might perhaps be hidden among the men in the unit, and to his delight he found about fifteen former college players and a dozen more ambitious young men just out of high school.

When the Gorilla mentor called the first practice about thirty men reported and those same thirty stuck throughout the season to become the best team in the Middlewest and probably the best team in the history of the school. The small squad played the game because they loved to play it, although it called for extra work on their part and their schedule was already crowded. Charley didn't have much time to get his boys ready as barely an hour each evening remained for practicing.

He didn't have to worry about conditioning the men though, for the Navy was seeing to that.

Because of his late decision to play football this fall, Morgan had trouble in finding games. All the schools in the vicinity were abandoning the game, except Warrensburg and Washburn. Altogether the Gorilla coach was able to get only six games on his schedule, but the Gorillas went through all six without a loss or a tie to end the season as one of the nation's six undefeated teams. In these six games the Pitt eleven scored 165 points while their opponents totaled only 27.

Morgan opened the season by taking his squad to Warrensburg, Missouri, where they swept the Missouri Mules, 20-0. The Mules put up a good fight in the first half and the outcome was doubtful, but the Gorillas were getting used to playing with each other before the game was over, scoring once in the third period and three times in the last. Ralph Earhart, Pitt half-back, led the fight with two touchdowns to his credit, and Bert Brewer and John Cook each crossed the goal line once. The work of the Gorilla line was superb although many of them were forced to play the strenuous game the full sixty minutes.

With a great deal more confidence than they had when they opened the season, the Gorillas went to Topeka to play the Washburn Ichabods. It was a repeat performance as the Morganmen swamped the Ichabods, 39-0. Brewer, Earhart, Cook, and Fullback Roy Williams carried the mail for KSTC. Dave Ryan's toework was good for three extra points.

The Fort Riley Army Centaurs were scheduled to play the Gorillas here Oct. 16, but the game had to be canceled, so the next meeting was with the Washburn Ichabods 26 on Brandenburg Field, and the team came through for the third time to the tune of 27 to 7.

Another game with the Norman, Oklahoma, Zoomers, was called off by the Zoomers. William Jewell, of Liberty, Mo., was the next on the list and the Cardinals were doped as the strongest foe on the Pittsburg schedule, as a large number of Navy aviation students were among the Jewell players. Among their list of players were two former professionals. The Gorillas put their hearts into the game and ended up on the long end of a 13-0 score. The strength of the team was in the starting line-up and Morgan was forced to play nine of his eleven starters the full game. Earhart passed to Ryan for the first counter and Quarterback Cook went over for the second. Earhart and Ryan were both injured, but Earhart was able to continue the game. Ryan re-entered the game to kick an extra point.

School of Mines, at Rolla, originally scheduled for Nov. 13, but the Quarterback Club invited the two teams to meet in Walsh Stadium in St. Louis a week later on Nov. 20, and both teams agreed to do so. The Miners, too, fell before the powerful charge of the Pitt eleven, 34 to 14, with Teagle, Brewer, Earhart, Cook, and Bertuzzi each getting a touchdown and Ryan adding the extra points.

Intent on keeping their record intact the Gorillas went to Liberty, Mo., to meet the William Jewell navy air cadets in a Thanksgiving Day game which was the season finale. The Jewell team cracked about midway through the game and the locals rolled up 32 points to 6 for their opponents. The Pitt line stole the show as they stopped every Jewell charge dead in its tracks. Lloyd Steele, center, and J. Milner tackle, got a touchdown apiece. Brewer, Teagle, and Cook got the other three counters.

The Gorillas came home hoping that they would find another opponent before the season closed but they failed. They were given consideration for a bid to the Sun Bowl, in El Paso, Texas, but the host team preferred to meet Southwestern University of Georgetown.

Basketball prospects for the 1943-44 season were exceptionally bright for Coach John Lance when the first term opened in the fall, for among the V-12 students stationed on the KSTC campus was the material for a powerhouse basketball squad. In addition to the half a dozen veteran Gorilla cagers in the navy unit was some transplanted basketball ability from other colleges throughout the country. But a month before the season was to begin orders transferring some of the prospective cagers came through and left the coach feeling rather gloomy.

Four Gorilla veterans remained with which Coach Lance was to build his quintet. Dale Conner, Wilbur Humphries, Jim Sparks, and Andy Bertuzzi. Raymond Sloan, formerly a reserve for Emporia State, John Clardy, of Abilene Christian College, and Russell Haber-er gave the Gorillas most of the new strength. Most college teams in the area had disbanded; Washburn was the only member of the CIC that was participating in cage competition. Because of this fact the Lancemen played against teams usually not on the Pittsburg schedule.

Typified by a five game losing streak and a jinx on the opponent court the season was far below the usual win-loss record since the Lancemen won only five contests while losing twice that number.

The season opened Dec. 11 with the Gorillas beating the 800th Regiment of Camp Crowder, Mo., 42 to 39 on the home court with Conner and Sloan leading the attack. Bill Martin, of the Army quintet, was high scorer with 16 points.

