INTRODUCTION

Collection of Robert R. Clark, Sergeant, United States Army. Collection consists of personal correspondence between family members from 1929 through 1954. Smaller sections of the collection are letters from WWII to Harold and Mary Clark, Robert's parents. The bulk of the collection covers Robert Clark's service in the United States Army during his tour of duty in Korea during the Korean War. Much of the correspondence is between Robert and his mother.

DONOR INFORMATION

The Robert R. Clark Papers were donated to the Leonard H. Axe Library at Pittsburg State University by an unknown donor.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Robert Clark was an avid sportsman. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, and trapping. Robert was interested in basketball and baseball, often asking for newspaper clippings that would have the details from Pittsburg High School, and Pittsburg State University basketball games. His parents were also avid outdoors and sport enthusiasts, as the letters often attest. Robert's father and his maternal uncles, Joseph Ford and Ollie Ford, worked on the railroad out of Pittsburg and Ft. Scott, Kansas and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Robert's mother was a homemaker. Robert was a Chief of Section for a 115 Howitzer in the A-Battery of the 45th Division of the US Army. Sgt. Clark's duties included the safety of the men who served under him that manned the artillery, as well as sighting and firing on the objectives. Robert served near or on the front line in Korea for the majority of his tour.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Robert Clark's collection contains personal letters dating from the 1920s from Harold Clark to Mary Ford (Robert Clark's parents). There are letters dating from 1944-1945 from Joseph Ford to his sister, Mary, and brother-in-law, Harold, while in Arkansas training in the Railroad Battalion, and while Joseph was station in Europe during WWII. There are also letters from the same time period from Daniel Ollie Ford, his wife Jennie Lou Ford to his sister Mary during his training and during his European tour in WWII, and letters from Russell Clark to his brother, Harold, dating from 1945 during his military duty. The bulk of the collection are letters between Robert Clark and his mother during his army service from 1951-1952, while in training stateside and while serving in Korea. There are also letters to Robert from friends who served in Korea after his return to civilian life, and newspaper clippings. These papers are arranged in chronological order in six series: Harold Clark, Joseph Ford, Daniel Ollie Ford, Russell Clark, Robert Clark, and Miscellaneous.