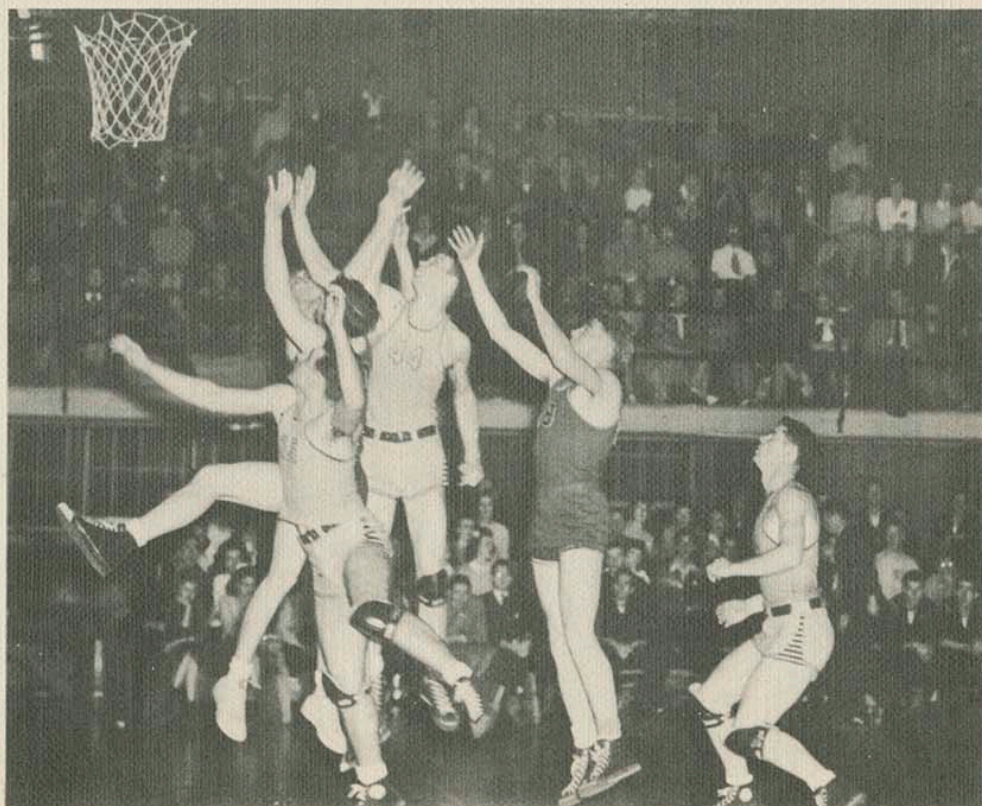

Two more games were scheduled before the Christmas holidays, and were the beginning of a losing streak for the Lancemen. Dec. 15 they went to Fayetteville where they were beaten 42-37 in a hard-fought game with the Arkansas Razorbacks. Jones, Porker center, was the main reason for the defeat as he tallied 17 points. The following night the Pitt quintet lost to the Camp Chaffee Tankers, 57 to 46, on the Boys Club court at Fort Smith, Ark. The Tanker line-up was studded with former university stars, one an All-American. Jim Sparks had a torrid night and scored 22 points for Pitt but the combined scoring of Nelfochik, Logan, and Starley overwhelmed the Lancemen.

Still playing on the foreign court the Lancemen lost to the Kansas University Jayhawks, 35-21, on January 3, and the following evening repeated by dropping a 47-38 decision to the Olathe Clippers at Olathe. Jim Sparks led the attack against Olathe with 14 points.

Washburn College, of Topeka, got their first victory in all the years of cage competition when they eked out a 28-25 victory over the Gorillas on Jan. 15. The Pitt cagers had led all the way but a rally in the final minutes of the game gave the victory to Washburn. Sloan got 11 points for Pittsburg.

The Lancemen finally broke their losing streak by beating the Warrensburg Mules, 40 to 35, on the home court. The opening minutes of the affair looked like a debacle for the Gorillas, but a rally sparked by Wilbur Humphries put a new life in the Gorillas which had not been revealed all season. Humphries and Conner got 14 and 11 respectively.

The Olathe Clippers repeated their earlier performance by downing Pitt 53 to 39, behind the fire of Harold Howey and Herkal, who together scored 32 points. The Gorillas got ample revenge from the Washburn Ichabods when they came to Pittsburg, Jan. 29, beating them 46 to 32, in a rough game.

The next contest took the Gorillas to Stillwater, where they met the Oklahoma A. & M. Cowboys and were beaten 34-23. Kurland, 7' 1" Aggie center, was the root of the Gorilla troubles.

The Lancement made it two in a row over Camp Crowder when they beat the soldiers, 36 to 27, at Neosho, Feb. 2.

In one of their best appearances of the season the Gorillas lost 49 to 38, to the Phillips Oilers, champions of the national A.A.U. A huge crowd packed the gym to see the Oilers in action, and were astonished as the Lancemen stuck fast at the heels of the champs, forcing them to play their strongest quintet throughout the game. Gordon Carpenter, Oiler center, used his height to a great advantage, tallying 22 points. Sloan was the leader for Pitt with 11.

For the next game the Gorillas went to Warrensburg where they lost a one point decision to the Mules, 41-40. Dale Conner led the losing Pitt quintet with 14 points and Costello scored 12 for the victors.

The Gorillas turned in their greatest performance of the year in their last tilt on the home court, upsetting the Arkansas Razorbacks, 50 to 42. Led by Andy Bertuzzi, the Lancemen led all the way, although the Porkers pressed them till the final buzzer. Jones, Porker center, scored 15 points, but was the only Arkansas player who turned in a par performance. Bertuzzi scored 14 points for Pitt while Conner and Sparks each added 11.

The Lancemen lost the last game of the season to Drury College, of Springfield, 35-31. Russell Haberer and Conner led the losing Gorillas.

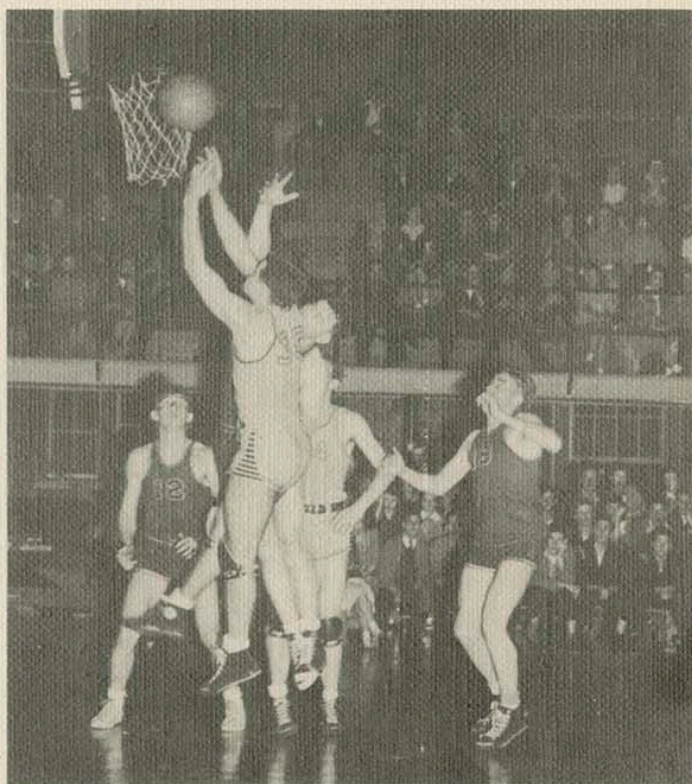

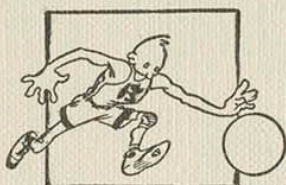

—Maurice Mosier.

DR. McCRAY AND BAND

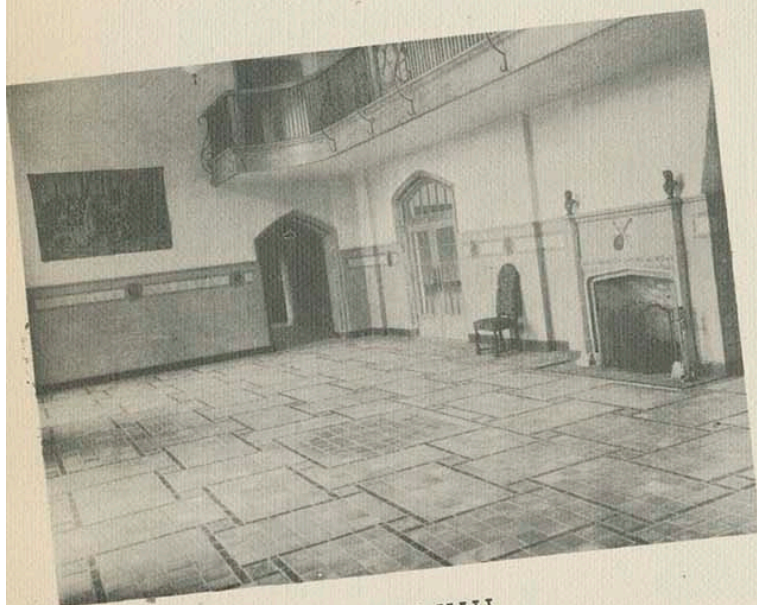

Music

Under the leadership of Dr. McCray the activities of the music department of the College have become well-known all over this part of the country. There is at present a faculty of eleven. Private work is offered in piano, voice, organ, harp, and band and string instruments.

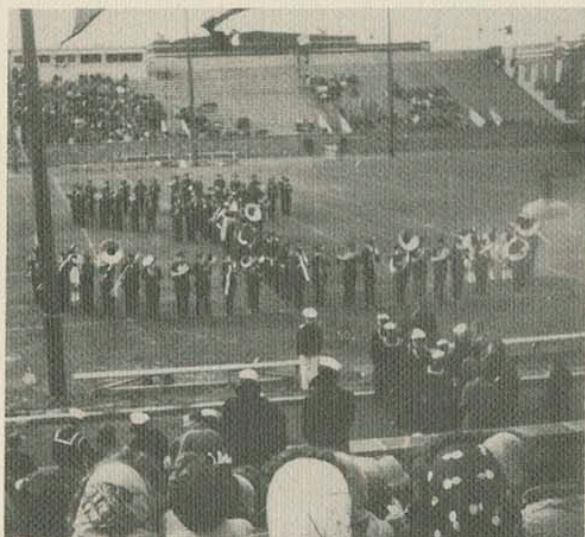

The department sponsors glee clubs, a band, an orchestra and a chorus in which townspeople may participate. From these groups comes entertainment for school programs, as well as for programs for civic organizations.

At Christmas time the glee clubs sing carols in all the buildings on the campus and the orchestra and chorus presents a Christmas concert.

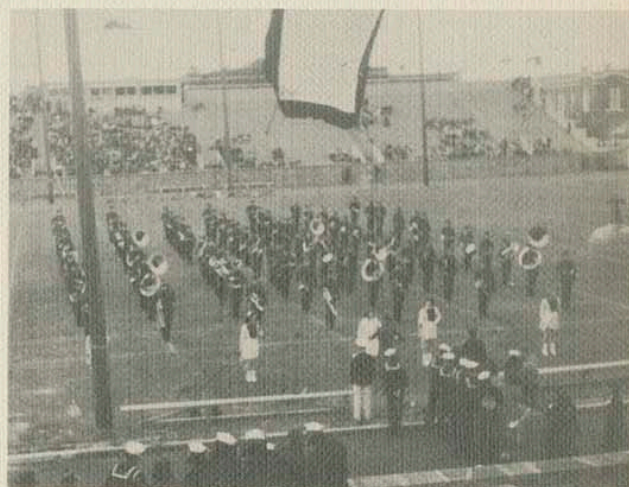

A great deal of the work during the year is directed toward the spring music festival. At this time an entire week is given over to musical activities. Included in the program are a high school music contest and a band concert presented by the College band supplemented by selected musicians from high school bands. Highlighting the week are the annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" and the presentation of a well-known opera. This year Balfe's colorful opera "The Bohemian Girl" was given. Approximately one hundred thirty persons participated in the production.

Polymnia Club

In Greek mythology there are seven muses, one of which is Polymnia, muse of sacred music. This is the name by which we know the girls' glee club—the Polymnia Club.

The purpose of the group is to appear on assembly programs, sing for civic organizations, and to give concerts in near-by towns. For the present, however, activities are restricted to Pittsburg. They prepare a program largely made up of light classical music, but among the numbers are several semi-popular songs which are audience favorites.

Membership in the organization is limited to forty; the girls are chosen through try-outs.

Officers for the year are president, Phyllis Fretwell; secretary, Maxine Buergey; librarian, Margaret Rachel Kenney; assistant librarian, Mary Elizabeth Anderson.

Miss Gabriella Campbell is director of the club. Evelyn Massmann is the accompanist.

The presentation of an opera is an essential part of the music department. These pictures portray scenes from last year's opera "Faust," by Gounod. In the upper right hand corner is Marguerite, played by Jeanne Madden; to the left is Sibel, played by Marjory Jackson; Faust, played by Claude Newcomb; the center picture is Mephistopheles, played by Herbert Gould; lower left is Martha, played by Lavon Holden; and the other picture is of the chorus.

This book is dedicated to you so we hope you'll like it. We've attempted to sift your likes and dislikes and strike a happy medium.

To the Kanza staff goes the credit for making this 1944 annual possible. To Freda Elmore, assistant editor, loads of thanks for working so industriously; to Janet Hughes and Jim Hammel, co-photographers, deep appreciation for the sleep they've missed and the events they've given up to take pictures. To Phoebe Jacoby and Mary Belle Keenan I'd hand a bouquet 'cause Phoebe swiftly and accurately prepared write-ups and because Mary Belle, chief "key-pounder" played secretary to the Ed. I'd give a medal to Maurice Mosier, sports editor, for the speed with which he turned in the well-written sports section. To Muriel Fulks I'd extend an apology to her dates whom she kept waiting so she could type index names for the Kanza. To Dave Kilmer, founder of George, Slim, etc., I'd like to say thanks gobs for the write-up work, especially the Ship's Log. To Mary Habish I'd give an "Oscar" for the splendid art work and rapidity in which she accomplished it. To Ray Terry, creator of the Navy cartoons appearing throughout the book, the whole staff says "thanks" because they really made the book.

Special thanks to Prof. Frank German, faculty adviser, and to LeRoy Brewington for their assistance.

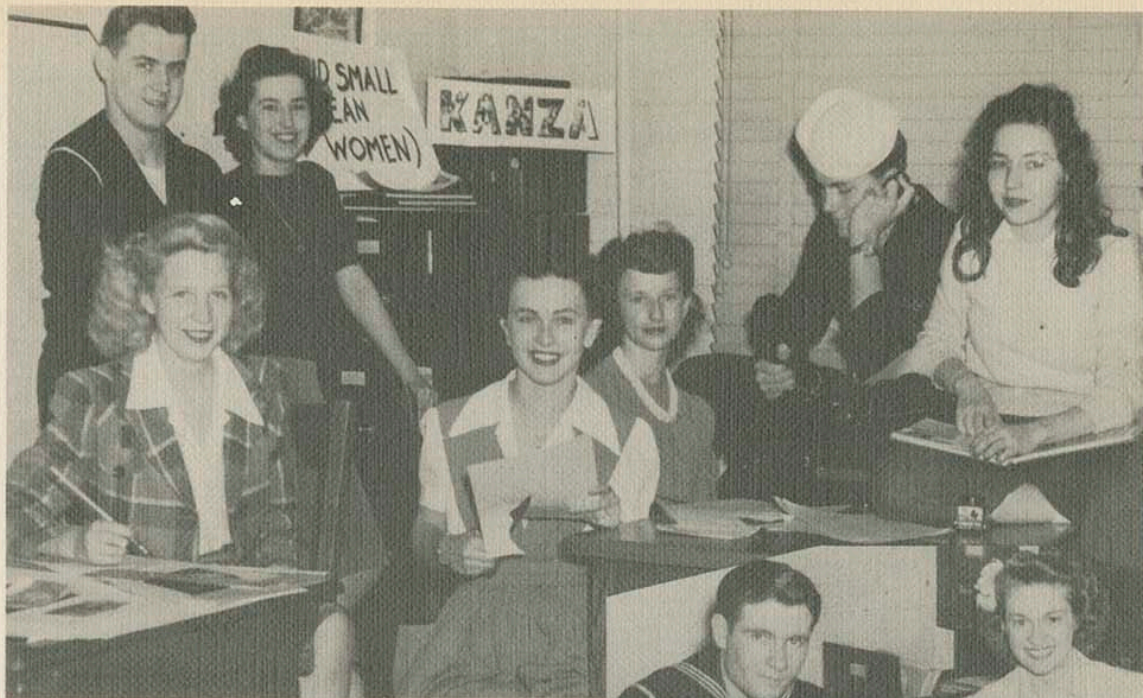

So as the little bear said when he sat on the log on the frozen lake—"my tale is told."

Hazel Marie Waggoner and Phoebe Jacoby

It's Wednesday; The Collegio is out! Since it is the official student publication for KSTC, The Collegio is the chief means by which we can publicize our College. It is also a big factor in influencing student opinion on the campus. Its circulation is 3,000 copies weekly, several hundred of which are sent to former students who are now in service.

During the first semester Phoebe Jacoby continued from last year as editor. Hazel Marie Waggoner, a sophomore, assumed the responsibility the second semester. Under the direction of these two girls a good paper was published; they were especially eager to produce a paper with plenty of student appeal. Mrs. Shirley Z. Smith became supervisor of journalism when Clay DeFord, who held the position last year, went into the Army in August.

Policies of the paper are determined by the board of publications of which Professor Frank German is chairman. The editor is selected by this board upon recommendation of the supervisor of journalism.

The staff itself is composed of students enrolled in journalism classes and others who are particularly interested in newspaper work.

In keeping with its policy of student appeal the group produced several special editions of The Collegio, which featured some particular phase of the College. There were two Navy editions, to emphasize the importance of the V-12 unit to the school.

All sports write-ups during the year were handled by Maurice Mosier, a member of V-12. One of the most popular features of the paper was the "Of 'V' I Sing" column which was initiated by Bob Fisher and Dave Kilmer. Later in the semester the column was written anonymously, but Kilmer and Bob Clover were instrumental in its weekly appearance. J. D. Milner was author of the column for the second semester.

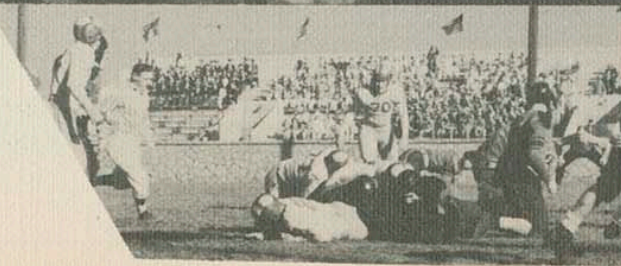

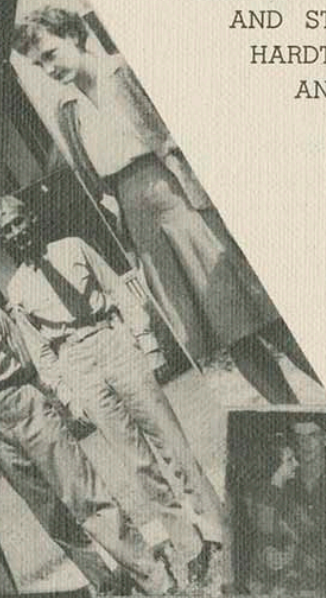

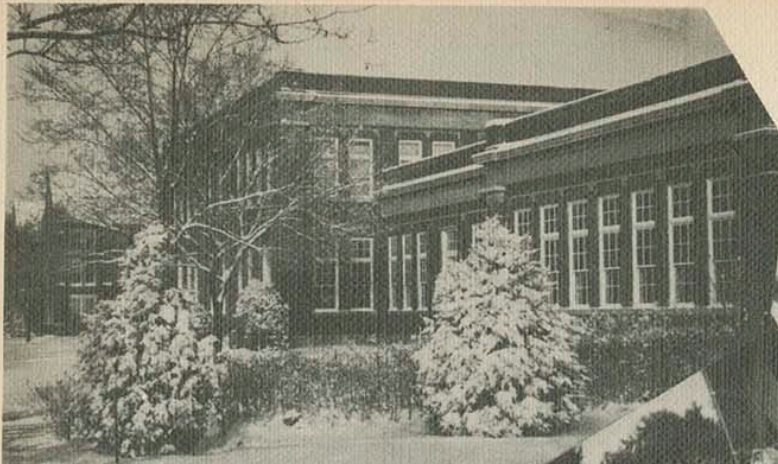

Actual printing of the paper was supervised by Leroy Brewington. L. A. Guthridge is head of the mailing bureau.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Alpha Sigma Alpha, a national education sorority founded November 15, 1901, at Farmville, Virginia. Alpha Sigma Alpha is a charter member of the Association of Educational Sororities. Eta Eta Chapter was organized at Pittsburg, July 9, 1920.

Alpha Sigma Alpha has for its purpose the fourfold object: physical, intellectual, social and spiritual development. A strong group spirit and willingness to participate in different types of activities has kept Alpha Sigma Alpha in a prominent position on this campus for many years, as well as on campuses of many other colleges.

Eta Eta Chapter has taken many honors including Kanza Queens, Apple Day Queens, First Navy Queen, Kanza Editor, Collegio Editor and members of the staff, class officers, student council officers, and this year has helped in every way for the war victory work. We have also had a number of girls as members and officers of honorary fraternities and those who have won scholarship awards. The formals, teas, dances, and picnics play an important part in the life of all members.

Following the three-year plan, the first year regional meetings are held; the second, chapter inspection; the third, national convention.

The advisers are Dr. Jane Carroll and Mrs. Perva Hughes. The sponsors are Miss Eulalia Roseberry, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Weede. Patronesses are Mrs. W. A. Brandenburg, Mrs. C. F. Spencer, Mrs. S. J. Pease, Mrs. E. V. Lanyon, Mrs. C. O. Davis, Mrs. John Ira Clemens, Mrs. F. M. Oerter, Mrs. H. J. Veatch. Mrs. G. E. Hutchinson is the housemother.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Sigma Sigma Sigma, a national educational sorority, was founded at Farmville, Virginia, on April 20, 1898. The sorority is a charter member of the Association of Education Sororities.

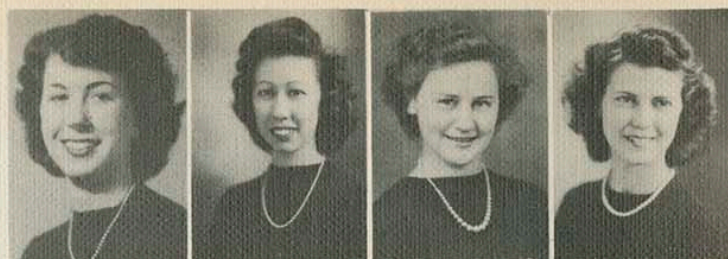

Our sorority is composed of thirty-five active chapters and forty-six alumnae chapters throughout the United States. Chi Chapter was established at Pittsburg in 1922; it was one of the first sororities organized on the campus.

Throughout the years we have been active in all school activities of various natures. In the past year we have won the national efficiency cup which is presented to the chapter having the highest national efficiency. Also we are in permanent possession of the local Panhellenic scholastic trophy which was won through four semesters of attaining the highest grades of any sorority on the campus. In aiding the war effort our social service program has included blood donations, scrap drive collections, W.S.S.F. drive and Red Cross donations.

Kappa Delta Kappa

In 1926 a group of six freshmen boys who objected to the hazings they underwent at the hands of upper classmen formed an organization in opposition to such maltreatment. From the plans made by this group of young men the Kappa Delta Kappa fraternity came into existence.

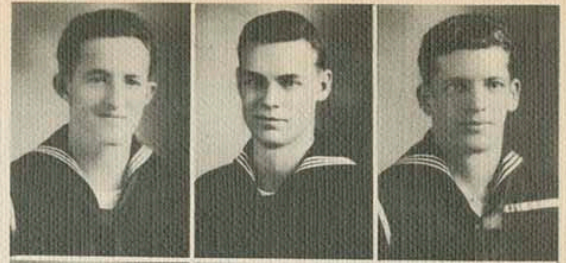

On January 20, 1927, the fraternity committee of the College approved the constitution and by-laws. A state charter was granted on April 14 of that same year. Since that time the Kappa Delta has been one of the most active organizations on the campus.

Sponsors are Dr. Paul Murphy, Dr. Samuel Pease, Miss Mary Lee Hageman, Dr. O. W. Chapman, Prof. J. U. Massey, Dr. L. C. Heckert and Prof. H. E. Binford.

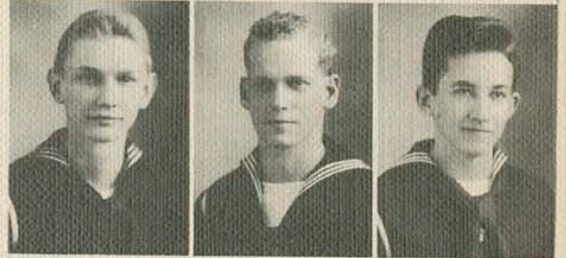

Officers for this year were: president, Ray Tarry; vice-president, Don Kleinhammer; secretary, Dale Womble; treasurer, Bob McClarrinon; chaplain, Kenneth Taylor; and sergeant at arms, Bob Piper.

In February, 1944, members of the fraternity voted unanimously to disband for the duration, or until some satisfactory time following the close of the war, because of difficulties resulting from unsettled conditions. Plans for reorganization have been left in the hands of Mr. Massey with the hope that Kappa Delta alumni who reside in Pittsburgh will be able to help re-establish the organization.

LADIES' KNIGHT

*Grant Morrell
reigns*

"Bull of the Ball"

Debut of KSTC's wallflowers came at the "Ladies' Knight Dance" when tradition shifted to reverse and it was ladies' choice.

The girls bought vegetable corsages for their dates and escorted them to and from the dance, displaying true chivalry.

Grant Morrell was the lucky boy to be crowned "Bull of the Ball" and, in accordance with the "I'd rather have a paper doll" theme, was presented a book of paper dolls.

This dance was one of many sponsored by the Student Council this year.

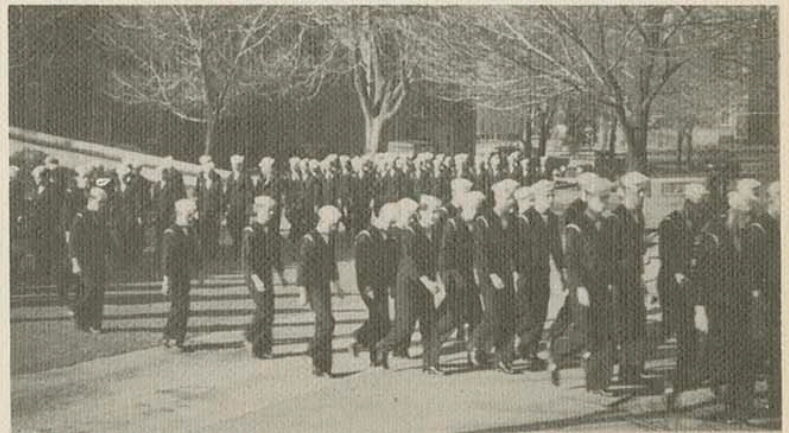

THE END of the four months' term at KSTC means reluctant goodbyes to the old and cheerful "Hellos" to the newly enlisted and the transfers.

The Log of Joe College

by Leave Us Not

Introduction: As an integral part of its all-out war effort, KSTC this year adopted a new son in the form of a Navy V-12 Training Unit, and thereupon proceeded to open wide her portals to these ambitious Blue Jackets, newly transplanted from nearly every section of the country. These men were quartered in a vessel unselfishly donated by the college.

The "Ship", aptly named U.S.S. Willard, used in former years to maintain a "petite cargo de la jeune filles," was completely refitted from stem to stern with "regulation" bunks, dressers, tables, etc., and equipped with the finest gear available.

So remarkable was this ship when work had been completed that it was a matter of conjecture as to which end was the bow. The camouflage expert had concealed the stacks and sixteen-inch guns so well, that the crew has yet to find them. Naval Engineers from Washington, D. C., had this to say about the Willard after a regular inspection tour: "This ship situated strategically distant from the nearest large body of water is probably the most impregnable vessel to submarine attack in the possession of the U. S. Navy." Soon after this statement was published, Henry J. Kaiser reorganized his entire ship-building facilities in order to model his cargo vessels after the Willard.

Thus KSTC made a significant contribution for the cause of the United Nations, and she will continue to use this same constructive initiative to help effect a shorter war and longer peace. We herewith dedicate this log to all of those individuals who made it possible for the V-12 trainees to enjoy a fine education, and at the same time to take advantage of the extra-curricular activities not offered to Service Men in most other such institutions.

0629—All is quiet aboard the U.S.S. Willard. All hands are engaged in the function commonly known as sleep, that is, all save one—the watch Officer. In his bloodshot eye there is a sadistic gleam, in his mind there is but one thought, and in his left hand firmly gripped there is a bell capable of ruining any sailor's peaceful slumber. Deliberately and precisely his hand moves toward the buzzer.

0630—Bzzzzzzzzzzzz! CLANG! CLANG! CLANG! All H—ll breaks loose. Exclamations, profuse, profound, and profane may be heard as Mac slides reluctantly to the deck. He painfully winces while briefly contemplating the uncomfortable events of the day and hurries into his sweat suit.

0640—Bzzzzzzzzzzzz! again. The model V-12 clothed in his squirrel-lined warm-ups stumbles to the ladder and so to early morning exercise.

0644—Mac discovers that the process of touching his left toe with his right hand followed immediately by a clockwise wrench to the other side enabling the left hand to touch the right toe seems as pointless as it is arduous.

0647—Relaxation Exercise—described as accurately as possible: Trainee lies flat on the cold concrete, face down in ½ inch of dust, suspends body by pushing the deck away while raising the stern simultaneously; all of which is to no avail as the deck persists in returning to its normal position.

0650—Lungs are expanded and contracted at Will who from behind a FilmFun throws darts at unwilling "Gold Bricks."

0715—Morning Chow Muster—All hands are closely inspected by the Chief, one having his arm twisted severely for being improperly attired. His Blue Serge temporarily in the hands of the local pawn broker, he showed up in undress whites with P-coat, and inverted flat hat. Right Face! Forrrrrrrrrrrd! Harch! Hup! Tup! Tree! Fup!—Hup! Hup! etc.

Recruit C.P.O., eyes glued to a petite coed plunged headlong into an innocent Oak causing noticeable disruption in the ranks. Skillfully, however, he maneuvered the unit back into a parked car, killing Seamen Krubish and injuring several others. First Aid Units were immediately dispatched and the Co. moved on.

0742—Mac consumes Chow with Gusto—a new transfer from Mexico City.

0805—Beneath a mountain of books, slide rule, etc. Mac breathlessly stumbles to his seat in Navigation, muttering something about clocks being slow, to which the Prof. mutters something equally as violent and makes a small entry in his black book.

0817—Mac, while charting his course from Valparaiso, Chile, to Reykjavik, Iceland, finds himself lost somewhere in the vicinity of the Burma road, gives up and becomes lost in sleep.

0937—"When Demand increases, price rises, and supply increases. When Supply increases price falls and demand decreases. When prices rise, demands stay constant and supply will——"

1023—"——Derivative of the quotient of two functions is equal to the denominator times the derivative of the numerator minus the numerator times the derivative of the denominator, all divided by the square of the——"

1121—"——Dihedral angle formed by 2 intersecting planes is measured by the plane angle cut out of the given planes by a plane which is perpendicular to their line of——"

1159—The morning "grind" over, Mac makes his way back to Barracks, and on his way, pauses at the quarterdeck to briefly scan the bulletin board, and discovers that the Chief has graciously rewarded his morning cleaning efforts with a fair. Before he can take further cognizance of the Navy Directives tacked to the board, the surge of men returning from classes carries him into a nearby phone booth from which Mac eventually makes his escape with the aid of a Houdini trick he'd picked up in a correspondence course of Magic.

1202—Noon Chow—Routine as before, with Mac consuming Chow with Gusto again, the latter Caramba-ing the Navy Beans, while expressing an intense desire for Tamales instead.

1300—Mail Call and Mac is flooded with letters from his folks, brother, girl friend, and buddy, all emphatically concerned with Mac's health, failure to write, and the weather in general.

1310—Mac shuffles his mail, cuts, and carefully deals them into the wastebasket, proceeds to get laundry in the hold for a nominal fee that would seem exorbitant even to a civilian.

1330—Back to the grind, and Naval Organization. Trainees take cognizance of a letter written by J. Paul Jones in 1775, wherein the following reads: "It is by no means enough that an officer of the Navy should be a capable Mariner. He must be that of course, but also a great deal more. He should be as well a gentleman of liberal education, refined manners, punctilious courtesy, and the nicest sense of personal honor. In short he must first be a V-12."

1449—"If a 30 lb. object is fastened to one end of a cord and a 20 lb. object is fastened to the other end, and the cord is then hung over a very light, frictionless pulley, how much unbalanced force is there to cause acceleration? Experimentation in the lab proved unsatisfactory due to inferior equipment, it being impossible to buy frictionless pulleys since the outbreak of the war. Mac managed to rig up a yo-yo, however, and spent the remaining moments skillfully manipulating this highly scientific piece of equipment about ——"

- 1550—Mac finds himself climbing ropes, vaulting barriers and stumbling over obstacles sadistically designed and cunningly constructed to "condition" trainees, by causing broken ankles, twisted vertebrae, and smashed clavicles.
- 1650—Mac goes into the Collegiate for a brief coke, trips over some tired Sorority girls and grabs a seat shared disproportionately by another V-12, two gals, and the Dean of Men.
- 1741—Coke consumed, I.O.U. signed, the model V-12 again trips over the tired Sorority girls on the way out, and makes his way back to the ship.
- 1800—Evening Chow Muster: Routine as usual, except for an insignificant incident. The Frontenac bus, 2 hrs. and 28 minutes behind schedule, screamed around the corner, colliding with the Chief, causing considerable damage. The front axle broke, the engine exchanged positions with the back seat occupants, and the driver was thrown out of danger on to the second deck of the Music Hall. After dusting off his left sleeve and administering a band-aid to a bleeding finger, the Chief calmly ordered the Company to march, averting what could have been a serious catastrophe. The men did arrive for chow that evening.
- 1900—Liberty: Mass migration to downtown Pittsburg for all unconfined trainees. Mac heads for Bingo and Chapter 9 in Cap't Midnite series at the Cozy, after first paying his respects at the American Legion and a quick round of Billiards at the local Pool Hall.
- 2145—The mad trek back to the ship begins. It's a race against time, with a week's confinement as booby prize for he who loses out.
- 2159—Across the quarterdeck, up three decks, and a "breathless" "all present, sir," to a nose-y little guy they call Deck Captain.

- 2230—The oil burns brightly, the sweat pours, and the wheels in Mac's brain begin to whirl as he comes to the stark realization that a Navigation quiz will test his mathematical genius in the morning. The term "cramming" could hardly begin to describe the magnanimous feat now in progress.

- 2300—Buzzer again, this time for Lights out. The Navigation is tossed aside and Mac hits the sack, pausing reverently to repeat the sailor's prayer:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep,
Grant no other Sailor take
My shoes and socks before I wake.

Dear Lord grant me in my slumber,
Keep my Hammock on its number,
May no clew or lashing break
And smash my dome before I wake.

Keep me safely in Thy sight,
Grant no fire drill tonight,
And in the morning let me wake
With haunting smells of sirloin steak.

Lord protect me in my dreams,
Make things better than they seem,
Grant four years may quickly fly
And all hardships pass me by.

Take me back to solid land,
Where they scrub no decks with sand,
Where no demon typhoon blows
And the WOMEN wash the clothes.

Amen."

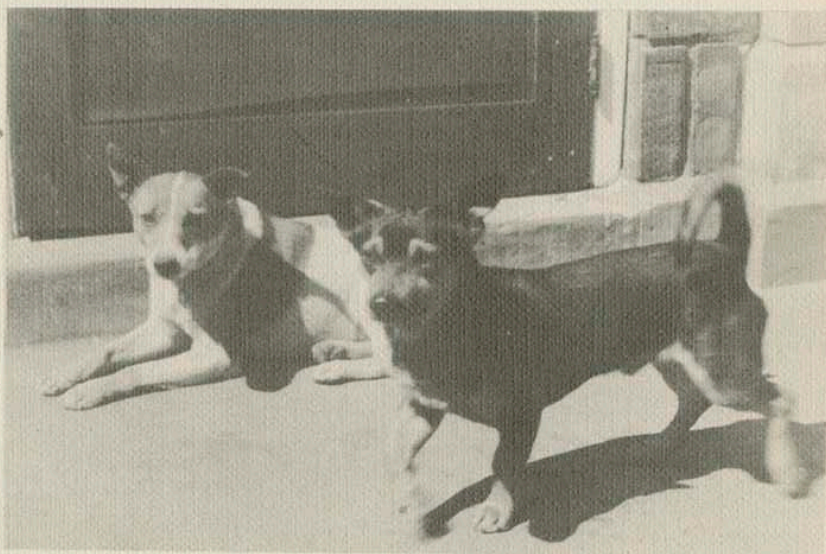

- 2340—zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz—When the Demand for frictionless pulleys decreaseszzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz—and the derivatives of the azimuth expand—zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz—then the integral of the marginal revenue—zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz—becomes inversely proportional to the South end of the Obstacle Course.—zzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzzz.

And so peaceful tranquility settles over the U.S.S. Willard once more, as King Morpheus takes over the duties.

of Youth

a Few Words to Graduates

STATE
PITTSBURG, KANSAS

● You young men and women who are graduating today have been educated by events as well as by books.

The recent "cave-ins" in the thin crust of civilization have revealed to you the fierce volcanic fires that are raging beneath our present social structure.

There is an urgent need today for a revival of the pioneer spirit of America which brought this republic through its early struggles and made it great. Your faith, your optimism, your youthful determination must build the better world of tomorrow.

Youth

Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind. It is not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips and supple knees, it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions; it is a freshness of the deep springs of life.

Youth means a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite of adventure over love of ease. This often exists in a man of fifty more than in a boy of twenty.

Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul. Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair—these are the long, long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust.

Whether seventy or sixteen, there is in every being's heart the love of wonder, the sweet amazement at the stars and the starlike things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unfailing childlike appetite for what next, and the joy and the game of life.

You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair.

In the central place of your heart there is a wireless station; so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, courage grandeur and power from the earth, from men and from the Infinite, so long are you young.

When the wires are all down and all the central place of your heart is covered with the snows of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then are you grown old indeed and may God have mercy on your soul.
